☞ Don't fail to attend the sale of that valuable lot, opposite Court Square, at 10 o'clock this morning.

ARKANSAS POTATOES.—We are indebted to Mr. D. E. Gibson, of Crittenden county for a specimen of sweet potatoes grown on his place. They are the very largest that we have seen, and as good as large.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—The November number of this serial has already been placed on the counters of Young & Co., under Odd-Fellows' hall. Our lady readers will find it worthy of its continent-wide reputation.

PILE DRIVER FOR THE MISSISSIPPI CENTRAL RAILROAD.—Orgill Bros. & Co., of this city, yesterday shipped to James Grant, of Holly Springs, a pile driver, the hammer of which weighs 2,250 pounds, to be used in driving piles on the Mississippi Central railroad this side of Holly Springs. It is a powerful machine, and is intended to drive eighteen inch piles for trestle work.

RETURNED FOR SAFE KEEPING.—Thos. B. Myrat, under indictment for the murder of Jas. Webb, procured a change of venue by which the jurisdiction over his case was removed to Somerville. The condition of the jail at that place not being proof against the peril of an escape, Deputy Sheriff Perry, of Somerville, yesterday returned the prisoner to this city for safe keeping until the third Monday in November, when his case will be brought before the court at Somerville.

☞ The mendicity of Breckinridgism is becoming quite proverbial. By way of exhibiting the devices to which the supporters of Breckinridge resort to keep up their already deceased cause, we need only to mention the innumerable canards which they are every day manufacturing and anonymously setting afloat upon the great sea of newspaperdom. The latest and best is that the Mobile Register has pulled down the Douglas flag, an announcement which quite startled the editor of that most influential and reliable journal. He is unable to ascertain who first "launched the lie," as its author, like his own candidate, is remarkably fond of skulking.

NO QUORUM.—A call was made upon our city fathers through the medium of the city press yesterday, to repair to the city hall at 9 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of taking into consideration the expediency of selecting a site for the jail and the collection of taxes. No quorum was obtained.

☞ Every discription of soiled and faded garments may be sent to Hemshall (successor to Marshall & Cook). They will after passing through his hands assume the gloss and have the durability of new clo hes. Office on Main, near Gayoso.

MASONIC.—The officers of the grand lodge of Kentucky for the next term are as follows: M. W. Lewis Landram, of Stanford, W. G. M.; R. M. B. J. Hinton, of Paducah, D. G. M.; W. Hiram Bassett, of Maysville, G. S. W.; W. E. H. Hobson, of Greensburg, grand secretary; A. G. Hodges, of Frankfort, grand treasurer; J. B. Richardson, of Lexington, G. S. and T.

BILL ALEXANDER FOR SALE.—Wm. Roundtree's fine stallion, Bill Alexander, having given way in the right hip in such a manner as to be excluded from the turf, will be offered for sale at Nashville to-day. He has won nine consecutive races, and before the accident which has laid him on the shelf, he was considered one of the best turf horses in the country.

ARRIVAL OF RACERS.—The celebrated trotting horses Ike Cook and Reindeer arrived in Louisville on Wednesday to be present at the fall trotting meeting which begins at the Woodlawn course on Monday next. Bully Lewis, Grit, Fillmore Joe Dimmick, Uncle Ned, and others will arrive in a day or two.

SALE OF RACING STOCK.—We learn from the Banner that General W. W. Woodfolk sold at the race course at Nashville on Monday to James Leathers, of Mobile, Alabama, his celebrated race mare Lola Horton, three years old, by imported Albion, dam Matilda Diana by Sovereign, for $4,000. He also sold to Judge Hunter, of Alabama, Ellen Tail, by Lexington, dam Laura, by imported Leviathan, two years old, for $2,500.

DOUGLAS' RECEPTION.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the different Douglas clubs of the city, held at Democratic headquarters on Thursday evening, the chairman, Wm. H. Carroll, was instructed to appoint a committee of fifty gentlemen, citizens of Memphis, to receive and welcome Judge Douglas on the 24th instant. N. T. Lawrence was appointed treasurer and John Park grand marshal of all the clubs for that especial occasion. A call will be found elsewhere for a meeting of the marshals on Saturday night.

SERIOUS AFFRAY.—At a late hour on Thursday night, a serious difficulty occurred on Adams street, at Larke's eating saloon, where it will be remembered, Mr. Gallor, of the Avalanche, was so cowardly attacked some time since. The participators in this case are not of the same dastardly character as the former, though they were more bloody. It seems that Nicholas Langdon and James Wiggins met in this saloon, and falling into conversation, remarks were made by Wiggins at which Langdon took umbrage, and immediately struck Wiggins with his fist, whereupon Wiggins, drawing a dirk, stabbed Langdon in the shoulder. In the melee Wiggins received a severe cut on the head with a tumbler, from the hands of Mr. John Sherman, though neither of the wounds are likely to prove serious. The parties were arrested, and yesterday morning, after examining the case thoroughly, the recorder fined Wiggins and Langdon $5 each, and Sherman $20.

WIFE WHIPPING.—The disgraceful practice of wife whipping is woefully prevalent in our city. He must be debased indeed who can turn away from the impressive ceremonies of the altar and become himself an object from which his betrothed shall feel impelled, by his cruelty, to demand the protection of the law. Those finer sensibilities and affections which entitle man to the distinction of the highest of God's creation being wanting, he becomes a monstrosity—neither a man nor a beast—wanting the feeling of one and the form of the other. No amount of fines can compensate the community for this outrage upon decency—this violation of the obligations of morality, religion and civilization. Geo. A. Davis, who lives on Poplar street, between Third and Four ?, is in the habit of so far forgetting his manhood as to abuse his wife, for which he was again before the recorder yesterday, and fined $20.

A POLICEMAN BEFORE THE RECORDER.—A new recruit on the night police force, one B. F. Hines, was before the recorder yesterday, and fined $50. Mr. Hines is not in the habit of taking too much of the "ardent," but is guard against the danger he makes a practice during its prevalence of imbibing in an ounce a day by way of preventive, which the maxim has dogmatized as being better than a pound of cure. But on Thursday night Mr. Hines divided his ounce into sixteen drams—a homeopathic procedure, certainly, if the drams had been the 16 b of an ounce. While under the effects of this medicine Mr. Hines met a lady from Africa on DeSoto street and politely asked her for her passport, signed by the signature of some "proper authority." The credentials were produced, and after a close scrutiny through his Argus eyes, which saw in every direction, Mr. Hines pronounced them illegal, and proceeded to make demonstrations to take the girl to the calaboose, when she became alarmed, and her screams procured assistance in the person of the mistress and her two daughters. In the struggle to take the girl to the calaboose, Hines literally tore the dresses off the mistress and her two daughters, in the midst of which determined effort to "do his duty," officer Day arrested Hines and took him to the lock-up. Query—An "ounce of preventive" having brought Mr. Hines into so much trouble, what would have been the result of the dengue and a "pound of cure?"

DOUGLAS DEMONSTRATION.

The assistant marshals appointed by me are requested to meet at Democratic head-quarters on Saturday night, October 20th, at 8 o'clock, to make preliminary arrangements for the reception of Hon. S. A. Douglas and Herschel V. Johnson on the 24th inst.

JOHN PARK, Chief Marshal.

THE ORIGINAL SQUATTERS ON MAIN STREET.—W. B. Miller & Co., Speed & Strange, and Mr. Petit and his partners were the three first large dry goodsmen to desert Front row, about the year 1851, and commence business on Main street. Miller & Co. occupy to-day the Clay building. A glance within shows how fortune has smiled upon these men. Speed & Strange, no less successful, vend silks and laces in a mirrored palace. The other of the three original Main street firms has been dissolved, and each partner in it now counts his cotton bales and "wooly heads" when he "takes an account of stock." The men who next spring move into second street will act as wisely as these clear headed gentlemen whom we have named above. There can be no such thing as resistance to the attractions of Second street with such salesrooms and storehouses as now adorn it from Poplar to Union street. Trade will be drawn thither; Main street will be given over to drays, carts and omnibuses, while Second street will be filled with pedestrians, mayhap perfected by a street railroad. The women will all go to Second street as naturally as they did in 1851 to Main, and the merchants who have a fancy for the fine arts will follow, if not precede them. If there be those among them inclined to do this even now, an opportunity for making an immense stride in that direction presents itself in the sale of the only lot now in the market, situated in the very middle of the length of Second street, on which it fronts 25 10-12 feet, running back 148½ feet. It is, too, opposite the center of Court square, and adjoins on the north Cook's iron structures, while both sides of Court street belong to parties who will build houses such as are fitted for the locality. No other property thereabouts will be sold in the lifetime of this generation, and all who would buy should watch this last chance. The owner would not sell, but he cannot improve the property, and his necessities are such that unless he sells, other contracts for other property already entered into cannot be fulfilled unless this property is sold, as it will be at ten o'clock, without limit or reserve.

MEDICAL MEETING.—The members of the medical profession are requested to meet at the Medical College, Exchange Buildings, at 10½ o'clock this morning, the 20th inst., to pay a proper tribute of respect to the late Dr. H. B. Robards.

COLORED BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.—Since no public fund is set apart for the special benefit of colored persons, and they are "destitute of any form of society," an organization is being instituted in Memphis for their special benefit. We have not seen a circular of the proposed association, but we learn from the Argus that it is to be composed and officered exclusively by colored folks. It says that "having lived in the city of Memphis a number of years, and seeing the colored people destitute of any form of society, the founders of this association have taken a step which they hope may be for the good of all who may attach themselves to its principles." Among the principles we find the following: "No member shall chew tobacco during meeting, under a penalty of fifty cents." Hard on the staple product of Ole Virginny. "Any member found intoxicated, or rioting in the streets, shall be reported to the meeting, and fined not less than one dollar." The member "found" would be likely to be reported at another hot than the society's, we hope, and be fined more than one dollar for "rioting in the streets." The intentions of the society may be very benevolent, but they may safely trust our police on the latter "principle," without extending benevolent fines and penalties for criminal offenses.

FAILURES.—Failures in business produce consternation in financial circles, failures of banks cripple business operations, failures of traders make dry docks of our wharves and dry times among steamboatmen, but the failure of the mails affects all classes of the community, and leaves them in doubt as to what is transpiring around them. The wants of civilization are numerous, but as the food supplies to the body the stimulant which sustains it, so the feed of the mind supports our civilization, and indirectly upholds our institutions. Rob the present age of the press and the next would degenerate. In the name of civilization—by the genius of our progress—we invoke the postmaster to "hurry up the mails."

THANKS.—We are under peculiar obligations to Messrs. Borden and Gillespie, of the Adams express company, for New York and Cincinnati papers in advance of the mails.

☞ The fine livery stable of N. D. Wetmore, opposite the Overton hotel, is being rapidly finished, and will soon be ready for the reception of his stock. It will be one of the most commodious establishments in the West. The horses will occupy the first and second stories, and the carriages belonging to the establishment will be kept in the third story, which communicates with the ground floor by means of an extensive hatchway.

DR. WARNER, THE CHIROPODIST.—We would direct public attention to the conspicuous advertisement of Dr. Warner, to be found in this morning's issue of our paper. He comes to spend the entire winter in our midst, and brings with him the recommendations of many of the first and most respectable citizens of Mobile, Alabama, where he has been resident for several years. Among the number we recognize the names of Dr. J. C. Nott, A. B. Meek, John Forsyth, and others of like reputation. We take pleasure in publishing the following tribute paid his medical skill by the Mobile Tribune of April 12th, 1860:

DR. WARNER.—We publish this morning the advertisement of our distinguished resident chiropodist, Dr. Warner. He is now going on two years since he settled himself in Mobile. Within this period he has made a reputation, not only as a good citizen, but highly skilled in his profession, and as a gentleman full of integrity and social courtesy.

Considering the special objection to anything which resembles quackery that prevails among the medical profession, the numerous testimonials of the merits of Dr. Warner which have been given by our best physicians are the highest evidence of his worth. It isn't every one—even though he may be skillful—that can get such testimonials

Considering all these facts, the public must conclude that Dr. Warner is entirely worthy of their confidence.

Thus having a skillful and reputable physician always at hand to cure the ills of our feet, the next question is as to the miseries of those ills. It is a very poor or a very mean man that will not secure the luxury which is at hand. We suspect that corns, although endurable, and not generally fatal to life, produce just as much misery in the aggregate as the acutest disease. The evil is infinitely trying to the temper. We have one friend who seems to have no trouble except this. The result is, a naturally sweet temper is made irracible, and sometimes almost intolerable. We recommend him to visit Dr. Warner. He may regain his temper and appetite and prolong his life by the skillful manipulations of that gentleman.

For the benefit of the afflicted Dr. Warner notifies that he will remain in the city during the whole winter.

AFFRAY IN WASHINGTON.—Last evening, about 7 o'clock, Col. T. Allen, of Georgia, and Mr. Russell, of Georgia, were standing near Brown's hotel, when they were accosted by Mr. Robinson, of the Navy Department, who called Mr. Russell aside. While Mr. Russell and Mr. Robinson were engaged in conversation, the subject of which was unknown to Mr. Allen, Mr. James Henry, of Washington, came up, and after some remarks struck Mr. Robinson and knocked him down. Col. Allen, seeing this, rushed to protect his friend, and, to prevent a disturbance, pulled Henry away by the collar of his coat. The latter struck Col. Allen a blow over under the left eye. Col. Allen, a severely punished his assailant, and soon succeeded in placing him hors du combat. Shortly afterward, while Col. A. was standing in front of Brown's Hotel, Henry and a number of his friends renewed the assault, but were soon compelled to retire. We are happy to learn that Col. Allen, whom we know to be a gentleman of the highest honor and character, sustained but very trifling injuries.—Constitution.
