Office—Union Street, for Front Alley

TO ADVERTISERS.

All advertisements and cards for insertion in the morning APPEAL, should, if possible, be handed to the chief clerk in the counting room before six o'clock P. M., the evening previous to their appearance. After that hour they will receive attention only if handed to the foreman of the composing room, on the second floor.

☞ We are indebted to Wade & Co., for the September number of the Southern Literary Messenger.

ALCORN RIFLES.—This fine company of sixty-six men arrived here yesterday on the Key West, from Friar's Point, Miss.

AT NOON.—Travelers will have an opportunity of getting off for New Orleans at noon to-day. The steamboat Col. Kennett starts at that hour.

BETTER.—Ex-Mayor Baugh, who has been sick a several days in his room by sickness, was, we were glad to see, yesterday able to be about again.

☞ The Headquarters for Soldier's Pictures is still at the Southern Gallery, No. 219 Main street, opposite Odd Fellows' Hall.

☞ Take advice in time, and visit the large daylight picture rooms in the city (the Southern Gallery) before selecting your picture. "They defy competition," either in price or style.

☞ Hon. Thos. Rivers and David M. Currin will address the citizens of Hardeman county, at Whitesville, on Saturday, the 28th inst., on the subject of the Confederate loan.

☞ The new style of pictures lately introduced at the Southern Gallery No. 219 Main street, are attracting the attention of all lovers of the fine arts, and the rooms are crowded daily. Call and see them, they are worthy of a visit.

ARRIVALS.—Among the arrivals at the Gayoso yesterday, were Gen. M. Jeff Thompson and Col. Wm. J. Preston of the C. S. A., and Knighthawk, Gen. Thompson's Indian Orderly. Gen. J. B. Clark, late member U. S. Congress; Dr. Pham, of St. Louis; R. B. Somervell, Esq., representative for Fayette, Shelby and Tipton, to the State Legislature, is staying at the Worsham house.

ELMWOOD CEMETERY.—This company, at the commencement of the war, very liberally donated and set apart a lot of ground for the purpose of burying, free of charge, all soldiers who may die honorably in defence of our liberties. We learn from Capt. Lenow, the president of the company, that he has enlarged the ground by clearing one of the drives, which is a great improvement to it, and it is now ample for the purpose. In the center of the lot is a circle of twelve feet in diameter, for the erection of a monument, which our patriotic citizens will no doubt raise to the memory of the brave soldiers who have fallen in defence of our country. The grounds at Elmwood are continually receiving substantial improvements, and they are beautified and adorned in the handsome manner that it reflects credit upon the taste and untiring industry of the president of the company, who devotes so much time and attention to it.

ON 'CHANCE.—The attendance on 'Chance was fair yesterday, but owing to the non arrival of the train on one of the railways, and two of them not receiving freight, business was not brisk. The action of Gen. Pillow having compelled boats to refuse to bring down to the city, potatoes, corn in sacks, or oats, from any point above Cairo, is restricting stocks and reducing business.....The project to remove the working of army clothing from this city to Nashville was discussed and condemned with much animation, and on the announcement that the change would not be made, a determination was expressed to oppose, by every practicable means, the consummation of any similar project if it should be received at a future day....The project of issuing shinplasters by our city government, was commented upon only to condemn it. That an actual difficulty exists was admitted, but a shinplaster issue was regarded as likely only to increase the evil.....Satisfaction was expressed at the result of the election. The especial friends of Mr. Hurd were pleased with their success, and those who had been a desirous of seeing a produce merchant in the chair for the next year, in several instances contrasted the Hurd personal preference as for Mr. Hunt. The Vice Presidents and Appeal Committee were regarded as well selected and reliable gentlemen.

ARMY CLOTHING AND THE POOR.—The announcement in this office made in the APPEAL in Sunday morning, has excited, as it should do, much attention among that portion of our community who are in a position to use the influence against the removal of the making of army clothing from this place to Nashville, as well as many of those who are dependent for their bread upon the wages the species of labor supplies. A communication lies before us, from a prominent businessman, deploring the contemplated removal, and urging the proposed change. At the Merchants' Exchange yesterday morning a meeting was gotten up with the hour and, and would soon have been numerously attended had not Mr. W. P. Miller, Esq., entered and after a few words laid upon the table, and stated that he was in possession of information which rendered the proceeding unnecessary. He had been in communication with Quartermaster Anderson, who has charge of the contract which makes my clothing made in Memphis is in question. That gentleman informed Mr. Miller that the district is in his charge, and will not be interfered with by others, and that it is not his intention to comply with any overtures to remove the work to any other place. On the contrary, the measures will be taken to better organize the system upon which the labor is done, so as to have all its details proceed regularly and methodically. On this statement the petition was withdrawn as unnecessary, and we pre ume our respected correspondents will, in the same manner, acquiesce in the withdrawal of their proposition. Those who are interested—and what citizen of Memphis is not?—may safely rest in that every detail respecting it will be satisfactorily noted by warm friends of the families of its officers, and of the poor.

THE SHINPLASTER SCHEME.—We conversed with many business men yesterday upon the subject of the policy of issuing notes by the Corporation of Memphis, for none less than one dollar. We found but one voice on the subject, and that was of unqualified disapprobation of the scheme. Fettered with the liability of numerous citizens, whose position in life constitutes them good bodies in the case, we have no hesitation in expressing our views of the propositions to flood the city with paper promissory. In relying upon this subject, the reader has to consider, first, whether we are in a strait to make such a currency necessary? and, secondly, if we are, whether the Mayor and City Council is the proper body to issue it? With respect to the first of these questions, we are assured by bankers and others, who have every means of knowing the truth of what they state, that the demand for such change is apparent, not real. The idea that were plentiful so lately, have not gone North, of course, and all who have remarked the large amount of business done in Memphis for some months past will know very well that it has not gone anywhere South. The silver change is here, at this moment, hid away by those who hope to secure a premium in getting it. As a proof of the truth of this assertion, we are able to state positively, that we know of an instance where yesterday one person, a retailer of certain articles of consumption, sold in one lot one hundred and sixty dollars' worth of small change. In New Orleans the scarcity arose in the very same way. The Crescent, in a labored effort to defend the corporation there against the form of issuing its shinplasters, pithy but provokes, acknowledges: "Silver change which was redeemable abundant on Saturday, became as rare as true religion in abolition preachers' pulpits, on Monday." It would plainly have been the best policy for New Orleans to have labored to bring the dimes and quarters from their hiding places, instead of inaugurating shinplasters, which will inevitably drive the specie to those places that refuse to touch the city paper promissory. Suppose the merchants and citizens of New Orleans had united in calling upon the banks and brokers to refuse to purchase silver, and if necessary have offered to indemnify them for any loss they might incur by that proceeding, would not that have defeated the mercenary object of those who hoard change? that they may sell it at a premium, and would not such a proceeding have been better for the credit and reputation of New Orleans than the one it has adopted? What would be its dignity for that city will be good for this. Let us patiently bear a while the inconvenience we are enduring, and try to defeat the object of the change hoarders, and thus bring the hidden coins into circulation. We answer the question—are we in a strait to render the proposed change in our currency necessary?—fully in the negative. The silver is in the city, and our effort should be turned, not toward driving it away by the low contract of paper promissory, but toward bringing it into circulation. The second question, whether, if the strait should come, the Mayor and City Council are the proper body to issue the new currency? we will consider to-morrow. We will add, however, that we learn from J. Lenow, Esq., president of the Bank of Tennessee, that he has given orders to an engraver in New Orleans for plates of one, two, and three dollars, which they are hatched the paper will be furnished with a sufficient amount of small bills for all purposes. A proposal to issue also a $2.50 bill has been under consideration.

A CARD.

At a meeting of the officers and privates of the Memphis Independent Dragoons, held for the purpose of expressing their grateful appreciation of the kind and gentlemanly attention received by them from the Captain and other officers of the steamer Prince, on her downward trip from Columbus to Memphis, it was

Resolved, That the members of the Memphis Independent Dragoons tender our heartfelt thanks to Capt. S. S. Butler, and the other officers of the steamer Prince for their hospitable and kind attention to our company in the return trip from Columbus to Memphis.

Resolved, That while we had the right to a passage on the boat, we had no right to expect the elegant entertainment that we met with, and we can assure them that as soldiers and gentlemen we heartily appreciate it.

Capt. McDonald, Lieuts. Grant, Jameson, and Meyers, 1st Sergt. Barbour, Sergeants Apperson and Schuyler, Corps. Ward, Tatts, Harris, Strickland, Shook, and Bogle; Privates, Anderson, Aden, Barnley, Belcher, Bohan, Brooks, Black, Carroll, Clay, Cochran, Copeland, Doran, Cocke, Duke, Fuger, Greenwood, Gibson, Gill, Griffin, Goodwin, Hancock, Hill, Howell, Kerr, Koerner, Marshall, Millington, Mason, Myers, McIlvaine, McMichael, Patterson, Powell, Richardson, Robson, Stewart, Tindall, Thomson, Short, West, Wilkerson, Gray, Roberts, Sobers, Stoddard, Tatum, Vassar, Washburn, Spears, Ryan, Brothers.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—Council met in extra session last evening. The discussion was not of a very interesting character, the business being almost wholly confined to the consideration of the proposed amendments to the city charter, to the principles embodied in which there was no opposition; the discussion, therefore, was confined to mere details.

No Long Speeches.—On the opening of the meeting, Ald. Vollintine expressed a hope that no set speeches should be indulged in. He thought this object might be secured by members moving their seats around the table in the center of the room, and talking the matters that would come before them in a friendly way. The chairman was of opinion that if members pleased to refrain from making long speeches, business might very well be done while they kept their usual seats; they kept their places accordingly.

Ald. Townsend desired, before the business of the evening was entered upon, to offer a resolution to the effect that no communication should for the future be received by the Board from the Mayor, except in writing; nor should any member be allowed to address the Board, except by unanimous consent. Without a word of objection the resolution was passed by a unanimous vote.

Amendments to the City Charter.—Ald. Morgan, from a special committee, brought forward the subject of the amendments to the City Charter. He stated that with the permission of the Board he would withdraw the amendment proposing to extend the boundries of the City. Opposition to the measure existed in the Board itself, among persons on the territory proposed to be incorporated, and in the city representation in the State Legislature. It was therefore hopeless to get the change agreed to at Nashville, and the action on that subject, might endanger the adoption by the Legislature of other amendments of serious importance. The amendment was withdrawn.

Payment of Members.—An amendment requiring each Board, at the expiration of its term, to fix the rate of compensation Aldermen shall receive who are members of the succeeding Board, was adopted without discussion and without dissent.

Term of Office.—The proposition to extend the term of future Boards to two years, one half of the Board to retire each year, was adopted without discussion or a dissentient vote.

Issuing Bonds.—A discussion arose, as to the propriety of excepting water works, and especially school houses, from the operation of the amendment clause forbidding the issuance of bonds. Ald. Ayres observed that the power possessed by the Board to issue bonds for these objects, should be exempted except when the Board decide that if the power was unrestricted, as the Legislature meets only once in two years, an opportunity might occur to build either school houses or water works under favorable circumstances, and it might then require two years waiting before the necessary power could be obtained. He moved an amendment to retain those powers, which was agreed to.

Wharf boat Wreck.—Ald. Greenlaw offered two propositions to the Board for the removing the wharf-boat wreck the contractor whose bid had been previously accepted having withdrawn, his bid, for the reason that he would not take the city scrip in payment, unless he was paid one hundred dollars more than he had offered to do the work for. A resolution was passed authorizing the Mayor to contract to have the boat removed by the lowest bidder who will give proper bond and security.

THE TABLEAUX VIVANTS.—The entertainment in Temple, even after the talent of the soldiers, was delightful in one of the season, excluding anything of the kind that we have yet seen, and drawing one of the largest and most brilliant audiences ever congregated in the theater. So crowded was the house, that many of the ladies were forced to sit in the galleries. The "Wreath of Beauty," consisting of a felicitous intermingling of beautiful flowers and beautiful girls, presented one of the most magnificent pictures of the evening's panorama, and was second to none, perhaps, except "Jacob's Dream," which cannot be spoken of as regards the elegance and taste with which it was designed, in terms too complimentary. "The Brigand's Watch and Prayer" the "Literature and the Arts," and the "Scene from Hamlet" were also excellent. We think the entertainment will well bear repetition, and draw a full house another time.

NOTICE TO TAX PAYERS.—On the first Monday in October next, all real estate upon which the corporate tax for the past year has not been paid, will be condemned by the law side of the Common Law and Chancery Court of the city of Memphis. Delinquents will save cost by calling up before the first of October.

JOHN H. BOWEN, City Tax Collector.

By Ald. Townsend:

Resolved by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Memphis, That in future this Board will not receive any communication from the Mayor unless it is in writing, nor will they permit any citizen, except by unanimous consent, to address the Board. [Adopted.]

AMENDMENTS TO THE CITY CHARTER.

The following proposed amendments to the city charter, were considered and adopted by the Board.

I.

That the journal and records of the city of Memphis, as kept by the secretary of the Board of Aldermen—under the authority and in structions of the Board and ordinances of a city ordinance dated August 6, 1859, be, and the same is hereby declared legal and binding on the corporation in law and equity, from the date of said ordinance to the 8th day of July, 1861.

II.

He shall be designated the "Secretary of the Board of Aldermen" and it shall be his duty to keep a journal of all the acts and proceedings of the Board, to prepare and publish the official journal of the city or any portion thereof. Provided, however, that this section shall not repeal the authority heretofore given to pass bonds for the erection of water-works and for the city schools.

X.

There shall be elected annually, at the commencement of the corporate year by the Board of Aldermen, on the nomination of the Mayor, a City Register, who shall hold his office one year, or until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall give bond and security in such sum as the Board of Mayor and Aldermen may prescribe for the faithful performance of his duty. He shall keep the seal of the city; and shall, when all times and occasions necessary, affix the same to any paper requiring it. He shall attest the signature of the Mayor to all bonds and other papers requiring the Mayor's signature. He shall issue all licenses required to be issued by the ordinances of the city, report the same to the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, at each first monthly meeting, and perform such other acts and duties as may be required of him by ordinance or resolution of the Board.

XI.

The Mayor and each Alderman before entering on their duties as such shall take the following oath—to be administered by some officer authorized by law to administer oaths: I do hereby swear (or affirm) that I will support the Constitution of the Confederate States—the Constitution of the State of Tennessee—the charter of the city of Memphis—and that they will faithfully demean themselves in office.

XII.

XIV.

The salaries of all city officers elected by the people of the city, shall be ascertained by law at least one week prior to their election in June of each year—which shall not be diminished or increased during their continuance in office, unless the duties of such officer be increased or diminished.

XV.

XVI.

The Mayor shall have power to remove any appointments in case of sickness or absence of any of the officers, and also to appoint for the time being city policemen, with the consent of the chairman of the committee on city police, for misconduct in office, needless, however, that every such case of suspension by the Mayor shall be reported by him to the Board of Aldermen at the next meeting thereafter with a statement of his reasons therefore.

Whenever the Mayor shall exercise the power of suspending an officer, he shall report the case to the proper tribunal, if there be one, provided by this charter, for the vacancy or vacancies thus occasioned by pro tempore appointments till the next regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

WHARFBOAT WRECK.

Upon the announcement that Mr. Rodgers had withdrawn his bid for the removal of the wreck of the wharf-boat at the foot of Union street, Ald. Vollintine offered the following resolution:

Resolved, etc., That the Mayor be authorized to close a contract with the lowest bidder for the removal of the old wharf-boat, (what bond and what security from the contractor to remove said boat at such time as may be deemed expedient by the Mayor. [Ad. pted.]

By Ald. Morgan:

Thereupon the Board adjourned.

McLean's Cordial.

AS may be seen, we insert this week the testimonial of McLean's Cordial, etc.

It is very well known we are not persuasive nor variable to patent medicines, and, we ignore them, as we know the whole of them with but little circumstance, and with these sentiments we declined inserting this advertisement until we knew what were the ingredients of this medicine, and how compounded. This we have at last, and believing, as we do, that the ingredients are good, and the compound judiciously made, we recommend it as a mixture worthy of public confidence.

The above is from the St. Louis Christian Advocate, edited by the renowned Rev. Dr. McAnally, in which speaks volumes in favor of McLean's Cordial. We say to all, try it. See the advertisement in another column. 6m 6w
