ELECTION FOR COUNTY OFFICERS.—The election for various county officers, to-day, passed off very quietly—only six or seven fights reported, and none of them more serious in result than causing pecuniary loss to the combatants, and a correspondent benefit to the city treasury.

YESTERDAY.—When we paid our usual visit to the station house, last night, there were twenty-three arrivals reported, nine of whom had grown belligerent at the polls, and the number of the others had imbibed too much with their favorite candidates; but, taking everything into consideration, yesterday was remarkably quiet.

The object of the Board is to supply the destitute of the South with the word of life. In demands at this time are most pressing consequent on the overturn of war. In a recent visit to Kentucky, thousands of anxious listeners waited on his ministrations, giving heed to his eloquent appeals on behalf of our suffering Southern brethren. THE RIGHT WAY TO KEEP THE SABBATH.—The Creator of all things, author of immortal, of the universe, has told his creature, man, that the seventh day must be kept holy, and physical and chemistry has confirmed the humane wisdom and compassion of this provision, as a necessary and proper relaxation from the cares and anxieties of everyday life. The man who, six days out of every week, is wholly engrossed by worldly cares, has never succeeded sufficiently to the Altar of Mammon; and on the seventh, needs an entirely as a matter necessary to make it work readily and smoothly—an relaxation from the occupation which so constantly exercises the nobler part of his being. Doubtless it is, for many reasons—even apart from religious considerations—eminently proper to attend Divine service as often as we can; for in the House of God the mind is almost without our volition insensibly influenced by the surroundings of the place, and elevated to the consideration of a subject the most exalted and ennobling which our race can contemplate—our sires and being; and often, let us hope, some good is there imbibed which revives the pious instructions we received in childhood, and that is regenerated a nature, perhaps for years in danger of moral pain and eternal death. Some, who may read these lines, will no doubt say, "We have laid one day in the week for rest and recreation, and we are not willing to be confined to a church, even for an hour or two, of this brief holiday;" but we are almost sure such persons would more heartily enjoy the remaining hours by the consciousness of duty performed, and the privilege of having followed to the sacred mandate and divine prayer, in honor of the Almighty—our Father and our God. In conclusion, we would say to all, whether you go to church or stay at home, banish all thought of business from your minds, and let the holy Sabbath be in truth a day of rest.

This will be a great accommodation to our merchants as they can send their freight to this wharfboat at their leisure, and get their bills signed without all the hurry and bustle experienced in our landing. This wharfboat is a public one, and free for all steamboats to land against, and large enough to accommodate four boats at a time, and located at a place where steamboats hereafter seldom or never compelled when loading or discharging freight, thereby giving our landing ample accommodation, which was very much needed. This will be an convenient to our landing, a great public convenience and accommodation to steamboatmen, as it should as well as packets can land at this foot block of Jefferson street, and find a place to discharge their freight without rolling it in the mud or leaving it exposed, and where they will always find careful persons to receive it. Messrs. Johnson & Wright deserve the patronage of the merchants and steamboatmen for the large outlay they have made to protect our commerce and accommodate our business. RIVER MATTERS.

Weather and Business.

A slow but steady rain fell yesterday, and once more the river is in such wretched condition that the only means of approach to it for pedestrians is to wade the gutters in preference to sticking in the mud.

Business, in consequence of the rain and mud, was very dull, and all the boats leaving, had light trips.

The river is still rising steadily at this point, and the steamers from White and Arkansas rivers report both of them in fine boating order.

Boats to Port.

Des Arc, Miller Cargo, Cotton.

Miscellaneous.

The Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Company have now in commission the following splendid array of boats: Bulls, Lady Gay, Mississippi, Mary E. Forsyth, Gen. W. H. Ashe, Mollie Able, Olive Branch, Continental, Edward Walsh, City of Memphis, J. C. Swan, Lena and Luminary. This is a large list of boats, placing the season ahead of any season for a footing as ever, though their losses have been very heavy.

The J. H. Groesbeck left Cincinnati on Thursday evening for New Orleans.

The Continental passed down yesterday with a very fine trip, including some 500 head of stock, and a cabin full of people. To her clever commander, Capt. Fowler, we are indebted for late papers.

The Alice Dean came in yesterday evening with a fine trip. She goes out to-morrow evening.

We have endeavored to keep our river friends fully posted in regard to the dates when and for that purpose have wandered about the house at unseasonable hours of the night, at the risk of being strangled by curiosity and smothered in the mud; in order to get the latest arrivals, but judge of our mortification when leaving door the unpalatable odours of some of our contemporaries yesterday to find several boats had arrived and departed without our knowledge. We can't stand it, we can't be so far behind, but about soon we were very much relieved to see these some boats coming to at the wharf, other having read their arrival and departure dated some twelve hours before.

There has been no many changes in the Memphis and Winchester, and Memphis and Vicksburg line since our last report, that it is very difficult to get at the matter. The core of the Des Arc has been with the exception of John Finney, the clerk, transferred to the Harry Dean, and the crew of the Des Arc to the Dennis, except Jno. Fenwick, the clerk, and this of the Centralia, to the Des Arc, Charlie Cole, formerly Commodore of the White river line, taking the office of the Harry Dean, and, as it will be seen, it is very difficult to tell where any of our old friends belong now. Tom Berry, in speaking of the changes, says several of the crew evening found their cabin boxes on the wharf, and on inquiry they were informed that they belonged to the Des Arc takes the place of the Ike Vernon in the Vicksburg trade, the Vernon laying by for repairs, and Mose Robinson takes the Dean into the White river trade.

The old genteel Vindicator, now the New Orleans, passed down last evening with two heavily laden barges in tow.

The Platte Valley passed down yesterday for Vicksburg with a fair trip.

The Magnolia will be in the wharf this morning, and leave for New Orleans at 10 o'clock, with Capt. Leatherman on the roof.

The Rivers Below.

LOUISVILLE.—The river has again commenced falling instead of falling, as has been anticipated, with 14 feet 6 inches water in the canal and falling by the mark. During the previous twenty-four hours it had risen 12 inches at the foot of the falls, and nearly three feet at Portland. The weather has turned even warmer than Tuesday, and cloudy, the thermometer ranging at 40 to 50.

On the falls, last evening, there were fully 8 feet on small water down either chute, and a good deal of water for navigating boats in the falls chute, and the fair navigation will be enjoyed by all classes of steamers.

Regarding disputes in the Board of Trade, at noon, yesterday, we learn that the river at Pittsburg was falling, with only a foot of water in the channel; weather clear and spring like; the Allegheny packets had resumed their trips, and the Keystone, of Pittsburg, was due at Louisville on the 3d, ready to depart in the evening.

The Cumberland was falling, with only 2 feet 6 inches in the 8 feet water on Harpeth shoals. The Mercury had arrived at Nashville from this port, and the New York arrived at Clarksville, Cheatham, Ind.

CINCINNATI.—The weather still continues to be very pleasant, with the thermometer at 40 degrees zero at two o'clock p.m., yesterday. The Ohio River has continued to fall since our last, the falls now ten inches in depth.

The Cumberland is 10 feet and more than 4 inches in the 8 feet running on Harpeth shoals yesterday morning, with full 3 feet water in the channel by the marks at the water works. During the remainder of the day it was swelling very slowly, and 4 feet 6 inches was the result. There was at 5 o'clock last evening scant 6 feet upon shoal the bright.

Business yesterday on the landing was active, and considerable amounts of freight were offered for New Orleans, Memphis, Nashville and but little for Wheeling, Pittsburg and points above.—Times, Star.

PITTSBURG.—The weather was cool, but rather pleasant. Our rivers are in fine navigable order. The Monongahela, Allegheny and Ohio to venture one until the Allegheny ice has disappeared, which is being accomplished, boats will resume their trips to Cincinnati. The coal trade will iron up, and the spring trade will open up soon.—Pittsburg Gazette, 3d.

Gleanings From Our Exchanges.

LOUISVILLE.—The four-foot Collier came in from Pittsburg on Saturday last, with a load of coal that was over brought from that place. She has 10,000 buckets for Mr. Brown, of Mount Vernon.

The trips of barefoot, bath for R. K. Dunkerson & Co., of this city, to Pittsburg, on the 3d of the left—we ultimate said, is to be launched Saturday, at the barge of barefoot tree connection for the Louisville, Cincinnati, Cincinnati.

In the Common Pleas Court yesterday a verdict for $1,000 damages was entered against the owner of the Ariel, in favor of Mr. Fulton & Co., of this city, for alleged damages on a lot of hay. The hay was in the mouth of Salt river on freight for the Ruth, but from the boat being the old hay bale it, hence the suit.—Journal, Courier, 1st.

TOW-BOAT ACCIDENT.—As the tow-boat Robert Fulton was preparing to take a number of barges in tow, near the Indiana shore, a little on the Shippingport side of the river, one of her boilers exploded, or rather one side of the tow-boat boiler gave way, and passed upward, doing slight damage to the cabin and office. Capt. Gilbert Hughes, the pilot, was in the pilot house. One of the firemen was on watch, and was the only person who received any injury, he having very slight. We did not learn the extent of the damage.—Courier, 1st.

COMMERCIAL.

Weekly Review.

COTTON.—During the past week the Cotton market has been depressed. There was a gleam of brightness in the Moravian's news of ¾ of a penny advance in Liverpool, but New York is so weak that a similar advance in the day after for it was no more—things of which cause by the Cuba—sufficed to entirely extinguish the 3d advance. We have now entered on another month; the season is advancing; we have 2208 bales of Cotton received at this weight at present prices; it becomes necessary that we should look where we stand, and consider whether we may still hold on, or whether it is best to sell as the market goes. It is not for us to advise, we can only state the facts; time; the reader must draw his own conclusions. The present season opened with a belief that much less Cotton was to the country than has since proved to be the case, and that consequently, cotton would advance in price as the season progressed. This belief was strengthened when it was seen, week after week, that Cotton became higher, until Middling, which on the 1st of September was sold in Memphis at 26 cents a pound, was, on the 27th day of October, selling for 36 cents a pound. High expectations began to be entertained, and prophecies that cotton would rise to 40 cents, and even a dollar a pound by New Year's day, were heard at every street corner. If the advance of cotton is the key to the policy that has reigned in our market up to this time—when the first inquiries, although agreed, it may be our duty to trace its rise and fall. On the 1st of Sept. tember, cotton was 26 cents (cash) for Middling; by the end of the month it had got up to 29 cents. The last week in October opened cotton at 30 cents, then came the era of "hoarding and speculation," the shortening period, when holders said they would listen to "no figure with a forty in it." On the 31st of October Middling sold at 35½; then came news of a "greatly excited Cotton market in New York, foreign and figure of a "Cotton panic" in England," and the next day (October 32d) Middling sold in Memphis at 36 cents. We will pursue this "golden era" of the Cotton market, day by day, until the desperate "forty" is reached again, giving the price of Middling in this market each day: Oct. 30th, 35½; 31st, 36; Nov. 1st, 36; 2d, 37; 3d, 37; 4th, 37; 5th, 37½; 6th, 37½; 7th, 37½; 8th, 37½; 9th, 37½; 10th, 37½; 11th, 37½; 12th, 37½; 13th, 37½; 14th, 37½; 15th, 37½; 16th, 37½; 17th, 37½; 18th, 37½; 19th, 37½; 20th, 37½; 21st, 37½; 22d, 37½; 23d, 37½; 24th, 37½; 25th, 37½; 26th, 37½; 27th, 37½; 28th, 37½; 29th, 37½; 30th, 37½; 31st, 37½; Dec. 1st, 37½; 2d, 37½; 3d, 37½; 4th, 37½; 5th, 37½; 6th, 37½; 7th, 37½; 8th, 37½; 9th, 37½; 10th, 37½; 11th, 37½; 12th, 37½; 13th, 37½; 14th, 37½; 15th, 37½; 16th, 37½; 17th, 37½; 18th, 37½; 19th, 37½; 20th, 37½; 21st, 37½; 22d, 37½; 23d, 37½; 24th, 37½; 25th, 37½; 26th, 37½; 27th, 37½; 28th, 37½; 29th, 37½; 30th, 37½; 31st, 37½; Jan. 1st, 37½; 2d, 37½; 3d, 37½; 4th, 37½; 5th, 37½; 6th, 37½; 7th, 37½; 8th, 37½; 9th, 37½; 10th, 37½; 11th, 37½; 12th, 37½; 13th, 37½; 14th, 37½; 15th, 37½; 16th, 37½; 17th, 37½; 18th, 37½; 19th, 37½; 20th, 37½; 21st, 37½; 22d, 37½; 23d, 37½; 24th, 37½; 25th, 37½; 26th, 37½; 27th, 37½; 28th, 37½; 29th, 37½; 30th, 37½; 31st, 37½; Feb. 1st, 37½; 2d, 37½; 3d, 37½; 4th, 37½; 5th, 37½; 6th, 37½; 7th, 37½; 8th, 37½; 9th, 37½; 10th, 37½; 11th, 37½; 12th, 37½; 13th, 37½; 14th, 37½; 15th, 37½; 16th, 37½; 17th, 37½; 18th, 37½; 19th, 37½; 20th, 37½; 21st, 37½; 22d, 37½; 23d, 37½; 24th, 37½; 25th, 37½; 26th, 37½; 27th, 37½; 28th, 37½; 29th, 37½; 30th, 37½; 31st, 37½; March 1st, 37½; 2d, 37½; 3d, 37½; 4th, 37½; 5th, 37½; 6th, 37½; 7th, 37½; 8th, 37½; 9th, 37½; 10th, 37½; 11th, 37½; 12th, 37½; 13th, 37½; 14th, 37½; 15th, 37½; 16th, 37½; 17th, 37½; 18th, 37½; 19th, 37½; 20th, 37½; 21st, 37½; 22d, 37½; 23d, 37½; 24th, 37½; 25th, 37½; 26th, 37½; 27th, 37½; 28th, 37½; 29th, 37½; 30th, 37½; 31st, 37½; April 1st, 37½; 2d, 37½; 3d, 37½; 4th, 37½; 5th, 37½; 6th, 37½; 7th, 37½; 8th, 37½; 9th, 37½; 10th, 37½; 11th, 37½; 12th, 37½; 13th, 37½; 14th, 37½; 15th, 37½; 16th, 37½; 17th, 37½; 18th, 37½; 19th, 37½; 20th, 37½; 21st, 37½; 22d, 37½; 23d, 37½; 24th, 37½; 25th, 37½; 26th, 37½; 27th, 37½; 28th, 37½; 29th, 37½; 30th, 37½; 31st, 37½; Jan.
