PUBLIC SPEAKERS AND VOCALISTS.—A noted electrician and public lecturer says of BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES: "In all our lecturing tours, I put Troches into my carpet bag as regularly as I do lectures or linen." Public speakers, vocalists, sleepers, and all others who exercise the voice should never fail of using these Troches. They surpass all other preparations in clearing and strengthening the voice, relieving hoarseness, allaying irritation of the throat, and as a cough remedy are pre-eminently the best.—Prov Wing.

Arkansas River Plantation,

For Sale.

I OFFER for sale my Plantation, situated on the north side of Arkansas river, ten miles above Dardanelle, containing about 1,000 acres in cultivation, 300 cords dendron; all good land, and free from overflow.

Enquire of Thomas C. Allen, Memphis, or address me, at Fort Smith, Arkansas.

WILLIAM PRICE.

Suspended Banks.

We desire to say to our friends and customers in Arkansas and Mississippi, that notwithstanding the suspension in the solvency of the banks, we will continue to receive their money at par for our goods in our store, the bills of all the Tennessee banks current in Memphis, the bills of the banks of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Kentucky, SUSPENDED OR NOT, and that we will continue to do so for a short time, as we may be convinced from time to time are absolutely forced to do so by the action of the banks. We feel and know that it would be far better that this plan will be agreeable to all, but if it is not, we will be sorry, but it is demanded by prudence, in case of course be sold for gold at some point, but as the planters are not supplied with gold, we think it best to take notes. It is manifestly their interest to sell cotton, or transportation of the same to Memphis, where full market rates, rather than at reduced rates for gold. Now would be a time for planters, in the interest of affairs, to act generally together, or at least it is unnecessary dwelling on the subject at such well-known facts as have a direct bearing on it.

We furthermore agree with THE AGE that better to attract purchasers to our city, than any thing to the contrary notwithstanding, the Legislature, when assembling in the next Federal Government, rather than adopt any plan whereby the interest of Memphis would be materially injured, let it open the entire military element of Memphis and vicinity. We prefer appealing to the good sense, the patriotic reflection, the other moral thought that will be entertained of the people at large, to apply and extend benefits, with reasonable time, all debtors and unfortunately unfortunate.

If we depart from our ordinary position OUT OF THE UNION, which is impossible, we certainly can do the same thing, and with equal force and effect, for the good, and healthy, and this is doubtless the most fitting opportunity ever presented to Memphis and vicinity to demonstrate her full ability under the Constitution, and in her strength, without the aid of any other State, which she has supported and the Union rather than secede from it herself.

LITTLE PATTI.—Adelina Patti will give two concerts here at an early day.

CRIMINAL COURT.—At this court yesterday the Dunham case was still proceeding. Counsel were addressing the jury when the court adjourned.

SWINDLED.—A man named Richard Scroggins, who was moving from Mississippi to Louisiana, was swindled out of forty dollars, Saturday, by a confidence man.

THANKS.—We have to tender our thanks to our old friends, Mr. Joseph Beard, of Portersville, Tipton county, Tenn., for a renewal club of twenty-six subscribers to the WEEKLY APPEAL at his office.

AUCTION SALE OF SHOES.—The auction sale of shoes by Gilbert & Co., 192 Main street, of the balance of a large stock, will be closed out to-day, at 10 o'clock A. M. Bargains may be obtained, as they will be sold regardless of price.

A HAUL.—A prodigious row broke out yesterday at a house kept by Jerry Sullivan on Market street. Jerry, Mary, his wife, Edward Cunningham and a fourth individual, were arrested, and will be examined by the recorder.

TAXES.—The mayor recommends the board of aldermen to pass an ordinance enforcing the collection of taxes for the present corporate year. The city is greatly in want of money, but the present moment is a bad time to get it.

STREET PAVING.—At its last meeting the mayor called the attention of the council to the necessity of doing something to improve the streets. If they are left in their present condition we shall soon have an outcry against the city fathers.

CONCEALED WEAPONS.—Any person who carries weapons hid about him is in this city liable to be arrested and fined. Yesterday, for this offense, Michael Stewart had to pay ten dollars. Daniel Burns was fined fifteen dollars for having a slungshot.

GETTING UPHILL.—It is stated that if Wise goes up in his balloon from this city, as he proposes, a well known citizen, who wants to ascend beyond the region of snow storms and other northern aggressions, will go with him. Prof. Wise is at the Worx ans.

GETTING INTO DEBT.—Like more pretentious cities, Memphis can get into debt, and at a rapid rate, as is shown by the fact that the city controller has been directed to report why the city current debt, which amounted to $450,000 on the 20th of June last, has now advanced to $506,742.

MOUND CITY.—The mayor and aldermen will visit Mound City, to-morrow, to consider Mr. Cheek's petition for changing the depot of the Little Rock railroad from Hopefield to that point. We thank Col. Cheek for an invitation to be present.

PIANOS AND FURNITURE.—At ten o'clock, our readers will remember, Monsarrat, Dupree & Co. will sell eight splendid rose wood pianos, two of which are elaborately carved, and the most beautiful toned instruments we ever heard. The furniture consists of chamber sets, and are the most elegant and neatly ever offered at auction. Don't fail to attend.

THE BLUFF TO BE BUILT ON.—Council have, on a first reading, adopted an ordinance allowing a new street of houses to be built on the bluff opposite Front row. As the city fills up the open ground on the bluff will be inevitable. Many cities have been at tremendous cost to buy what council has partially consented to sell. Ought this act to be consummated?

ROBBED.—The St. Louis papers inform us that Mr. Anthony Gibson, of this city, while on the steamer War Eagle, at St. Louis, was relieved of a valuable gold watch by a sharper. The sharper, with whom Mr. Gibson had become acquainted on the boat, borrowed his watch, (for a few moments only, of course) and went, as Mr. Gibson supposed, to the after part of the boat, but neglected to return.

CINCINNATI BOATS.—It was reported yesterday, by some of the down river boats, that the citizens of New Orleans had resolved to give notice to all Cincinnati boats lying in port, to leave in twenty-four hours, and to permit no more of those boats to make a landing there. A similar statement was circulated in Louisville last week. The up river boats declare that these accounts are cowards got up to injure them, and keep passengers from their boats.

NEGRO SALE.—The reading public will recollect the sale at the Arcade on Saturday, the 1st inst. We have not had a full report, but give what we learn to be facts as to the prices of two boys and one girl. The boys, both his own years old, sold for $780 and $785, and the girl at $905—all said to be about second rate. The others were old negroes, and sold for full their worth, even in prosperous times. The attendance was large. This may be said to be a fair test of the present value of such property under the hammer.

ROUTING AT THE OHIO DEPOT.—We stated in our last issue that Mr. Kavenaugh, telegraph operator on the Ohio railroad, had been assaulted, the warrant said cut says the assault was "with intent to kill." On Saturday night several individuals entered the office of the superintendent and drove him from it, in a riotous manner. Last night eight or ten individuals endeavored to enter the superintendent's room. Mr. Kavenaugh, who is suffering greatly from various bruises and a broken arm, the consequence of the former assault, being in the room, made his escape by the window. We have heard very conflicting reports of the cause of these very reprehensible demonstrations, too conflicting to render it possible for us to detail the matter in print.

THREE FIRE ALARMS.—There were three alarms of fire last evening after dark. The first was caused by a fire which broke out in the room of the Dorcas lodge of the Sons of Malta, in the fourth story of the building occupied by Messrs. Semmes & Co., on Front row, between Adams and Washington streets. When the firemen, the No. 2 engine, arrived, they found the door locked, and broke it open. The wardrobe was on fire, and its contents were destroyed. The injury to the room was very slight. The second fire was on the roof of the new building at the south-west corner of Adams and Second streets; the timners who had been engaged during the day in their occupation there, had left their furnaces unextinguished. A high wind arose and blew the expiring embers to a flame. The No. 3's mounted the roof and put out the dangerous flames without any injury having occurred to the building. The third fire was a small affair on Exchange street, below Third; it was extinguished without the aid of the engines.

A VERY SINGULAR AND FATAL OCCURRENCE. Wm. Walden orth was a tinner in the employ of Safarans & Stratton; he resided in Ward's boarding house, on Union street. On Saturday night he was in his room with a pair of pistols in his hands, when each of them were heard to explode. One of the balls took effect in the lower portion of his abdomen, inflicting a mortal wound, from the effects of which he expired last night. The other ball entered the mantlepiece, a few feet from where he was standing. Two or three boarders in the house were in the room at the time of the accident, but were not looking at him when it occurred. Mr. Wadsworth, was conscious until a short time previous to his death; stated that he had no intention of touching the triggers of the pistols. From a wound observed on his left hand it appears probable that he had accidentally pulled the trigger of the pistol, the ball of which struck that hand. The sudden pain of the wound caused an involuntary contraction by which the other pistol fired the ballet that caused his death, which occurred the next night. Squire Horne yesterday held an inquest over the remains, when a verdict of death by accidental shooting was rendered.

A CARD.

To the Citizens of the Fourteenth Civil District of Shelby County:

In consequence of the feebleness of my health, necessitating, for some time past, the employing of other parties to attend to my business, I have thought it incumbent on me to refer to the people the office they have conferred upon me as constable for the Fourteenth civil district of Shelby county, and therefore have tendered to the county judge my resignation. Thanking the friends who have been so partial to me as to place me in the position, and assuring them that nothing but the feebleness of my health could have induced this step, I am,

Very respectfully,
Their very humble serv't,
A. P. McKNIGHT.

P. S.—All executions in my hands not executed will be returned to their respective dockets, and all notes and accounts not sued on will be returned to their owners, unless otherwise instructed. As soon as the weather and my health will admit of it I shall settle up my business. For the next twenty days I may be found at the office of Hume F. Hill, Esq.

A. P. McK.

THEATRE.—THE WALLACKS.—These excellent performers are still with us, and we are glad of it. They have an elevation of style in their representations, rarely seen. To-night their great piece of Leshia is on the bills. That excellent appreciation of stage excellence, the Louisville Journal, says of this piece: "Leshia, or the Lion of St. Mar., is a thrilling play; the language is very excellent and we know that authors object to the pruning knife, but the dialogue could be advantageously curtailed and the waltz between the acts might be made shorter. The reputation that Mr. Wallack has acquired in his personation of the chief of the Venetian council, has not been exaggerated; it is indeed the perfection of dramatic art. The extreme versatility of Mrs. Wallack, varying from love to hate, and from raillery to defiance, from the submissive tone of an emissary of the Venetian police to the climax of dignity with which she refuses to betray the man she loves, was never offered a finer field for display than in the character of "Leshia the Venetian Pythoness."

CONNECTION OF RAILROADS.—A committee of council have recommended that body to allow the Ohio and the Mississippi railroads to connect with each other by a railway along the landing through Tennessee street and by way of Calhoun street. The board adopted a resolution requesting the two roads to propose the terms on which they will build the road. The same committee state that they do not consider it advisable to make arrangements with any parties at present, for the construction of street railways in the city, and not until a majority of the property holders on the streets proposed to be passed over desire to have them.

ABSENCE OF MR. KAVANAUGH.—By a transposition of names, which we very much regret, we stated on Sunday that Mr. Kavanaugh, telegraphic operator on the Ohio railroad, was fined for assaulting Mr. Whitmore, late a conductor on the road; the fact was that Whitmore was charged with assaulting Kavanaugh with intent to kill him; on which charge Squire Hill found him guilty and fined him twenty dollars; he had previously been fined by the city recorder for the same offense. We should also notice that the occurrence above mentioned did not take place at the depot of the Charleston, but of the Ohio railroad.

FREE FOUR.—A crowd of individuals were present in New Orleans street last evening, it was asserted, for the purpose of having a prize fight. Before the "mill" began, the glitter of the buttons of the police was seen at a distance, and the fight dwindled down to a "squander" on the foot-race principle. Wm. Ed. Quirk, Joseph Baker and Jas. Rhodes, were arrested, and will be examined this morning. The principals made good their escape.

☞ There will be religious service at the Second Cumberland Presbyterian church, corner of Exchange and Elliott streets, on Tuesday evening, commencing at 7 o'clock, and thereafter on every Tuesday evening during the winter. The friends of Christ and the public generally are cordially invited to attend.

COLORED PASTOR.—A proposition was made at the last meeting of council for that body to authorize John Brown, a free man of color, to take pastoral charge of Tonkrey's church in North Memphis. The board, not considering themselves possessed of ecclesiastical power or episcopal jurisdiction, declined to interfere in the case.

☞ Taylor & McEwen are receiving further supplies of ladies furs, cloaks, shawls, fine wool hose, fine bed and heavy negro blankets, linseys, counterpanes, ladies extra fine and plain sewed calfskin shoes, gents' city made calfskin boots, gray shawls, clothing, wool socks, country made, linseys for drawers, Shaker flannel undershirts and drawers, fine black doeskin pants.

OHIO RAILROAD ASSAULTS—TO THE PUBLIC.

There having been recent complaints made against Mr. Dutterer, the federal superintendent of the Memphis and Ohio railroad, and some hostile movements made against him, upon the alleged grounds of his being an abolitionist, and that he had discharged southern men to make place for northern men, I deem it my duty to state to the public what the president of the road, D. E. Sickles, has said in relation to him. He informs me that he has examined the letters of Mr. Dutterer, the superintendent, and finds him recommended by the best men in South Carolina, in which State he has resided for a number of years. By those letters he is fully indorsed as a good southern man and highly respectable, and that in no case has he ever discharged a southern hand to make place for a northern man. Also, that there has been but one dismissal made on the Mississippi and Ohio road since Mr. Dutterer's connection with it, and that that dismissal was made at his (Mr. Molloy's) suggestion. Mr. Molloy himself fully indorses Mr. Dutterer as being as good a southern man as any living in the city of Memphis. One of the daily trains has been discontinued by the directors of the road. This discontinuance threw some of the men out of employment, but with that change Mr. Dutterer had no connection. The change was made for the purpose of curtailing expenses, which, under the present condition of business, had become too onerous.

Respectfully, R. D. BAUGH.

The Lunatic Asylum at Hopkinsville Destroyed by Fire---Fifty of the Inmates Burned to Death.

Mr. Orville J. Hack, conductor on the Edgefield and Kentucky railroad, brings us the melancholy and heart-rending intelligence that the lunatic asylum at Hopkinsville, one of the largest and finest public buildings in the State of Kentucky, was destroyed by fire on Friday morning last, and that fifty of the lunatics perished in the flames. There were three hundred patients in the asylum, and it required almost superhuman efforts to rescue the two hundred and fifty who were saved, and a great many of those rendered still more delirious by the appalling excitement of the occasion, broke loose from their custodians and the citizens, and are still at large. Several of the inmates were from Tennessee. Full particulars of the truly distressing occurrence will be waited for with a great deal of anxiety.

Affection, the rent to be paid in advance.
The owner, alas, has been in it some,
So the fixtures are out of much value—but none
Will be injured by a tenant—for, poor dear, I ween
The tenant will have a few tears to spare—
Love, honor, and—forgiveness—they're yours!
As for the good-will, the subscriber's content
To have part of it annuled, settled in kind;
Indeed, if he could such a matter arrange,
He'd be highly delighted to take in exchange,
Provided your title is perfect to whom,
Any heart unincumbered, as free as his own,
Its lease, long or short, he would gladly accept
An excellent Bachelor's heart's to be let.

A WHOLE CHURCH CONVERTED.—An exchange notices the following curious and unusual case of wholesale religious conversion:

On the 29th ultimo the independent Methodist society of Sebon chapel, in Louisville, Kentucky, came in a body into the Episcopal church, transferring to that church all property previously held by the congregation. That property consists of a very handsome church building, capable of seating four or five hundred persons, with school-rooms, situated in the heart of the city, and worth not less than $24,000. The members associated themselves as a parish of the Episcopal church, under the name of Calvary church. To enable the new parish to start free of embarrassment, the Episcopalians of Louisville stepped forward and subscribed to pay raised $5,000, the balance of debt remaining.

A WHITE WOMAN AMONG NATIVE AFRICANS.—A Sierra Leone paper states that a white woman who accompanied her husband, a missionary, up the Cavalla river, last May, excited the greatest curiosity and admiration among the native dwellers of that benighted region, where a white woman had never been seen before. All wanted to touch her, and great surprise was expressed upon feeling her hair. The King of Nyinemo tribe called her "very fine," and completely lost his heart greatly for his taste in selecting her; and when she told him he might see other white women, who would be finer than her, he said she would either never be, or else in a very long time. Owing to her presence, the attendance on preaching was extraordinary large. During the prayers of the missionaries, hundreds went to see her, who said they could feel satisfied to die now that they had seen such a wonderful being as a white woman.

POPULATION OF LONDON.—If London (says a writer whom we do not guarantee) were surrounded by a wall, having 3 miles in each point, north, south, east, west, and a west gate, and each of the four gates were of sufficient width to allow a column of persons to pass out freely, four abbrebreast, it would be a prospective required the immediate vacation of the city, it could not be accomplished under twenty-four days, if the column moved at the slow time the head of each of the four columns would have advanced no less a distance than seventy-five miles from the respective gates, all the people being in close file, four deep.

WEEKLY REPORT OF THE MARKET.

PUBLISHED FROM THE MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE.

MEMPHIS, December 4, 1860.

[NOTE.—The quotations given in the following review, it must be understood, are wholesale prices, except where otherwise noticed; and that in all cases in the filling of small orders to the city and country trade, an advance of $ 210 ⅌ ct. will be charged over these quotations.]

We stated in our last weekly report that the operations in our general market had been further restricted by the continued stringency in money matters and the great difficulty experienced in passing exchange, but gave as the prevailing opinion, that the suspension of specie payments by our banks would enable them to furnish accommodations to our merchants, and thus impart an easier tone to our money and general markets. Currency, however, is the general exposition, such has not as yet proven to be the case, and so far from the mercantile community having experienced any relief or benefit from the measure, the difficulties under which they have so long labored seems to increase, rather than diminish, with each succeeding day. The market for our great staple has been dull throughout the week, and prices now, as heretofore, are entirely nominal, regulated, as they are, solely by the relative necessities of buyer or seller. In the articles of Flour, Hay, Corn, Oats, and Meats generally, as well as Sugar and Molasses, prices have a still more emphatic leaning to the side of purchasers, and even at the reduced rate only a moderate business has been done. In the minor articles of city trade we have no changes to note other than those mentioned in the accompanied remarks.

We have to record the receipt of the week's receipts of leading articles, as compiled from the books of the Exchange:
