NO MORE COTTON.

HEADQUARTERS MILITARY COMMITTEE,
MEMPHIS, Sept. 20, 1861.

IT is desirable that no more COTTON and TOBACCO be shipped to this place until further orders. Planters are appealed to not to ship it for the present. Should it be persisted in the Military authorities will be compelled to order the cotton returned to the country at the owner's expense.

M. J. WICKS, Chairman.

Market Ordinance.

BE it ordained by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Memphis:

1. Markets shall be held at the two market houses every day in the week, except Sundays, and during such hours as shall be prescribed by this Board.

2. A market master shall be appointed for each market annually, and as often as vacancies may occur, who shall reside near such appointment, and keep the same. Market masters shall take the usual oath of office, and give bond for the faithful performance of their duties.

3. It shall be the duty of market masters to see all needful regulations for the location of stands in and around the market houses, collect market dues, preserve proper order, settle disputes about weights and measures, inspect the quality of meats and other articles, keep the markets in a cleanly condition, and to exercise police powers upon the market grounds during market hours.

4. The Mayor shall, after due notice given, cause the stalls and stands to be offered for rent at auction, on the first Monday of October of every year, payment for which shall be made at the time of renting. The writings shall be made for one year, and no one person or firm shall be permitted to rent, either directly or indirectly, more than two stands or stalls; and such stalls and stands shall not be occupied by any other person than the renter, except the same be duly transferred by consent of the market master.

5. Stands and stalls not rented by the year, shall be rented by the market master from day to day—inside ones at $1 each, and outside ones at 50 cents each. And persons selling at the market from carts and other vehicles, shall pay twenty-five cents each for the privilege. The market master shall have power to allot vegetable stands of smaller dimensions, to be rented by the day, at ten cents each.

6. No person shall forestall the markets by buying during market hours any article commonly sold in market, for the purpose of selling the same again; nor shall any person offer any such article for sale in the city during market hours, except at one of the stalls or stands provided for the purpose in or near the market houses; and all combinations to induce an increase in the price of articles offered in the market, shall be unlawful.

7. It shall be the duty of the owners of stalls and stands to leave the same in a neatly and cleanly condition at every close of market hours.

8. No meats shall be offered for sale at the market houses or elsewhere in the city, the flesh of any diseased animal or the flesh of any animal not commonly considered edible food, or flesh in a state of partial decay or putrifying, or other articles of food, or drinks of any kind; and no person shall offer for sale in the markets, or bring upon the market premises any alcoholic or intoxicating liquors.

9. Butter, lard, and other articles offered for sale in the markets by weight, without being weighed to prevence of purchasers, shall be examined by the market masters, and if the parcels be found lighter than represented by the vendors, they shall be forfeited and sold at auction by the market masters, for the benefit of the city.

10. The market masters shall keep an exact account of all moneys received by them in the execution of this ordinance, and pay the same to the Treasurer of the city weekly. They shall at a make a report of their doings to the Board of Aldermen at the first meeting of said Board in every month.

11. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than five nor more than fifty dollars, with costs.

12. It shall be and is hereby made unlawful for any person or persons hereafter, during market hours as above prescribed, to peddle or sell by retail through the streets of this city, or at any other place therein except at the market houses and at regular licensed provision stores, any butter, eggs, lard, or other article of country produce, or cabbage or other vegetables, except strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, and the various kinds of fruit and melons, which may be sold at any hour and in any place in the city.

13. All ordinances heretofore passed regulating the markets, and ordinances and parts of ordinances conflicting in any way with the provisions of this ordinance, are hereby repealed.

14. This ordinance shall take effect and go into operation from and after its passage.

Approved October 3d, 1861.

Accounts--City Officers.

BE it ordained by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Memphis:

That from and after the passage of this ordinance, any city officer who shall make an account against the city of Memphis, either by the purchase of articles in its name or otherwise, without the authority of the Board of Aldermen to do so, shall be removed from office therefor, two-thirds of the Aldermen elected concurring therein.

Approved October 3d, 1861.

Wanted the Privilege of Swearing Back Again!

A few days since, Mr. John Troutman, a well-known farmer of Boston, Nelson county, was at Gen. Sherman's camp, near Elizabethtown, in search of a negro man who had run away or been enticed away from his home, and was believed to be secreted in the camp. The Lincoln soldiers did not seem disposed to extend him any facilities in his search, and as a last resort, Mr. Troutman, appealed to Gen. Sherman for assistance. That officer gave him a pass permitting him to visit any and all parts of the camp in his search; but as he was departing Gen. S. stopped him by quietly intimating that he had not yet taken the oath of allegiance, and it was necessary he should perform the ceremony which Gen. Scott a short time since was wont to go through with before every meal and occasionally by way of variety between times. He acquiesced, and just as the oath was about to be administered by Gen. Sherman, Mr. Troutman interrupted him by saying with a grave and demure countenance, and with great earnestness—"General! I want it understood that I reserve the privilege of swearing back again when General Buckner comes along!"

The joke was so good a one, and Mr. Troutman's faith in coming events so strong, that Gen. Sherman after enjoying a hearty laugh, permitted him to go his way without taking the "swear."—Louisville Courier.

FEDERAL MOVEMENTS ON THE TENNESSEE RIVER.—We find the following items in the Clarksville Jeffersonian of the 16th:

We learn upon what we regard as reliable authority that a fight occurred at Fort Henry, on the Tennessee, on Sunday, between four of Lincoln's gunboats and the fort. Some twenty or thirty shots on each side were exchanged, and "nobody hurt." The boats were anchored in a secure position, about two miles below the fort. They made no attempt to go up.

Two or more of the Federal gunboats were within two or three miles of Fort Henry on Sunday last. We presume they did not intend to come further than the fun.

DEATH OF A DISTINGUISHED CIVILIAN.—Calvin Huson, Esq., one of the civilians captured at the battle of Manassas, died yesterday morning of typhoid fever, at the residence of one of our citizens, to which he was carried several days ago, with the consent of Gen. Winder. Mr. Huson had been ill since early in September, and received every necessary attention, not only from the prison authorities, but from Mr. Ely, also a prisoner, whose competitor he was as the Democratic candidate for the United States Congress from the Rochester district. Mr. Huson was formerly prosecuting attorney for Rochester, and married a niece of Wm. H. Seward. His remains will be interred at Hollywood Cemetery this afternoon.—Richmond Enquirer, Oct. 15.

PREPARE FOR NEXT YEAR.—Every planter should look well to his bags and see that he has a large stock for next year. If the blockade is not opened, and we cannot see the most distant hope of it, cotton cannot be sold, and but little of it will be raised. Planters must of necessity turn their attention to the raising of grain, pork, beef, mutton, wool, sugar, etc—articles that will sell, and enable them to live and pay their taxes. Sheep do well here if they are provided with sheds to shelter them from the wet in the winter when the fleece is heavy. Take care of the sheep, for the wool will be wanted. We must prepare for next year, as every circumstance indicates there will be no peace until we conquer the North, and that will have to be done by an invasion of the enemy's country. We must, therefore, be ready for a vigorous campaign next year.—Vicks. Whig.

OYSTERS.—The Baltimore Sun of the 5th inst., startles the lovers of bivalves with the following intelligence:

The oyster business of Baltimore exhibits a visible diminution by the number of vessels employed in bringing the bivalves to this port the present season, owing to the blockade of the Virginia waters, from whence the best kinds are obtained, and the strict surveillance exercised over all vessels navigating Maryland waters. As a consequence a rise in prices may be expected soon.

FEDERAL MOVEMENTS ON THE TENNESSEE.—We find the following items in the Cairo Delta of the 16th:

The gunboats were anchored in a secure position, about two miles below the fort. They made no attempt to go up.

Two or more of the Federal gunboats were within two or three miles of Fort Henry on Sunday last. We presume they did not intend to come further than the fun.

Retirement of Gen. Twiggs.

Gen. Mansfield Lovell, who has been appointed to the command of the military district of the lower Mississippi, was expected to arrive at New Orleans on yesterday, and to enter upon the discharge of his duties immediately. Referring to the change of commanders, the Picayune, of the 17th, pays the following merited compliment to the retiring veteran:

By the arrival of Gen. Lovell, Gen. Twiggs is relieved from command, and, we believe, retires from the military service. The arduous duties of this position, during the original period of the last few weeks have been performed by him amidst great bodily pain. He has been too infirm to move freely about, but his mind has been clear and active and he has given incessant attention and immense labor to the organization and preparation which his successor will find to his hands. The gallant spirit of the veteran, and his patriotic devotion to the cause of the South, have been conspicuously displayed during this trying season; as they best know who are familiar with the sleeplessness with which he has endured all the public service, and who have seen how much it fretted the old soldier to be chained to a chair, with his sword lying useless by his side when the sound of the battle was coming near. The courage of old is unquenched, but the failing limbs admonished the patriot that the emergencies of his country needed the vigor and elasticity of younger frames, and he voluntarily asked to be relieved. The request was granted with that high consideration which is due to a long and heroic career, unspotted reputation, and the generous and chivalrous devotion with which he identified himself from the commencement with the struggle of the assailed South for her independence. The Confederate States have no more faithful citizen or devoted patriot than the veteran Twiggs.

MISCELLANEOUS.

DRS. J. B. & WM. WASSON,
No. 320. DENTISTS, No. 320.

HAVE moved their office to the corner of Main and Union streets, where they have fitted up and furnished rooms suitable for the accommodation of those who may favor them with their confidence, and having thus located permanently, offer their professional services in the different branches of Dentistry, promising the public to serve them in the most skillful and judicious manner, and in every reasonable case warrant satisfaction, both as to operations performed and our charges for the same. Further than this we wish to hold out no inducement whatever, to ensnare the public or draw them to our office, by any exhibition of Dental specimens, or propositions to do "cheap Dentistry," or "at prices as low, or even lower than the very lowest," or by any other misrepresentation of facts in any way whatsever. Neither do we wish any one to mistake our name (Wasson) for that of another, as the name is plain, and place of business easily found. Office corner of Union and Main streets, No. 320.

SPECIAL ORDER NO. 9.

HEADQUARTERS WESTERN DEPARTMENT, COLUMBUS, Sept. 26th, 1861.

1. INCONVENIENCE has arisen from the detention of trains of cars, and in some cases from their removal by orders of military officers, from one road to another without the sanction of the superintendent of the road, therefore it is notified to all military officers, servingin or passing through this department, that transportation of every kind is furnished and regulated by the officers of the Quartermaster's Department, under instructions of the commanding General of the department, and subordinately of the Commanders of Divisions.

2. Officers are strictly forbidden to interfere with these arrangements, or to remove cars from any railway, or to take any train beyond or to a different point from that prescribed to the conductor in his instructions, or to detain any train for shelter for the troops.

3. Presidents of railways are requested to report, by telegraph, to the General any violation of this order.

VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE.

I AM authorized to sell at a reasonable VALUABLE PLANTATION lying on the Mississippi river, about two miles south of Memphis, on the Arkansas side. It contains

235 Acres,

According to a survey made in 1859, with a river front of half a mile. The soil consists of a remarkably fertile black loam, nearly as light as a bank of ashes, and some idea of its depth may be conceived from the fact that a cistern has been dug, in its immediate vicinity, to the depth of twelve feet, without reaching the clay. It is almost entirely above overflow, the unprecedented floods of '58 and '59 covering only a small portion of it, and it is also protected by a fine levee, which has been greatly strengthened during the past year. It has no improvements except some cotton sheds, and an excellent road through it, for the purpose of hauling wood to the river, where two fine landings have been cut. It is one of the finest locations for a wood yard on the river, having a bluff bank and sufficient depth of water for boats to lay at any season of the year. The timber is very heavy, consisting of gum, ash, hackberry and walnut, and if cut off and sold, would more than pay for the land.

I have been told by competent judges, that the peculiar advantages of this land are so great, that for the present, it could be made to yield a profit on $100 per acre. Its nearness to the rapidly growing city of Memphis, greatly adds to its value, and should that city be blockaded, it will be the nearest point that can be made the capital of the Confederate States, as it is now thought will be, in a very short time it would command $500 per acre.

It is now offered at the low price of $60 per acre—one half cash, and the balance in twelve months. Nothing but pecuniary embarrassments induce the owner to offer it at such a sacrifice. Possession given immediately. Title perfect.
