Butchers' union No. 12, at a meeting held Tuesday night endorsed the street car men's strike and voted to contribute $5 to the union strikers' cause.

The painters and decorators at their last meeting adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, that inasmuch as the members of the Street Railway Employees union are contending for that just principle, the right of working men to organize for self-protection, moral support, and express the hope we hereby pledge to them our earnest moral support and express the hope that they may be successful in gaining their present reasonable demands. JAMES SANDERS, President, EDWARD MAEN, Secretary.

The city council Monday evening passed unanimously and without debate the ordinance providing for the issue of $500,000 refunding bonds. This constitutes an acceptance of the refunding bill passed at the last session of the legislature.

The Union Label league at the meeting Monday night adopted the following resolution:

We, the Seventh Union Label league, being duly assembled this 8th day of May, 1919, unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, the Street Railway Employees union, to uphold their just rights and privileges as American citizens, were compelled to enter into a controversy with the Duluth Street Railway company, and

Whereas, the employees union having urgently asked and begged a settlement by arbitration and otherwise, with no results, therefore be it

Resolved, that we extend to the Street Railway Employees union our deepest sympathy, and pledge them our moral and financial aid to obtain their just rights and privileges as unionists and American citizens.

More Consideration.

Another long stride has been taken toward the co-operative commonwealth.

A financial news bureau of New York states that J. P. Morgan, the Seligman and the National City Bank are financing a mammoth combine, to be capitalized at from $25,000,000 to $70,000,000, which will include the Rockefeller iron interests, the Carnegie interests, the Federal Steel Co., the National Steel Co., and the American Tin Plate Co.

The $20,000,000 copper trust, it is reported, will develop into a combine with half a billion capital and will absorb not only the copper properties of the country, but also the lead, silver, and other mineral products. Procurement of silver would be a good thing for this growing young octopus, controlled by Rothschild-Rockefeller interests, and the Bryanites are playing right into their hands.

Other combines and their capitalization are announced as follows: Hide and leather, $70,000,000; rolling mill, $55,000,000; National light and power, $15,000,000; peanut, $5,000,000; gum, $9,000,000; cereal, $22,000,000; shoddy, $15,000,000; horse-shoes, $7,000,000.

brass castings, $5,200,000; Union matches, $10,000,000.

Another grand total of nearly a quarter of a billion of capital adds further power to the monopolistic class. If part of the capital is fictitious, so much the worse. The controlling spirits will force dividends from the hides of the workers to represent profit on watered stock, and if they cannot gain large enough dividends the smaller stockholders will be squeezed out eventually.

The absorption of independent concerns and the linking together of the trusts is now taking place, and the more opposition that is created the faster the work proceeds for socialism in our time.

DEWEY MAY VISIT DULUTH

MOVEMENT ON FOOT TO GET ADMIRAL TO COME THIS WAY.

Cabled by Mayor of San Francisco Asking Manila Hero to Change His Plans.

Mayor Phelan of San Francisco has started a movement to try to induce Admiral Dewey to come by way of the west instead of landing in New York. It has been announced that the admiral will come home via the Suez canal, landing at New York. The navy department in Manila has in his home coming but will let him come by any route he cares to take.

When the announcement was made that the admiral would come home by way of the Suez and the Mediterranean Mayor Phelan started the movement to have the admiral change his plans. Mayor Phelan asked all of the mayors of the principal cities of the west for permission to use their names in calling the admiral urging him to begin his triumphant tour at the golden gate and advancing eastward through the western states. Among the mayors that have been asked to for permission to use their names to the cablegram is Mayor Truesden of Duluth. The mayor has given his consent and so have all of the other mayors asked.

It is claimed in some quarters that the west's chances of getting the great sea fighter to come home by way of San Francisco are slim as the government desires to have the flag ship Olympia in which Admiral Dewey will return, overhauled at the Brooklyn navy yard.

On the other hand, it is argued that the west has the right to see Admiral Dewey first as the western troops are the ones that have been furnished to fight the Philippines and their service should receive some recognition.

Regarding the effort to have Admiral Dewey change his plans and greet the western part of his native land, Mayor Truesden said yesterday: "Admiral Dewey, of course, knows what he is about and knows which way he should return. But if he comes by way of the west I feel safe in saying that the west will lay itself out in celebrating the return of the nation's greatest hero in a way that will make the east look sick."

"If Admiral Dewey comes by way of the west and goes to St. Paul as it is proposed, I can see no reason why he should not come to Duluth. I am sure that Mr. Hill would be very glad to provide one of his lake greyhounds to carry the naval hero to Chicago from here and I am equally sure that while here Admiral Dewey would receive a more than grateful welcome."

WILL VISIT ALASKA.

Senator Fairbanks Wants Information About Boundary Line.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Senator Fairbanks, of Indiana, was at the state department today and saw Secretary Hay for a short time regarding matters pertaining to the Anglo-American commission of which he is chairman. He also called upon Mr. Kasson, a member of the commission. Senator Fairbanks will leave Seattle for Alaska about June 19 for the purpose of making personal investigation of the Alaskan boundary which is one of the main questions of difference between the United States and Great Britain.

Superior

Superior Typographical union held a regular meeting Sunday afternoon in the Hammond block. It was decided to secure space at the labor carnival for a printing exhibit. A special meeting will be held on Wednesday, May 17, for the purpose of electing a delegate to the International Typographical union convention which will be held in Detroit in August. Ed. Thompson and P. J. McKeague have announced their intention of securing the plum.

The cigarmakers held a special meeting Tuesday evening.

A meeting of the unfair committee was held Friday evening and a committee appointed to secure names of merchants who would handle Freeman mill flour. They were quite successful. A committee also waited on the Retail Grocers' association Wednesday evening to lay the matter before them.

Arrangements are now under way by the Assembly to secure Eugene V. Debs for a lecture sometime in June. Mr. Debs has many friends in Superior and Duluth and he would be greeted with a crowded house.

The retail clerks are circulating cards among the union men and others giving a list of stores where union clerks can be found, as follows:

Groceries:—J. Stern, T. J. Anderson, R. N. Stone, Geo. H. St. John, Paddock & Robinson, Andrew Eckstrom, C. M. Griffin, R. F. Wilson Grocery Co., J. A. Link, Newman & O'Connor, Fr. Jensen, Louis Erickson.

Dry Goods:—W. R. Fanning, Pederson Bros., S. W. Lightbody, Bee Hive, Lazar, L. Allenberg.

Clothing:—Ploan & Leveros, Columbia Clothing Co., Oak Hall Clothing Co.

Shoes:—Treadwell Shoe Co., Schiller Shoe Co., M. W. McNeil.

Hardware:—Pease-Humphrey.

A committee of the Duluth Street Railway Employees' union was at the Assembly meeting Tuesday evening. Several speeches were made detailing events leading up to the strike at the conclusion of which a resolution was passed by the Assembly tendering to the street railway employees its hearty support, financial and otherwise. A committee was also appointed to secure vehicles to be used in carrying passengers during the strike.

The Trades and Labor Assembly held a regular meeting Tuesday evening and the hall was crowded. New unions are being organized rapidly and the Assembly is unable to furnish them with halls to meet in. This ought to be an incentive for the Assembly to erect a labor temple with room enough to accommodate every organization in the city and it is hoped that a proposition of this kind will be agitated shortly.

John Killian now represents the cigarmakers as a delegate in the Assembly.

Eleven unions report business good in their respective lines, and five report dull.

The tailors' union has placed the "Sterling Tailors" on the unfair list.

CONNEAUT, O., May 11.—At noon today all of the foreign ore shovelers employed at this harbor went out on strike. They number over six hundred men. They struck because three gangs of Americans recently brought here from Michigan were put to work unloading the steamer De Soto. There are six ore boats in port tonight and all may be ordered ashore to unload. Thus far there has been no trouble.

OBSERVATIONS OF DR. PENROSE.

By Paul Williams.

WE were quietly sitting in the hotel rotunda, the atmosphere somewhat clouded with smoke from the cigars of a number of smokers, the doctor and myself among the number, when I questioned the Doctor on the subject of tobacco, saying:

"Doctor, we have a large class of people who revile the habit of smoking. It is either right or it is wrong. If it is wrong we ought to quit it. If it is right we ought to be prepared to tell the reason why. Please let us have your opinion on the subject. You smoke. You must have a reason for the habit."

"The custom is the word instead of the habit, in my case," replied the Doctor. "I follow the custom, but it is not a habit with me. I can go days and weeks without smoking and without inconvenience as would be the case if it was a habit."

"Well, then why do you follow the custom?"

"Because I think it philosophical. Because in my case it is beneficial. Do you see what I am smoking?"

"Yes," I replied, "a cigarette."

"Yes, you think it a regular tobacco cigarette but there is no tobacco about it. It is simply a little white tube of paper filled with cubeb seeds. The cubeb berry is a vegetable, slightly aromatic, and came into use on the advice of physicians who recommended its use for people suffering from ear-ache, the advice being to expel the smoke through the nostrils. I smoke it because it contains no element of poison."

"What is the use of smoking?"

"To obtain rest for the mind by making it passive and receptive."

"How is that accomplished?"

"The act of smoking begets quietude and a negative condition of the mind. When the mind is negative it is in receptive condition and favorable for receiving impressions. The positive mind should have the periods of relaxation and that period should be for half an hour after eating. Smoking at that time is particularly favorable also for digestion."

"Where do you get your cubeb cigarettes?"

"They are obtained at any drug store."

"Why not smoke tobacco?"

"Because the individual is liable to acquire the tobacco smoking habit to such extent that he often smokes to excess, absorbs nicotine poison, becomes nervous and injures health."

"How often could the individual smoke cigars with safety?"

"Of mild flavored cigars he might smoke three a day—once after each meal—without injury."

"At five cents each that makes fifteen cents a day, or a little over a dollar a week for cigars. Would you advise that expenditure for most men?"

"I am not advising anything. You ask me why I smoke. I reply that I smoke. If at all, immediately after eating to keep myself from becoming positive in action and to keep myself from reading, active talking, serious or profound thought at that time as the positive thought, directly after eating, or active exercise at that time is liable to retard digestion."

"What do your cubeb cost you?"

"You get cubeb cigarettes that will cost less than a cent apiece. My cubeb smoking, I suppose, costs me about two cents a day. But not being wedded to the habit of smoking I often go for days without smoking, so my expense for smoking is very light."

"Would you advise men to give up smoking cigars or tobacco and smoke cubeb?"

"I am not advising anything about smoking, from the fact that advice on that subject would be thrown away. Men will smoke tobacco. They will smoke such flavor and such quantity as they desire."

"Is there any other advantage in smoking aside from keeping the mind negative after eating and thus aiding digestion?"

"Yes, if the individual wishes to favorably impress another, or secure a favor, let him call after dinner, present the individual a cigar, of such flavor as he likes, and after he is engaged in smoking and his mind becomes quiet and receptive under the influence of the cigar, he is in condition to listen patiently and attentively. If he can ever consider the matter favorably it will be then."

"Which is the most harmful, smoking or chewing tobacco?"

"Undoubtedly chewing is. Plug and chewing tobacco are often saturated with ardent spirits to give flavor, which satisfies the taste of the chewer. In this is often laid the taste for strong drink, and right there the drink habit is formed. It is a noticeable fact that, while all tobacco chewers are not addicted to the use of strong drink, all drunkards usually are tobacco chewers."

"Beyond question a large share of intemperate men lay the foundation for their love of intoxicants in the habit of chewing tobacco."

"Another evil resulting from the chewing is in the waste of saliva which is designed by nature as an aid in digesting food. The man who chews tobacco produces a large amount of saliva which he either swallows or expectorates. In either case the saliva is wasted, the physical system is weakened and the health injured sooner or later."

"Would not that apply to chewing gum?"

"Certainly. Chewing gum is a vulgar and a bad habit. It not only injures the personal appearance of the person chewing, and is impolite in company, but like tobacco chewing, it makes a waste of saliva which is detrimental to health."

"But the claim is made that chewing gum aids digestion."

"Let no one be deceived by such a claim," continued the Doctor. "The only chewing which should be done should be when eating. Food should be eaten slowly and plenty of chewing should be done in order to excite a flow of saliva at that time which will then directly aid digestion, but for a person to chew and cause saliva to go into the stomach when it is not required is to do an ultimate injury to digestion."

"Outside of eating and drinking at regular times and drinking when thirsty we understand that you favor smoking after eating as a means of aiding digestion."

"Yes, The act of smoking for half an hour after eating, with a person inclined to be continually positive and exceedingly energetic may be decidedly beneficial."

"Should a young man ask your opinion as to the advisability of his smoking, what would you say?"

"As the weight of argument on the whole is against smoking, I should say: 'Young man, do not smoke, as in the act of smoking you form an expensive habit liable to be carried to excess. Smoke dries the mouth, deadens the nerves of sensation, creates a demand for something strong in the mouth in order to taste it, and leads to strong drink. Smoke defiles the air of the room, and this cubeb smoke is just as bad; to some people this is more offensive than tobacco smoke.'"

"Water, milk, butter, cheese, sugar, everything that is moist will absorb the odors in a room. For that reason smoking should never be allowed in the dining room, in the kitchen, in a grocery or in any place where food is kept."

"Beware of that restaurant where the guests are allowed to linger and smoke, and shun that grocery which is a loafing place for smokers."

"Spend the half hour after eating in quiet conversation, never in argument, never in deep study, never in violent exercise; always in the contemplation of things which are pleasant, but, young man, do not smoke."

'TIS BETTER TO LAUGH.

The sunniest skies are the fairest, The happiest hours are the best; Of all life's blessings the rarest Are pictures of pleasure and rest. Though fate is our wishes denying, Let each bear his part like a man, Nor darken the world with our sighing.

'Tis better to laugh when we can. Each heart has its burden of sorrow; Each soul has its shadows profound; 'Tis sunshine we're yearning to borrow From those who may gather around. Then let us wear faces of pleasure, The world will be happy to see; A sorrow is to no one a treasure— 'Tis better to laugh when you can.

SHERRY ESTATE. It Will Be All Settled Up in Few Weeks. OSHKOSH, Wis., May 11.—The matter of settling up the estate of Henry Sherry, the lumberman that failed for $1,000,000, and had interests all over northern Wisconsin, will be concluded in a few weeks. The affairs of three of the corporations involved have been wound up and the assigned discharged, as to them. These are the Park Falls Paper and Pulp Company, the Sherry Lumber company which paid 50, 50 and 25 per cent respectively. Four estates remain to be settled before the assignments in which Henry Sherry was interested will be cleared away. They are the Park Falls Lumber company, Ingersoll Land and Lumber company, Mineral Lake Lumber company and Henry Sherry personally.
