LOCAL MATTERS.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 9.

☞ No use to call a physician for every little pain or ache, when you have the Ambrosial Oil, which relieves many of the ills of life to which suffering humanity are subject. Read the testimonies in special notices.

FAST DRIVING.—Drivers had better be careful—the police are keeping a sharp lookout for them. Michael O'Neil was arrested last night for fast driving, and was locked up to await his trial this morning on the charge.

ROBBERY.—A. H. Hanley was yesterday charged before Esq. Mallory with having, in July last, stolen seventy-four dollars which Earnest Morette had in his trunk on board a flatboat lying on the opposite side of the river below Hopefield. The robbery having been committed on the Arkansas shore, the magistrate was compelled to dismiss the case for want of jurisdiction.

OHIO RAILROAD.—We are indebted to our career friend J. M. Toomey, Esq., for the following list of Directors of the Ohio railroad: N. Adams, R. C. Brown, G. M. Bartlett, W. B. Miller, E. McGehee, J. T. Scruggs, P. Titus, Geo. T. Taylor, C. H. Halle, J. D. Williams, J. P. Wood, A. Woodruff, R. C. Brinkley. The Directors appointed by the State are: Thomas Sheppard, Hiram Tilman.

CAPT. CREWS.—Adj. Crews, who on two or three occasions filled with great credit to himself the position of acting Mayor of Memphis, in the Mayor's absence from the city, seen for himself as a city legislator, an honorable position. He retired at the call of patriotism from these duties and the comforts of home to assume the duties of a soldier in the ranks. His merits led to the nomination of higher rank, and he is now in the city with the object of raising a company to join Hon. Wm. T. Avery's regiment. The company will enlist for one year, is will be equipped as soon organized, and be provided with arms. A better officer or a kinder or more capable man than Capt. Crews, the soldier will scarcely find.

MEMPHIS INDEPENDENT DRAGOONS.—A meeting of the Independent Dragoons was held last evening, Capt. McDonald in the chair, and J. W. Cochran, Secretary. Capt. McDonald, George M. Gill and J. W. Cochran, were appointed a committee to collect the arms and settle the indebtedness of the company, and afterwards to call a meeting to consider the disposition to be made of any funds remaining in the treasury. All persons holding claims against the company will present the same to Capt. McDonald, and all persons holding arms therefrom appertaining will return them to the same, at E. M. Apperson & Co's, according to order of the committee.

SOLDIERS' FAMILIES.—The County Court met at Raleigh on Monday, when an appropriation was made of $20,000, to be applied from the 1st of October, 1861, to the 1st of January, 1862, to the relief of the destitute wives and children of soldiers absent in the field. It was provided that a committee should be appointed in each ward of the city to dispense the relief only to those who needed it, at the rate of seven dollars a month for the wife, three dollars for each child from one to six years old, and four dollars for each child from six to twelve years old, for each month. The committee who before performed that duty were reappointed to negotiate with the banks to advance the money for these allowances. It was also provided that no new taxation should be imposed, but that the amount of $20,000 should be appropriated from the fund intended for building a new county court house. This arrangement will secure for the magistrates of the county the hearty approbation of the citizens.

A MEMPHIS INVENTION.—B. F. Cowen, Esq., of this city, the inventor of the winged shot, has invented a packing for shot which is simplicity itself, but which the experiments that have been made indicate will add in a wonderful degree to the projectile power of a cannon, making a smooth bore equal to a rifle. It costs but a trifle, is applied as readily as a finger is put in a glove, and accommodates itself to the size and figure of any ball with which a cannon may be loaded. There are always irregularities in cannon balls, and they fitted necessarily be smaller than the bore of the gun from which they are fired. As the ball passes along the gun, the expanded air rushes between the ball and the sides of the gun, but more air passes along at some places than at others, according to the irregularities of surface of the ball. This escape is technically termed "windage," and by it a certain portion of the propelling power is lost, which prevents the ball going as great a distance as it otherwise would, and what is even worse, the irregularity of pressure we have mentioned causes the ball to deflect from a right line, and thus to miss the river in many cases. The invention of Mr. Cowen stops up the space between the ball and the sides of the cannon, and thus prevents "windage" and consequently carries the ball further and more directly. It notably does this, but it carries the ball clear of the sides of the cannon, saving that irregularity of motion which arises from the ball striking from side to side of the cannon tube as it rushes along its length. The packing is of metal, and as it stops the ball it glides smoothly but tightly along the smooth sides of the tube, which are thus by an mechanical but valuable property of the packages kept free to a great extent, from the accumulation of those impurities in the gun which have to be removed by swabbing. From motives of prudence we refrain from a description of the structure of the packing.

ON 'CHANGE.—A full attendance was on 'Change yesterday. Flour was quiet from a variety of influences. It was rumored that a decline had taken place in the New Orleans market. There was a desire to know how the heavy shipments of last week affected river shipments. There was a receipt of 9437 barrels by the Charleston railroad. For over one weeks military calamities have almost closed the road to commerce, and there has accumulated at various points. The above receipt is an installment and may be followed by other receipts. This receipts may effect prices. These things will accountfor the quietude which is certainly only temporary. Wheat was in active demand at full prices.

The shinplaster subject was naturally a matter of discussion, as a meeting was held in the Chamber on that question. The idea appeared to be general, that if the principal cities in the South resorted to shinplasters, and Memphis keeps clear of them, she will not only escape the annoyance and loss those cities will have to bear, but she will place her financial character in a very favorable position in the eyes of the Southern Republic. It was observed that such money as the shinplaster currency undertakes to represent—a representation only divided by the donkey who set up for a lion on the strength of having a dead lion's skin in his hide—may be called the money of the poor. It represents small amounts, such as the laborer and the person of slender means uses in making the purchases at the market or store. The rich man does not want such money to take to bank, or make his wholesale purchases with, to take up his notes with, to purchase the latest pattern for his wife's dress and his daughters' frame with, or to build his "palatial mansion" with. It is the money of the poor, and when it depreciates, as all such money will, it is the poor man's dime and quarter, and dollar, that becomes worth only a portion of the sum it professes to represent. It is his humble meal, his wife's cotton yarn, his children's little comforts that have to be sacrificed to enable those who issue shinplasters to get rich by their "operations." A stranger will not have to talk and listen long on 'Change without learning that the substantial men, the men of influence and character in Memphis, are no friends of rotten shinplasters and dirty paper promises.

The state of things up the river, the probabilities in Virginia, the prospects in Missouri, the progress of events in Kentucky, naturally absorb much of the chat on 'Change each day, but our object in being "on 'Change" is not to gather political news or gossip, but business information, and we

Meeting at the Merchants' Exchange.

In accordance with a call made through the press, the merchants and business men present on 'change yesterday, on the call of A. P. Burdett, Esq., organized as a meeting for the consideration of the "shinplaster" question. S. M. Gates, Esq., was called to the chair, and Wm. Rosselle appointed secretary.

On the mention of Q. C. Atkinson, Esq., it was resolved to appoint a committee of five gentlemen to draft resolutions expressive of the views of the meeting. The chair appointed the following gentlemen the committee: Messrs. Q. C. Atkinson, T. H. Williams, A. P. Burdett, J. M. Patrick, and J. T. Stratton.

The committee reported the following resolutions, which, on the motion of Capt. C. B. Church, were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The practice of circulating paper to serve as money currency, without the authority of law, by corporations, associations, and companies—other than those duly chartered for banking purposes—being productive of less to those who hold such paper, and injurious to the character and credit of those who issue it—be it therefore

Resolved, That this meeting of merchants and business men of the city of Memphis, regards with disapprobation and mistrust any project having in view the issuing of notes of the fractional parts of one dollar, for the purpose of circulation as money, by the corporate authorities of this city; as such would be illegal, unnecessary, and, in the present financial condition of the city, injurious to the interests and character of the city.

Resolved, That this meeting also regards as impolitic and objectionable in its tendency, a proposition that has recently been made to apply for legislative power to enable the corporation of Memphis to issue and circulate notes of the denomination of $10, $20, $50 and $100; especially as the proposed issue is to be predicated, not upon surplus specie owned by the corporation, but on debts owed by it to bankers and others.

Resolved, That while we disapprove of the issuing of a currency commonly known as "shinplaster," by the corporation of our own city, we entertain the strongest objections to the introduction among us—for circulation as money—of any issue, legal or illegal, of any corporation, company, or association—for other than banking purposes—from other counties, cities, or States, and we hereby recommend to all bankers, brokers, merchants, storekeepers, and business men of Memphis, not to receive themselves, or pay out to others, any notes of that character that may be imported into this city from abroad. We also warn citizens generally not to receive any of this so-called currency, as it has a tendency to drive specie and good bank paper from circulation, and to lead—as similar issues have done in past times—to difficulty, panic, and loss, involving in universal ruin the good and sound, as well as the vicious and mischievous currency of the country.

WM. ROSSELLE, Secretary.

S. M. GATES, President.

On motion of A. P. Burdett, Esq., the meeting then adjourned.

The meeting was well attended by influential business citizens, and in the remarks that were made during the meeting, a strong desire was manifested to keep Memphis clear of a kind of currency that is entailing difficulty and heavy loss where it has been permitted to circulate. We are convinced that the above resolutions will meet with the hearty assent of the citizens of Memphis; if the community act in accordance with their recommendations and warnings, as we are confident they will, we shall escape a great calamity.

A CARD.

I [illegible] with lively gratitude, bear testimony to the generous liberality of southrons, in acknowledging the following donations for the benefit of the soldiers of the 1st Division Missouri State Guard, received since my last card:

Deposited with Stratton, McDivitt & Co.: by Right Rev. James H. Otey, the product of the joint labors of Mrs. M. B. Sellers, of Lake Providence, Louisiana, and other lady visitors of the Springs, Tennessee, 100 winter shirts and 110 pairs wool socks; by Mrs. W. T. Williams, Memphis, 4 fleed blankets and 6 pairs drawers.

Deposited with W. Howard & Co.: by the Ladies Military Aid Society, of Hernando, Miss., 4 blankets, 3 pair pants, 4 pairs drawers, 3 flannel shirts, 2 pairs wool socks, 2 pairs cotton socks, 1 pair wool gloves, fingered, and 3 merino neck comforters; by Mrs. S. R. Davidson, Corresponding Secretary of the Sand Spring Military Aid Society, of Lafayette county, Miss., 30 pairs pants, 9 woolen and 11 cotton shirts, 29 pairs socks, 10 blankets, 1 box lint, 6 rolls bandages, 1 bundle soft rags, 4 towels, and a bundle, containing for General Thompson's personal use, 1 blanket, 2 pairs socks, and a lot each, of letter paper and toilet soap; by Mr. J. G. Brody, of California, Miss., 10 blankets; by Mr. R. E. N. Bennett, Memphis, 7 blankets.

Deposited with F. W. Royster & Co.: by Mrs. C. F. Watson president of the "Ladies Southern Aid Society," of Marshall county, Miss., at Holly Springs, 30 new and linsey undershirts, 40 flannel and cotton overshirts, 26 pair pants, 32 pair drawers, 17 jackets, 10 coats, 4 vests, 38 pair socks, 13 blankets, 18 pair shoes, 6 caps, 7 comforters, one handkerchief, two towels, and two sheets; by Mrs. F. Bragg, Memphis: 7 pair drawers and 9 pair socks; by Mrs. M. E. Chambers: 3 pair socks and 1 pair drawers; by Mrs. J. L. Williams: 3 yards jeans; by Mrs. Julia McManus: 2 blankets and one roll bandages.

Deposited with McNutt, Trotter & Bailey: by Mrs. Anthony Warren, of Fayette county, Tenn., 4 shirts, 4 pair drawers, 4 pair socks, and two blankets.

Deposited with J. D. Williams & Co.: by Mr. John S. McGehee, of Como, Panola county, Miss., one box assorted army supplies, contents not given.

Donated by Mrs. R. Odom, near Hernando, Miss.: 4 pair wool socks, and one pair wool gloves: by Mr. B. Richmond, Memphis, cash five dollars.

Deposited with E. M. Apperson & Co.: by Mr. A. J. McConnico, of Holly Springs, Miss., 1 rifle gun.

Deposited with Farrington & Howell: by Mr. Wm. A. Anthony, of Haywood county, Tenn., 12 cotton blankets.

Received of Mr. E. C. Kirk, $175 worth of shoes, being part of the proceeds of a tableau given some three weeks since by some of the ladies of Memphis, under the supervision of Mrs. J. Calvin Jones, for the benefit of the soldiers.

An error occurred in my last card in acknowledging the receipt of donations from the ladies of LaGrange, which escaped my notice, that I now gladly correct. There was but 3 pair socks wanted—it should have been 30 pair; 3 blankets where it should have been 6; there were also 20 shirts, and none were acknowledged.

In conclusion I desire to call attention to the following letter, from Mrs. Davidson, of Sand Spring, Miss., which I publish without consent, because it does honor to the head and heart of the writer, and because I desire the public to be relieved of a few—among the thousand—reasons I have, for Missourians entertaining a deep and ever living gratitude to the noble people of the lower Mississippi valley. May God in his mercy ever protect them from the devastating and appalling efforts of the immediate presence of civil war, and assure them the happiness incident to the peaceful and quiet enjoyment of home.

MEMPHIS, October 9, 1861.

SAND SPRING, LAFAYETTE, CO., MISS., October 1, 1861.

Col. M. H. Moore, Memphis, Tenn:

RESPECTED SIR: Having seen in a late issue of the "Memphis APPEAL," a moving article headed "Missouri's Appeal," bearing your signature, we, the ladies of Sand Spring, being just on the eve of forming a Military Aid Society, determined to forward to you the first fruits of our united efforts to aid in our glorious struggle for southern independence. Although Missouri has not as yet officially linked her destiny with the Confederate States of America, yet her cause is our cause, and we are therefore more than willing to labor to relieve the wants of her sons, who, in the midst of such privations as those mentioned in the article alluded to above, are willing to let their State be the battle ground of the present contest between the North and the South, or rather, we should say, between the most degrading and dangerous form of despotism, and republicanism ennobling and dear.

We, as you will see when our contributions shall have reached you, have collected a few blankets, several pair of sock, pants, shirts, etc., which we have forwarded to W. Howard & Co. And now, dear sir, hoping that we may be able to aid you in the same cause hereafter, if it is necessary, praying in that "God who rules in the armies of Heaven and among the inhabitants of the earth," to cover the heads of our brave volunteers in the hour of battle, to preserve their health and lives, and to carry us gloriously through this dreadful crisis, to establish our independence upon a sure and permanent basis, to permit us all to rejoice together over the great event, and to make our land "Immanuel's land," we sir, bid you God speed in your present work.

MRS. S. F. DAVIDSON,
Corresponding Secretary of Sand Spring Military Aid Society.

RIVER.—The river continued to rise very rapidly yesterday, and up to last night had risen nearly eight feet since the rise commenced on Sunday. The Cincinnati Enquirer says they have had the most rapid rise in the Ohio river that any living citizen there remembers: they had a rise of twenty feet and still rising. The flood came from the southern tributaries. At St. Louis, on Thursday last, the river was falling an inch a day, and was seven feet three inches above the low water mark of December last. The Missouri and Illinois were also falling. Business at the river there is reported as dull as usual.... Business at our landing yesterday was very active in freight, and also in removing articles beyond the reach of the rapidly rising waters. The rise has necessarily suspended operations on the wharf-boat wreck. The weather was fine, but cool in the shade. The splendid Vicksburg, from New Orleans, arrived with 33 bales, molasses, 300 sacks cotton seed, 32 hhds. and 6 bbls. sugar, 30 boxes dry goods, etc. She leaves to-morrow, for regular day—Capt. J. M. White in command.... The New Moon, from White river, arrived with 550 bales hay, 7 cattle, and a lot of hides and butter. She will lie over until Saturday, to make some repairs.... The H. D. Mears, for Vicksburg, had 44 bales cotton, 1000 sacks cotton seed, 200 sacks corn, 20 horses, and a quantity of butter and wool. She returns this evening.... The Kanawha Valley, from White river, had 28 bales cotton, 60 sacks flour, 11 sacks alfalfa, 23 sacks bran, 24 boxes dry goods, 6 boxes bacon, 181 sacks corn, a quantity of potatoes, hay, etc. She returned last evening.... The beautiful Prince of Wales left with a good trip of freight and a large crowd of passengers.... The Cotton Plant left with a good trip, for Columbus.... The magnificent Magenta, one of these palatial boats that are the pride of our waters, leaves this evening for New Orleans. Capt. Holmes has a high reputation as a careful officer; R. Holmes is an accommodating and clever clerk.... That popular, elegant, and commodious boat, the Prince of Wales, leaves for New Orleans to-morrow night. With the gentlemanly DeHaven and the clever McBride for officers, a pleasant trip may be reckoned on by travelers taking a berth on the Prince.... The Louisville, Capt. Combs, Mancourt, clerk, a large and convenient boat leaves to-morrow for New Orleans.... The Mary Keene left New Orleans for Memphis on Saturday.... The Notreke is to leave for Arkansas river to-morrow. Harmstead, agent.

EDITORIAL VISIT.—We were favored yesterday with a visit from our amiable young friend, E. T. Weaver, Esq., formerly of the Memphis Enquirer, now editor and proprietor of that excellent paper, the Prentice Bolivar Times, a paper advertisers will find worthy of their attention.

☞ All those wishing good pictures would do well to go to Harrison and Craver's gallery, 262 Main street.

☞ Mr. S. A. Wells, news agent on the Mississippi and Tennessee railroad, will receive subscribers to the Daily APPEAL at $1.50 per month, postage paid. Persons entering into this arrangement will be sure of the safe and prompt delivery of the paper, and be insured against all mail failures.

THANKS.—To W. C. Conley, of the New Orleans and Ohio railroad, for late copies of the Chicago Tribune, Evansville Journal and the St. Louis Republican. Such favors are properly appreciated.

☞ If J. B. Phillips will call at the Hardwick House, on Adams street, he will hear of something of importance to him.

MEMPHIS, OCT. 8, 1861.

BOTTOM APPEAL.—We find in our Confederacy a great want of oil suited for lights and machinery. Knowing this fact, I have made some inquiries about means of supply. We find a number of cotton-seed oil mills doing all they can, and yet they fill far short of a supply. I am satisfied the Castor oil bean will serve an excellent purpose for both the above objects, and especially lights. This oil is used in China very generally for lights, and is found a very excellent article for that purpose. The bean can be raised on our lands very profitably, and so as to be a matter of good profit to our farmers; and then we can achieve independence in one more article. It is all-important that every class of our community should do what and all they can to produce necessaries for our consumption during our present condition; and, starting, we hope the ball will ever roll until we have full and ample agricultural, manufacturing, mercantile and commercial independence.

I may add, that the Castor oil bean is raised with little labor, is a hardy plant, and yields very abundantly. R.

OBITUARY.

MRS. SALLIE WM. JONES died October 30, 1861, after a painful illness of about ten days. She bore her illness with a Christian's fortitude, and died as she lived—a good and pious life. She leaves a bereaved husband and infant babe, an affectionate and widowed sister, together with many friends, to mourn her untimely loss. Although she has left an infant with us in this world she has gone to that happy land of rest to join with another infant of hers whom God in his adorable gracious wisdom, saw fit to take from her about one year ago. SALLIE WM. JONES was born in Warren county, North Carolina, 23d March, 1841; age 20 years 6 months and 11 days. She embraced religion in 1857 and connected herself with the Methodist Episcopal church, South, of which she was a member until her death. She was married in marriage to Levi W. Jones, in Crittenden county, Ark., 24 February, 1859, who she lived until her death. To her bereaved husband we would say prepare to meet your beloved and departed wife, as she entered you in her last moments, to heaven where sickness, sorrow, pain and death are felt no more. Teach thy infant son that he, too, has a mother in heaven who is anxiously awaiting his arrival, and then thy little family will have met to part no more.

"How still and peaceful is the grave
Where life's vain tumults pass,
The appointed house by heaven's decree
Receives us all at last."

DIED,

At Lee's farm, near Selma, Drew county, Ark., September 20th, 1861, of congestive fever, SUSAN ANN HARRELL, aged 13 years, 6 months and 12 days. The sold at of this notice was the eldest daughter of Thos. C. and Elizabeth E. Harrell, born in the year 1847, near Mt. Comfort, ph. Hardiman county, West Tennessee, emigrated to Arkansas in January, 1860. SUSAN ANN died after a short illness of about three days; the attack was very violent and during her illness her sufferings were very intense. The writer visited her during her illness. She was quite patient, submitting to all the requirements of the doctor. SUSAN ANN was a good girl, a fond sister, an excellent pupil and a pleasant companion. She was generous and open hearted, the doll of her parents. Her brothers and sisters loved her dearly. She was much tried by her best relatives, most highly esteemed by her junior, preceptor, playmates and acquaintances. Being partially deranged near the time during her sickness she talked very little. After sinking from a severe spasm a few hours before she died surrounded by many weeping friends, those present well recollect hearing her say: "Pa, what are you all weeping for?" as much as to say she was just going to commence to live always. Parents, weep not for her; with her and all the righteous that have ever died. To the parents, brothers and sisters of the deceased, I say: "Weep not as those who have no hope, for 'previous to the 4th of the Lord let the 4th of the saints.'" SUSAN ANN is gone, but you will soon follow her; then let your highest aim be to be ready, so that when the call shall come, you may gladly meet her.

"To Him who can thy sorrows feel,
Commit thy soul. He sees thy grief;
He will thy broken spirits heal;
Then look to Him for thy relief.
Oh, weep no more, dear elder sister!
Thy sorrows heart! that noble soul!
To thy dark day of life—the sun,
Thy hope's north, to thee its whole.

"Yes, she is gone! that one so pure;
With gentle spirit has returned to heaven
And left—sorrowing world behind,
Where pain has ceased, her sufferings
Then rest, thy spotless soul, rest;
Till Jesus calls thy spirit, she
Upon enfeebled frame, shall no more
And then to thee thy sister JOHN, and

M'LEAN'S CORDIAL.

As may be seen, we insert this week the advertisement of McLean's Cordial, etc.

In every instance where we are not personally favorably known to patent medicine men, as a general thing, eschew the whole of them with but little ceremony, and with these testimonies we decided inserting this advertisement, until we know what were the ingredients of the medicine, and how compounded. Others have learned and believing, as we do, that the ingredients are good, and the compound judiciously made, we recommend it as a thing worthy of public confidence.

The above is from the St. Louis Christian Advocate, edited by the renowned Rev. Dr. Maginnis, which speaks volumes in favor of McLean's Cordial. We say to all, try it. See the advertisement in another column. feb6-dawly
