

LOCAL NOTES.

Monday is Memorial Day.
Work in the tinnery trade is dull.
The barbers have not elected a delegate to Winona.
Most of the delegates to Winona will leave here next Friday evening.
W. D. Austin has moved his barber shop from 7th avenue west to 23rd avenue west.

A rate of one and one third fare has been secured to the federation of labor convention.

The conditions which have existed between J. Glockie's tin shop and the journeymen tinnery remain unchanged.

At the meeting of the Trades Assembly last night the question of obtaining favorable legislation during the coming winter was discussed. Other important matters received consideration.

At their meeting on Tuesday evening the barbers selected a committee to confer with the boss barbers relative to closing shop after 1 p. m. Monday, as it is Memorial day.

No candidate to Winona was selected at the last meeting of the shoemakers' union and as the next meeting is not held until June 3rd it is not probable that one will be selected.

W. E. McEwen, who has been doing the plumbing on the Pavilion, finished the work Thursday evening and now the resort is complete for the season so far as the plumbing is concerned.

J. F. McDonald, of the Saddle Rock restaurant, is in receipt of a postal card from Jas. M. Murray, of the waiters union, who is now at Chicamaugus, which promises interesting letters periodically during the war.

The committee selected to confer with the West Superior barbers, found no one in attendance at the meeting in West Superior, Sunday. Consequently nothing was done in the way of organization.

James Dingwall, who formerly conducted the Dingwall House on Lake avenue, is now in charge of the Norris House having leased the place for a long term. Mr. Dingwall is well known and excels as a hotel man and no doubt will enjoy a good trade at his present location.

The Central Labor Union, of New York, has put itself on record in favor of an income tax. Delegate Dempsey, of the steryphers union, brought the matter up. "Even kindling wood is dearer," he said, "and house-hold food of all kinds is rising in price. Everything is increasing except wages, and income tax such as has been proposed would take a great burden off the people." A resolution was passed favoring the income tax law and condemning newspapers throughout the country which were opposed to it.

A western federation of labor which has been so much talked about for the past year or so is now a fact. Such an organization was formed at Salt Lake City May 10th. There were 148 delegates in attendance, representing unions from California to British America. Dan McDonald, of Butte, Montana, was elected president; H. M. Harbour, of Utah, vice-president; J. N. McPhee, of Colorado, second vice-president; M. J. O'Donnell, Victor, Colorado, secretary-treasurer. Messrs. Farrar, of British Columbia and McCordle, of Utah, were added to the above to constitute the executive board.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All Druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c.

The Saw Mill Workers.
Last Sunday afternoon the open meeting of the saw mill workers was held in West Duluth and resulted in much good. W. E. McEwen spoke showing the benefits to be derived from organization and urged the men to sign their names then and there.

Chas. Kriz also spoke and urged the men to not only organize for their immediate betterment but also to cast their votes for conditions that would bring about permanent relief.

Much attention was paid to both speakers and many joined the union.

The Bon Voyage.

The initial trip of passenger steamer Bon Voyage was made on Sunday of last week when an excursion to Two Harbors took place.

The Bon Voyage is now running regularly to Houghton and Hancock, Mich., leaving here every Monday and Thursday at 5 p. m. Capt. Howard is in charge and sees that passengers receive all comforts.

Homeseekers' Excursions.

To points south and west on the first and third Tuesday of each month, via "The North-Western Line" (Omaha Railway). One fare plus two dollars for the round trip. Full information of your local agent or write L. W. Summers, Agent 405 West Superior Street, Duluth, Minn. May 29, Ct.

At the Pavilion.

The opening of the Pavilion last Sunday was a signal success. Over fourteen hundred people were in attendance. Next Sunday Flaaten's orchestra and the full city band will be in attendance. Two good concerts will be given. One in the afternoon and one in the evening. Go to the Pavilion Sunday and enjoy the pleasures.

Socialist Labor Party.

Mr. Carl Thiel spoke on The Future of China last Sunday evening at the Socialist Labor Party meeting. There was a good attendance and the lecture very interesting.

Mr. Thiel will deliver another lecture Sunday and will show what effect machinery and cheap labor has on the American workers.

Will Appeal.

Judge Amidon rendered a decision, in the case of St. Louis county against the Gas and Water company, in favor of the company. This is the case where the county is trying to collect $60,000 worth of personal taxes. It is understood that the county commissioners, at their next meeting, will authorize an appeal from the decision of Judge Amidon in United States court. In the meantime steps will be taken to ascertain just where the city stands in collecting the taxes from the Gas and Water company, and whether the stockholders are liable under the franchise of that company. It is said that if the franchise of the Gas and Water company provides for the company conducting anything more than a manufacturing business, the stockholders are helden for their respective shares of the delinquent taxes. Otherwise, they are not. It most probably will be otherwise so far as the county is concerned. Corporations and judges work hand in hand.

On the Unfair List.

For some little time efforts have been made to induce Mr. Mogler, who keeps a meat market, to conform to the rules adopted by all other similar dealers in the city. The attention of the union journeymen shop tenders was called to the fact that Mr. Mogler kept open after hours and on Sundays. A committee from the union of shop tenders called upon Mr. Mogler and arranged to extend him the use of the union card but still he persisted in breaking faith. Then a committee consisting of a street railway employe and other labor representatives called and could not get a satisfactory reply. The matter was taken before the Trades Assembly and was promptly placed on the unfair list and consequently patronage will be withheld until such time as Mr. Mogler decides to keep his shop closed nights and Sundays.

A Decided Success.

The strike which was declared at the Mesaba ore docks Wednesday, was amicably settled Thursday by the men receiving their demands.

Heretofore the men have been paid $1.30 per day and struck to obtain $1.50 per day, the wages paid elsewhere. Manager Oilcott conferred with a committee of the men and as he had ascertained before hand that other companies were paying the wages demanded, he promptly complied, and promised to give more than they asked. Hereafter the men will receive $1.50 per day for day work and $1.60 for night work. Here after a committee will be selected to present any grievance the men may have. The men who took the strikers' places received time checks for ten days time and will be given work elsewhere on the system.

The First.

John A. Blackwell, foreman of the Labor World, is rejoicing over the arrival of a girl on May 24th. Any mistakes in the make-up of the paper this week can be readily accounted for.

Young Head, Old Shoulders.

Apreros of our reference to the German emperor's notion of placing a young head on old shoulders in the case of an ancient headless statue, a correspondent writes, pointing out that tradition asserts the same thing to have been done with the equestrian figure now representing King Charles II in Parliament square, Edinburgh, which by the irony of fate is erected close to the grave of John Knox. He says, "The story runs that this work—in which the horseman is represented in Roman military attire and which, I believe, is cast in lead—was brought to Scotland by a foreign skipper who had got hold of it by some means or other unknown, was purchased, decapitated (strange course in view of the death of King Charles I) and then had a head of the merry monarch put on instead."—London News.

LOOK IN HIS MOUTH.

How to Tell the Age of a Horse by His Teeth.

At 3 years old the horse should have the central permanent nippers growing, the other two pairs wanting, six grinders in each jaw above and below, the first and fifth level, the others and the sixth protruding. The sharp edges of the new incisors will be very evident, compared with the old teeth. As the permanent nippers wear and continue to grow a narrow portion of the cone shaped tooth is exposed by the attrition of the teeth on each other. The mark will be wearing out, and the crowns of the teeth will be sensibly smaller than at 2 years. Between 3½ and 4 years the next pair of nippers will be changed, the central nippers will have attained nearly their full growth, a vacancy will be left where the second stood, and the corner teeth will be diminished in breadth, worn down, and the mark in the center of the tooth will become faint. The second pair of grinders will be shed.

At 4 years the central nippers will be fully developed, the sharp edge somewhat worn off and the mark somewhat wider and fainter. The next pair will be up, but they will be small, with a mark deep and extending quite across them. The corner nippers will be larger than the inside ones, but smaller than before and flat and the mark nearly effaced. The sixth grinders will have risen to a level with the others, and the tushes will begin to appear.

At 5 the horse's mouth is almost perfect. The corner nippers are quite up, the long, deep mark irregular in the inside, and the other nippers will bear evident tokens of increased wear. The tushes are nearly grown, the sixth molar is up, and the third molar is wanting. This last circumstance will prevent the deception of attempting to pass a late 4-year-old as a 5-year-old. At 6 the mark on the central nippers is worn out. At 7 the mark is worn out in the four central nippers and fast wearing away in the corner teeth. The tushes are rounded at the points and edges and beginning to get round inside. At 8 years old the tushes are rounded in every way, and the mark is gone from all the bottom nippers. There is nothing remaining in them that can afterward clearly show the age of a horse. After this the only guides are the nippers in the upper jaw.

At 9 the mark will be worn from the middle nippers, from the next pair at 10 and from all the upper nippers at 11. At 9 the center nippers are round instead of oval. At 10 the others begin to become rounded, at 11 the second pair are much rounded, at 13 the corner ones have the same appearance, at 14 the faces of the center nippers become somewhat triangular and at 17 they are all so.—St. Louis Republic.

The French Fad Overdone.

The French have had hospitable reception from us of late years, says Henry D. Sedgwick, Jr., in The Atlantic. Their books have been read with diligence, their novels have strewn ladies' tables, their ideas have inspired our men of letters. "Englished," "done into English," translated, converted, transfused into English, French literature furnishes forth our young ladies with conversation and our young gentlemen with cosmopolitanism, until the crushed worm of national prejudice begins to squirm and turn. Flaubert, the high aspiring; De Maupassant, the cunning craftsman; Bourget, the puppet shifter, and Zola, the zealot, have had their innings. Their side is out. The fiery bowling of Mr. Kipling has taken their last wicket, and those of us who have been born and bred in prejudice and provincialism may return to their English-American ways with a fair measure of jauntiness. We are no longer ashamed to lose interest when we hear of an "inevitable" catastrophe or of "impeccable" style. We yawn openly over "bitterly modern spiritual complexities." Let us have done with raw admiration of foreigners. Let us no longer heed Ibsen and Zola.

Or what the Dane intends or what the French.

Regular meeting of the Trades Assembly Tuesday evening, May 24. President Amley being absent, A. Figmuller, of the cigarmakers' union presided.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

The following credentials were read and delegates obligated:

Packers and nailers, John Ness; longshoremen No. 37, Martin Jackson, Thomas Frieland, L. Cardinelle; steamfitters, F. J. Dow.

State of trade as reported by the different organizations was as follows: Coopers, dull; cooper machine workers, absent; boilermakers, absent; cigarmakers, fair; carpenters, dull; breweryworkmen absent; packers and nailers, dull; laundryworkers, good; tailors, absent; typographical, fair; Duluth federated trades, absent; flour millers, absent; flour mill laborers, dull; pioneer federal, fair; stage employes, absent; painters and decorators, absent; retail clerks, fair; longshoremen No. 37, fair; longshoremen No. 27, fair.

Communications were read from the international union of bicycle workers in regard to their label.

From the international association of machinists, giving notices of strikes now on in different parts of the country.

From the trades and labor council of Elwood, Indiana, concerning the unfair Pittsburg Plate Glass Co.

Several communications were received from merchants in regard to the early closing movement and were turned over to the retail clerks' union.

The organizer reported that the iron molders were making preparations to form a union.

P. Wiess was elected delegate to the Wisconsin state federation of labor which meets in LaCrosse in June. J. S. Konkol was elected as alternate.

The Morning Leader was taken from the unfair list and is now conducting a union office. The announcement created great enthusiasm.

Home Patronage League.

The league will circulate pledges among the different clubs, societies and organizations of the city for their consideration, and Mrs. D. E. Roberts and Mrs. A. W. Durley were deputed for this work. In this way it is hoped to get the sentiment of the people on the matter.

Messrs. Woodward, Thomas, Reedfors and Figmuller were appointed a committee to draft a constitution and by laws.

Messrs. A. Figmuller, A. G. Newburg, Robt. Stewart, A. J. Hamilton and E. W. Newman were appointed to visit the businessmen and ask them to give home made articles the preference and also to recognize Douglas county farmers and producers.

Another idea of the league is to locate new industries at Superior. Messrs. Webb, Bardon, Gilbert, Agen, Rogers, Erhart and Mayor Dietrich will have charge of the project.

Mrs. C. A. Erhart, A. R. Mills and A. Reedfors will look after the financial part of the movement.

The mistake in the printed pledges has been corrected and they now have the "Superior labor" clause inserted.
