MEMPHIS APPEAL.

WEDNESDAY, [illegible] APRIL 11, 1866.

Office—No. 13 Madison Street.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Mr. G. W. Trueheart is our authorized agent to extend the circulation of the APPEAL and receive subscription and advertising for the same in West Tennessee and North Mississippi. We bespeak in his behalf the kind attentions and courtesies of our patrons and friends, and hope they will render him any assistance in their power to promote the object of his mission.

PERSONAL.—Our young friend Jack Bowen of the Grenada Mother, dropped in upon us yesterday.

RECORDER'S COURT.—Twelve individuals appeared before His Honor, charged with violations of various municipal regulations, and were fined in the aggregate $61.

THANKS.—We are daily indebted to our friends of the Southern Express Company for favors, such as journalists know the appreciation of. Also, to Messrs. Emmons & Son for similar favors, including the New York, Cincinnati and Louisville papers of the latest dates.

CITY RAILROAD.—The work on this important city improvement, is progressing rapidly, and by this evening will probably reach the vicinity of Poplar street. The weather continues favorable and those having it in charge, are prosecuting the labor with commendable vigor.

TELEGRAPH OFFICE.—Mr. W. H. Cody, the well known operator at Head Quarters of the Army of Tennessee, during the war, and formerly of the Memphis office, has taken charge of the office here as manager. To see him and Col. Coleman back again at their posts, reminds us of old times.

TELEGRAMS.—The following telegrams remain uncalled for in the office: M. F. Stiles, Thos. Hollis, R. Hampshire, J. M. Tomeney, Geo. W. Pratt, Henry Carnahan, Dr. S. H. Brown, D.C. Hutchinson, Hiram A. Paiter, Dennis Stone, T. H. Waters, E. B. Roberts, A. Anderson, J. H. Polk, and J. D. Bondurant.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT.—Squire J. C. Creighton, presiding yesterday, the State cases were limited to a peace warrant granted at the suit of a wife against the turbulent partner of her bosom; and the arrest of a negro named David Dumbridge, who stole a calico dress and other articles of clothing from Simon Levy. The negro will have a hearing to-day.

SISTERS' FAIR.—To night is the last of the very pleasant series of entertainments given by the devout Sisterhood, at their Academy on Third, between Poplar and Washington streets, and to all who have not attended on previous occasions, we say, go by all means, if you desire to forward a deserving object, and have, at a slight expense, a delightful evening. Those who have already been, require no advice from us to insure a repetition of the visit.

POLICE ARRESTS YESTERDAY.—Lincoln's and Annie, two negro women, were arrested by officer Galvin for stealing. Pat Rose and Joseph Kelly, for drunkenness, by officers Cameron and Birmingham, and J. Bradshaw and Alexander Rogers, for carrying concealed weapons, by officers Lee and Birmingham. J. H. Hawkins, by officer Rope, charged with attempting to pass counterfeit money, but from the facts related to us, we incline to the opinion it was through ignorance rather than a criminal intention.

COLORED CRIMINALS.—Yesterday we saw at Castle Reilly sixteen hearty looking negro men, most of whom are in the prime and vigor of manhood—chained together in one gang—for stealing or other crimes, in which the State becomes the prosecutor. We were further informed the city prison contains at this time no fewer than one hundred and twenty colored persons confined for offenses against the rights of persons and property, and the majority of whom, must on conviction, be sent to the penitentiary for terms varying from one to ten years. Considering the proportion of colored to the white population of the city, every thinking person must be forcibly impressed with the evidently greater proneness to crime manifested by the colored race, and may therefore well question the present propriety of giving to such a class any increase of civil privileges, when it is self evident so many are inclined to abuse those already conferred.

PAVING THE CITY.—As will be remembered, at the last meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, the long mooted question of a wooden or stone pavement, was again postponed until the next meeting of the Board, to enable the city fathers to ascertain the wishes of the majority of the owners of property on Main street, as to which kind they preferred to have laid. As we understood at the time, the advocates and opponents of each variety of pavement, were to present petitions from the property owners, signed by as many persons as each party could procure, in favor of, or against the Nicholson pavement, and from that data the wish of the majority would be apparent, and the action of the Board be influenced or controlled. If we did not misapprehend the intention (?) we think it high time the parties interested should be preparing to present the results of the inquiry to the Board, which assembles on next Tuesday night, the 16th inst., and at any rate we desire, and we are assured the mass of the people wish action in the premises, and a cessation of further fruitless discussion.

THEATER.—We are not sufficiently versed in Thespian ethics to discuss the professional propriety of such a course, but we confess our inability to appreciate the taste of heralding one's self in a studied pamphlet, or permitting a quasi-biography, by an anonymous letter writer, who displays a very superficial knowledge of his subject, to be vended in advance of a debut; yet, in this, as the sun rises in the East, it may be only our ignorance of the refulgent brilliancy of Boston gout—from which "the Athens of America" both actress and treat emanate—that disqualifies us for admiring the expedient. And saying so much, we abandon the history to recur to the heroin of which it treats. Miss Hosmer is a fine woman, with a physique commanding and attractive, a good natural voice, and no inconsiderable grace of carriage, but we have not yet been enabled to overcome our first impression of unnatural remence, both in voice and action, and other faults of conception, requiring careful study and greater attention to the rules of elocution, to be successfully surmounted. The creations of Shakespeare demand the highest order of histrionic talent, and should only be attempted by artistes of unquestionable excellence.

NEGRO TROOPS TO BE MUSTERED OUT. It will be seen by the orders published below, that four regiments of negro troops are to be mustered out of service of the Military Division of Tennessee:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF TENN., Memphis, Tenn., April 8th, 1866.

General Orders, No 71.

In accordance with the orders of the Major General Commanding the Military Division of the Tennessee, the following named regiments will be mustered out of service on the dates and points designated opposite the same: 16th U. S. C. Infantry, at Chattanooga; 17th U. S. C. Infantry, at Nashville; 111th U. S. C. Infantry, at Nashville; 3d U. S. C. H. Artillery, at Memphis. Brevet Col. A. L. Hough, C. C. M., Military Division of the Tennessee, will give such instructions to the A. C. Ms. in this Department as he may think necessary to facilitate the execution of this order.

All officers and enlisted men, excepting the members of the General Court Martial in session at Nashville, belonging to the above regiments, now absent from the same, will at once be relieved from the duties upon which they are now engaged, and will report to their proper commands for muster out of service.

All public stores will be turned in at the points at which those regiments are at present stationed, excepting the 111th U. S. C. Infantry, which will turn over all government property to the proper officers at the depot at Nashville.

By command of Major Gen. STONEMAN:
WM. L. PORTER, Asst. Adj't Gen'l.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.—United States Circuit and District Courts.—Loobey vs. Boscher. A receiver was appointed in this case.

Shapleigh vs. Sardam and Hough. In this case an order for a writ of possession was entered.

The Clerk was ordered to report the services of jurors.

Isaac M. Steele was sworn as a member of the bar of this Court.

The case of A. R. Herron, executor, vs. R. P. Runkle, was taken up and argued on one point not fully presented in the argument of Monday. The decision of the Court will be published to-morrow.

Common Law Court.—The calendar of cases set for yesterday were disposed of, none of the causes being of any general interest.

To-day is motion day.

Chancery Court.—An interesting case came up before Chancellor Smith, at Chambers one day last week, viz:

Emilie Vogel, minor, by her next friend Edward Herman, and E. Herman, in his own right, vs. Ernst Vogel. This case came up on a motion of the defendant, Ernst Vogel, to dissolve the injunction heretofore granted, restraining him from interfering with the property of his deceased wife, Theresa Vogel, and from exercising any control over his child, the complainant Emilie Vogel.

The bill, upon which the injunction was granted, sets up the facts that Ernst and Theresa Vogel were man and wife; that defendant abandoned his wife, and that she, after such abandonment, accumulated, with the assistance of her child, the complainant, about five or six thousand dollars worth of property while her husband, Ernst Vogel, was absent; that a short time since Theresa Vogel died, and that defendant was about to return and take possession of his child and property; that the defendant is dissolute, and not a suitable person to have the custody of the child, and shows further that one Edward Herman is a proper person for such custody; the bill having for its prayer a petition to the Court to bestow on said Herman the custody of Emilie Vogel, aged fifteen years, and the control of the property, from all of which the defendant to be restrained, which was granted.

The answer admits that the property was earned by the labor of Theresa Vogel, after the separation from her husband, Ernst Vogle, but denies that he abandoned his wife, and sets up that she quit his house and home, denying also that the defendant is dissolute. And upon this bill and answer the cause was heard. Messrs. Bullock & Stahl, and Cameron & Cook, for defendant upon his motion for dissolution of the injunction, and Messrs. Chalmers & Lee, and Brown, Looney & Tyler for complainant. The argument of the case occupied two days.

The decision of the Court was delivered on Friday last, in which it is ordered that the child remain in the custody of Edward Herman, while the property taken from his hands and placed in the hands of a receiver, to be a disinterested party, who will furnish the minor complainant, Emilie, with means of support and education until the final hearing of the cause.

This case has excited much interest among the German population of the city, the parties being well known and much sympathy felt for the welfare of the child Emilie.

Chancellor Smith will be in his office hereafter on Tuesdays and Fridays, at 10 o'clock a.m., to transact business of this Court at Chambers.

Criminal Court.—An important murder case occupied the time of this Court throughout yesterday.

The case came up on writ of habeas corpus, and was brought from Tipton county on a charge of venue.

The defendant, Wm. C. Harris, (who is a son of Judge Harris, of Tipton county, and was at the time acting as sheriff of said county), is charged with the murder of John D. H. Lauderdale, some time in March last, and upon the preliminary examination before the magistrate was declared guilty of "murder in the first degree, with mitigating circumstances!" and held to bail in the sum of $40,000; the bond was not given, but the defendant now applies to be released on reasonable bail.

Able counsel are employed on both sides, as follows: For the prosecution—Messrs. Haynes, Lewis and Sale, of Memphis, and Sandford and Smith, of Tipton county. For the defense—Messrs. Smith & Hill, Morrison and Parham, of Memphis, and Steele and Bates, of Tipton county.

RIVER MATTERS.

Weather and Business.

Yesterday was a lovely spring day, one of those that make vegetation grow so fast that you can almost see it growing.

Business was moderately brisk in miscellaneous freights, and all the boats leaving had good trips and full cabins.

The river at this point ceased falling yesterday morning, and since that time has been stationary, but will probably be rising this morning, from the rise coming out of the Missouri and Upper Mississippi.

We have no reports from the rivers below.

Arrivals.

Steamer Lizzie Gill, from St. Louis.
" Lea Chance, from St. Louis.

Boats in Port.

City of Cairo, Rockford, Memphis,
Golden, Natoma, Robert Burns,
Adam Jacobs, Natoma.

Miscellaneous.

The Adam Jacobs, of the "old reliable," is the St. Louis packet this evening.

The magnificent steamer Roth will be up this evening, and leave for Louisville at 5 o'clock. She is unsurpassed for speed, and her accommodations are superb.

The Natoma came in last evening loaded down. She will sell for Cincinnati to-morrow evening.

The M. S. Wepham is being repainted, repaired, and renovated generally, at St. Louis.

The following boats were advertised to leave St. Louis Monday evening: Henry Ames, for New Orleans, Little Rock, for Arkansas river, J. S. Morlane, for White river.

The elegant passenger packet City of Cairo is receiving a splendid trip, and will leave for New Orleans this evening. We hope our merchants will encourage this new line of steamers to New Orleans and assist in building up a daily line from this port to that city. He needs the business left, and the interests of our city will of course be very much enhanced thereby, and all that is needed to make it a daily, instead of a weekly line, is encouragement, which we sincerely trust will be given.

The reliable Commercial left for White creek with a good trip.

The Tennessee came in from Cairo last evening with a good trip as usual. She returns this evening.

The Boat Morning Star had a splendid passenger trip.

The Des Arc for Vicksburg, went out with her guards in the water, and full of people.

The favorite Arkansas river packet Memphis, leaves to-morrow. Jimmy Thompson is in the office.

The Centralia left for Rackinsack with a fair trip.

The Luminary will be up this morning, and leave for St. Louis at 10 o'clock a.m. She is A No. 1.

The high headed Robbie Burns leaves for Cincinnati this evening. We commend her and her jovial commander, Capt. Bowers, to all concerned.

The Indiana, after being detained at Cairo for four days, by breaking a wrist, passed down last night with a big trip of freight, but few passengers.

Business must have been pleasantly brisk yesterday, as we heard George Fillmore complaining of being tired last night.

The Mary E. Forsyth, P. W. Strader, and Prima Donna, were advertised to leave New Orleans on Monday evening, and the Magenta and Bart Able last evening.

The Rivers Above.

The St. Louis Republican of the 8th says:

The weather yesterday was a beautiful spring day.

Being Sunday, nothing in the way of business was done on the landing yesterday.

THE RIVER.—At this point the Mississippi is falling very slowly, with 11 feet in the channel and no Cairo. Our reports from upper streams are good. The Upper Mississippi is open, at least, to La Crosse, and probably to Prairie Landing, or the foot of Lake Pepin. At any rate the Northern Line steamers will attempt to reach the foot of the lake this week. Heavy rains have fallen during the last week in the northern and central portions of Illinois and all streams are full, with prospects of very high water in all navigable streams. In Wisconsin they are having the highest water known for years.

The Omaha Republican says:

The river seems to be at length clear of all kinds of ice, whether floating loose or "mush." It will now be safe sailing for all river craft, so far as any further obstructions from the frozen aqueous fluid are concerned.

The Alton Courier says:

The river is still rising with a fair prospect of good boating soon.

The Louisville Journal Times says:

The appearance of things in the Wash. Graham's extensive pork house early afternoon gave an inkling of a pork trade. Capt. Jim Rhodes, by Charlie Kearney's mark, got the ice Monday, has been nearly 2 feet recently, and can give shippers assurance of receiving enough, and always up to nine inches in tubs.

The Louisville Courier of Saturday says:

The river was slowly rising yesterday, with 7 feet 7 inches water in the canal, in the evening, by the gauge. During the previous 24 hours it had recently, and rise at the head of the falls and 2 inches at Portland.

The weather has again assumed a wintry rage, with a snow storm, the heaviest of the season, Saturday morning. It was heavy enough to whitten the house-tops and side-walks, but soon disappeared. Yesterday was clear and cool, with a heavy, white frost in the morning.

On the falls there were one 5 inches of water in the pass down the Indian chute, and over 2 feet water up round the turn for descending boats.

The famous tow-boat Alps, from Memphis, tried that chute successfully, bound for Pittsburg, and the Mary T., once a famous packet, built to ply to New Orleans, Donaldsonville, and Bayou Plaquemine, having been converted into a tow-boat, was trying to ascend the chute last evening bound for Pittsburg.

The river at Pittsburg is at a good tide, but falling slowly Saturday.

The Cumberland is clearing again from the effect of the late rains, but a fair stage of water may be anticipated at Nashville and the oil region beyond.

Gleanings From Our Exchanges.

ST. LOUIS.—The Post Boy retires from the Naples trade to-day, and will hereafter ply in the rafting line to St. Joseph, leaving the port every alternate Thursday.

Capt. A. Pennington, a very gentlemanly crew will take charge of the new steaming Belle of Pike, in the Naples trade. Capt. S. Rider will command the Pad Rice.

We saw a shirt collar about a foot high currying a "nigger" up the levee yesterday morning, but that became of the "nigger" we don't know.

The Hawk Eye is the Northern line packet to-day.

Several steamers are offering to receive men who desire working their way to the mountains, upon the payment of two hundred dollars each.

We were in error yesterday in stating that the Fanny Gallup was built in 1861. She was built in 1861 by Capt. J. Rainey, of the Rob Kinney.

As a slight evidence of the increase in value of steamboat stocks, we will say that the Quiver originally cost $20,000 and was sold by Capt. Kinney in the spring of 1858 to Messrs. Dupuy & Co., for the sum of $7,000, and by them sold to the undersigned for $20,000.

We heard yesterday of a free laborer who on Saturday morning picked up a pair of pants in one of which he found a "roll" of greenbacks amounting to $150.

The steamer Gov. Sharkey is to be sold at public auction the day of the Mercantile's first change.

The Dixie Bayless, a ferry boat which has been running at Omaha for the last two years, is on her way to St. Louis for repairs.

Owing to dull times the Alabama has been laid up at Cincinnati.

Moolet is freighted from Chicago to this port at the rate of 50 ½ 3.

The following steamers are to be sold at auction at Cincinnati on Tuesday, the 24th: Belle Haskell, Madison, Gen. Grant, Gen. Thomas, Chickasaw, Kentucky, Lookout, and Bloomington. Also the boilers, chains, and engines of the sunken steamer Pearlsea.

Capt. Philo Young has taken charge of the steamer Virginia.

The Indiana, bound from Louisville to New Orleans, a few days since, broke a wrist. The damage was repaired and she proceeded on her trip.

We learn that Capt. Hugh Campbell and others have at length, through Congress, obtained a patent right for the application of the steam capstan now in use on some of the boats plying the western waters. The petition has been in Congress for two or three years, praying for an extension of the patent, which has at length been obtained, the right running for 17 years from the date of the original application, September, 1849.

NEW ORLEANS.—There was a decided change in the weather yesterday, from that of the previous day, a cold north wind having set in at an early hour, and with it came a drizzling rain, which lasted until noon, when old Sol made his appearance and brightened up things a little.

Business, as is usually the case on the Sabbath, was dull, there being no departures, while arrivals were few and far between.—Times, 9th.

The London Times says that Bourse is much excited by warlike rumors.

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—A special says the cause of the late steamboat conflagration has been traced to coal oil, with which the cook of the Nevada was lighting a fire in the cook house. The Board of Underwriters have under advisement the prohibition of the use of coal oil on steamers.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The foreign apprehensions of trouble in Germany and the Fenian agitation, continue to depress funds. Consols are 28, and have touched a lower point than since the crisis of 1857. There is but little alteration in American securities; 5-20's are firmer at home, but weaker abroad; Illinois Central, 4@5 per cent. lower, the position in sterling, free on board, with freights, carry an advance of fully 5@8 per pound. The receipts at this port—New Orleans—have been maintained with wonderful regularity, is so happening that just at the moment when the main stream was beginning to show a reduced weekly delivery the Red and Ouachita rivers became navigable, and the large quantity of cotton known to be held on their banks, had the long desired opportunity to seek a market. At long ago as November the estimated quantity to come from those rivers was stated at 150,000 bales. It has already exceeded that amount, but the quantity now remaining coming is so great, as the boats are arriving with light cargoes and report but a small quantity visible. The total quantity of cotton known to have been received at all ports from the end of the year to the same date, amounts to 2,000,000 bales. The stock on hand at the shipping ports—exclusive of Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore—amounts to 570,000 bales. The total shipments to foreign ports since September 1st are 1,300,000 bales.
