... T. C. COLLINS, having re... the city, will preach this morn... o'clock, at the Central Metho... church, on Union street.

...COPAL SERVICE in "Stillman ... to day at 10½ o'clock, a.m., Rev. J. ...gers officiating; at 8 o'clock, ... Bishop of the Diocese officiating.

CHELSEA BAPTIST CHURCH.—Dr. ...leman, formerly pastor of the Beal ...et church, preaches regularly in this ...urch every Sabbath morning at 11 ...clock.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH, Corner of Lin... den and Mulberry streets, Elder R. A. Cook, pastor. Service at the usual hours, morning and evening. The public are cordially invited. Seats free.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.—Rev. Mr. Miller, pastor, preaches in this church to-day—morning and evening—at the usual hours; and, for the future, will preach regularly each Sabbath. Seats free. The public are cordially invited to attend.

RECORDER'S COURT.—The amount of business yesterday was unusually small, only five cases of drunkenness on the docket, and the whole amount of fines was $24.

WE ARE informed by Adolph Bernard, ticket agent of the Memphis and Charleston railroad, that the damage on the Nashville and Decatur railroad has been repaired. Passengers wishing to go to Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati and all Eastern cities will go through from this date.

PERSONAL.—Our energetic and gentlemanly friend, Col. M. J. O'Brien, assistant superintendent of that great institution the Southern Express Company, leaves us this a.m. for Nashville and other points, en route to his proper station, Augusta, Ga. We wish him a safe and pleasant journey.

LATE PAPERS.—Emmons & Son, newsdealers and book-sellers, on Jefferson street between Main and Front, have furnished us New York, Chicago, Cincinnati and New Orleans papers two days ahead of the mail. This firm keeps constantly on hand the best periodicals as well as the latest papers.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—Mr. Sam Turner, a ship-carpenter, was knocked down in the street last night and robbed of $40 or $50 in greenbacks by two rascals, who saw this sum in his possession and followed him until they found an opportunity to execute their nefarious purpose. He is not expected to survive the injuries he has received.

THE LADIES of the Central Baptist Church will give a strawberry festival, beginning the 15th of May, in the tabernacle now in course of erection on Court street, opposite the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, for the purpose of aiding in the building of their new house of worship on Second street. The ladies of the church and all friends are requested to meet on Monday, 30th inst., at 10 o'clock a.m., in the basement of Second Presbyterian Church, corner of Main and Beale street.

THE BALL To-MORROW NIGHT.—We believe the ball at the Greenlaw Opera Hall by the Memphis branch of the Iron Moulders National Union to-morrow evening, will be one of the happiest affairs of the season. We are glad to find such an important and intelligent body of men devoting one evening in the year at least, to rational enjoyment that may be participated in by their sweethearts and wives. The managers have our thanks for a complimentary ticket, and we promise them to be present on the joyous occasion.

NEW CONTERSREET.—We were shown on yesterday a somewhat dangerous counterfeit five dollar legal tender note, which on first sight is well calculated to deceive the unwary, but on a careful examination the printing of the false note is found to be rougher than in the genuine, and the back is entirely different, the green ink being of a pale shade, and the words "of America" which in the true note is on the border surrounding the tablet, in the spurious is within the border, and immediately following the words "after five years." The public should be on their guard and examine every bill carefully before receiving it.

SABBATH REFLECTIONS ON DEVOTION TO MORAL DUTY.—No man could ever say worse of the Redeemer's service, than the Redeemer himself was content to do. For he said unto them all, "if any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me." The Savior gave utterance to no words whose bearing is more direct upon the practical work of our daily living than these, and yet nothing he uttered was ever so misunderstood and misinterpreted by so many men, in so many places and in so many ages. It would seem nothing could be plainer than our Lord's meaning when he said these words. Knowing, too, the many difficulties experienced by all who try to lead a Christian or even moral life, amid the attraction and alluring temptations which assail the best of us from day to day, he plainly meant that no matter how difficult and painful any duty may be, we must do it, if the dictates of reason and religion demand that we should; and no wish or object, however cherished and dear to us, should be permitted to stand between us and our moral obligations. Well, this is the spirit that breathes from the whole New Testament. The spirit of Christianity says deny yourself everything, however pleasant, that is wrong or contrary to God's commandments! and its further teachings on the subject is, that in pursuing this course we may look for the kindly guardianship of angels, and better far—through all trials—the Divine spirit will be with us, giving us strength, guidance, comfort and the light we need, and that all these blessings shall be made to work together for our eternal good. This doctrine has proved sufficient to produce many instances of the purest heroism that the world has ever witnessed. Many a time it has led men to make a sacrifice of feeling that demanded a sustained resolution more than equal to the fiery, feverish courage that bears the forlorn hope to the deadly breech; and many a time it has gained victories, silently won, in struggling hearts, to which battlefields are nothing. It has led the martyr to the stake, and nerved him or her to abide in calmness the too slowly rising flames. It does its work, even yet, amid the follies of modern society, as sometimes the thin cheek, the languid step are indications of a heroism every whit as noble, of an inward strife every whit as fearful as ever hinted by the empty sleeve, the scarred face, or cross of honor over the brave heart. Truly and the wisest of men, "Better is he that ruleth his spirit, than he that taketh a city." We are not bigots in any sense of the word, nor would we inculcate a stern or fanatical condemnation of things in daily life innocent in themselves, because certain sectarians have pronounced them wrong or harmful, but we wish simply to delineate the moral grandeur of self conquest in the temptations of daily life, and to sustain in well doing some wavering spirit beset by weaknesses of the physical nature, only to be banished or overcome by a sense of moral power which can in no way be so powerfully strengthened as by habitual self communion and a guarded inquiry into the real motives which control our actions.

A CHARMING PARTY.—We assisted last evening at a very elegant and recherche entertainment, given by our friend Dr. Garkey, to commemorate the inauguration of his elegant newly furnished rooms on the corner of Main and Union streets. The Doctor is an accomplished gentleman, and we wish him success in all his undertakings.

THE FENIANS have received orders to be in readiness to march before the 10th of May. Great exertions are now making in this city to raise men, money and arms. Maj. Alden is every day busy at his headquarters, Fenian hall, Jefferson block, mustering in volunteers. We are led to believe that the first blow on British territory will soon be struck. Mr. Hayes has set his life and prospects on the cast, and is now ready to stand the hazard of the die. He has given up all other business, and will now devote his whole energies to the cause of Ireland.

JUVENILE HORSE THIEF.—John, a negro lad about fifteen years old, was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Esquire J. C. Creighton, charged with horse stealing. The boy states that he was bribed to "ride the horse to water" by a negro man, who paid him a quarter for the service, and the horse having been speedily missed, was pursued and found in possession of the lad, who was apprehended as above stated. The lad is either artful beyond his years, or really was the victim of an older negro's villainy. The matter will be investigated on Monday.

A PLEASANT RESORT.—There is no more agreeable spot within our knowledge anywhere in the vicinity of Memphis, than the very beautiful garden of Monsieur Joseph Etchevarne, just below Fort Pickering. Here may be had tastefully arranged boquets composed of rare hot house or other plants on the shortest notice, an excellent bottle of wine at the most reasonable rate, and a cordial and courteous reception from the urbane and attentive proprietor, whose politeness to lady visitors, especially, at once proclaims his nativity to have been the land—par excellence—of good breeding—"la belle France." We advise all our friends to see Mons. Etchevarne's extensive garden, which will well repay a visit.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Hereafter, in Sunday morning's issue, we intend publishing the marriage licenses issued in Shelby County Court during the past week. The following were granted from the 21st to the 28th instant:

Catherine Trigg and John Van Deadrick.
Wm. Hanson and Mary McLane.
Jno. W. Stockton and Catherine J. Shelton.
Stephen Donegan and Catherine Hoboe.
Patrick Smith and Mary McLane.
Orlay R. Hurd and Sarah E. Ferguson.
R. G. Rombeauf and Emma Thomas.
Robert Greene and Mary Jones.
T. Biggs and Martha E. Spears.
Jas. Wilson and Martha Ann Brunch.
Thos. A. Hemingway and Elizabeth H. Bass.
Edward Donelson and Laura Garrant.
Wm. Keane and Mary Ann McCabe.
Solomon Cook and Mrs. Amelia Hawkins.
A. J. Roach and Vira T. Keith.
Thos. Sullivan and Mrs. Julia J. Leland.
W. K. Palmer and Flora Day.
Silas A. Clark and Mott ola J. Daniel.
Wm. L. McLean and Ida A. Donelson.
C. D. Rothlock and Amy F. James.
Thomas Gibson and Mrs. Elizabeth Carter.
Louis Banks and Mrs. Minerva Payne.
John W. Hallaud and Pamella Brooks.

POLICE REPORT.—Clark Crooks, a darkey, was guilty of an assault, without orders, and so advanced into the clutches of Officer Heslan, and subsequently lodgings in the station house; Minerva Ardin and Cecelia Pugh, two ladies of color, indulged in a delicate fisticuff, for which Officer Garrett put them to the inconvenience of calling at the city lodgings to be presented, on Monday, to the Recorder. Owen Conners took too much whisky, as Officer Carroll avers, and Albert Jackson, a colored citizen, was guilty of a like indiscretion as well as wearing weapons not authorized by municipal or State regulations. Miss Carrie Aldrich committed a nuisance, and herself to the station house, and J. W. Pollard and John Ledwick broke the peace, and each others pates at the same time; M. Rachenoworth, Robt. Anderson and C. C. Smart were arrested for selling without a license, and Tim Murray for being drunk.

THE FORTHCOMING TOURNAMENT AND CONCERT AT HERNANDO, MISS., ON WEDNESDAY, THE 2D OF MAY. We desire again to direct the attention of the public, and the Masonic Brotherhood especially, to this interesting occasion, and to assure all who can make it convenient to attend that they cannot fail to enjoy themselves highly. In the morning a grand tournament will be open to all who wish to contend for the prize—a handsome diamond ring valued at $250—which will be awarded to the knight whose skill in horsemanship and the exercise of the lance shall be most approved; and success confers the additional honor of selecting from the assembled beauties who grace the lists—a Queen of Beauty—to be crowned with the floral coronet won by the prowess of her chosen cavalier. In the evening a grand concert will be given, for which the Philharmonic Society of Memphis have volunteered their services, and will be assisted by a number of the amateurs of Hernando, as well as some of the most distinguished musical artists of this city, the entire proceeds of the fete and concert to be devoted to rebuilding the Masonic Lodge, at Hernando, destroyed by the Federal army during the late war. The Mississippi and Tennessee railroad company have generously determined to exact but half fare for the trip, and will attach a passenger car to the freight train, leaving this city at 5.30 a.m. on Wednesday. Omnibuses will call for parties leaving their names at Keeks' stable or at No. 5 Jefferson street on Tuesday afternoon. The object is a commendable one, and we trust a large attendance may reward the efforts of the ladies and gentlemen who have volunteered their services in aid of a worthy cause.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.—Common Law Court.—The usual business of motion day was all that transpired in this Court yesterday. The calendar for Monday will be found below.

Criminal Court.—The case of State vs. Bentley, charged with horse stealing, was the only one tried yesterday. The defendant was found guilty and sentenced to twelve years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

St. Louis and Memphis.—A lively interest is just now springing up between St. Louis and Memphis. When the Iron Mountain railroad is extended to our doors it may fairly be anticipated that the trade and traffic between the two cities will be immense. Already our wholesale merchants begin to trade with St. Louis on a large scale; and we are happy to find that one of our old friends, Frank H. Dancy, Esq., formerly of Holly Springs, Miss., is there located with Peter E. Blow in the wholesale drug business. We have known Mr. Dancy for years, and always found him possessed of those qualities which make a business man both popular and successful. Our merchants trading with St. Louis will lose no time in visiting our Mississippi friend's establishment is at 66 and 68 Main street, in that city.

The Cholera and Insurance.—In consequence of the appearance of the cholera in New York, several hundred persons have already availed themselves against pecuniary loss to their families by insuring their lives in the old established and reliable Ætna Life Insurance Company—a step which we think highly beneficial, as it does away with half the fear which some persons entertain on hearing of the appearance of the "dread disease." Our friend G. H. Noble is agent for this excellent institution; he keeps his office on the corner of Madison and Front streets, and a more affable or accommodating gentleman is scarcely to be found anywhere.

Grand Free Lunch.—The lovers of fine beverages and good eating should not fail to be on hand at Mozart Hall, No. 35 Monroe street, on Monday morning from 10 to 12 o'clock. Machine Operator Wanted at Mrs. Goggin's, 353 Main street. A good hand can find steady employment.

"My family expenses are now as much as I can possibly bear." If there is nothing to spare now, what must be the condition of your family if you should suddenly be taken from them? Will your widow say she cannot save during the year three cents a day, or five or ten times that amount? And this amount will secure a policy for $10,000 in the Ætna Life Insurance Company. Moore & West, agents, 22½ Madison street.

On Monday next B. Lowenstein & Bros'. will offer their goods at greatly reduced prices. Drop into this emporium of dry goods bargains early and stay late, take much money and buy "muchly."

Go to Walker Bros. & Co., 229 Main st. apr29-3t

O. O. S. B.—There is magic in these four letters, and especially to those who have learned to venerate the emblematic engraving of the late warrior and immortal chieftain, Stonewall Jackson. Our Own Southern Bitters is purely of Southern origin, as those who battled in the cause of the Confederacy can well testify. Like the worthy prototype upon the bottles, it is pure as a good, true Southern soldier should be this invaluable remedy. It cures dyspepsia immediately, invigorates wonderfully, and during these languishing days this Bitters is just what its name is. Messrs. Ebbert & Co., 342 Second st., are the manufacturers.

Miscellaneous.

The Silver Cloud No. 2 has been raised and is now on her way to Pittsburgh to be repaired. The freight has all been saved, but in a damaged condition.

The Phantom went into the new dry dock at Evansville on the 25th to be repaired.

The Kate Hart has gone on the docks at St. Louis to be repaired and refitted.

The Virginia and Atlantic passed down heavily loaded.

The Atlantic had three hundred head of mules for the New Orleans market.

The Little Rock arrived from Little Rock and left for St. Louis with a Government trip.

The Celeste and R. M. Bishop made their appearance from Little Rock.

The America arrived from St. Louis and departed for Little Rock with a splendid trip.

The Liberty backed out for St. Louis with a good passenger list.

The Harry Dean backed out for Cincinnati light.

The Justice and J. S. McCune departed for White river with guards dragging in the water.

The Belle St. Louis shoved out for St. Louis with a fair passenger list.

The Joe Fleming passed up with two empty barges.

The Celeste and R. M. Bishop are receiving at the foot of Court street for Arkansas river and all way landings.

The Des Arc will be at the Michigan wharf-boat Monday morning, to receive for Vicksburg and the bends.

The Commercial will be at Johnson & Wright's wharf-boat Monday morning to receive for White river and all way landings.

The St. Patrick has been unavoidably detained, but will positively leave to-day at 12 o'clock.

The Northwest will be at the landing Monday morning to receive for St. Francis river.

The Alice Dean will be at the landing to receive for Cincinnati.

The superb steamer Celeste, Captain Pritchard, will leave on Monday evening for Arkansas river and all way landings.

The Bart Able will be at the landing Monday morning to receive for New Orleans and the bends.

The Morning Star, Captain Dollis, will be at the landing Monday to receive for Louisville, and leaves on Tuesday evening.

The peerless passenger steamer Marble City, Capt. Tschudi, will leave the Michigan wharf-boat Monday evening at 5 p.m., for Cairo and St. Louis. The Marble City has superb accommodations, and is in charge of competent and careful steamboatmen.

The River Above.

The Cincinnati Commercial of the 26th says: The weather was cool and clear yesterday. At Pittsburg, last night, the river was rising, with 10 feet in the channel. Here it has swollen 7½ feet during the 24 hours ending last night, with 25 feet hence to Louisville. The falls are navigable for moderate sized steamers. The Lower Ohio is in fine navigable order. There are 18 feet and rising in the Cumberland.

The St. Louis Republican of the 27th says: Owing to the fact that yesterday was a day of hasting and humiliation there was very little business transacted on the wharf.

At this point the Mississippi is very slowly on the decline. The Missouri continues to rise at St. Joseph at the rate of six inches in twenty-four hours. At St. Paul the river is on a stand, with fourteen feet in the channel. The late rains caused a slight swell in the Ohio, and a very heavy freshet in the Cumberland and Tennessee rivers.

The Anna White arrived last evening from Nashville with a very light trip. She has had a very rough time on the trip. When on her way down the river, and just above Chester, she came in rather close proximity to the Olive Branch, the result of which was a considerable "tearing up" of upper works, and then again on Sunday night the wind blew her into the bank, tearing off a portion of her starboard guard. She will be fully repaired, however, to leave on time this evening.

Never has there been known within the knowledge of the oldest steamboatman or steamer on the Missouri river a "swell" of such magnitude as is now in the Big Muddy, and what has occasioned it at so early a period in the year, we are unable to ascertain.

Liberal Reward.

A liberal reward will be paid by Thos. Fabers, President of Merchants' Association, No. 278 Front street, up stairs, room No. 5, for the recovery of the body of John Graham, who was lost off board the steamer Jas. Raymond in an explosion on Tuesday morning, April 24th. He is about 5 feet 10 or 11 inches high, heavy mustache, had on dark pants and speckled calico shirt; had a gold ring on one of his fingers. apr27-tf.

FINANCIAL.

Business in Financial circles moves along sluggishly on account of the depression of the Cotton market and other leading commodities. Good commercial paper is steady at 10@12 per cent.

The Gold market is quite spirited. The New York noon dispatch quoted Gold at 29⅝. Bankers here are buying at 29@29¼. The offerings were fair. We learned of a few lots that were sold at 27. Bankers buy to ship to New York, as there is but little demand for it here.

Silver dull and depressed; buying at 17@18.

There is very little doing in Exchange, owing to the continued depression of Cotton. The Cotton market is completely dead, and no business doing to make bills of Exchange; ¼ off buying, and selling at ¼ premium.

Government Securities continue firm and steady. There are comparatively few in the market, as the recent advance has led holders to anticipate still higher figures. The seven-thirty Treasury notes are bought at 101 for the large, and 100½ for the small denominations.

City Scrip rules quiet and steady, with but very little demand; buying at 89@95.

The market for Uncurrent Money is steady, with rates unchanged. Inquiries for Tennessee, Georgia and Louisiana Banks was fair, but light offerings. The sales are nearly confined to small lots. Mississippi Cotton Money dull and nominal, with no inquiry.

Time Bills on New York continue as follows: Sixty-days, 2½ discount; Thirty-days, 2¼; Twenty-days, 1¾; Ten-days, ¼; Five-days, ¼; Sight, ¼. Bills on New New Orleans are about the same as those on New York.

Redemption of Military Bonds.

In answer to the inquiries for information touching the above head, we give below the provisions of the act passed at the recent session of the Legislature for the redemption of Union Military Bonds:

On the first Wednesday of May, August, November and February, every year, the State Treasurer is directed to receive and file for payment and redemption all over-due bonds which may be presented to him between 9 o'clock a.m. and 2 p.m. His further duty is to arrange the bonds in the order of the year of issue, without regard to date in that year, and to pay them in that order, redeeming the class having the oldest dates first, as long as the means on hand suffice, and when those means do not suffice to pay the whole of a class presented for redemption, the owners of bonds in that class are to be paid pro rata according to the amounts by them respectively presented.

The Treasurer is to compute interest on the bonds and pay the same, and take a receipt from the parties to whom payments have been made, specifying the year in which the bonds redeemed were issued. The Treasurer is not to be allowed, in the settlement of his accounts, for the payment of any interest for which he cannot produce the receipts required in this act, unless he can prove that he has taken and lost it. After the passage of this act (March 12, 1866,) these bonds are not to be paid or redeemed in any other order than is provided in the act.

The further provisions of the act relate to certain duties of the Treasurer and of collectors of the revenue, which have no special interest for the holders of these bonds.

The New York Herald of the 26th says:

The supply of Money continues superabundant at 4@5 per cent. for Stock Exchange loans on railway and miscellaneous collaterals, and 3@4 on Governments. The statement of the associated banks for the week is highly favorable, and indicates the extreme ease which prevails at this center. The deposits show a further increase of $3,055,197 owing to the interior exchanges being still in favor of New York, especially across the West, and the legal tender notes a corresponding increase of $2,682,318. The circulation presents the usual but unimportant increase of $111,324. The difficulty of employing all the capital seeking investment is shown by a decrease of $3,942,713 in the loans, while the scarcity of coin is compared with the demand for immediate use is indicated by the decrease of $1,550,000 in the specie line. The entire amount in the Banks is now only $9,030,403.

New York Money and Stock Market.
