LOCAL MATTERS.

THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 31.

OLD TYPE METAL.

We have about two thousand pounds of old type metal, which we will sell at twenty cents per pound, in lots to suit purchasers.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.—To Col. H. Borden, of the Southern Express company, for files of the New Orleans papers in advance of the mails, and to Mr. Ward, of the firm of Ward & Treadwell for a similar favor.

MILITARY ORDERS.—In another column we this morning publish general orders issued by command of Governor Harris, appointing Jackson, Trenton, and Collierville as places for the rendezvous of troops entering the service, and Savannah, Hardin county, a camp of instruction. The Confederate quartermaster and commissary of Memphis are to furnish transportation, tents, equipage, subsistence, etc., to troops encamped at those places.

RICHMOND DELEGATION.—W. B. Galbreath, Esq., of the firm of Meacham & Galbreath, and A. M. Fonte, Esq., of the Grayson Savings Institution, have been appointed by the President of the Chamber of Commerce, in accordance with a resolution adopted at the recent monthly meeting, as delegates from the Chamber to the Confederate government at Richmond, to lay before the government the matter of the prohibition of free commerce between the country up the river, and the remaining portion of the Southern Confederacy. The delegates start on their mission to-day.

THE GERMAN ENTERTAINMENT.—At the German dramatic entertainment, given September 21st, for the benefit of the families of soldiers, $389 50 was raised, of which $250 has been distributed to eighty-two families. A balance of only $152 50 remains. The winter is at hand and there are great claims that must be attended to. Mr. Buttner, his family and artistic friends, will give another performance on Tuesday next, the proceeds of which will be applied to the patriotic and benevolent purpose of relieving want among the connections of those who are fighting our battles in the field. The managing committee for J. W. Wollering, J. Steinkuhl, Dr. Laski, H. Houghold, Buttingham, W. Boettner, and Mahler.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Between 4 and 5 o'clock last night J. M. Ragan, a soldier, entered the Phenix restaurant on Main street, between Union and Gayoso. He ordered a broiled steak, and it is charged that while they were cooking it he stole a half dollar and a dime from the money drawer. After eating the steak, he became indignant when asked to pay for it, and threw a glass or two at the head of the proprietor. Police officers Dyer, Causey, and Van Campen interposed, when the man yelled for his captain, who endeavored to rescue him from the police. When the police refused to release their prisoner the captain drew a pistol and would have shot Causey, but the officer caught the barrel in his hand so that the ball missed him, but the powder set fire to the shirt bosom and cost sleeves of the captain. Both men were arrested.

CRIMINAL COURT.—State vs. Burwinkle, five cases, for selling or giving liquor to slaves, were yesterday submitted by the defendant, and the court regarding the submission as an expression of regret for his violation of the law, and of his purpose to respect the same in future, omitted the imprisonment, and fined the defendant for the first offense, $25.00; for the second, $30.00; for the third, $35.00; for the fourth, $40.00, and for the fifth, $50.00. By this, and the action of the court generally in such cases, the court is resolved, so far as it can, to enforce these liquor laws strictly, and put an end to selling liquor or giving it to slaves, in any quantity, whether measured or treated to them, as drams or otherwise. No man is allowed to give liquor at all to another's slave, and is not permitted to judge of the effect of giving him even a dram. If one man may give him a dram, the next man may do likewise, and so on, till the slave is seriously injured, and his morals and services impaired. The State vs. Winters was continued for absence of the State's witnesses, or some of them. The State vs. McCoy, for throwing a knife at and cutting Wm. Allen, was taken up, and, at the instance of defendant, a special panel of forty-six jurors, as provided by law, was ordered, and, besides these, many other jurors were summoned, when a jury was obtained and the cause proceeded with. Eldridge, attorney-general, for the State, and Judge King and Jno. F. Sale, Esq., for the defendant. No malice being proved, the jury found the offense an assault and battery, and fined the defendant $100, and the defendant was also imprisoned by the court fifteen days, because of the instrument used, a knife. In the case of the State vs. Flannery, on Tuesday, the argument of counsel was unusually able and eloquent, on either side. Eldridge, attorney-general, and Harris & Wilson, for the State, and Coleman, Sale and Yerger, for the defendant. The jury, believing that the proof did not show the degree of malice necessary to murder in the first degree, found him guilty of murder in the second degree, as before stated. A motion was made by his counsel for a new trial, which will be heard at a subsequent day. The case being now bailable, on motion of defendant's counsel, the court fixed his bail at $3000 for himself, and the same for his sureties, jointly and severally.

The following cases will be called this day: 691, state vs. Webb; 697, State vs. McCarthy; 709, State vs. Farrington; 725, State vs. Steger; 733, State vs. Barton; 741, State vs. Harris; 742, State vs. Phelps & Rose; 752, State vs. Key; 761, State vs. Davis; 769, State vs. Garibaldi; and also the cases passed on the middle manner docket, excepting those set for particular days of the term.

River News and Steamboat Business.

The river fell 7½ inches during the 24 hours ending last evening. The weather was pleasant and sunny yesterday. Business was tolerable brisk on the landing.....The Grand Duke, from New Orleans, was the only arrival; she had 650 barrels molasses, 198 hogsheads sugar, 340 sacks salt, and a quantity of gunnies, oranges, wine, porter, oil, coffee, wool, glass, and onions; she leaves for New Orleans this evening. Mr. Collins, her polite clerk, will attend courteously to his passengers.....The Natchez left last evening with a good trip; the Mears left for Vicksburg.....The Morrison came to the landing yesterday; she leaves on Saturday for New Orleans, as we have already stated.....The fine boat, Gen. Quitman, that popular gentleman, Capt. Smith, in command, leaves for New Orleans tonight; the traveler will find her the right boat for him.....The Equality is up for White river.....The Col. Morgan, which has been laying at the landing some time, has gone below to lump. The Eliza G., bought by Captain Quisenberry, will soon arrive to go into the White river trade.....The New Orleans Delta of Tuesday says: "Three of our finest Mississippi river steamers, viz: the Magenta, Ed. J. Gay and Prince of Wales, leave for Memphis this evening. The Louisville arrived from Memphis and will return on Thursday."....The death of S. P. Hibberd, of the well-known steamboat firm of Atheurn & Hibberd, of Cincinnati, is announced in the papers of that city.....The neat boat Key West, Capt. Fulton, as already announced, goes into the Arkansas river trade; Larry Harmstad is agent.....There were five feet four inches water at Pittsburg, and five feet nine inches in the canal at Louisville, on Thursday last, and falling. The New Moon came in last night from White river, bringing 280 bales hay, 120 sacks corn, 31 hogs, 4 cattle, and 2 large lot of catfish. The New Moon is a good swift running boat, and Capt. Dearing is a skillful commander, and attends well to his passengers. The boat returns to-morrow evening. She reports very low water in White river.

BOATS LEAVING.

FOR NEW ORLEANS.—The steamer Grand Duke, Applegate, master, leaves as above this evening at five o'clock. Thomas H. Williams & Co. and Bowers & Co., agents.

FOR ARKANSAS RIVER.—The Key West, Fulton, master, leaves as above Monday evening at 5 o'clock. Larry Harmstad, agent.

On 'Change—Business News.

The principal sales on 'Change yesterday were the following: 676 bushels fair ordinary wheat at $1.02½; 565 bushels choice rye, sacks included, at $1.25; 400 bushels rye at $1.25; 160 sacks bran at $13; 30 bushels Irish potatoes at $2; 80 barrels Springfield Mills S. F. flour at $10.

A merchant present, who had just returned from traveling in the line of country bordering on the Ohio railroad, stated that the excitement within "the prohibited district" is most intense. Parties have wheat and other articles which the rats are devouring and the weevil destroying, but which the commissaries of the army do not buy, and its generals will not let them sell. The mortification caused by the impossibility of securing necessary stores for the winter is lightened and intensified by seeing their neighbors over the railway flush with cash obtained from selling their wheat at $1.50 and the corn at 90 cents a bushel. The impossibility of their selling leads to those who can sell in open market getting a heavier price. The strong dissatisfaction that exists is not confined to those whose produce is neither bought for the army nor permitted to be taken to market. Many of those whose stock has been purchased are among the most mortified of all, complaining of the difficulty of getting their money, or being sent all round the "circumlocution office," of having to labor and wait, and often to pay money in traveling from one official department to another, before they can get their money. The merchant who made these statements agree with statements made by others who have recently been in that tract of country, that many of the planters express a determination to grow no more provisions and to fatten no more hogs or cattle than is required for their own use, unless they can be secure in the certainty that the surplus can be disposed of as they, in their individual choice, and in accordance with their individual interests shall choose. Though warmly attached to the southern cause, though ardent in their patriotic attachments, and though they have in very many instances, by large gifts and in other ways made heavy sacrifices to the southern cause, yet they declare they will not raise a surplus of produce, if that surplus is to be converted into instruments of abridging their personal liberty, and depriving them of their personal rights. These planters are looking to the Memphis Chamber of Commerce to call attention in the proper quarter to the subject of their complaints. They do not call in question the excellent intentions of those who originated the prohibitive measures they object to, but they are convinced that an error of judgment has been committed, and a cardinal principle of the Southern Constitution disregarded. The delegation appointed to express the views of the Chamber to the central government at Richmond, Messrs. Galbreath and Fonte, will not fail to satisfy what is expected from the Chamber. A respectful vindication of the great principles that govern commerce, and a firm representation of what the valley of the lower Mississippi requires under the present circumstances, may be looked for at their hands with confidence.

The state taxation question is beginning to be a prominent subject of attention. It is understood that the City Councilmen, owing to existing embarrassments, although willing to lend all the aid in their power to what will increase the commercial prosperity of the city, are generally of opinion that a platform cannot be constructed by city funds. There is, however, it appears probable no objection to appropriating the lease between Washington and Poplar streets for two season, say until March, 1863, to such a purpose; the Chamber of Commerce, or a company of merchants associating for the purpose to lay down a platform, or skids, and appoint and pay two men, on whom the city shall confer police powers, to watch the property stored there. The expenses to be paid by a tariff upon goods stored there to be appropriated to paying the expenses incurred. It appears almost certain that the landing named above will be the one chosen. We have already stated, on the authority of Mr. Humphreys, the City Civil Engineer, that the level of that landing, since it was filled up with the earth removed in digging the foundation of the Overton hotel, is above high water mark; that its level surface permits of weighing and gauging; that the Inspector's office is near that the grade to the ordinary level of the city streets is the most favorable on the whole river bank; that the Ohio and Charleston railroad depots are readily accessible from it; and that the channel of the river comes close to the bank in this spot, making the landing of sugar easy and safe. The space where the bluff stands between Adams and Court streets has been spoken of, but if the city will not put down a platform it will not clear a bluff away; and if did the space obtained would be an inclined plane, not a level. The top of the bluff between Monroe and Court streets, has, also, its advocates. Its nearness to business houses would be an advantage, but it is limited in space. The cotton merchants think they have a prior claim to it, and the grade to it from the river is steep, which drawing sugar with a crane upon the face of the bluff would hardly pay. We presume the space between Washington and Poplar streets stands the best chance of being the Memphis sugar landing.

The Mechanics' Savings and Loan Association, of Savannah, Georgia, has given notice that it will advance five cents a pound upon cotton in bales averaging middling quality, delivered in a brick warehouse in Macon or Griffin, the cotton thereto remain until the blockade is removed, so that it can be fairly sold. For this advance, interest at seven per cent., with warehouse expense and insurance. It is also said that other banks in that State will go into the same arrangement. If so, a material relief will be afforded the planters.

A RESURRECTION.—We had the sad task last summer of announcing that a respected brother editor, Frank M. Gailor, Esq., of the Avalanche, had met with a fall in life, and sunk into an Alderman. We have now the pleasure of stating that he has recovered from his fall, and has been promoted to the position of brigade quartermaster in Gen. Carroll's rifle brigade. In his new position we predict for him entire success. He has the energy and talent that know no failure. We regret to lose him from the corps. In our local and river wanderings he has often been our companion, and we always found him ready to show a kindness or to perform an act of friendship; we shall often think of pleasant hours passed in his company. The adjutant-general of the brigade is another gentleman of many kindly and lofty qualities, whose friendship it has been our privilege to possess—H. Casey Young, Esq. The commissary is also a gentleman of this city, J. C. Holland, Esq. In his new position our friend Gailor, soon to be relieved from his unhappy condition as Alderman, ranks in the service as captain.

THE SHINPLASTER CURSE.—The victims who are cursed with shinplasters are making vigorous efforts to get rid of the grievous visitation. The Petersburg (Va.)—the place from which shinplasters were imported to Memphis a few weeks ago—Express has the following: "We understand that hereafter the merchants of this city will, by mutual agreement, refuse to receive much of the small currency now so completely overrunning us. The notes of the corporations of Petersburg, Richmond, and probably of other cities, as well as the issues of the regularly incorporated banks of those cities, will be taken as heretofore, but all individual notes, notes of "savings banks," county issues and the like, will be refused. This step was some time ago taken in Richmond. Among the vast multiplicity of small issues now flooding our State, it is a difficult matter to recognize which are good and which are bad—what names are responsible and what not." Is there any intelligent person at the present time so infatuated as to believe shinplasters necessary to the salvation of Memphis?

FEMININE.—Mary Murray, Mary Nalker, Jo. Moore, Ann Coleman and Puss Couch were all in "durance vile" yesterday; one of them had borrowed some clothing without leave, another had taken liquor and the liquor took her without leave; two of them had whipped Puss Couch.

Skirmish in Kentucky.

A letter to the Nashville Union, from Cave City, Ky., dated the 25th, gives the particulars of a skirmish near that place as follows:

Col. Allison, on the evening of the 23d, took 100 of the 24th regiment and seventy cavalry, under Capt. Hamilton, together with one piece of artillery, and started for an encampment beyond Glasgow. Major Williams, with Capt. Easby's and Capt. Dowell's companies and sixty cavalry under Capt. Bible, started by a different route to attack them at a different point. Both divisions came on them at sunrise, routing them in every direction, killing four and wounding twenty.

Our forces took fifteen prisoners, besides a quantity of arms, two stands of colors, three or four drums, their camp equipage, etc. An amusing little incident was, that they had just cooked their breakfast when the attack begun. Our boys enjoyed themselves much in partaking of the beef-steak and biscuit prepared by the enemy. Their forces were estimated by the prisoners to be from one to three hundred.

None of our men were hurt, although the bullets whistled smartly about them for a little while. The woods were so thick and craggy that the cavalry could not pursue them, and our infantry having marched thirty miles, were too much fatigued to follow them.

HARD BUT SUCCESSFUL.—A letter from Columbus, referring to the work of placing in position of the largest gun in the fortifications at that place, gives the following particulars:

Speaking of the batteries, the 128-pounder—the "big gun" of the place—was successfully mounted a few days ago. The weight of the gun, as you may suppose, was tremendous, and, consequently, it was quite a difficult operation to raise it. Capt. Pickett, ordered the "Sarsfield Guards," commanded by Capt. Thos. Stokes of your city, to set to work, and at it they went with a will. At the first trial, the rope—a heavy cable—broke, and came near sending some of the boys over the bluffs. This, however, was soon remedied, and a second trial was made, and this time the effort was successful, and the monster gun was safely mounted. So well pleased was Capt. Pickett of the way in which the boys worked, that he ordered the gun to be named after them; and the "Sarsfield" now stands ready to send its compliments to the Federal forces, whenever they may appear.

THE ZOUAVES.—Everybody must remember the French Zouaves on Saturday night at the theater. Their agent, Mr. Hart, has shown us notices of their performance in London, Dublin, Edinburg, Isle of Wight, Paris, Madrid, and other European journals. In the languages we know the highest encomiums were lavished on the petite, favorite zouzous. The novelty, military effect, and uncommon strangeness of the performance wins the admiration of everybody.

DELICATELY BEHAVED.—Mary Williams, generally known as Big Mary, was arrested by officer Fritz and yesterday fined twenty-one dollars by Recorder Moore, for drawing a pistol from her stocking on Tuesday night, and pulling the trigger while the muzzle was toward a young lady of her acquaintance known as Miss Mountain. The weapon did not go off, so she knocked her over the head with the butt end.

THE ARCADE!—Messrs. Cayce & Son offer for sale this morning, at 10 o'clock, a variety of goods. See advertisement.

Friday morning, at 10 A. M., trade sale of 600 dozen good sewing thread, 300 dozen white and 300 dozen colored thread. Also a lot of heavy clothing, furniture, etc.; two platform scales and four office stoves. Also 100 black walnut and cherry cribs, assorted sizes. A. L. Andrews & Co., 272 Main street. 2t

I have been afflicted with the worst form of inward Piles and a very bad case it was. I have been treated by various physicians, who pronounced my case incurable. Finding no relief, I was persuaded to try your Ambrosial Oil, and after using one bottle I was enabled to go about my usual avocation. Three bottles have cured me whole and sound, and I wish to make this public, that other sufferers of this disease, the worst in the world, may try it and be convinced that I have been, that its equal is not to be found. M'LEAN'S CORDIAL.

As may be seen, we insert this week the advertisement of McLean's Cordial, etc.

It is very well known we are not particularly favorable to patent medicines, and, as a general thing, eschew the whole or them with but little ceremony, and with these sentiments we declined inserting this advertisement until we knew what were the ingredients of the medicine, and how compounded. This we have learned and believing, as we do, that the ingredients are good, and the compound judiciously made, we recommend it as a mixture worthy of public confidence.

The above is from the St. Louis Christian Advocate edited by the renowned Rev. Dr. McAnally, which speaks volumes in favor of McLean's Cordial. We say to all, try it. See the advertisement in another column. febl-daw
