TO ADVERTISERS.

Advertisers who favor the APPEAL with their patronage, are desired to bear in mind that while their advertisements remain on the inside of our paper, they receive the benefit of both our daily and tri-weekly circulation. This fact renders the APPEAL the best advertising medium in the city. Advertisements in the business, special notice or want column, always remain on the inside of the paper, and of course get the benefit of the circulation of both editions.

WEEKLY APPEAL.—Copies of the weekly APPEAL, for the current week, containing Dr. Palmer's great Thanksgiving sermon, the letters of Senators Floyd and Nicholson, Hr. Robt. J. Breckinridge, Hon. A. H. Stephens, and Gov. Herschel V. Johnson, congressional proceedings, county meetings and resolves, editorials, news, miscellaneous articles, etc., etc., can be had at our counting-room, on Union street, between Main and Front row.

DRUG CLERK WANTED.—See advertisement for a drug clerk in column of "wants."

FINED.—The mate of the steamer Glendale was fined $10 yesterday for striking an Irish deckhand.

FINE.—The steamboat Gingras was at Lonsdale on Monday with a load of cord for Memphis in tow.

MILITARY FUNERAL.—A military funeral took place from the neighborhood of the Gayoso yesterday. It was one of the most beautiful and impressive spectacles we have seen for years.

KILLED.—It was reported here yesterday, by the people of the Rock Staff, that Robert Marshall, mate of the steamboat J. D. Mayes, was killed at Vicksburg, on Saturday last, in an affray up town.

STEALING A TRUNK.—A slave of W. S. Pickett was yesterday arrested on suspicion of having stolen a trunk that has lately been missing from Mrs. McGuire's boarding house, on Second street, near Court.

NEW BOOKS.—Cleaves & Veden have received Leatherman's "Moral Science;" Cornwell's "How to Enjoy Life;" Barber's "Geology;" Washington's "Ethics of Europe," and "A Man," by Rev. J. D. Bell.

CRIMINAL COURT.—At this court yesterday Michael Gallagher, charged with stabbing, was discharged on a nolle prosequi. Isaac, a slave, who shot Mr. Bowden in the month near Normandy, when the latter was trying to arrest him as a runaway—was put on his trial for murder.

BETTER TIMES.—There was a great improvement in business yesterday. More cotton was sold than on any day since the presidential election. Over four thousand two hundred bales changed hands at an advance of a quarter of a cent a pound, making a total advance of three-quarters of a cent above the lowest point of depression.

THE WILLIAMSES.—Mr. and Mrs. Williams are having a most successful engagement; the infinite drollery of the one and the astonishing versat lity of the other keep the audience most gratifyingly amused. Nonwithstanding the bad weather, good houses are obtained; the ladies brave storm and sleet to see the entertaining Williamses. A grand bill tonight—see the advertisement.

FUNERAL OF MCMANUS.—The funeral, in large numbers, carried their late comrade Robert McManus, of the No. 9—one of the martyrs to duty during the Overton block fire—to his grave yesterday. The coffin was borne upon the hose carriage, and the pomp of the dead was sadly rung by the bells that had so often been music to the ear of the deceased, thrilling him to energy and devotion to his labor of love.

GAMBLERS FINED.—At last the police have discovered that there are gamblers in the city, and some of them have been brought before the recorder for tardy justice. Henry Highland, a free man of color, was fined fifty dollars; Wm. Foster, fifty dollars; John Roberts, free negro, twenty-five dollars; Thomas, slave of Mr. Rawlings and Mat, slave of Mr. Mooney, twenty-five dollars each. Total, one hundred and seventy-five dollars, all of which was paid.

NEW MEMPHIS JAIL.—It will be remembered that last month the committee appointed by the Shelby county court, advertised for plans for a jail on the most approved principle both in arrangement and design. The committee met on Monday last, and after two days examination, assisted kindly by Dr. Merrill and Captain Jackson, they decided to favor of a plan by James H. Cook, architect, of Madison street. The designs exhibited by several of the competitors were very beautiful. Among the competitors were Messrs. Morgan & Baldwin, Fay, Foster & Winter, Brown, Crider & Mason, Bayliss, Fletcher, Reynold and Beeler, Mr. Lester of Boston, Z. Feraseare and Gov. Jacobs of Cincinnati, and others from St. Louis. The designs adopted by the committee are beautiful and well arranged, and place Mr. Cook in a high position as a designer in architecture.

CITY FINANCES.—A special committee of council have made a report that body respecting the state of the city debt that is of considerable interest to the tax payers. The committee see no cause for any congratulation in the financial condition of the city. They think it not equal to other cities of similar size. A report lately made to council states the current debt to be $406,730.92, with estimated resources of $310,800. These resources are in many respects unavailable; for instance, the taxes due are put down at $160,000, but of this not more than $60,000 can be collected during the year. Of the present year's taxes, estimated at $230,000, not more than $120,000 can be collected during the year. The assets put down to taxes on privileges and navy yard rents cannot be relied upon. The committee calculate the revenue of the current year at $230,000; against this stands $20,000 a month to meet the actual expenses and appropriations of the city government, and $20,000 to pay interest on due debt, leaving only $70,000 to pay on the current debt of the year. The committee say: "The policy on the part of previous boards of mayor and aldermen to create such a large debt without any means in anticipation to pay with, was unjustifiable, and is the cause of our present bankrupt condition. The policy on the part of corporations, as well as individuals, of expending largely beyond their income must result in bankruptcy." The committee report adverse to a recommendation of the mayor to issue $300,000 bonds for paving the streets, and conclude their report, which appears to be carefully and thoughtfully drawn up, by saying: "The past bad indebtedness of the city on the 1st of July last was $1,536,900; in addition to this there are $300,000 of Little Rock railroad bonds (for which the navy yard is mortgaged) due, which heretofore have been acknowledged and provided for as city bonds, which makes $1,836,900; by a rate of the city $500,000 of water works bonds have been authorized to be issued, and the further sum of $200,000 to fund the due debt of the city; this will run at our past low indebtedness to the room, say of $2,536,900, and to carry out the recent resolution of the mayor by the issuance of $500,000 more for street improvements would increase the past bond debt to $3,036,900. This, with our due debt, would be doing on our city an indebtedness beyond what a prudent judgment ought to dictate. The interest on such an indebtedness would be between $180,000 and $200,000—an amount too large to be provided for by taxation, to say nothing of a provision for the ultimate payment of the bonds themselves. With this view of the financial condition of your city, your committee cannot offer your board congratulation, or in more in than you have, if you are to avoid the debt of $500,000, amount under protest, or, if nothing in than will satisfy your constituent.

PLANS FOR EXTINGUISHING FIRES IN THIS CITY.

Since the extensive fires of Friday, public attention has been drawn to the necessity of providing means to obtain a supply of water from now to the time the water works shall be built. This subject is of the more importance as we have two additional steam engines now building. When they are got to work we shall have three fire engines, which will consume an immense amount of water. The following suggestions on the subject are from a gentleman of scientific and practical knowledge of the subject he discusses:

MEMPHIS, Dec. 17, 1860.

EDITORS APPEAL: The suggestion of "Saxon," in your last Empiric, that a suitable pumping engine be connected with the steam boiler of the Gayoso house, is worthy of immediate consideration. It would, within the sphere of its action, guarantee security in case of fire obtainable from no other source in as short a time or with as little expenditure.

"The property holders and business men" in the vicinity would undoubtedly contribute the sum requisite for the establishment of an apparatus of sufficient capacity at the point designated, but it would require time to bring about unity of action. Assuming that the proposition meets the approbation of Mr. Cockrell, may it not be to the interest of one or more of the insurance companies to purchase and erect the machine?

Another point where a steam pumping engine should be erected is the navy yard, taking water from Wolf river. The cistern west of and adjoining the Grant oil works, has a capacity of 300,000 gallons, yet it seldom has more than a few inches of water in it, and most of the time none, which is the case at present. Both the Grant and Fenton oil works are running day and night, except Sunday, and either of them could supply steam. For Sunday a small independent boiler could be provided. A pumping engine located at either of these establishments might be used to fill the public cisterns within a radius of half or three-quarters of a mile; would furnish all the manufacturing establishments in the navy yard with a reliable supply of water, for most of which most of them expended large sums of money during the past season in hauling it, and were then unable to run continually; would keep the cisterns above mentioned, the largest in the city, always full, and be ready at all times for efficient service in case of fire within its reach.

Further, the Overton hotel must get its supply of water direct from the Mississippi river. The proposed agent is steam, but the plans are not yet matured. Would it not be advisable, in view of existing circumstances, to erect machinery at that point, adequate not only to the daily wants and protection of the house itself, but that would render efficient service in case of fire in the neighborhood?

By calling attention to these facts some action may be taken.

It may be well to state in this connection, that the house of Orgill Bros. & Co., of this city, have, during their extensive sale of machinery, an "independent-direct-double-acting steam pump and fire engine," of the most approved construction, exactly adapted to the use above proposed. Its steam cylinder 13 inches bore, water cylinder 7 inches, and stroke 10 inches; its maximum capacity, a discharge of 250 gallons per minute through either one or two nozzles. Its cost, complete, $500. The connections, of course, both for steam and water, would be extra, but would not, if located at the Gayoso, exceed $75. This machine could be put in operation in a few days. INQUIRER.

DISCHARGED BY THE RECORDER.—We mentioned yesterday that Mr. J. B. Howard had been arrested and charged with wanting to leave his boarding house without paying his board; that gentleman informs us that he was willing to pay his bill at the boarding house, but that he disputed its amount, which, in his opinion, was extortionate, and the recorder on becoming acquainted with the circumstances, had discharged him from custody.

A CARD.

The undersigned would take this opportunity of tendering their thanks to those gentlemen who assisted them in removing part of their stock when their store was threatened with destruction from the fire on Friday night, December 14. Although it would be impossible to enumerate singly every one who tendered their services, yet we feel compelled on account of the extraordinary exertion made by them, to return our sincere thanks to Mr. Wilder and Mr. McNair, of the house of Orgill, Bros. & Co., and also to Messrs. Orgill, Bros. & Co., and also in the same manner in which they offered us the services of Messrs. Shedley and Byrne, two of their gentlemanly clerks, whose assistance in enabling us to assort and arrange our goods, shall never be forgotten.

WILLIAM PARR & CO.

THE O'NEIL CASE.

EDITORS APPEAL: In your paper of this morning there appears an article from Cotlanice O'Neil, in which she states that, while in custody in the city prison, she was subjected to the most scandalous language from one of the officers in charge of the prison. Being implicated in this charge, we wish to say through your paper that we used no such language in her presence, and prefer that she would name or point out the guilty one, that the blame may fall upon him alone. And we further state that Captain Jackson does not tolerate any such conduct from his assistants, when known to him, nor do we in his absence.
