PERSONAL.—We received a call, yesterday, from our friend Moses Parrish, of the St. Louis Bulletin.

TRANCE.—Our friend, Charlie Loop, of the Southern Express, has our thanks for favors, such as Journalists alone can appreciate.

THANKS.—We are indebted to Messrs. Bielock & Co., Main street, and Messrs. Emmons & Son, Jefferson street, for favors.

CRIMINAL COURT.—In this Court to-day the entire docket will be called peremptorily, commencing at the first case for trial and running through regularly.

FIRE LAST NIGHT.—The alarm of fire last night, was caused by the burning of a small bakery in the rear of the Commercial Hotel. The engines were promptly on the spot, and succeeded in quickly subduing the flames. Loss sustained one thousand dollars. No insurance.

WASHINGTON FIRE CO. No. 6.—At a recent meeting of this company, the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

E. Pierce, President;	P. Montague, 1st Eng;
F. Soaves, Vice President;	M. Hart, Asst. Hose;
J. Minder, Secretary;	Geo. Kelly, Hose;
I. Fuller, Treasurer;	J. Clary, Hose;	Standing Com.:
Philip Smith, 1st Foreman;	H. Hoffman, Hose;

YALLOBUSHA BRIDGE.—We are informed by Mr. E. O. Norton, agent for the Mississippi Central Railroad, in this city, that the Yallobusha bridge on that road is completed, and that time now to New Orleans, via Memphis and Charleston, and Mississippi Central Railroads is thirty-three hours.

RUN OVER BY AN OMNIBUS.—A man, whose name we were unable to learn, was run over by a large omnibus on Saturday night last, near the corner of Union and Main streets, receiving injuries of a very serious nature. His right arm was broken and his side very badly bruised. It is said that he will survive his injuries.

FREEDMEN'S COURT.—The following negroes were tried in the Freedmen's Court, yesterday morning:

Mary Jane Scott, for stealing, discharged.
Anderson Gordon, assault and battery, continued.
Mark Bettersworth, whipping his wife, fined five dollars.
John Ann Wilson, misdemeanor, fined five dollars.
Sam Slocum, stealing, discharged.
Henry Henderson, misdemeanor, fined five dollars.
John Austin, stealing cotton, discharged.
Peter Jones, stealing, discharged.

ANOTHER ROBBERY.—On Sunday night last, the store of Mr. Renchan, in the northern part of the city, was broken open, and robbed of the value of twelve dollars and fifty dollars, besides a variety of fancy goods. Two individuals, named Edwards and Brown, respectively, were arrested yesterday, on suspicion, and lodged in jail, to await an examination before Esquire Creighton this morning.

AMENDED.—Our fellow-citizen, A. Scessel, complimented his clerks on Friday night, with a champagne supper. The social and genial festivities of the evening were interrupted by the presentation of a beautifully chased and appropriately engraved silver wine stand, as a memorial to the generous employer from the faithful employees. Appropriate speeches were made expressive of high respect and affection, indicating very happy business relations. We venture the hope and suggestion that occasions of this kind may be frequent.

DEATH OF MR. B. P. GARRISON.—Mr. B. P. Garrison, who was accidentally shot by a white soldier, at the fire on McCall street, early on Sunday morning last, died in a few hours after receiving the fatal wound. He was shot in the thigh, immediately above the knee, and the loss of blood being so heavy, resulted in his death. Mr. Garrison leaves behind him a loving wife and darling young child to mourn his untimely loss. How sad it is, that a man just in the prime of life, full of thought and hope, should thus be snatched off, without a moment's warning, from all that is to him near and dear, and unprepared, he called upon to settle with his Maker his last and final account.

CHANCERY COURT.—A number of unimportant cases were decided, and decrees issued in this court yesterday, Judge Smith presiding. The following cases were set for trial to-day:

Wm. Clark, vs. Sarah N. Stanton, et al.
Jas. Donnelly, vs E. D. Hazelt & Co.

Jas. T. Norris, vs W. E. Nelson, et al.
Jordan Gill, vs Depew & Knight.

DEATH OF MR. STEWART.—We regret to announce this morning the decease of Mr. Darwin Stewart, which event transpired on Sunday morning last, from the wounds so treacherously and infamously inflicted upon his person, by an unknown negro. The death of Mr. Darwin Stewart, has cast a feeling of the most profound sorrow over a large circle of friends and acquaintances, being, as he was, a cheerful, social companion, and possessing in an eminent degree those qualities of the heart and mind, which stamped him throughout life—a gentleman. There is something remarkable in the fact, that some time since, Mr. Stewart's brother was shot down, unprovokedly, and by an unknown hand. He, however, more fortunate than his lamented brother, recovered.

ARREST OF A NOTORIOUS CHARACTER.—James Robinson, alias "Hoosier Jim," alias "Sharp-Shooter," alias James O'Brien, who lately escaped from the City Jail, by scaling the walls, is again immured within its confines, where, it is to be hoped, a more vigilant watch will be kept upon him in future. "Hoosier James" having in his possession sufficient funds to procure a bed for the night, proceeded to the Richmond House, on Front street, between Main and Madison streets, where he realized his object. The old and long formed habit of stealing, having never deserted him, he immediately set about entering the various rooms of the borders, and found in one of them the sum of five hundred dollars in greenbacks, and a splendid silver mounted repeater, which he transferred to his possession, and fastantly made off with. On awaking in the morning, the gentleman missed his money and repeater, and immediately communicated the fact to the proprietor of the house, who at once set out and captured "James" in a concert saloon, —the "Climax,"—on Beale street, and handed him over to the police authorities. For over fifteen years, this "James" has piled his vocation in the principal cities along the Mississippi—serving during this time, several terms in the penitentiary. He says he will steal, as stealing is a part of his nature, and he assumes an air of perfect indifference as to w o knows it. "James" is good for Nashville, this time, at least.

BOLD AND HEAVY ROBBERY.—South street, persecuted South street, has this time been made the scene of one of the heaviest and boldest robberies, among the many that have occurred in the city, during the past year. Mr. Haffey, lately returned to this country from Ireland, where he had remained, and quietly watched the progess of events here during the four years past, concluded, some time since to migrate to Memphis, and invest what capital he possessed in business at this point. He recently started a grocery store on South street, three doors west of DeSoto street, and intending to increase his stock, from time to time, kept his money amounting to about six thousand seventeen dollars in his house, carefully packed away with dresses and wearing apparel in a trunk. About seventeen hundred and forty dollars of the amount, was in gold, three hundred in silver, and the balance in "legal tenders." On Saturday night last, an entrance was made into his house, through a window, by a gang of thieves, and the trunk containing almost everything he owned of any value in the world, was carried off a short distance from the house, broken open and robbed of its contents—the money, several silk dresses, and a box containing an amount of money belonging to Mr. Haffey's brother, which had been left in his charge for safe keeping. The trunk was found in this condition on Sunday morning last. The thieves have, so far, escaped the vigilance of the officers of the law; but it is sincerely to be hoped that the calamity soon be safely lodged within the confines of the city jail, and dealt with in the most summary manner. The money stolen from Mr. Haffey is the hard earnings of many years of toil and labor; and it is indeed a sad reflection, that just at a time when he was about to realize its accruing benefits and comforts, it should be thus snatched from him in a few short hours, by the despicable characters of a most nefarious calling, and placed forever, perhaps, beyond his reach.

THE FIRE ON SUNDAY MORNING LAST.—Early on Sunday morning last, a most disastrous conflagration occurred, consuming some five or six buildings. The fire broke out in the steam bakery on the corner of Main and McCall streets, owned by Hurlbut & Co., and rapidly extending in a direction parallel with Main street, destroying an adjoining block consisting of five two-story brick buildings. The Germania Hall, owned by Mr. Geiss, and but recently fitted out new, was entirely consumed. Loss about four thousand dollars, and no insurance. Mr. Freedman, proprietor of a clothing store, adjoining Mr. Hulbert's bakery, suffered to the extent of about two thousand dollars, he having succeeded in saving most of his effects. Mr. Raggio, who kept a small confectionery store, next door to Friedman's, was also very fortunate in saving most of his stock. Mr. J. W. Burton, a worthy painter, and a resident of Memphis for a number of years past, had the misfortune of losing everything—the fixtures and stock belonging to Messrs. Hulbert and Co., proprietors of the steam bakery, are the heaviest losers—their loss amounting to about twenty-five thousand dollars, on which that there was but a slight insurance. The entire loss sustained will foot up to about one hundred thousand dollars. The scarcity of water was very sadly felt, and it is owing to this fact, perhaps, that the flames were not subdued before much headway was gained.

SUPPER AND PRESENTATION.—The house of Mack Brothers & Bohm, gave a supper to their young men, on Saturday night last. The repast set before the party was, indeed, most admirable, consisting of the richest and rarest luxuries, which our markets afford. Mr. Thomas Robins, presided over the festivities, and the cloth being removed, the Chairman proposed prosperity in the future, equal to that of the past, to the generous donors of this compliment to their employees. This was responded to by Mr. J. D. Mickle, on behalf of the firm, in his usual happily conceived style, and Mr. Hays, on behalf of the employees spoke in a very warm and eloquent manner, and presented to Mr. Mickle, a beautiful Masonic ring, bearing an appropriate inscription. To this again, Mr. Mickle groduced the best humor throughout the party, by his feeling and witty remarks. The health of Mr. Joseph Mack, was proposed and responded to by the chair. Mr. Paris proposed in elegant and choice language the memory of Robert Emmett, and the independence of Ireland, which elicited a very warm and truly Irish response from Mr. Hays. Numerous other toasts were proposed and drank, the most noticeable of which were, the "Ladies of the South," and Gen. N. B. Forrest, after which the party broke up, and all expressed the liveliest satisfaction from their night's entertainment.

THE CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—We assure our readers that the Concert to be given to-night, under the auspices of the Library Association, will be everything that the most refined musical taste could desire, and talent and expense could make it. The Rigoletto and Trovatore Fantasies, by Liszt, have been performed publicly but once, and that in New York City, by the Pianist, Mills, and could only be performed on a Grand Piano, which would respond to the immense rapidity and variations of touch required. The Grand Chorus has been arranged from the Piano edition of the Opera, with a view to the present number of singers and performers, by C. Schilling, who invites the criticisms of the lovers of music as to the effect of his Chorus and Orchestra, the correctness and propriety of its movements, scances, etc., as compared with the Choruses of the last Opera Troupe. One of the finest Bass singers in America, Mr. Reichel, will also sing. In short the Association has done everything in their power to give the public a pleasant equivalent for its contributions. We advise those who are interested in the diffusion of knowledge in our community to frequent these Concerts, and if they do, to go early.

Speech.—In our rambles yesterday we dropped in upon our old friend Joseph Specht, at No. 37 Madison street, and spent an hour in looking through his well regulated establishment, and watching the crowd which was attracted thereby by the cakes and confectionaries which he has prepared for his customers during the festive season. As every one knows that they are of his own manufacture, and not the stale articles imported from the North, of course they rush to his rooms for supplies. In connection with his other business, a magnificent oyster saloon for ladies has been opened out in real Oriental style, and where polite and attentive waiters can always be found, and the bivalves are served in splendid style.

Weather and Business.

The weather continues clear and cool.

The river seems to stand on Sunday nights, and has fallen since that time over five feet.

Business on the Levee is only tolerable.

Miscellaneous.

We are indebted to Capt. F. S. Lee, of the steamer Golden, for favors extended.

The officers of the steamers Darling and Ike Vernon have our thanks for late papers.

The steamer Laura Fenton is due from Louisville this morning, and will depart for Cairo, Louisville and Cincinnati this evening.

The St. Louis and Memphis Packet Company have made arrangements with the Iron Mountain Railroad to bring down St. Louis freight on that point.

The St. Louis Republican, of the 6th, says: "By a dispatch received here yesterday, we are informed of the destruction by fire of the new and elegant steamer Hesperia Carroll. The accident took place on Friday, yesterday morning, the particulars of which have not yet reached us. The Hesperia Carroll was a new and excellent steamer, and cost in the neighborhood of $125,000. We are pleased, however, to learn that she was insured, and that none of our offices here are amongst the victims." She was owned by the Cincinnati Marine Railway and Dock Company.

A correspondent says in relation to the sinking of the steamer Minnie:

While coming out she struck the monitor Onoco, and sunk on the before stated. The cargo of the Minnie contained one hundred and twenty-five bales of cotton, which positively saved her from sinking to the bottom. The steamer Gen. Anderson and the ball boat Undercutter towed her to the Navy Yard, where she will soon be raised by the latter. In addition to the cotton, she had seventy-five bales of cotton, cabins and assorted freight, a large portion of which belongs to Messrs. Wright, all of which were rescued by yawls and skiffs from boats in port. Fifty bales of the same mouldy which sank the Echo last summer.

The officers of the steamer Julia have our thanks for New Orleans papers of the third.

The Rivers Above.

Our latest dates from points above are to the 6th.

The following boats are laid up at Cairo: Cologne, Southern Belle, St. Johns, Little Gill, Louisiana, Ontario, Ike Hammond, Kate Robinson, Silver Wave, J. M. Kellogg, Guy Mason, M. S. Nickum, War Eagle, Fanny Barnett, Magnolia, Yorktown, Julia, Alabama, Mamonie Queen, Platte City, Gen. Anderson, Lioness.

The St. Louis Republican of the sixth says:

Since Saturday last the river here has not undergone much of a change. For the past three or four days it has been stationary, not having advanced or receded an inch. The ice has become sufficiently strong for the heaviest teams to cross over with the utmost security, and the scenes on its surface have quite a pleasing effect on the spectators. Ten boats are well patronized, and the prospects at present, we regret to add, are anything but promising for an early break up.

ON 'CHANGE.

We have to crave the indulgent consideration of his reader, with reference to a statement made some time since, touching the Chamber of Commerce. It seems hard that we shall never be able to hazard a sanguine view of that orphan institution, without having to apologize for it very soon after.

Deceived by the glamour of an apparent income, we set forth the financial condition of the Chamber, and cheerfully announced that it was a self-supporting concern. We were even so far decoyed, as to hold out to its officers flattering inducements of their being certainly paid. It remains to be hoped, that these innocent gentlemen were not fatally misled. The beguiling circumstance which duped us, was the liberative alacrity of our fifty "wise men," in falling to do what they expressly declared they could, would, and should do. The fixed and generous flavor of revenue, suggested by this declaration, led to a mere belief that the Chamber was solvent, and even moulted.

It has lately transpired that this flavor is deceptive. "Pecuniari mutes, et another sua." Liberally expounded, this means much cry, and little wool. Applied to the Chamber, it signifies that instead of reaping a golden harvest, the Chamber has gathered "nary red," and it might be further added—nary green. Any inquiry here is prevented by a 10 Ten-days 5 off, Fifteen-days 1 per cent, and 1" Thirty-days per cent. off.

Loans.

A milder movement is observed on the part of the borrowers, than for some days past, and consequently, but a moderate number of discounts is reported, and that in the ordinary channels. Quotations remain as before. Prime to choice Commercial, 5@6; Fifteen-days 5½, and Thirty-days 1 per cent. off.

City Scrip.

City Scrip has waked up to a stunning life. A vigorous and even impetuous demand purchased it the entire day. The supply however was coy, and scarce, and we learned of only one or two small operations at 90 buying, and 91 selling.

Stocks.

Nothing worthy of remark is doing in Seven-Thirties, which are quoted nominally; 96 buyers and 96½ sellers, with no material change. Five-twenties are in a similar state of quiescence, at 103½. No movement reported in Compound Notes which are reported nominally.

Compound Int. Notes	June,	1864,	101

Gold and Silver.

Gold is remarkably dull at 40 cents, and Brokers are indifferent about taking it even at that, although they hold up the selling price still, at 41.

Silver is drooping at a further decline of 1 cent. It is now buying at 32, and selling at 36.

Uncurrent Funds.

The general mass of Southern money is decidedly more depressed than on last saturday. Nothing of special remark has occurred, however, to practically illustrate this improvement. A Brisk inquiry was observed for the old issue of the Bank of Tennessee, but no transaction that we are aware of, sprang from it.

COMMERCIAL.

COTTON.—The market opened heavy and without any cheerful anticipations, but the fact of orders being in town began to reveal itself by an animated inquiry, and an early New York dispatch arrived stating that Cotton was firmer and in demand. This announcement gave significance to an announcement at the conclusion of a Liverpool circular, received by the last steamer, that the market closed with an advancing tendency. The depression of Saturday evening was cast aside, and prices fully equivalent to those of Saturday were demanded and accorded to. Later New York telegrams confirmed the news already received, and prices were well received, but the amount of Cotton sold was not as large as it might have been if the market had opened under as cheerful auspices as it closed. We repeat Saturday's quotations, observing that there were more sales at the outside figure than on that day. The following comparison of sales reported to us will show the course of the market: 29 bales Repacked at 35; 11 at 39, 45 at 40, and 6 at 40½. Good Ordinary; 63 at 38½, 25 at 41, 11 at 42, and 14 at 42½. Low Middling; 50 at 43, 72 at 43½, 37 at 44, and 81 at 44½. Middling; 87 at 45, Strict Middling; 18 at 46, and 17 at 47. Good Middling; 18 at 48. Middling Fair.
