RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

STEAMERS LEAVING THIS DAY.

RIVER, WEATHER AND REMARKS.—The river was stationary slowly at this point yesterday. The river was still falling at Louisville Tuesday, with five feet two inches water in the canal. The Courier says the river at Louisville is now equally as low as it has been at any time this season, with but one eight foot water at Fort Island. The Cumberland river was falling Tuesday, with four feet six inches water on Harpeth shoals. The weather was again very hot yesterday, with the thermometer at 90 degrees in the shade. There was no entirely at the landing.

TELEGRAPHIC.—The Shuttle was stationary at Louisville yesterday, with five feet water in the canal.

ARRIVED AND DEPARTED.—The H. D. Mears and Victoria, from Vicksburg, and the Southerner, from Louisville, and the Platte Valley, from St. Louis, were the total packets that arrived. The manifest of the Mears showed included 430 pieces bagging, 200 coils rope, 50 bbls. whisky, 125 bbls. beer, 75 bbls. pork, 120 bbls. mineral, 220 kegs lead, 60 coarse hams, 30 head cattle, etc. The H. D. Mears, for Vicksburg, the Platte Valley, for Louisville, and the Southerner, for Louisville, departed with their trips. The Mears took 84 bbls tobacco for New Orleans. The Marie Dennig, which passed down by New Orleans Wednesday night, had on freight 14,000 bushels of grain, 80 bbls. beans, 6,000 bbls. flour, 200 head cattle.

INCIDENTS.—Some venture was cast at the time upon Capt. Lightfoot for refusing to take the crew of the steamer N. P. Ross from this port to Cincinnati. It should be known that Capt. Lightner, who was the commander of the Rocktish, offered to employ the crew of the Ross, but they refused to work, and of course he was under no obligations to carry them free of charge when an opportunity offered for them to work their passage in a legitimate way.....The H. D. Mears brought 1,500 bags to this port yesterday morning for the Grant Gin Works.....Robert Loughlin was admonished a few days ago, by being knocked overboard from the Mary Cook' below Pittsburg. The boat continued on her way as if nothing had occurred.....The Kate Bernhet a third-wheeler, sunk in the Wabash. She struck a rock Saturday at Hangman Rock, nine miles above Mount Carmel, knocking a hole nearly reaching her hog chain, along the bottom, and if there were water enough in the river she would have been sunk for good. She had 125 barrels of salt in the hold, which of course footed up her cargo of merchandise. She was a total effair, pretty well worn, and was owned at Mount Vernon.....

The John Tompkins is loading for Memphis at Louisville.....The Rocktish is offered for sale at Louisville.....Capt. Tillman and the pilot and engineer of the Jacob Strader were held to bail in $2,000 each, to answer the charge of causing the death of two persons in a skiff in the Ohio river a few days ago. Capt. T. Mace Erwin, late of the Mose McLelian is in command of the Jacob Strader temporarily.....The War Eagle was damaged in the storm Saturday above St Louis.....The Gen. Pike is on the ways at Pittsburg.....We learned by private dispatch from the Vicksburg last evening that the Monarch passed that port on her way up at 11 o'clock Tuesday night, and the Pacific passed up at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.
