Douglas	57
Bell	1
Breckinridge	47

☞ Of all the "rights" claimed by women there is none so undeniable as her right to a taste of her own. We, men, may feel inclined to quarrel with their taste sometimes, but not when it ornaments our rooms with the beautiful premium ambrotype, made by Tyler, opposite Odd-fellows' hall.

MEMPHIS AND LITTLE ROCK RAILROAD.—All persons wishing to attend the agricultural fair at Memphis will not be charged fare but one way over the Memphis and Little Rock railroad, during the time of the fair. Tickets from Madison to Hopefield and return two dollars. oc2-1t

MEETING OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.—There will be a special meeting of the chamber of commerce on to-morrow evening at 4 o'clock, for the purpose of electing the officers specified in the advertisement in another column.

CONTEMPLATED CHANGE OF SCHEDULE ON THE MEMPHIS AND CHARLESTON RAILROAD.—There will be a change of time on the Memphis and Charleston railroad on or about the 10th inst. The cars will then leave Memphis at 1 o'clock A. M., and P. M., instead of 6 o'clock, as at present.

THE SOUTHERN CULTIVATOR.—We received yesterday the October number of the Southern Cultivator, a monthly periodical devoted to agriculture, horticulture, plantation and domestic economy, and to the interests of Richmond and Howard at Augusta, Ga. It is a southern enterprise, and therefor has a claim upon the patronage of the southern public.

☞ These are hard times and some men must have money, and hence it is that the lot near Malone's, in Chelsea, and the six lots on the old Randolph road, within two squares of the new Presbyterian church, will be sold this morning at 10 o'clock by Mousarrat, Dupree & Co., for whatever price is bid on each piece of property. Sale takes place on the premises.

INQUEST.—In the absence of other justices from the city, in attendance on the county court at Raleigh, Recorder Dickinson held an inquest on yesterday over the dead body of a laborer (name unknown), who came over to Memphis a few days since from Arkansas. His verdict was death from exposure and intoxication.

SUICIDE BY POISONING.—A woman by the name of Mrs. Elizabeth King, residing in North Memphis, who separated from her husband some months since, and recently formed a new attachment for another man, committed suicide on last week by swallowing poison, owing to his desertion of her. Previous to the commission of the act she locked herself up securely in a room, barring the door so as to prevent all ingress.

MEMPHIS MEDICAL COLLEGE.—The preliminary course of lectures of this institution will commence on Monday, Oc'ober 1st, at 10 o'clock A. M., and will continue daily during the month. For further information, apply to L. P. Yandell, dean of the faculty. The high character of the professional corps of this institution, and its location as the most accessible city in the South, ought to insure to it a large number of students the approaching session.

A CURE FOR SPIRITUAL ATTONITIES.—An insight into Hellers's second sight.

"HOME FOR THE HOMELESS."—A long correspondence in regard to this organization has been clipped from the columns of a morning paper and sent us for publication. We are very willing to accommodate the ladies who have this charitable society under their auspices, but we have heretofore announced, as we hereby reiterate it, that we will not publish any matter of the kind unless it is furnished to us simultaneously with its first appearance in the other city papers. It is a rule which we have adopted, and has been departed from in some recent instances against our express orders to the contrary.

STREET RAILROADS.—We should not feel justified, says the Argus, in troubling our readers with what we consider a truism, were it not true that even now there are prominent men in Memphis who object to railways on some of our principal streets, and there are those also who believe that the voters of this city have once decided against the construction of railways for freight. There seems to be no remedy for the former difficulty, but to keep the subject before the [illegible] illustrating it all the while by references to the experience and public sentiment of other cities, and the opinions of those of our own [illegible] who are just returning home from those cities which are growing in wealth and population, under the influence of this, the greatest of all city improvements. In regard to the freight railway question we are fully justified in the assertion, that the question decided by a vote of the people was merely as to the propriety of permitting the Charleston company to extend its track through the city to the river, with the use of its locomotives and trains of cars. We made efforts at the time to obtain a promise than none other than horse-power should be used, but without success; and we have good reason to believe that the question turned upon that alone. Had Mr. Tate given an intimation that the locomotives were not intended to be used, the result would have been different, although most of the voters may have preferred that the railways should be laid by other persons or companies.

HOME FOR THE HOMELESS.

The ladies interested in the erection of a "Home for the Homeless," met Monday morning, October 1st, in the First Presbyterian church. Receipts from ministers who took up collections on last Sabbath, were handed in. Several pastors were absent, but Mrs. Keller presented $58.20 from the priests of the Roman Catholic church, as a contribution by their congregation; also a subscription of $100 from St. Agnes academy. Twenty-one dollars and ten cents were received from L. W. Finley, Esq., treasurer of Grace church, the amount given by that congregation yesterday. Miss Halstead handed in $21, collected by her; also $16.75 for admission and monthly dues—altogether amounting to $219.75 for the month of September.

A letter from Mr. Thomas was read, stating that he had some land for sale, and recommending it for the erection of a "home," and a committee of ladies appointed to look at the place, to be accompanied by Charles W. Frazer, Esq., and to report to the board of aldermen at their next meeting.

The ladies being unable to secure Odd-fellows' hall for the entertainment, appointed a committee to engage a suitable room for that purpose, and meet Wednesday at the same place, to report and make further arrangements. The house then adjourned.

MRS. M. C. GALLAWAY, President.
MARY L. BAYLISS, Rec. Sec.

ACCIDENT ON THE NASHVILLE AND CHATTANOOGA RAILROAD.—The morning train going out yesterday on the Nashville and Chattanooga railroad, says the Nashville Patriot of the 30th ult., met with a very serious accident, resulting in the death of one person, and the wounding of others. When in sight of Lavergne, by coming in collision with a piece of timber placed purposely in a cattle gap, the engine, tender, and one passenger car were violently upset and completely wrecked. By this unfortunate mishap, Mr. Charles Smith, engaged as a passer of wood upon the engine, was almost instantly killed. Mr. Geo. Hooper, mail agent, was seriously cut in the head, and received other injuries. A stranger named Tenny received a compound fracture of the jaw, a gentleman, name unknown, had the portion of a finger torn off, and several gentlemen were severely shocked and scratched. Rev. Dr. Hoyt, of this city, and Hon. L. C. Haynes, received trifling injuries. Hon. Bailey Peyton and Hon. W. H. Polk were among the passengers, but escaped unhurt. The week is said to be the most complete that ever occurred on the road, and it is truly strange that there was not a greater loss to life and limb.

SLEEPING CARS.—For the weary traveler these are certainly great institutions, and should be liberally sustained. We have more than once tried the sleeping cars of the Memphis and Charleston railroad, and can bear witness to the comfort and quiet they afford. To Mr. Washington Flack, one of the conductors, we have been indebted for civilities and accommodations in his line which we cannot soon forget. He is especially kind and attentive.

RECEIPTS OF NEW COTTON.—The following is the statement of the cotton receipts for yesterday:

Memphis and Ohio railroad	626
Mississippi and Tennessee railroad	524
Memphis and Charleston railroad	1369
Memphis and Little Rock railroad	10
Steamer Memphis	40
Steamer Cuba	115
Steamer R. W. Parker	45
Total	2729

LARCENY OF A SHIFF.—Officers Jewell, Creighton and Moore, arrested two men on yesterday, by names of J. W. Daniels and H. S. Safford, who were charged with stealing a skiff near Columbus, Kentucky, and bringing it down the Mississippi to this city. The gentleman, from whom the property was stolen came to Memphis for the purpose of hunting the thieves up, and had them arrested down on the river, between Poplar and Washington streets.

FATAL AFFRAY AT CORINTH, MISS.—The Reclamade learns from a gentleman who arrived on the care Sunday evening, that an affray occurred at Corinth about 6 o'clock Saturday evening, in which a young man named Jas. Lambeth was stabbed and almost instantly killed by Henry Shelton. The homicide at once fled, and has not been arrested. The sad occurrence has cast a gloom over the entire community, for both parties were highly esteemed.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.—Sheridan's celebrated comedy, School for Scandal, was presented at the theater on last night. Miss Annette Ince appearing with great credit to herself, in the character of "Lady Teazle." The auditory was much larger than on any night except the first since the opening of the season. To-night Jessie Dean will be repeated by especial request. To conclude with the interesting comedy of Married Life.

HALF FARE ON THE CHARLESTON RAILROAD.—Let the public who desire to attend the coming fair, on the the 9th inst., remember that the managers of the above road have determined on issuing tickets during the week (from the 8th to the 14th), at half the usual rates of fare—that is, full fare coming down, and return free. We presume the other roads will, if they have not, adopt the same course.

BLUFF CITY DOUGLAS AND JOHNSON CLUB.

You are hereby notified that your regular meeting for this (Tuesday) evening has been postponed (owing to other business being transacted to a early hall) until Friday evening, October 5th, when all members and friends of the club are requested to be on hand. By order of SAM'L TOBIN, Pres't.

New Orleans Market.

The following is from the New Orleans Picayune of Sept. 29:

The market generally has continued without any material change in the date of our last weekly report, though cotton has been in fair request during a portion of the time, under the influence of continued favorable accounts from Europe, the movement being checked by difficulties in the way of negotiating exchange, together with the firm pretensions of holders. The demand in Liverpool has also been on a slightly increased scale while the visible and unknown supply and demand continues of a limited character. In western produce we have witnessed a full and active market.

COTTON.—Our last weekly review closed upon an inactive cotton market, though the operations on the week amounted to about 4,000 bales, and we quoted middling at 10¼@10¾c. Since then the demand has been checked by increased difficulty in negotiating exchange, as well as the non prices claimed for desirable lots of the medium and better grades, for which the supply has been of a limited character. Advices from Europe continue favorable, reporting an active demand and higher prices in Liverpool, and the week's business with us has embraced about 32,500 bales, of which 400 were taken on Saturday, 2000 on Monday, 4500 on Tuesday, 8500 on Wednesday, 6000 Thursday, and 5000 yesterday, leaving quite a margin for the medium and lower qualities, which generally only sell for the better grades, and evidencing little of their inclining. The sales however have been mostly at about the range of the following quotations, which are without change:

Inferior	—@—	Middling	10¼@10¾
Ordinary	8 @ 8	Good Middling	10¾@11¼
Good Ordinary	8¾@ 9	Middling Fair	11¼@11¾
Low Middling	9 @9¾	Fair	11¾@12

The receipts of the week embrace 47,434 bales, against 49,181 for the same week last year. Total receipts since September 1, 102,397 bales, against 159,084 to the same date last year.

The exports of the week embrace 8,326 bales.

The stock on hand last evening was 192,083 bales, against 122,799 at the same time last year.

TOBACCO.—There has been more movement in the tobacco market during the past week, though holders have in most instances declined still fuller prices offered, the influence of continued unfavorable reports with regard to the condition and prospects of the growing crop. The sales of the week, so far as reported, have amounted to about 1000 hhds, of which, however, the participations have been suppressed for all except a few limited parcels.

Prices are understood to have been generally in favor of sellers, and we amend our quotations as follows:

Lugs, inferior to common	3¾@4
Leaf, inferior to common	4 @5
