TROUBLE FOR LABOR ON MEXICAN BORDER

Texas and Arizona Authorities Accused of Conspiring Against Workmen.

The following excerpts from a letter written by ex-Board Member Moor, of the Western Federation of Miners, to the Miners' Magazine, shows the manner in which the workers of Mexico and the United States are treated when they attempt to assert their independence and improve their condition on the economic field:

"The Texas and Arizona government officials are now doing the most contemptible murderous act ever heard of in this country of debauchery and murder. Any Mexican who by his actions shows any manhood and protests against the economic conditions, the corporation spies will trump up evidence against him as a revolutionist, plotting against the government of Mexico and turn him over to the Mexican authorities to be jailed or shot, as they see fit. Also quite a number of white Americans have been arrested on both sides of the national border, and have been jailed, deported and subjected to all sorts of persecution."

A NEW EMPLOYING PRINTERS' UNION

Master Printers of New York and Chicago Form an Organization To Recognize Unions.

Action Taken Which Sounds Death Knell of the United Typothetae of America.

A new organization of master printers has been formed along lines opposite to those of the United Typothetae of America. The new association is known as the Employing Printers' League of America and was projected in New York by Putnam Drew. A branch has already been established in Chicago.

It is understood that the new organization will endeavor to promote harmonious relations with the unions of the trade, as differing from the policy of the now almost defunct Typothetae, which degenerated into a union-busting organization.

It was originally intended to form an association of master printers which would endeavor to eradicate some of the evils existing in the trade and take no notice of the labor question, but after the movement had obtained some headway, it became apparent that an organization which did not deal with the relations between the employers and the unions could not hope for a continued existence.

The following circular letter sent out by Mr. Drew, outlines the ground which will be covered by the new league:

EMPLOYING PRINTERS LEAGUE OF AMERICA.
New York Branch.
The fact that the Typothetae has unequivocally declared for the open shop and a severance of any connection or recognition of union usages and rules, leaves the remaining employers without any means of conciliation or arbitration with the existing unions; and as it must be admitted that unions have to be reckoned with, it has been very necessary to form an association which would become a medium of negotiation as between these bodies and the employers.

In view of the above conditions the writer has been urged to take up the matter, and, if possible, form such an organization with practically nominal dues.

Among the advantages it is evident that any dispute arising between employers and employees, either as individuals or in the broader sphere of wages and shop rules, could be talked over and arranged by the two bodies affected and have the authorization of representative organizations.

One thing that may be said regarding the utility of such a league is that the unions connected with the printing business have been universally correct in maintaining the integrity of any agreement entered into, and also that the present condition leaves the unions without any authorized information as to the condition and needs of the employer, for mutual benefit.

If you favor the idea of such an organization will you drop me a line letting me know your feeling in the matter and perhaps we can arrange a time and place for a general conference leading to definite results. My judgment is, from what I have learned, that the heads of 100 different establishments here in New York city would at once join such a league.

For a number of years I was secretary of the New York Master Printers' Association, and have retained my interest in all matters pertaining to the printing industry. I know that such a league would be heartily approved by Typographical Union No. 6, for they now feel the lack of adequate means for general consultation with their employers.

There can be no question but that an organization formed along the lines laid down by Mr. Drew will meet with the approval and co-operation of a large majority of the employing printers of this country. There is need for such an organization. It would make for better prices for the product of the printing offices; it would make for better conditions in the trade in general.

COLUMBIA CLOTHING CO.,

Two Stores—Duluth and Superior.

The International Typographical Union, as well as the subordinate unions, have always been willing to meet with organizations of employers, and whenever such organization have been actuated by a spirit of fairness and a disposition to take up questions at issue on their merits, the unions have never been forced to resort to strikes for a settlement of differences. But when the unions are forced to deal with such an organization as the United Typothetae of America became during recent years, an organization which refused to listen to or meet with representatives of the unions, then the inevitable happened—a serious and demoralizing strike followed. The formation of this new league means the death of the top-sided Typothetae. It will be welcomed by the union printers throughout the country.

FITWELL CLOTHING PARLOR GETS BOOST IN DULUTH.

One of the wholesome additions to the clothing business of the city is the "Fitwell Clothing Parlor." This store is in every way equipped to give perfect satisfaction to every customer. It has the new idea in furnishing men with clothing, and its representatives seem to have the plan of pleasing patrons. Duluth has several good clothing stores, but the field seem large enough for another first-class store. The Fitwell is certainly starting out under the right kind of auspices, and we are sure that its efforts will be thoroughly appreciated by the public.

It is interesting to note that this store will handle union label goods exclusively. This is itself sufficient to warrant a good substantial trade from union labor. The Labor World wishes the new store success in this field and trusts that its efforts will be thoroughly appreciated by all union men, and the public in general.
