ALL THAT IT CLAIMS TO BE.—So many compounds for the hair are offered for sale and unduly praised, that we confess we had no expectation of finding in BURNETT'S COCOAINE the qualities which it was said to possess. In things have been disappointed. Members of our family who have tried it believe it as possessing superior hair-dressing properties; while its freedom from greasiness, the lasting it imparts to the hair, and its economy, have given it a permanent place on the toilet table.

We have no hesitancy in recommending it as being equal to all that it claims to be.—Chicago New Covenant. 21

Cheering News to the Afflicted.

GENTLEMEN of science may speculate and theorize, but facts are worth more to the afflicted than all the theories the world ever produced.

DR. A. G. GOODLETT'S

Improved Houck's Panacea,

is acknowledged by all who have given it a trial, to be one of the best medicines ever used for the cure of all diseases arising from a disordered stomach, or an impure state of the blood. The most astonishing cures performed by the "Panacea" in the city of Nashville and vicinity, and in every section of the country where it has been introduced, is a sufficient guarantee of its efficacy.

The Rev. J. C. Bowden, of McMinnville, Tenn., speaks thus:

DR. A. G. GOODLETT—Dear Sir: It may be gratifying to you to hear that Houck's Panacea, prepared and sold by you, is doing the good work in the relief of many poor souls. I have sold my share in several gross. Sold in Middle Tennessee, I have often met those who have used it. The universal testimony is, "It is the best remedy I have ever used." It has been very useful to me in cases of bronchitis, by producing it to the open air and laboring to overcome. Please make an agent in this place. Very respectfully, J. C. BOWDEN.

TO ADVERTISERS.

☞ All advertisements of Wants, For Sale and Rent, Lost and Found, Household Organizers, etc., not exceeding five lines, are inserted in the APPEAL, under proper headings, at 50 cents for one insertion, two times for 75 cents, three times for $1, and one week for $1.50, payable invariably in advance.

A CHANCE.—J. M. Woodward, Esq., makes a tempting offer of real estate in our advertising columns this morning.

☞ Twelve superior piano fortes will be offered at auction by J. V. Gilbert & Co., this morning at 10 o'clock; they are fresh from the factory long known for producing superior instruments. This affords a rare chance for purchasers to obtain a superior instrument at a low price.

ARRESTED.—A man whose name is sometimes Moore and sometimes Flanery, as whim or convenience may dictate, has been arrested by our police on the charge of stealing from the Merchants' hotel.

REDFORD HOUSE.—This well-known house at the corner of Second and Madison streets is in the process of demolition. A block of handsome stores is about to be erected upon its site.

THE NELSON PRESENTATION.—The employes at the Memphis and Ohio railroad pay their tribute of esteem and respect to W. L. Nelson, the superintendent of the road, this evening.

DESOTO BLOCK.—Among the latest improvements in this city, the DeSoto block on Madison street, between Main and Second, is one that deserves attention. The front is beautifully finished.

FINED.—It should be remembered by equestrians that it is contrary to the city law to leave their horses in the streets without attention, for doing so Joseph Baker was yesterday fined five dollars by the recorder.

☞ A. S. Levy & Co. sell, at their sale rooms, this morning, at 10½ o'clock, fifty packages boots, shoes and brogans, for men, women and children's wear, including extra sizes; all fresh and perfect and must be sold without any reserve whatever. Buyers will do well to attend this sale. Bargains will be had.

THE CRIMINAL COURT.—It has been thought wise that the greatest security consistent with justice shall be thrown around the offender against the law of the land and the decrees of heaven, and that the examination of the circumstances and the manner and extent of his crime in order to the adjudication of the penalty, shall be sine prejudicio. With an eye single to these dictates of reason, religion and law, the criminal court has spent a full week in obtaining a jury in the case of the State vs. Skinner, for the murder of Myers. Yesterday the jury was completed, and the examination of witnesses will be commenced this morning. Parties subpœned as witnesses in this case will do well to observe this fact and govern themselves so as to escape the $250 penalty for non-attendance.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—The friends of education in this city are earnestly endeavoring to secure, at an early day, the construction of suitable buildings for the common schools. We heartily wish them success, for, while we can point to those who visit our city from a distance, handsome stores, magnificent hotels, a fine theater, elegant church edifices, and other expensive and elegant structures, we have not the power to call their attention to a single public school-house in the city. Let us have this disgraceful deficiency, for such it is, supplied at the earliest possible moment.

FIGHT OF BOTH GENDERS.—When a man strikes a woman, under whatever provocation, he is generally adjudged to be worthy of all the blame and the whole of the punishment. Yesterday J. W. Dougherty and sweet Catherine Seavery belabored each other so heartily, and so equally that they were equally fined by the recorder, five dollars. Dougherty became disrespectful to the court and was fined an additional fifteen dollars.

A FEMALE THIEF ARRESTED.—The wife of S. Lyons, the thief who was arrested some days ago and charged with stealing $600 from a gentleman at Iola, was yesterday taken in charge by the police, as we presume, for the theft. Mrs. Lyons had about $80 of the money in her possession when arrested. She has taken rooms at the hotel de Gray Eagle until such time as the matter can be brought before the proper authorities.

WHIPPED A WOMAN.—John Kelly was yesterday fined twenty-five dollars for whipping, kicking and otherwise ill treating Mrs. Enwright. In some shape the same case came before Esq. Horne, afterward, when the lawyers in the case agreed to Kelly paying two dollars and costs.

GO IT BOOTS.—A man who gave his name as Jones was arrested on board the Capitola last night on the charge of stealing a pair of boots, the property of a deck hand on the boat.

APPEAL BUILDING.—The Argus, our clever and successful evening contemporary had the following last night: "Messrs McClanahan & Dill, proprietors of the daily APPEAL, will take possession of their new office on Union street, between Main and Front-row, on Saturday next. Their new office, which has been so long being finished, is now nearly completed. It was built expressly for their own convenience, and is, beyond doubt a model office. We congratulate the proprietors on taking possession of their new building."

KEEP WARM.—All who have not provided themselves with a supply of comfortable clothing for the winter should do so immediately from the excellent clothing house of Sproule & McCown, who are weekly in receipt of new supplies from their own manufactory, and keep always on hand a superior stock of elegant business suits, overcoats and furnishing goods suitable to the season. Remember 187 Main street, under Worsham house.

QUIZZ.—The excitement respecting the election was as strong on Tuesday as in any city in the United States, notwithstanding which, the election day passed without the slightest disturbance, and at night the place was as quiet as a village. In accordance with the mayor's proclamation, the liquor houses were closed; so effectually was this important clause attended to that the number of drunken cases before the recorder was fewer than usual, only three.

REAL ESTATE.—In a few days Monsarrat, Dupree & Co. will commence their regular auction sales of real estate. We advise our friends to read their advertisement in to-day's paper

DAN RICE'S GREAT SHOW.—The immense success of this exhibition in Memphis in the midst of the election excitement is the strongest evidence that could be produced that the "Great Show" really has merit. Dan's appearance in the arena is invariably the signal for a tumult of boisterous applause, always followed by except attention and roars of laughter. Dan, like good wine, improves with age, and sparkles more bright while ascending years roll over his head—without posting it, however, for he really looks ten years younger than he did upon his last visit here, eight years since. One feature is worthy of remark—the class of people who visit the show is vastly superior in character to any audience before attracted to the performances of a traveling company. This will be positively the last night but two of the troupe in Memphis. The afternoon exhibition will be found the best for ladies and the little folks.

TRUE BILLS.—The grand jury yesterday found true bills in the following cases: The State vs. Gen. H. Dunham, for the murder of James Hardigan, the keeper of a boarding house near the corner of Main and Winchester streets, some time in August; the State vs. W. C. Waller, for the larceny of a saddle of the value of $10; the State vs. Thos. Wells, for stealing a pistol worth $10.

HANNAH CORPUS.—Jas. Eagleson, a free man of color, who was arrested in this city several weeks ago as a runaway slave, and on whose person a pass was found from a woman in S. Louis who proved to be his mother, was before the court yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus, which was not maintained, and Eagleson was remanded to jail.

"THE CAMPBELLS ARE COMING."—We have heretofore alluded to the promised visit of the above celebrated troupe, and the musical and laughter-loving portion of our citizens may anticipate a genuine treat in the forthcoming entertainments to be presented. They have for the past four weeks been drawing large and fashionable audiences at the St. Charles theatre, in New Orleans, and their success with the musical critics of that cultivated city, is a sure test of their excellence. The company has never been a favorite here, and we have the assurance that it has been considerably strengthened and improved since we last had the pleasure of hearing them. The first concert will be given on the 19th instant, at the Odd-Fellows' hall.

☞ A Paris letter of the 19th, to the New York Express, says: "Mr. Faulkner, minister of the United States to the court of St. Cloud, was received in private audience by the emperor on Monday last, and placed in his majesty's hands the copy of the President of the United States to the letters of recall presented at Washington by Count de Sartiges, ate minister of France to the United States."

THE FAIR AT GRENADA.—The Rural Gentleman of Saturday says:

It is with no ordinary amount of satisfaction that we are enabled to pronounce the Grenada fair a triumph. Every department was much fuller than to any previous fair, and the attendance during the last days very large under the circumstances. So far as we can learn, every one was agreeably disappointed at the results, and the awards very generally satisfactory. In proof of the interest awakened, we have only to state that upwards of a thousand dollars worth of stock in the association was taken in the short space of two or three hours.

HEADED OFF BY HIS WIFE.—A distinguished candidate for an office of high trust in a certain State, who is "up to a thing or two," and has a keen appreciation of live beauty, when about to set off on an electioneering tour recently said to his wife, who was to accompany him for prudential reasons:

"My dear, inasmuch as this election is complicated, and the canvass will be close, I am anxious to leave nothing undone that would promote my popularity, and so I have thought it would be a good plan for me to kiss a number of the handsomest girls in every place where I may be honored with a public reception. Don't you think that would be a good idea?"

"Capital," exclaimed the devoted wife; "and to make your election a sure thing, suppose you are kissing the handsomest girls I will kiss an equal number of the handsomest young men!"

The distinguished candidate, we believe, has not since referred to this pleasant means of popularity.

PORTRAIT OF GARIBALDI BY A YOUNG WOMAN.—A young lady, writing as naturally as young ladies generally do, portrays Garibaldi as "a dear old weather-beaten angel." We doubt if angels care much about the weather, considering they are always living in the open air, and not generally represented as having much clothing about them, though, on the other hand, it is agreeable to picture Garibaldi as an angel—an avenging angel for the long-endured wrongs of Italy—the angel of deliverance for the long-suffering martyrs of Naples. However, granting (and to a young lady we are always ready to grant everything) that Garibaldi is "a weather-beaten angel," it is a comfort to know that as yet he has never been beaten by anything else.

ALL MAN TOGETHER.—We should like to know how many people in the world have absolutely healthy minds. If we reckon up all our friends and enemies, we shall find one with a twist here, one with a soreness there, one with this eccentricity, and one with that infirmity. Real health of body is not possessed by one in a million of civilized men, and it may almost be doubted whether there be a man in America with an absolutely healthy mind. If there be such a man, rely upon it he stands at the head of the class of social bores. For he must have, to be healthy, that balanced mind—in which, because there is everything in equal proportion, there is nothing in agreeable excess. Anything like exclusive regard for a particular idea upsets the balance; and so it is that the men whose minds are not whole, round and perfect we owe all the progress of the world. In these remarks we make no special allusion to the society of healthy brains, having their headquarters in every ward of the city, nor have we in view that moral insanity for which James T. Brady contends. The above remarks are general, and may be confirmed by every reader from his or her experience. The wisest of us are mad on some point or other, and they are happiest whose insanity takes some direction not purely selfish.

END OF AN ELOPEMENT.—A recently attempted elopement in this city ended in a ludicrous fiasco. The enamored swain was opposed by the parents of the lady—a frequent occurrence—and had made arrangements with his fiance to fly with him on the wings of love. The time was set. The night was propitious, and the lady with her parcel of "things" climbed out of the back window upon a woodshed and descended thence into the alley and into the arms of her lover. But they were not destined to wed. The would-be bridegroom had celebrated his intended escapade in too deep libations to be god of love, and when the lady found out his condition, which she did as soon as in the presence and embraces of him, she was so disgusted that she would proceed no further, and leaving him to lonely contemplation proceeded round by the street to the front door of her house, to which she was quietly admitted, when she made confession and reconciliation, and retired to her bed still a single woman. The defeated lover, to console his disappointment proceeded to various coffee-houses, and became so uproariously melancholy that he was taken into custody and spent the night in jail.—Rochester Union.

Apples for Feeding.

For cattle, sweet apples are found to be an excellent substitute for roots—promoting both growth and health.

For swine, nothing equals an apple pie, either for relish, or for fattening power. The pig is not very dainty about his pie, however. If you merely cook the apples, and stir in a little bran, he will relish the dish; substitute shorts, corn and cob meal, or ground oats, or buck wheat, and it will suit his palate, and pile on the fat amazingly. And, for finishing up a piece of pork, an apple pudding, thickened with good corn meal, is as far ahead of hard corn as the corn is of raw pumpkins.

Pork made with apples is sweeter, and quite as free from shrinking as the "corn-fed."

But to the question—"Would it be profitable to raise sweet apples for feeding to cattle or swine?"

Altogether so—unless the apples will bring in market much more than they cost to feed the humane one! True, it takes time to start an orchard and bring it into bearing; but then the outlay is small, and then the ground may be profitably used for other crops while the trees are growing. When once in bearing condition, what other crop will pay as well as apples? For swine, they may be made to save half the corn used in fattening pork. For cattle, they are worth nearly, or quite as much as roots. Plant not the apple tree by them most prove profitable.—Genesee (N. Y.) Farmer.

W. R. MORROW, Dean of the Faculty.
R. P. CUTLER, Treasurer.
L. W. GARDNER, Secretary.

Fees for tickets to lectures, $100, payable invariably in advance, in cash, or the stock certificate of the bank company, at par valuation; Matriculation Fee, $5; Graduation or Diploma Fee $25; payable invariably in cash.

Preliminary lectures will commence on the 15th day of October, and course will be opened for dissection a fortnight after.

The regular course of lectures will commence on the first Monday, the 5th day of November, and will continue sixteen weeks.

The present arrangement of the faculty is by far the most complete and effective (as proved by our enlargement experience) that possibly can be, and has been organized in the college. Every department is represented by an able professor with the greatest care and attention to the duties of his chair. Students' interests are investigated and clearly elucidated by demonstrations and logical deductions, which will fix the principles of pure reason in the mind of every candid and intelligent observer.

To those who design practicing medicine in the Middle, Western or Southern States, we would say that our institution offers more advantages for acquiring a practical knowledge of the diseases peculiar to this climate over those of the North and East, and it is a debt the student owes to himself and his section to patronize home institutions.

Registries for graduation the same as those required by all other respectable medical colleges.

Good board can be obtained at from $2 50 to $4 50 per week.

For further information address either Profs. Gayle, Gardner, G. W. Morrow, or Hewitt, at Memphis, or W. R. Morrow, M. D., Dean of Faculty, at Mansfield, Tennessee.

By a special arrangement with the board of trustees of the Memphis hospital, the students of this college are allowed the same privileges in that institution as those of the Louisville college, and those who desire it will visit the hospital once or twice a week with one of the professors.

Prof. Wm. Hewitt is now in New York selecting additional material for the illustrative departments of the college, and the facilities for acquiring practical knowledge will be much greater than heretofore.

All are advised to come in by the 15th of October.

Students on their arrival at Memphis will please call at the office of Drs. Gayle & Wendel, 272 Main st., or Drs. Gardner & Morrow, Union street, north side, second door east of Main.
