GERMAN DOUGLAS CLUB.

There will be a meeting of the German Douglas club to-night at "headquarters" at early candlelight. A general attendance is solicited.

HON. E. W. M. KING.—We are requested by the friends of this gentleman, who is a candidate for judge of the criminal court, to contradict the rumor that he has withdrawn from the canvass. A dispatch was received from him yesterday to the effect that he is rapidly recovering from his sickness, and that he will probably be able to return to the city this evening. He has no thought of withdrawing as a candidate, but desires the suffrages of all his fellow-citizens who believe him to be qualified and fitted for the office.

☞ Two store houses and lots at auction this morning at 10 o'clock, opposite the Overton hotel.

THANKS.—Mr. Hamilton Borden, the gentlemanly superintendent of the local office of Adams express company, will accept our thanks for favors.

OPENING.—Our friend Nick Cavaline, who entered so successfully and so long to the public under the sign of the "White House," opens a fine new saloon in the Gayoso Institute's new building on Madison street, Monday.

FUNERAL SERMON.—Rev. Mr. Nye will preach the funeral sermon of Mr. James F. Littlefield, recently deceased, at Odd-fellows' hall, on Sunday morning. Topic—"Recognition and Reunion of Friends and Kindred in the Coming Life."

STEAMER SOLD.—The steamer A. W. Quarrier was sold at our landing yesterday for $8000. Messrs. J. H. Duval and S. M. Rogers were the purchasers. Captain Rogers will take possession and command, with Will Carter in the office.

POLICE UNIFORM.—Our police were out in their best yesterday, and presented a very fine appearance. There is nothing stiff and clumsy in their new uniform, as is frequently the case with insipient steps toward police uniforming.

PERJURY.—William J. Kernan, a witness in a case before the police court this morning, wherein Mrs. Bridget Feiszimmons was arraigned for keeping a disorderly house, was taken into custody on the charge of having perjured himself in giving in his testimony. He will, doubtless, have a hearing to day.

STREET PAVING.—In view of the approaching muddy term, it is a matter of interest to know that council is considerably exercised upon the subject of street paving, and that Messrs. Titus & Des Granges, the patentees, through Mr. A. H. Hise, their agent in this city, are laying down a section of their "cellular iron pavement" on Main street, near Monroe, so that our city fathers and their children may have an opportunity to test its merits.

☞ Two store houses and lots at auction this morning at 10 o'clock, opposite the Overton hotel.

OUT ON BAIL.—Our readers will remember that sometime since we mentioned the fact of one Dr. E. B. Miles having taken from the post office, through mistake or otherwise, a letter addressed to a Mr. Mills, and which he found to contain a check, and that on his attempting to negotiate the check in a city banking establishment, he was arrested and lodged in jail, where he has been lying up to yesterday in default of bail, when he succeeded in giving the bail required, and was released from custody.

DOUGLAS CANDIDATES OF THE COUNTY OF POYNTOC, MISSISSIPPI.—For sheriff, Donaldson, (Brecklridge); for clerk, J. L. Rivers; assessor, M. Wells, (Bell); treasurer, A. B. Cole.

MEMPHIS AND LITTLE ROCK RAILROAD.—All persons wishing to attend the agricultural fair at Memphis will not be charged fare but one way over the Memphis and Little Rock railroad, during the time of the fair. Tickets from Madison to Hopefield and return, two dollars.

RENOVAL.—The business house of Goggin, Trader & Holt, cotton factors, grocers and commission merchants, has been removed from No. 16 Main street to No. 16 Front row, where they hold themselves in readiness to serve the public in any way in their line. Their stock of bagging, rope and plantation supplies generally is complete, and is offered to the public on the most reasonable terms. The firm occupies an enviable position in our community, and we commend them to the favorable attention of our planter friends.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.—In consequence of the threatening aspect of the weather, a slim audience attended upon the representation of Mary Stuart at this temple of Thespis last night. Miss Ince rendered her character of "Mary" with her characteristic truthfulness, and received a creditable support from the stock company. Miss Ince makes her last appearance for the season in the character of "Medea," in the play of that name, to be followed by the laughable farce of The Goose with a Golden Egg.

D. B. MOLLOY, ESQ.—HIS RAILROAD.—The resignation of Col. Topp, and the election of D. B. Molloy to the presidency of the Memphis and Ohio Railroad, has attracted universal attention to the progress of this great work. We only propose to speak of its incidental effects upon the northern portion of Memphis, those effects which are there everywhere visible, and becoming every day more and more apparent. It has caused the erection of that magnificent hotel, whose splendors, it is said, shall eclipse those of any similar establishment in the valley of the Mississippi. It has regenerated Pinch of the "olden time," and made property in that quarter of the city as desirable as in any other. It has built up manufacturing establishments, reconstructed old tenements, torn down the old and built up new ones, till the northern district of Memphis would not be recognized by one who had not wandered throught it for four or five years. The population of this end of the city have divested themselves of the garb of idleness, and business houses of every description are springing up in every direction. Chelsea, the northern suburb, has become a thriving, populous village, and prices of property have advanced beyond the hopes of the most sanguine. The Overton hotel is conceived to be the grand center about which the progressive influences of this road are concentrated; and here, too, converge as many of the beneficial effects of the Memphis and Charleston railroad as at any other point. We could conceive of no better locality than this in which to make profitable investments. The lots, 24 by 75 feet, opposite the Overton hotel, to be sold this morning at 10 o'clock, by Messrs. Dupree & Co., should attract the attention both of speculators and business men, since this is the only property that can be bought on any terms in this immediate vicinity.

THE APPROACHING FAIR.—Much fine stock is daily arriving for exhibition at the approaching Shelby county fair. The grounds and booths are being placed in preparation for the largest display ever before made at this point. The brilliant success of the recent fairs at St. Louis and Cincinnati, and the immense number of entries, have awakened the managers of our fair to a sense of what may be done in that line, and nothing will be wanting in preparation to make the occasion one of much interest here. The famous horse Ethan Allen, which drew the first prize of $1500 at St. Louis as the best roadster on exhibition, will be a contestant for the prize of $1000 which is offered by the published premium list. He is a fine piece of horse flesh, and here, as at St. Louis, will doubtless carry off the palm. The steamer Ida May, which broke a number of bee-timbers in the Ohio river, last Tuesday, by running onto a sunken coalboat, by which she was forced to lay by at Madison for repairs, had on board the famous horse Stockbridge Chief, and nine other fine horses for exhibition at our approaching fair. The horses were reshipped on board the steamer Chester Ashley.

MEMPHIS AND VICKSBURG RAILROAD.—We understand that the best possible feeling is manifested by those most interested in the final completion of the projected railroad from this point to Vicksburg. The length of this road is about two hundred miles, and its estimated cost about $4,000,000, or about $20,000 per mile. The citizens along the route are so fully sensible of the advantages to accrue from the completion of the proposed enterprise, that they have all agreed, almost without a dissenting voice, that the large along the line, six miles out from each side of the road, extending from Vicksburg to the Tennessee line (190 miles), shall undergo a tax of one dollar and a half per acre. This will at once secure inward its consummation the sum of $2,185,800. The city of Vicksburg will subscribe the sum of $150,000, and it is reasonable to assume that the State of Tennessee will give $100,000 for the ten miles within her limits. Memphis will be expected to subscribe at least $450,000, which will be but so much invested in valuable stock in the road, and as it would meet with ready sale at any time after the project is fully completed, it would be equivalent to lending its credit for that amount to the road, as in the case of the Memphis and Charleston railroad. The connection in point of interest to Memphis merchants, is certainly second to no line of railway now projected or suggested. Our city has long felt the necessity of a direct connection with New Orleans by rail, to connect the very influence of that line of roads which it is endeavoring to draw off a large part of the trade and travel that should pass through Memphis, and carry them directly past us on the east to New Orleans. This state of things can now be counteracted, however, by extending the aid of the city to the projected Memphis and Vicksburg road on the south, thereby securing a direct connection with New Orleans, and by means of the contemplated connection with Cincinnati, thus securing a complete system of railroads from Cincinnati to New Orleans.

RAILROAD CONNECTION WITH CINCINNATI. A meeting of the committee on the part of the city of Cincinnati, appointed by the citizens to take charge of all matters connected with a direct railroad connection with the South, was held at the Burnet house in that city on the 3d inst. Messrs. Lary Anderson, Robert Mitchell, Joseph Torrence and William Ernst were present on the part of the city of Cincinnati, and Mayor Baugh and William Kirk represented the interests of Memphis, and presented their views on the subject of a rail connection with that city, and gave assurances that the road would be built from Memphis to Bowling Green. These gentlemen were to furnish the committee with all necessary information as to route, surveys, etc. The line was placed upon the same footing as the others which had previously been brought to the notice of the committee by representatives of other localities. A letter was read from Charles G. Greenville, Esq., mayor of Chattanooga, Tennessee, asking information and proposing to accompany the committee over the routes which they think proper to visit, and to furnish surveys, etc. No action was taken by the committee, who adjourned to meet at the Burnet house on yesterday morning, at nine o'clock.

☞ Two store houses and lots at auction this morning at 10 o'clock, opposite the Overton hotel.

EDWARDS' SOUTHERN ALMANAC.—This valuable and useful publication for 1861, will certainly supercede all others in the Southern States. It will be, in itself, a perfect encyclopedia of useful knowledge, relating to commerce, agriculture, the progress of the country, etc., besides a large amount of historical information, biographical sketches, chiefly of southern men, with many beautiful engravings of interesting places, etc. It will possess unequalled attraction, and must come into universal use. We are requested to say, by the publishers, that all orders for editions of 500 and upward, must be sent in before the first of November, or an extra charge will be made. Price 100, $50; 500, $30, with imprint on cover for any location in the Southern States; 25 cents per single copy. For sale throughout the country. Richard Edwards, editor and publisher, 241 Main street, Memphis; 33 Third street, St. Louis, or Post-office building, New Orleans.

POPULATION OF PANOLA.—The village of Panola is a thriving little place, that holds its head up and aspires to city airs. The census taker has been around in that latitude, and while other cities are speculating upon their population, why should not Panola? From data furnished us by the Panola Star, we learn that there are in the county 3080 white males, 2899 white females, 5022 male slaves, and 5022 female slaves, and a total population of 15,983. There is not a free colored inhabitant in the county.

OUR FIRST PAGE.—The letter of "Kentucklian," addressed to John C. Breckinridge, which we publish on our first page this morning, will amply repay a perusal. "The Home of Alex. H. Stephens," to be found on the same page, is both instructive and entertaining.

COTTON RECEIPTS.—The cotton receipts by railroad yesterday were as follows:

Memphis and Charleston railroad	908
Mississippi and Tennessee railroad	468
Memphis and Ohio railroad	20
Memphis and Little Rock railroad	20
Total	1,396

By river we have to report 50 bales per the Wittenberg and 62 bales by the Judge Fletcher, giving an aggregate of receipts of 2047 bales for yesterday, and showing a gradual increase from day to day.

SUNDAY NIGHT LECTURE.—Rev. Mr. Nye will preach Sunday night, at Odd-fellows' hall, on "The Moral Argument against the Doctrine of Endless Punishment." Services at half past seven. The public are invited to attended.

☞ A. S. Levy & Co. will sell at their sales room 196 Main street, at 10 o'clock this morning, 615 bags cotton seed, three marble slabs, and a lot of tire iron suitable for blacksmithing; also furniture, cigars, tobacco, liquors. See advertisements in their column.

☞ Two store houses and lots at auction this morning at 10 o'clock, opposite the Overton hotel.

DISCHARGED.—A man named Calahan was before Esquire Horne yesterday for the larceny of a knife from a Jew on Front row. For want of sufficient proof he was discharged.

DEATH OF GOV. WILLARD.—The telegraph brings us the not entirely unexpected announcement of the death of Gov. A. P. Willard, of Indiana. He died at St. Paul, Minnesota, yesterday, of consumption.

☞ We do not recollect ever seeing so strong and universal a desire to witness a performance as there is now among the upper classes of Memphian society to behold Heller's wonders. Heller, now better known either as "Robert the Devil," or the "American Houdin," by divesting his stage of all the old clap-trap of magicians, and yet accomplishing wonders they never dreamed of, producing bewildering, sometimes awing effects without any apparent means, approaches our ideal of Cagliostro more nearly than any wonder-worker from Mesmer to Judge Edmonds. Such men as Heller come once in an age, and when they do come invariably create the same peculiar sentiments. Cagliostro defied the scrutiny of courts; Heller, more daring, that of a people. His entertainment is a sort of intellectual combat between himself and the audience he never fails to baffle; but that he has discovered new motive powers in nature, that he uses mesmerism in his Second Sight, is a great magnetizer, etc. etc., we do not believe, taking him at his own word to be merely a man of industry, ingenuity and genius, greater than that of the majority of men.

COTTON RATES.—We learn from the Cincinnati Enquirer that the vexed question of rates on cotton via river to Parkersburg, Wheeling or Pittsburg, thence rail, or via boat to Cincinnati, and thence rail, has finally been settled by the Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania Central railroads agreeing to make a difference of twenty-five cents per bale via Cincinnati to all points.

GOOD SHOOTING.—Some of the very best cigars that we have smoked were presented to us yesterday by Mr. Alex. A. Clarkson, Main street, between Madison and Court streets. Smokers, give him a call and ask for the "Ingomar" brand.

☞ The Hon. Tom Corwin addressed the Republicans of Columbus, Ind., yesterday, and the Hon. Herschel V. Johnson speaks to the Douglas Democrats of the same place to-day.

SILVER HEELS.—A statement having Appeared in the News that the owner of Silver Heels had disposed of that horse to the Prince of Wales for $5,000 we are authorized to say that Gen. Singleton was offered, by the Duke of Newcastle, $3,000 for Silver Heels and Sallie Lee, and that it was declined.
