MEMPHIS APPEAL.

ALABAMA.

Selma and Her Railroads.

[From the Selma Messenger.]

Several enterprises in the way of railroads have been projected, the construction of which would greatly affect the prosperity of Selma.

1. There is, first, the Memphis and Southeastern road, which ought by all means to be built immediately, by an extension of the Marion or Newbern branch of the Selma and Meridian road, in the direction of Columbus, Miss., while Memphis advances to meet it via Holly Springs. This road would traverse a most fertile and pleasant country, and would bring Memphis in direct communication with South Alabama and the Gulf, as she is already connected by the Memphis and Charleston railroad with North Alabama and the Atlantic.

2. There is also a road projected, we learn, from Chicago to Pensacola, to bring the great lakes in direct intercourse with the Gulf of Mexico. This, of course, would traverse the line of the Selma and Gulf road, and probably the present lines to North Alabama. By looking on the map, it will be seen that Selma is almost on a right line between Chicago and Pensacola. We have nothing to do but to complete the Gulf road to put us one hundred and fifty miles on the way to Chicago from Pensacola, and then by the Alabama and Tennessee and the Central, we go ninety miles further, which would overcome one-third of the distance required.

3. A new project has been started in Mobile to build a road from Point Jackson, on the Bigbee, to Uniontown. This road would give the shortest line for the transit of cotton from the Canebrake to Mobile. The distance from Uniontown to Point Jackson is only sixty-five miles, and from that point navigation is uninterrupted. From Uniontown the road would be extended toward Marion, Centreville and Elyton, penetrating the heart of the mineral region by a very short line of railroad, and emptying the wealth of Alabama into the lap of Mobile, without any connection with Selma or her lines of railroads. The only way to checkmate this would be by building the Gulf road, and thus make Pensacola a better market than Mobile.

4. But by far the most important in its bearing on the future prosperity of Selma is the proposed extension of the Alabama and Tennessee road from Blue mountain to Rome or Dalton. A gap of only fifty miles remains to give us the shortest through line between the East and Southwest. We are pleased to see that two companies have been organized, one we believe, having its headquarters at Rome, and the other at Dalton, for the purpose of building the Georgia portion of the extension. Our own President and Directors meet on the 9th of May for the purpose of taking steps to the immediate forming of this connection. The people of Selma should hold themselves ready to do everything in their power to complete this work. The prospects of Montgomery and Mobile are well calculated to divert our trade from us, and nothing but a direct line through to the Gulf on one side, and to the Eastern States on the other, can secure our advantages for the future. With these the destiny of Selma will be fixed beyond the possibility of successful competition. Citizens, look to your interests.

MONTGOMERY AND WEST POINT RAILROAD.

[From the Montgomery Advertiser.]

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Montgomery and West Point Railroad Company, on the 10th inst., the reports of the President and General Superintendent were presented. We make the following extracts from the reports, showing the condition of the road at the commencement of the new era in its affairs, June 1, 1865, its operations since, and its present condition. The President's report states that, at the time mentioned, the affairs of the company wore a gloomy and discouraging aspect. The losses they had just sustained were very severe; many depot buildings and workshops, every bridge upon the road, and nearly the entire outfit of cars, locomotives and machinery had been destroyed, and the treasury was without a dollar of available means. Gen. A. J. Smith, then in command at Montgomery, furnished the first efficient aid toward repairing and reopening the road, in granting permission to issue bills of the company to an amount not exceeding fifty thousand dollars; it was found necessary, however, to issue only thirty thousand dollars of these bills. A loan of fifty thousand dollars was negotiated upon liberal terms with the Southern Express Company, and the indebtedness of the railroad company for this favor is acknowledged.

The general books have been settled up so as to show the condition of the company on the 1st of March last. Their losses have been very heavy during the past fiscal year, and consist of the following items:

Confederate bonds	$174,500
Debts due by Confed. Gov't	948,014
Confederate money	50,480	—$1,172,494
Value of negroes emancipated		[illegible]
Damages to locomotives		[illegible]
Value of cars destroyed		[illegible]
Value of machinery destroyed		[illegible]
Value of the buildings burned		[illegible]
Value of bridges destroyed		[illegible]
Depreciation in stock of other co.'s bond		[illegible]
Making a total of		$1,[illegible]

The exhibit of the Treasurer shows that the value of the road, with its outfit and property, amounts, despite these heavy losses, to within twelve per cent. of the capital stock paid in. This exhibit, however, does not include the past due coupons of the bonds of the company, amounting to about $100,000. The true condition is shown to be a deficiency of $293,718 44, or about eighteen per cent. of the capital stock. This estimated loss of capital is upon the cost of a road 117 miles in length, $1,887,727 56, about $16,225 per mile, whereas the same work could not now be done for less than $25,000 per mile. The yet outstanding $100,000 of past due bonds and coupons will, without doubt, be soon exchanged for 8 per cent. coupon bonds, payable July 1, 1876, at par; and the income of the road for the past six months justifies the assertion that the payment of the interest on the bonded debt will be met promptly hereafter as it accrues.

Mortgage bonds of the company, amounting to $450,000, fall due on the 1st of July; the improvement of the road, necessary to keep it in position with connecting roads, consisting of a change of guage and the purchase of an outfit of cars and engines, will require $215,000; and the balance due on the subscription to the Western railroad is $85,000. To meet these requirements it is proposed that mortgage bonds, bearing 8 per cent. interest and payable in twelve or fifteen years, be issued to the amount of $750,000. The entire debt of the company, amounting to $1,150,000, will be funded. The nett income for the coming year, estimated by the receipts for the past six months, will be $225,000. This will provide for the interest on the funded debt, pay a dividend on the capital stock of six per cent., and leave a sinking fund of $34,554.

It is recommended as the policy of the company to lay aside every year as large a sinking fund as possible, after the payment of a fair dividend on the capital stock, so as gradually to extinguish the funded debt, and not wait for its maturity. This policy strictly carried out for five years, will elevate the credit of the securities and increase the value of the stock.

The report of the Engineer and Superintendent shows that the difficulties encountered in re-establishing the road in running order, after the damages it received in April, were almost insurmountable. Yet his motions, like those of the single engine, left him uninjured, and its "honored namesake, Abner McGhee," have been "forward with great facility"—and, we add, with great determination and perseverance—"backward with extremest reluctance." Like it and him, he, too, has been "equal to all requirements," and the present effective condition of his road is a testimonial to his merit.

The capture of West Point and Columbus closed the operations of the road on the 16th of April, 1865, by the complete destruction of the rolling stock, leaving it without cars, locomotives, bridges or depots. From the smoking debris of cars, locomotives, rolling mills, printing presses, arsenals and arms at those places, the most valuable portions of the property of the company were selected and cared for the rebuilding of bridges and the repairing of such engines as could most quickly be put in order was attended to, and the road was soon in operation to Opelika, seven miles from West Point. By the 29th of August it was completed, and trains ran through to Montgomery.

The expenses of the road for the past year have been as follows:

ORDINARY WORKING EXPENSES.

For maintaining road	$61,576 84
Maintenance of rolling stock	[illegible]
Operating, including wages of operatives	[illegible]
United States taxes	[illegible]
Making a total of	$[illegible]

EXTRAORDINARY EXPENSES.

For rebuilding bridges	$[illegible]
locomotives	[illegible]
cars	[illegible]
depot ships	[illegible]
Purchase of cars	[illegible]
Making a total of	[illegible]
Grand total of expenditures	[illegible]

With an attestation of the personnel of the road, which consists almost exclusively of former employees, the report concludes.

The Directors of the road are Wm. Taylor, Robert D. Ware, Benjamin S. Bibb and Wm. M. Marks, of Montgomery, and John P. King and Wm. M. Wadley, of Georgia. Col. Chas. T. Pollard is President of the road and Mr. Daniel H. Cram, the Engineer and General Superintendent.

A shrewd New England writer once said: "The majority is the most subtle and therefore the most dangerous form of physical violence; the ballot, what is it but a threat of which the bullet is the execution?"

Celebrated Patent

DUPLEX ELLIPTIC

(Or double Steel Spring)

SKIRT,

WESTS, BRADLEY & CARY,

Sole Proprietors and Manufacturers, 97 Chambers and 79 and 81 Reade street,

NEW YORK.

This invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Pure Refined Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable spring ever used. They seldom bend or break, like the Single Springs, and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful shape more than twice as long as any Single Spring Skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded assemblies, operas, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, arm chairs, for promenade and house dress, as the skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, misses and young ladies they are superior to all others.

The hoops are covered with two ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the single yarn covering which is used on all single steel hoop skirts. The three bottom rods on every skirt are also double steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps, etc., etc., which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant corded tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest most desirable, comfortable and economical skirt ever made.

For sale in all first class stores, Wholesale and Retail, in this city, and throughout the United States and Canada, Havana de Cuba, Mexico, South America, and the West Indies.

THE KIDNEYS.

THE Kidneys are two in number, situated at the upper part of the loin, surrounded by fat and consisting of three parts, viz: The Anterior, the Interior, and the Exterior.

The anterior absorbs. Interior consists of tissues or veins, which serve as a deposit for the urine and convey it to the exterior. The exterior is a conductor also, terminating in a single tube, and called the Ureter. The Ureters are connected with the bladder.

The bladder is composed of various coverings or tissues, divided into parts, viz: the Upper, the Lower, the Nervous, and the Mucous. The upper expels, the lower retains. Many have a desire to urinate without the ability to retain. This frequently occurs in children.

To cure these affections we must bring into action the muscles, which are engaged in their various functions. If they are neglected, Gravel or Dropsy may ensue.

The reader must also be made aware, that, however slight may be the attack, it is sure to affect his bodily health and mental powers as our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.

GOUT, OR RHEUMATISM.

Pain occurring in the loins is indicative of the above diseases. They occur in persons disposed to acid stomach and chalky concretions.

THE GRAVEL.

The gravel ensues from neglect or improper treatment of the kidneys. These organs, being weak, the water is not expelled from the bladder, but allowed to remain; it becomes feverish and sediment forms. It is from this deposit that the stone is formed and gravel ensues.

DROPSY

Is a collection of water in some parts of the body, and bears different names, according to the parts affected, viz: when generally diffused over the body, it is called Anasarca; when of the abdomen, Ascites; when of the chest, Hydrothorax.

TREATMENT.

Helmbold's highly concentrated Compound Extract Buchu, is decidedly one of the best remedies for diseases of the bladder, kidneys, gravel, dropsical swellings, rheumatism, and gouty affections. Under this head, we have arranged Dysuria, or difficulty and pain in passing water, scanty secretions or small and frequent discharges of water; strangury or stopping of water; Hematuria or bloody urine; gout and rheumatism of the kidneys without any change in quantity, but increase in color or dark water. It was always highly recommended by the late Dr. Physick, in these affections. This medicine increases the power of digestion and excites the absorbents into healthy exercise, by which the watery or calcareous depositions and all unnatural enlargements, as well as pain and inflammation, are reduced, and is taken by

MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

Directions for use and diet accompany.

PHYSICIANS AND OTHERS

PLEASE NOTICE.

I make no secret of ingredients. Helmbold's Extract Buchu is composed of Buchu, Cubebs, and Juniper Berries, selected with great care, prepared in vacuo and according to rules of These ingredients are known as the most valuable Diuretics afforded.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A CARD

From The Adams Express Co.

CINCINNATI, March 28, 1866.

Editors Cincinnati Commercial:

Gentlemen—We wish to make a public acknowledgment to Messrs. JOS. L. HALL & CO., of this city, manufacturers of HALL'S PATENT CONCRETE FIREPROOF SAFES, for the splendid manner in which the safes of their make preserved their contents in the late Opera house fire, which destroyed our office. We had seven of their safes, two of them of the largest size, all of which stood the most severe tests to which any fireproof safes have ever been subjected. All of these safes fell into the burning mass of ruins, and were then exposed to an intense heat from the burning debris which surrounded them, for from forty-six to one hundred and twenty hours; yet all of their contents, which comprised an immense amount of money, bonds, silverplate, and other valuables, were restored to us uninjured. We are, for this, of course, greatly pleased, and think that after this experience we can recommend them to any one who may want a sure and certain fire proof safe as being all that they recommend them to be. L. C. WEIR, Agent Adams Express Company.

A CARD.

Messrs. Jos. L. Hall & Co., manufacturers of Hall's Burglar and Fireproof Safes:

Dear Sir—Our large Hall's Fireproof Safe was taken from the ruins of Pike's Opera house this afternoon, after being subjected to the most intense heat for four days and four nights, or about ninety hours, and our books and valuable papers, and United States Bonds deposited with us, were preserved in good condition. The fire was still burning with such intensity that, when taken out, it could not be opened till cooled by a stream of water. We think we can say nothing more in favor of your invaluable safe than to state the fact, that this test, surely as severe an one as safes can be subjected to, has resulted in such entire satisfaction both to you and ourselves. Yours truly,
