THANKS.—The officers of the Fourth Regiment Company have our thanks for late papers from all points.

LATE PAPERS.—We are again indebted to our friend Leap, of the Southern Express, for late Northern papers.

CHANCERY COURT.—The following cases have been set for Monday, in this Court:

692. Wm. Bell, et al., vs. A. T. Wells, et al.
693. C. S. Stillman vs. Geo. W. Lincoln.
694. C. S. Stillman vs. R. F. Looney.
695. C. S. Stillman vs. Geo. W. Lincoln.
696. C. S. Stillman vs. H. B. Hagaman.
697. Samuel G. Storey vs. Imogen DeLoach et al.

ARREST OF AN EX-EDITOR.—We were informed last evening that an ex-editor had been arrested at the instance of an old lady, whom he had assaulted and threatened, but as the matter will doubtless be further investigated on Monday we reserve for the present any comments on the matter.

SOME LITIGATION.—There are now fourteen hundred and thirty-eight cases upon the criminal docket, and fourteen hundred and fifty upon the docket of the Common Law Court, which convenes to-morrow.

THE BILLIARD TOURNAMENT.—A private dispatch was received in the city yesterday from Cincinnati, stating that Messrs. Sexton, Foster, Dudley Kavanagh, Melville Foster, and a host of other celebrated Knights of the Cue, had left that city, and would arrive here to-day, to take part in the tournament to-morrow, at the hall fitted up in the Cayce Block, for that purpose.

MEETING OF THE MEMPHIS BAR.—A number of the members of the Memphis Bar met in the Chancery Court room, in the Greenlaw block, yesterday afternoon, to take action in reference to the Court bill, at present before the Legislature at Nashville. The occasion of this meeting was the return of Col. W. K. Poston, Representative from this city, who desired an expression from the leading members of the bar, in regard to the same. After mature deliberation the provisions of the bill were commented by Col. Poston, Chairman of the Committee, were unanimously indorsed. It will be remembered that the bill provides for the division of the Common Law and Chancery Courts into separate and distinct Tribunals, and for fixing the salary of each Judge at three thousand dollars annum.

CHARITY.—The following letter explains itself without a word from us:

MEMPHIS, Feb. 10, 1866.

Messrs. Shaw, Beatton & Murray, Proprietors of the Southern Circus:

GENTLEMEN: The receipts of the matinee, given by your company on Friday afternoon last, for the benefit of the Southern Soldiers' Relief Society, already amount to eleven hundred and fifty dollars. Several sources outside of the ticket office of the circus are yet to be heard from. Language is inadequate to express the gratitude of the members of this Society for the munificent offering you, by your efforts, have contributed to the maimed and invalid soldiers under their care.

MRS. M. C. GALLOWAY, President.

A BURGLAR SHOT.—On Friday night Mr. Tilford, a private watchman, and the night watchman at Nelson, Wood & Co.'s, a few days since, discovered a negro trying to break into the rear of the store of Brown, Crocker & Co., on Main street, and attempting to arrest him, the negro started to run, when he fired at him, the ball taking effect in his neck. After being shot the negro secreted himself in a corner of the yard, but just then Sheriff Winters and two of his Deputies came up, and began to search for the wounded man, when he could be discovered, the negro sprang over the fence and ran, closely followed by the posse, who gained on him so fast, he sought shelter again under some waggons in front of the Eclipse stables, from which he was pulled out by Pat Winters, and carried to the station house. If his neck recovers from the pistol shot, it may meet with a rope in the end.

BOLD ROBBERY.—On Friday night an aircill thief relieved Mr. W. B. Cotton, the clerk of the Recorder's Court, of three hundred and sixteen dollars, in the following manner: Mr. Cotton, after reaching his home on Fifth street, in Chelsea, went to his room, and in preparing to retire for the night, threw his pants upon a chair near the window, and placed the pocket book, he had in it, attached to the pocket in such a manner as to prevent its being stolen, but upon retiring the window was raised and pulling in his arm and drawing the chair to him. The next morning the empty pocket book was found in a neighboring yard, and an attempt made to raise the money, but without success. Among the papers stolen was two City Warrants, the first, number three thousand five hundred and thirty-four, for seventy-seven dollars and forty cents, payable to P. Quiter, and the second, number three thousand five hundred and sixteen, for one hundred dollars, payable to J. H. Reilley. Payment on the warrants has been stopped, but still the loss is a serious one to Mr. Cotton, as he had one hundred dollars stolen from him in the court room a few morning since.

THE SMALL POX.—There is no longer any doubt of the prevalence in our city, of this loathsome disease. We have warned our city authorities of its presence, and insisted on a Pest House being provided for those who had contracted it. Has this been done? We regret very much to learn that it has made its appearance in the central portion of the city, and yesterday one of the largest female schools was compelled to close, on account of the presence of the disease in the building. We are glad to see that Judge Locaspi has created a force of patrolling physicians, at the expense of the county, to travel about and vaccinate the poor. Their wards are thus bounded: Fort Pickering to adjoin, to Dr. Leak; the Overton Tract to Mrs. G. F. Jones and Allen Sterling; that portion of the country bounded by the Overton Track north, Nonconnah south, and east by the Hernando road, to Dr. Wm. H. White; between the Hernando road and Medison street, extended east, to Dr. F. Williams. Chelsea is assigned to Dr. Sumpe, and all that portion of the country bounded north by Wolfe river is assigned to Dr. Pearce.

A FLOWERY THEFT.—A negro named Albert Hill was brought before the Freedmen's Court yesterday, for stealing a sack of flour, from the mill of Maj. Warren, where he was employed, and fined ten dollars for the offense.

A CHARITABLE ACT.—We learn that the workmen engaged at Cubbins & Gunn's Foundry yesterday presented the Catholic Orphan Asylum with a purse of one hundred and two dollars. This is a praiseworthy act, and well bestowed.

RECORDERS COURT.—Only four small drunks were up before ye Recorder yesterday, for which the city was enriched by the sum of twenty-four dollars. During the week there has been only seventy-five cases tried, and three hundred and twenty-seven dollars assessed as fines. A terrible falling off in the immorality of the city.

THE FOURTH WARD MEETING.—Pursuant to public notice, the Conservatives of the Fourth Ward met last night at the Brilliant Saloon. Mr. D. C. McDougal was called to the chair, and J. S. Drake appointed Secretary. After the transaction of some business, the following gentlemen were elected delegates to the County Convention, to be held on the seventeenth inst.: C. S. Cameron, Dr. R. C. Malone, Dr. R. F. Boyd, S. B. Williamson, J. S. Drake, and D. C. McDougal. On motion it was resolved that the delegation be empowered to fill vacancies.

THROUGH TO HUMBOLDT.—We are rejoiced to learn that the track of the Memphis and Ohio Railroad has been completed to Humboldt, and regular passenger trains will be put upon the road during the present week, which will put us within fifteen hours travel of Cairo, and besides open up a section of country from which we have heretofore been cut off, and bring the products of that rich country to our market, instead of allowing it to find its way to St. Louis, and other markets. The work of putting the road through to Clarksville, and thus putting us in direct communication with Louisville, will be pushed forward with vigor, and the contract for building the bridge at Clarksville has already been let, and by the first of May it is expected that the whole road will be in running order.

A TOUCHING SCENE.—Our readers may remember an old lady by the name of Catherine Brady, of whom we spoke in a recent article on the City Hospital, as having, at the advanced age of five score years, outlived all her friends, and gone there to die, and also a bright eyed little girl whose mother, a poor woman, was likewise a patient there. During the hot summer months the old lady and little girl lay side by side upon their cots, the little girl leaning upon hers with a burning fever, and for many days her life was despaired of, but through the kind nursing of the good Sisters of the Holy Cross, she was at last pronounced convalescent. In the meantime a strong friendship or love had sprung up between the child and her, and after the recovery of the former, she would remain for hours beside the cot of the old lady, and allow none to hand a glass of water or administer to "Granny," but herself, and thus for weeks and months this continued, but on Saturday night the child, whose name was Mary Ellen Brawn, was seized with a violent attack of the croup, and after a brief fight of suffering died yesterday. Shortly after it was known throughout the ward, another little girl was sent with some medicine, by one of the Sisters to the old lady, but she refused to take it back exclaiming "Granny has died!" At the request of one of the sisters we visited last night the ward where they were both lying, and found the old lady nicely dressed in a brown merino dress, with a white apron on, the hands of which surrounded a face that looked as though she had rejoiced in dying, and clasped in her hands upon her breast was a small crucifix, and by her side, robed in simple white with a blue sash around the waist and her chalk white locks carefully brushed carefully back, from a brow as white as marble, and long dark lashes shutting out forever the large brown eyes that had looked so inquiringly into ours a few short days ago, lay the little girl, with the emblem of immortality upon her breast, whilst at her head sat the poor bereaved mother, and grouped around stood the Good Sisters, who had done all in their power for those whose bodies were lying there, and after all their efforts had failed, had now arrayed them for the cold chamber of death. It was a scene that we will long remember, as well as the recollection of this strange attachment which this old lady and child had formed for each other, shut out from the great world outside, and there, within the walls of a charity hospital, they had known each other first, and only then to develop that feeling which pervades the hearts of all. Living, they loved,

"And in their death, were not divided."

Boon & Saffarans.—If we have failed heretofore to direct attention to the card of this firm, it is not because we do not know them to be entitled to the warmest support of our people. We make amends now, by asking our readers to refer to it on our first page. Both gentlemen are old citizens, tried and true.

A Card.—Messrs. Eds: As the office of County Court Clerk is one of great importance to the interests of our citizens, at the suggestion of several friends, I beg leave to call on R. A. Sanford, Esq., to run for that office. As one of the original Union men, as a courteous gentleman, and as a talented young lawyer, his qualifications are such as make the selection as good as can be made by all who are interested in having an important office well filled. CITIZEN.

Ladies' Hair Dressing Saloon.—The favorite establishment of Madame Lavigne, on Main street, between Union and Gayoso, opposite the Pivoine Block, is in full blaze of prosperity. Her ornaments of hair, in variety, grace and elegance, are unsurpassed. The most elaborate belief locks finish unless Madame Lavigne touches it.

Epicures.—All who are fond of good living and desire to get fresh game, such as Prairie Chicken, Quail, Squirrel, Opossum, Turkey and Venison, should always go to 41 Jefferson street, and inquire for Vick. He can serve you to a fine Loin, Ham or Saddle of Venison that would make the greatest epicure smack his lips and rub his hands, in contemplation of seeing it finely cooked and placed on the table of some of our Restaurants or Hotels. Call and see him. We know of what we speak, for we have often eaten Game from 41. Fuchs is the only practical game keeper in the city.

Speeht's.—This was a great and a good idea of Joseph Specht—opening a refreshment room for ladies, exclusively. The blessings of many a dance, wearied with shopping, and with an appetite for lunch, are showered upon his head for this thoughtful provision for ladies' comfort. Lady visitors from the country rise up and call him blessed, since through his foresight they may spend the day in town without starving, or being put to the trouble and expense of going to a hotel. Great is Specht, the ladies' friend.

A Fact.—It is well known that little dependence is to be placed in parties continually advertising to sell at cost. But when such a well known house as Elson Bros., 267 Main street, inform the public that they propose to sell out their present stock at a reduction of fully 25 per cent from former prices, we consider it our duty, as a public journalist, to inform our readers generally that Mess s. Elsons' are gentlemen, well known in this city, and really mean what they say, and our advice to parties wishing to purchase anything in the Dry Goods line, is to visit Elson Bros. before purchasing elsewhere, as we are assured that they will convince them of the truth of the above remarks.

Reasons why you should insure your life in the St. Louis Mutual: Because it has complied with the laws of Tennessee, and deposited $20,000 for the security of its policy holders in this State; because it is a Mutual Company; because its affairs are managed by men who are well known throughout this part of the country; because, by insuring with them you enjoy all the benefits and advantages which any company offer, and the addition and advantage of keeping the money at home, instead of sending it to swell the coffers of the monied aristocracy of the East; because, while its rates are as low as any safe company, the very fact of its getting eight and ten per cent. interest on its funds, while Eastern companies get, at the most, but six or seven, it follows, as a natural sequence, that its dividends to policy holders must soon be larger than those of Eastern companies. Barbour & Otts will be happy to explain its plans of insuring; to say who may call upon them, at 42 Madison street.

A Remarkable Exhibition Coming.—The great exhibition known as the "Mammoth Tableaux of Paradise Lost," from London, England, which has been exhibited during the past year in various cities of the East and West, will visit Memphis on Wednesday evening next. It will be here but a short time, and will then be removed to New Orleans, where arrangements have already been made for a lengthened stay. We copy the following description from the London Times:

This great work of art was gotten up in London, England, at the expense of $60,000, and is a complete illustration of John Milton's immortal poem, entitled "Paradise Lost," and carrying out the idea of Dante, it takes and carries one, through the creation of Satan, the war of the angels, the fall of Satan, and the fall of man. It was first exhibited in London for two hundred and sixty consecutive nights, and was during that time visited by more than half a million people, including royalty, nobility, the gentry and clergy. By command of Queen Victoria it was set up in the hall of Buckingham Palace, where it was exhibited before her and the entire court.

The exhibition will take place at Greenlaw Opera House.

An Informal Meeting of the Bar of Memphis was held on the 9th inst., for the purpose of organizing a Library and Bar Association. Messrs. Pike, J. B. Heiskell, C. Kortrecht and L. V. Dunn, were appointed a committee for drafting articles of permanent organization, and presenting a charter thereto. H. G. Smith was elected President of the Association, Henry Craft, Vice President; J. W. Scales, Secretary and L. V. DUNN, Treasurer. It was resolved that membership shall be by individuals, and not by firms; that each member shall pay $50 initiation fee, and $25 annually thereafter; that the payment of $500 shall constitute a life membership; and that the fees for membership may be paid in money, or in such books as may be needed by the Association. Geo. Pike and Chalmers, and Messrs. Foute, Kortrecht and Heiskell were appointed a committee for the purchase of books. Messrs. D. C. Loewenstine, Geo. E. Stadd, S. Ogden, and others—Gentlemen: Your kind note of February 9th, was duly handed to me. Although having tired some months since from the Billiard Arena, in consequence thereof feeling myself out of practice, I felt no desire to enter the forthcoming tournament, but willing to gratify your wishes, I will comply with your urgent request, assuring you that I shall do my humble mite under the circumstances.

I remain, gents, yours,

Steamboat Statistics.—Messrs. Kehu & Co. of which famous firm Andy Kriel is the executive man, deal in Beef, Mutton, Pork, Fresh Milk, Fresh Bread, and Clear Lake Ice. Supply families, hotels and steamboats with every thing in their line, and their line includes the entire range of the pantry, rich and fancy, tough and cheap! Though the tough and cheap of Andy Kriel is mighty tender and very cheap, his place on Howard's Row, fronting the river, is the most reliable house in the country for Beef, Mutton, Pork, Fish, Milk, Fresh Bread, and Clear Lake Ice. Kriel's tough is tender.

FINANCIAL.

The Money market closed dull and flat yesterday again, having lost all the vitality that characterized the opening of the present week. The unfavorable tenor of the Liverpool Cotton market, that continues to arrive, has had a depressing effect upon the Money market here, which almost universally follows the fluctuations of the Cotton market, and at present there is very little prospect of any activity in Financial circles for some time to come.

Exchange was very dull yesterday, there being a great falling off in the demand, but the market closed firm at former rates, viz: ¼ premium on New York Sight Drafts, while the rates for New Orleans Sight Bills remain unchanged.

Gold and Silver.

Nothing doing in this market whereon to base quotations, and consequently we continue to quote Gold, as buying, at 37 and 38, and selling at 40. Silver, 35 buying, and 36 selling.

Currency.

Remains easy and quiet, with but little demand, but still the Bankers continue to evince no disposition to accommodate Paper for outside parties.

Government Stocks.

Remain quiet and in but little demand, and are principally used by the Bankers as other parties can easily make more Money out of their investments. We continue to quote 7-30s with interest as buying at 98, and selling at 99 and par.

Uncurrent Funds.

This market was slow and quiet, with but little inquiry for the Notes of Southern Banks, but closed firm at our former quotations.

Other Markets.

The St. Louis Republican, of the 8th, says:

Gold is very weak in this market, and we may reasonably look for lower prices. Government has not been a seller for some time, and cash Gold is very scarce in consequence. The opening price in New York was 1[illegible] advancing to 1[illegible], and closing at that place and here just 38@38½ premium, and sold at 39½@40½ premium.

New York Exchange remains steady at 1-16 per cent. discount buying and par selling.

Union Military Bonds are quiet. The issues of 1863 are bought at 82½ and sold at 83½.

Seven-thirties are still the rules are unchanged, 98½ buying and 99 selling, interest going on. Old Five-twenties are scarce, and in active demand, at 102½ buying, and 103½ selling.

Government Vouchers can be sold at 2 per cent. discount for large, and 3@5 per cent discount for small.

Compound Interest notes have advanced again.

The Chicago Tribune of Tuesday says:

The demand for Money to-day at the various Discount houses was less active than yesterday, and the rates of interest ruled somewhat easier. Still, the supply was by no means easy—the pressure being very less severe. Some of the Bankers, having received heavy supplies of Currency from New York and Cincinnati, accommodate their customers quite freely, while others make a close discrimination of names.

The rate of Discount at the Banks is steady at 10 per cent. per annum; but street rates are firm at 12@15 per cent. per month.

Owing to the increased supply of Currency, there is a better demand for Eastern Exchange, and the market is firm at 50@½ discount buying, and par selling. Round lots were in good demand, and were firm at ¼@½ discount, but few were willing to sell below par.

Market weak and quiet, with little disposition to operate, Exchange being at a discount of ¼@1¼.

New sales of Seven-thirties and Compound notes.

The Cincinnati Commercial, of Thursday, says:

Gold changed hat little in New York, after the fluctuations of the day, from the position it opened at, and the rates for foreign currency remain about as last given—the only change being that sales are made by some at ½c less. The estimate is light and nearly confined to persons who are buying goods in bond in New York, and who have Sterling bills. The movement in Gold and Foreign Exchange in New York is now decidedly eccentric—the former appearing to be very active, and sold at 1 per cent. above the par of the latter.

Exchange was found to be in good request to-day and rates a little more firmly maintained at par to ¼ discount per thousand selling.

The demand for Money was fair to-day, at some of the Bankers, better than for several days past. It is thought, however, that the market works easier, and confirmatory of this is the increased inflation on the part of outsiders to invest in Government Securities. It is conjectured, too, that the reduction of the rate of interest allowed by the Government on the deposits in the Sub-Treasury is causing a diversion from that quarter to investments in Securities, and that to this fact is attributable the increased demand for Seven-thirty Notes and Ten-forty Bonds particularly. This can scarcely be determined by the accounts of the Sub-Treasury until a longer time for comparing the average of the business under the new and old rates is had, but it is reasonable to infer that the facts would be as conjectured.

The calls for Seven-thirties are in excess of the receipts of Bankers, causing business to be done on very narrow margins. To-day, they were bought at 99@99½c for the current series, and sold 5c. above these figures.

The calls for Five-twenty Bonds of the new issue are in excess of the offerings, to bankers, and rates are well maintained at 102½@c premium buying, and ¼c premium selling. The old dates are a little heavy at 2½c. premium buying, and ¼c. premium selling.

Ten-forties are firm at 5c. buying. They command 99½c of outsiders, but they are kept off the market, in a growing confidence of better rates.

Certificates of Indebtedness were bought by Bankers, to-day, at 99½c.

Important Notice.

The following notice is the National banks has been issued from the Treasury Department at Washington:

It has been represented to this office that a number of National Banks, located in the cities where Clearing Houses are in operation, have estimated deposits subject to duty from the Clearing House exchanges at the Clearing House, and not from the balances at the close of the day, as required by the regulations.

As the former method cannot be accepted as
