MEMPHIS APPEAL.

GONE TO SEA.

She sat by the kitchen alone,
Feat twirling the thread and the reel,
And she sang in a faint, low tone
Her song by the old linen wheel.
The sun slanted through on her hair,
Where time had drifted the snow
Over the wrinkles ploughed up by his share,
And her tone was tender and low,
"Gone to sea—gone to sea!"
"Whirr, whirr, whirr went the wheel,
"He'll never come back to me!"
Whirr, whirr, whirr went the wheel.

She sat by the half-open door,
As the sailors hallooed on the street,
As they came from the ships on the shore,
Alert for remembered feet.
Till her eyes grew tired and gray—
And the days were long, were long,
And the years went dragging away
As she swooned her snatches of song,
"Gone to sea, gone to sea!"
"Whirr, whirr, whirr went the wheel,
"He'll never come back to me!"
Whirr, whirr, whirr went the wheel.

The sea ran wild in the night,
The wind shook the crazy pane,
As the flared her flickering light
Far out in the driving rain,
And the winds in the chimney rung,
And the good ship came not back,
And the night wore on as she sung,
While the needle kept time with its clack—
"Gone to sea, gone to sea!"
Whirr, whirr, whirr went the wheel,
"He'll never come back to me!"
Whirr, whirr, whirr went the wheel.

The cottage grew mossy and old,
The shingles were rolling away,
The door-stones were yellow with mould,
The fences half down with decay,
And her gown was threadbare and thin—
She had waited so long, so long;
And her mind was crazed with the din
Of the treadle, the wheel and the song—
"Gone to sea, gone to sea!"
Whirr, whirr, whirr went the wheel,
"He'll never come back to me!"
Whirr, whirr, whirr went the wheel.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, February 16.

Proposed Changes in Taxation.

The Committee on Ways and Means have appointed the following sub-committee on the tax on distilled spirits: Messrs. Hooper, of Massachusetts; Allison, of Iowa, and Wentworth, of Illinois. These gentlemen are engaged daily, considering the whisky tax, and hope to report to the Committee on it in about a week.

The following is the sub-committee on the cotton tax: Messrs. Garfield, Morehead and Hooper.

On the income tax: Messrs. Conklin, Hooper and Hogan.

Insomuch as the Constitution prohibits an export duty, it is proposed to levy a tax of five per cent. on all cotton manufactured in the United States, with a drawback of three per cent. when it is reported.

Military Committee.

The House Military Committee had up the bill to-day renewing the grade of General in the army, but came to no conclusion. The Committee will report a joint resolution relative to brevet ranks, requiring the special act of merit to be named for which a brevet appointment is made. They are opposed to the indiscriminate manner in which they have been made.

Navy Appropriation.

The Senate Finance Committee, at the request of the Secretary of the Navy, will restore many of the appropriations which were stricken out of the Naval Bill in the House. It is believed to be almost impossible to go on with the naval establishment with the appropriations limited as the House proposes. It has proved to be economy in the wrong direction.

Pollard Mystified.

Pollard, of the Richmond Examiner, called on Gen. Grant to-day, to know why his paper was suppressed. He was told that if he did not know no one could tell him. He was invited to return to Richmond and communicate his views and requests in writing. Pollard has failed to see the President.

Favorable Reports from South Carolina.

Gen. Howard has received letters from Gen. Wm. P. Richardson, commanding the District of Eastern South Carolina, and from a resident of that District, which give an unusually favorable account of the improvement in the relations between the whites and blacks of that section. Gen. Richardson says all the freedmen are employed for the present year, and the planters unhesitatingly confess that they are working much better than when they were slaves. The planters are showing their confidence in the freedmen by planting as largely as their capital and lands will permit. The demand for hands is great. One gentleman, at Society Hill, offers from sixty-two and a half cents to a dollar per day, besides a share in the crop. Another gentleman says he would not be willing to return to the old system of slavery, as his profits are now larger, and he has much less trouble with the hands on the plantation.

Joint Army and Navy Board.

The following officers have been detailed as members of a Joint Board of Army and Navy Officers, to consider and report upon the subject of harbor defenses: Brigadier-General Totten, Brig. Gen. J. G. Barnard; B.S. Alexander and G. A. Gilmore on the part of the army, and Admirals Charles L. Davis, John A. Dahlgren and Capt. James Alden on the part of the navy. The Board will assemble at the Navy Department on the first of March next.

A Blight on Southern Claims for Compensation.

It is understood that the Congressional Committee on Claims take the broad ground, that, as it has never been the practice of governments to make compensation for the ravages of war, even when committed by their own armies on their own soil, the question of compensation to sufferers in a hostile region cannot be entertained. This will blight the hopes of a large number of claimants at the South, many of whom have already placed their papers before Congress.

Summer Indorsed by the Colored Congress

The delegates who compose the Colored Congress, now in session in this city, have addressed a letter to Mr. Sumner, endorsing his speech, and declaring that it embodies the first and complete wish of the colored men. They also say: "Having looked to you as among the foremost in the cause of justice and liberty during the darkest days of that cause, we now rejoice to hail you as holding your place among the giants that have since espoused it."

A Splendid Flag from Lyons.

The State Department has received, through our Consul at Lyons, France, a magnificent American flag and staff, presented by the workingmen of Lyons to the Government of the United States, as a testimony of their great respect for the late President Abraham Lincoln. This flag is a fine work of art. It was manufactured by a society of weavers.

Military Change.

Maj.-Gen. George G. Meade, in orders issued February twelfth, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, announces Brevet Maj.-Gen. Seth Williams, as Assistant Adjutant General of the Military Division of the Atlantic, to relieve Brevet Brig.-Gen. George D. Ruggles, who was ordered to report to Maj.-Gen. Hooker, as Assistant Adjutant General of the Department of the East.

General Robert E. Lee Summoned Before the Reconstruction Committee.

A few weeks ago the Joint Committee on Reconstruction decided to summon R. E. Lee before them. The Assistant Sergeant-at-arms of the Senate was accordingly dispatched to Lexington, Virginia, where a summons was served upon him, in obedience to which he arrived in this city to-night, and is stopping at the Metropolitan Hotel. He will probably be examined before the Committee to-morrow. He appears much changed in appearance, to those who saw him in Washington several years ago.

General Terry Subpœnaed.

Maj.-Gen. Terry will arrive here from Richmond to-morrow, in answer to a subpœna to appear and testify before the Reconstruction Committee on affairs in Virginia.

Confirmations.

Luther Haven was to-day confirmed by the Senate Collector for the port of Chicago, P. Wright Postmaster at Springfield, Ills., and Judge Wood Postmaster at Columbus, Ohio.

A Well Grounded Suspicion.

There seems to be a general suspicion in Congressional circles that a good deal of the Mexican news sent from Washington is manufactured in the Liberal interest.

Important Case Opened in the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court heard, to-day, the opening of a very important case, a test one, involving very closely the relations of States to the General Government on matters of revenue.

It appears that, in Massachusetts, the State laws prohibit the sale of liquor, and, of course, refuse a license therefor. Licenses are obtained, however, under the U. S. Internal Revenue law, and parties proceed to sell under them. Several hundred persons have, therefore, been arrested and fined, and in some cases imprisoned by the State authorities. The test case does not come up on an appeal, but reaches the Supreme Court, under an old law passed twenty-five years ago, to meet a case in which South Carolina was interested.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.—WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.

The Senate was very lively to-day, owing to the frequent personalities between Mr. Hendricks and other Senators. Mr. Hendricks' speech was very able, and attracted great attention. His allusion to Mr. Chandler's bloodletting letter drew a very excited speech from the Michigan Senator, in which he said that Mr. Hendricks would go down to infamy with the Democratic party. This would have drawn Mr. Hendricks from his seat, but for a motion of adjournment, which was made for the sake of peace.

The Senate passed the bill to give artisans, wounded or killed in the service, the benefit of the pension laws; also the bill to allow appeal from the court of claims of the Supreme Court.

House.—WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.

The House was engaged all day on the Sixteenth Congressional Pennsylvania District contested election case. No decision was reached, after a protracted debate.

GOLD GIFT SALE,

22 1-2 Jefferson Street,

Near Main,

OF WHICH the Bard, a casual visitant and a man of taste, thus poetically narrates:
I read somewhere, when I was young,
Of an eccentric German,
Who gave to every man he met,
Whose Christian name was Herman,
A fortune or a start in life;
I guess the tale is fable,
But—such things are as probable
As the Atlantic cable.
For here in Memphis we do see,
By paying but a pittance,
A fortune given to every man
Who can but gain admittance
To RAPP & TRACEY'S Great Gift Sale,
Which is above the corner
Of Main, on Jefferson. Go there;
For luck you'll be no mourner.

Why ramble earth in search of gold,
Or dream of tales romantic,
Told to some dusty, olden tome,
How men, in mind half frantic,
Delved deep into the bowels of earth,
And strew therefrom the uncuts—
Not slowly, faintly, one by one,
But, honestly, by bushels?
When here (mark—22½
On Jefferson street), the place, I ween,
Can get a fortune every day
From Messrs. RAPP & TRACEY.

For fear you don't believe this tale,
And think it idle I'm handy,
I'll sit me down and tell to you
The same in ground
Are you a hero-worshipper?
Have you an adoration
For men far-famed for intellect—
The good men of the nation?
Invest, then, fifty cents, and buy
A photograph of Rodi,
Of Lee, Grant, Johnston, and you'll draw
Queen Cleopatra's jewel.
(Or something worth as much, at least,)
An album, chain or locket.
Do this, and here I swear you will
Put money in your pocket.
And mark this fact: That all their gifts
Are like the Rose of Sharon—
The best; and of their jewelry—well,
The sacred calf of Aaron
Was not composed of purer gold
Than is in every present.
Which would, I vow, befit the home
Of peer as well as peasant.

TRADE MARK

OUR NEW SKIRT

FOR 1866.

THOMSON'S

FRENCH ELASTIC SPRING,

The Greatest Discovery

Of the age, and the latest invention of the largest manufacturers of Crinoline in the World. The

CROWN SKIRTS

Have a reputation which is peerless for style as well as intrinsic merit. During the past year these skirts have been adopted throughout this country by all the leading Dry Goods Houses.

"Each day's standing will add to the W S upon the band. None are genuine without it."

Like the ringing reverberations of the sweet notes of an Alpine horn resounds the musical name throughout our land. Though its age is counted as yet by weeks only, yet already the Islands have caught the sound, and from the Queen of the Antilles it is hailed with delight, and hither and further on towards the Southern Hemisphere the echo comes calling for

BOULEVARD

BOULEVARD.

Ladies of America! It is a talisman! Its train is pronounced peerless! Its trade mark is royal crown! No new style of Crinoline was ever welcomed like

BOULEVARD.

From the gay and beautiful Capitol of the world's fashions, from Paris, comes to the ladies of the Mellieur monde in America. Never before was a guest from over the sea thus received, for the debut of this elegant comer is not only a success unlooked for, but the highest compliment to its inventor.

Ladies will find these new trails for 1866 at
