Preliminary lectures will commence on the 15th day of October, and course will be opened for dissection at the same time.

The regular course of lectures will commence on the first Monday, the 5th day of November, and will continue sixteen weeks.

The present arrangement of the faculty is by far the most complete and effective (as proved by our satisfactory experience the session just) that has ever been organized in the college. Every department is represented by an able professor, who is the greatest cure and assiduity, and the truths of natural and medical science are investigated and clearly elucidated by demonstrations and logical definitions, which will fix the principles of pure reform in the mind of every candid and intelligent observer.

To those who design practicing medicine in the Middle, Western or Southern States, we would say that our institution presents great advantages for acquiring a practical knowledge of the diseases peculiar to this climate our classes of the North and East, and it is a duty the student owes to himself and his section to patronize home institutions.

Registrar for graduation the same as those required by all other respectable medical colleges.

Good board can be obtained at from $3.50 to $4.50 per week.

For further information address either Profs. Gayle, Gaillard, G. W. Morrow, or Hewitt, at Memphis, or W. R. Morrow, M. D., Dean of Faculty, at Hollidaysburg, Tennessee.

By a special arrangement on the part of trustees of the Memphis hospital, the students of this college are allowed the same privileges in that institution as those of the Hospital college, and the whole faculty will visit the hospital once or twice a week with one of the professors.

Prof. Wm. Hewitt is now in New York selecting additional material for the illustrative departments of the college, and the facilities for acquiring medical knowledge will be much greater than heretofore.

All are advised to come in by the 15th of October.

Students on their arrival will please call immediately at the office of Drs. Gayle & Wendell, 376 Main street, or Drs. Gaillard & Morrow, Union street, north side, second door east of Main.

MORTUARY.—The following is a summary of the report of the board of health for the week ending at 2 o'clock yesterday: Adults, 23; minors, 12; males, 22; females, 13—total, 35.

THE FAIR.—The ladies of this association intend holding an entertainment at the hall, on the 29th, 30th and 31st of October, for the purpose of raising funds to furnish and fit up the Brickley place as generously given by the city. If the gentlemen (young and old) will meet at the hall on Monday night they will find something both useful and ornamental, arranged for their benefit. The ladies are determined that the first fair of the season shall be the most elegant. They wish to have a "home" for the poor creatures who throng our streets before the cold winter season is upon them.

THE COURTS.—The application of Thos. B. Mynatt for a new trial, on the plea of "additional testimony" being discovered, occupied the attention of the criminal court yesterday. Judge Swayne, after hearing the points which the defense was able to prove by the new witness, decided that they were insufficient to justify the setting aside of the former decision of the court, and Mr. Mynatt was remanded to jail, to await his trial, which comes off at Somerville on the third Monday in November. The case of Thos. Hogan, charged with forging the signature to a deed, will occupy the attention of the court the first thing Monday morning. The common law court, Judge Dixon, was not in session yesterday, but will resume its regular business to-morrow.

THE RACES.—The races over the Memphis course will open Monday next with a post stake for all ages, $200 subscription, play or pay, the club to add $400. There are four subscribers to this stake, making the nett value to the winner $1000. In this race Capt. Moore will start either Mollie Jackson or Laura Farris, and Mr. Richards will choose between Betty Ward and Magenta. This will be a stabling race, and it will puzzle the knowing ones to pick out the dark one. We are not advised whether Messrs. Cheatham and Brooslar will start or pay forfeit. In the Walker stake for three year olds, mile heats, $200 subscription, $30 forfeit, the club to add $200 in pick, there are eleven subscribers. Of these at least three will start. Tom, too, will be an exciting race, and with a good track and fair day we may expect to see very good time made. The opening day will afford most excellent sport, and we anticipate a good attendance. The ladies, we trust, will turn out in force, as the rain having laid the dust, a visit to the course promises more than usual pleasure. We have never had so good an opening day as Monday will be.

A HOME FOR THE HOMELESS—MEMPHIS POOR—A PLAN FOR THE NEW BUILDING.—For some time past the ladies of our city with a commendable spirit of enterprise and charity, have been laboring to secure the establishment of an asylum which shall be a "Home for the Homeless." Ever first in charitable labors, and ever successful in their appeals to the public, they have at last succeeded in interesting the board of mayor and aldermen in the object of their labor, and secured the purchase of fifteen acres of ground on the Raleigh road, near the city, at an outlay of seven thousand dollars. The necessity of such an institution has been sorely felt in our city for some time past. The State hospital, originally built for the accommodation of fifty invalids, has been thronged to repletion—with one hundred and fifty inmates at times—while numerous applications have been refused without the slightest examination into the merits of the case, or the condition of the applicants. No longer ago than Thursday last, 'Squire Horne was called to hold an inquest upon the body of one Wm. Kelly, who died without medical aid, after having made an unsuccessful application for admission to the State hospital, the reply being that no more inmates could be accommodated. These things should be remedied, and who better calculated to apply the remedy than those whose sympathies are warmest, whose labors in the cause of charity are most unceasing—the ladies of the association of "The Home for the Homeless?" "The poor ye have always with you," was the language of him who had not where to lay his head, and the injunction was that we care for them. How admirably in keeping with this Christian obligation is the proposed establishment of an institution where invalid indigence may find a home, and while suffering from the ravages of disease may be relieved of the agony of want. The coming winter will, without doubt, be a severe one to the hundreds of poor people who live in and contiguous to our city. Already have some houseless and homeless wanderers appeared at the mayor's office to ask for protection against the knawing pangs of hunger and exposure to the innumerable wants that closter around poverty. Last winter many were fed and clothed at the expense of private parties. Would it not be well for the mayor to appoint a committee in each ward to receive contributions and distribute them to those who are known to be true objects of charity? We are assured that there are many citizens of Memphis who are ready and willing to give clothes and food to the poor if they can feel assured that their alms will reach the proper persons. Let the mayor and council see to this. In this way much misery may be relieved without "burdening the city with debt." It will be some time before the Home for the Homeless will be able to provide for the poor "whom we have always with us," and in the meantime, as a Christian community, we are under obligations to care for them. We have been shown by Mr. Jos. A. Miller, architect and civil engineer, and who secured the prize for architectural drawing at the late fair, a design which he has prepared with much care for the new building for the "Home for the Homeless," and which he proposes to donate to the association, together with his supervision of the erecting of the building. The design contemplates a convenient and roomy building, in the Italian style of architecture, though without the ornaments which are frequently employed in this style—the finish being admirably in keeping with the character of the institution, only such ornaments being used as give grace rather than elaborate finish to the building. The dimensions are to be forty feet front by eighty-five feet deep, two stories and a basement almost entirely out of ground. The basement contains a spacious dining room, kitchen, pantry, store room, cellars, lumber room and workshop. In the first story is laid out a large parlor for the inmates, sitting room, sewing room and library, a parlor, sitting room and two bed rooms for the matron, a depository for clothing and a medical dispensary. The second story contains four large dormitories, two children's rooms connecting with a nursery, and two sick rooms, with a gallery ten feet wide running on one side and in the rear on each story. The whole house is designed to be built of brick, and the estimated cost is $15,000, which added to the cost of the grounds—$7,000—aggregates $22,000. The ladies of the association give a fair at Odd-fellows' hall commencing Monday, for the benefit of the Home for the Homeless, and we hope that the laudable object to which the proceeds are to be appropriated, will secure a full and liberal attendance.

THE WEATHER.—After having suffered for some time past from the intolerable drouth and dust, which made sand bars in our throats as well as the Mississippi, we were yesterday morning visited by one of those beautiful and timely showers which make the heart glad.

"In pong transcendent, rain is heavenly dew
And of the clear rainbow paint the orient skies."

While earth and air acknowledged the favor by their evident effort to put on their most agreeable manners, "Earth to earth and dust to dust" was the command of the storm, and the volatile particles of real estate which filled the atmosphere were precipitated to the earth, and the air was left as sweet as the breath of Araby.

COSTLY APPAREL.—If economy is the road to wealth, the reverse of the proposition must be equally true that extravagance is the road to poverty. The former is a straight and narrow path, and few be they who follow it, while the latter is worn smooth with the tramp of numberless footsteps. Our lady readers will doubtless feel interested in knowing that one house in New York has a stock of shawls on hand, cashmere and camels' hair, which is valued at $150,000. Their separate values range from $20 to $1500, and their patterns are sumptuous beyond description. The extreme agony is a heavy gold embroidery, and the expense of such luxury we dare not disclose. Such shawls upon graceful forms would create a sensation upon the animated streets of Memphis.

LAMP EXPLOSION.—After all the warnings that experience has furnished, people will use camphene lamps and suffer the continued hazard of an explosion. A girl named Eliza Hatchfield, resident in South Memphis, night before last was seat to her room for the night with a large globed camphene lamp. While on her way to bed, the child could not resist the temptation to play with the numberless little wheels and contrivances for which these lamps are peculiar, the result of which was an explosion. The lamp burst with a report like that of a pistol, a piece of it smashed a looking-glass on a dressing table, another actually buried itself in the side of a bureau, and other portions flew about the room like grape shot; and yet the child was untouched by a single particle

OLD BOURBON.—Among the consignments received by river yesterday was sixty boxes of old Bourbon whisky for Mr. John W. Megibben, of the firm of Megibben & Brother, of the vicinity of Paris, Bourbon county, Kentucky. We are personally acquainted with these gentlemen, and their fame as manufacturers of whisky, is universal at home, and is rapidly extending abroad. The Messrs. Megibben are the most celebrated distillers in Kentucky, and as whisky will be sold, we are gratified to see an introduction of their brand in our market. Mr. Megibben may be found at No 5 Howard's row.

THOROUGHBREDS FOR THE MEMPHIS JOCKEY CLUB COURSE.—The finest lot of thoroughbreds, says the Louisville Courier of the 19th inst., "that ever left this race-horse State was that shipped on the Atlantic yesterday. Among them was Keene Richard's Betty Ward, Magenta, and two others; H. B. Fayley's Lightning, by Lexington, Tribune, and two others. There were also seven or eight trotting horses. Mr. Richard's horses will be at Memphis, and we say to the Tennesseans look for your best when you tackle Betty Ward; she's a stunner."

COTTON RECEIPTS.—The receipts of cotton into this port yesterday, as shown by the books of the Chamber of Commerce, were as follows:

Memphis and Charleston railroad	1126
Memphis and Ohio railroad	671
Mississippi and Tennessee railroad	549
Memphis and Little Rock railroad	26
River	74
Total	2446

The total receipts for the week were 18,683 bales.

OIL MEAL AGAIN.—We would ask you, one and all of our readers, have you tried the oil meal manufactured so extensively now in our city by Fenton & Co.? We are told that it rates par excellence as a food for stock. It should be mixed at first with bran or corn meal, to give your cows, steer, or mules will soon become very fond of it alone, and eat it with avidity.

DISCHARGED.—We yesterday gave the circumstances of the severe beating of John Kennedy, on Jefferson street, by some four or five men on last Wednesday night. Mike Roach, John Lavoyer, Casper Wright and Jas. Butler were before 'Squire Horne yesterday charged with participating in the affray, but for want of sufficient proof they were discharged.

CHEAP GOODS.—We refer our readers to the advertisement of M. Simons, dealer in every variety and the latest styles of dry goods, at 194 Main street, opposite the Clay building. He has one of the largest and best selected stocks of goods in the city, and purchasers who regard their own interest should give him a call.

HENDERSON AND NASHVILLE RAILROAD.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Henderson and Nashville railroad, held at Hopkinsville on the 20th inst., Colonel Edward S. Cheatham, president of the Edgefield and Kentucky railroad, was unanimously elected president of the Henderson and Nashville railroad company.

KILLED.—James Brooks, baggage master on the Nashville and Catlettsburgh railroad, was killed on Friday afternoon near Murfreesboro in the following manner: He was standing on the top of a car as the train passed beneath a bridge, when his head struck the lower beam of the bridge, and he was instantly killed.

JAIL STATISTICS.—For the following statistical information we are indebted to the politeness of Mr. Stewart, assistant jailer:

Committed for debt	48
Committed for State offences	61
Runaway slaves	—
Total number of inmates	147

The number of arrests for the week ending Saturday, 12 m., was ninety-six.

GUYSS UP.—Frank Carlile, one of the young men arrested for complicity in the "Watson riot," and who has been out on bail for some time past, was yesterday surrendered by his security and is now in jail.

TAMPERING WITH SLAVES.—A free man of color was yesterday fined $50 for the above offense. The police have had their attention directed to the "colored gentman" for some time past.

MEETING OF THE JOCKEY CLUB.—The regular semi-annual meeting of the Jockey club was holden at the Wormham House on Saturday evening. In the absence of the president, J. J. Worsham, Esq., senior vice-president, took the chair. The first business before the club being the election of officers, the club proceeded to ballot with the following result:

Gen. Thomas H. Bradley of Arkansas, president.
J. J. Worsham, first vice-president.
J. M. Rodgers, second vice-president.
J. Knox Walker, third vice-president.

Monetary and Financial

New York Stock Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The stock market to-day closed unsettled. This was caused by the temporary suspension of J. Vanderbilt.

New York Market.

NEW YORK, October 26.—The following is a brief statement of the exports, exclusive of specie, from New York to foreign ports for the week and since the first of January:

	1859.	1860.	1861.
For the week	1,987,239	1,207,374	2,012,047
Previously exported	54,487,520	60,538,502	75,434,264
Since Jan. 1	$56,743,759	$61,745,877	77,546,341

The money market continues easy in the extreme. The highest rates for call loans are 6@6 ⅌ ⅌ cent; for prime mercantile paper, 8@10 ⅌ ⅌ cent. The demand for bankers continues to complain of the scarcity of paper; that southern paper which the banks are said to be unable to discount in consequence of the prospect of a sectional election, would be very welcome here if it is worth discounting at all.

Foreign exchange continues extremely dull. The sales for cotton are, for sterling, 9½@9¾, sixty days 9 17@9 18; but bankers' bills are done below these figures.
