SECOND DRAWING

—OF THE—

Southern Asylum

LAND COMPANY,

TO TAKE PLACE AT

HERNANDO, MISS.,

AUGUST, 1867.

THE First Drawing, which took place at Hernando, Miss., on the 15th inst., was attended with unusual interest, when it is remembered that but a few weeks elapsed from the inception of the enterprise to that event. $17,000 worth of tickets having been sold, a like amount of property was drawn for, under the supervision of gentlemen selected by the ticket holders present. The utmost harmony and good feeling pervaded those present, and, as will be seen from the subjoined certificate of the Managers, the affair was conducted to a close in a most gratifying and satisfactory manner:

HERNANDO, MISS., June 15, 1867.

We hereby certify that the above report of the First Drawing of the Southern Asylum is correct, and that the proceedings were characterized by a spirit of fairness and justness unsurpassed by any Drawing of which we have any knowledge. The Managers of the Company placed the tickets and wheels under our sole management and control.

Signed: J. R. MORGAN, ROBERT TEMPLE, V. A. MEREWETHER, W. W. CAMPTON, M. MAGEVENY, JOHN AINSLIE, Committee.

J. M. HALL, Clerk.

The Prizes drawn on this occasion numbered Forty-seven, and comprised lots in the vicinity of Memphis, Tenn., Marion, Miss., and Hernando, Miss., deeds to which have been made to the lucky ticket-holders. For this, the Second Drawing, however, we are able to offer our patrons still more attractive inducements to interest themselves in our scheme. From a lengthy list of prizes, much of which has already been advertised to the public, we select the following:

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

HOW TO LIVE.

BY R. SONAR.

He liveth long who liveth well!
All other life is short and vain;
He liveth longest who can tell
Of living most for heavenly gain.

He liveth long who liveth well!
All else is being dying away;
He liveth longest who can tell
Of true things truly done each day.

Waste not thy being; back to Him
Who freely gave it, freely give;
Else is that being but a dream;
'Tis but to be, and not to live.

Be what thou seemest! live thy creed!
Hold up to earth the torch divine;
Be what thou prayest to be made;
Let the great Master's steps be thine.

Fill up each hour with what will last;
Buy up the moments as they go;
The life above, when this is past,
Is the ripe fruit of life below.

Sow Truth, if thou the true would'st reap;
Who sows the false, shall reap the vain;
Erect and sound thy conscience keep,
From hollow words and deeds refrain.

Sow love, and taste its fruitage pure;
Sow peace, and reap its harvests bright;
Sow sunbeams on the rock and moor,
And find a harvest home of light.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, September 19, 1867.

Gold opened in New York at 40½, but at noon had declined to 40⅛. The closing rate will be found in our news column. The outstand drafts of cotn from this market has reduced the amounts held so largely that very small sales are now reported. The stringency of money matters and the light crop of last year have brought to light more cotn than it was thought existed in the south; but the little saved from the hands of the invader had to be sold to meet the necessary wants of life. The country is now about bare. Dealers buy at 33 to 33½c, but shipments are light.

Insolvent transactions are dropping off daily. Very small lots are those offered. Buying at 32 to 33c.

Exchange is more in demand. Bankers sell eastern sight at ¼ premium, but between bankers sales are made at par.

City scrip is in demand at 65c by dealers, who hold for 34 to 35c, though in a few instances they decline selling at our outside figures; $500 in two lots was taken by a broker at 65@66. Selling at 65c.

County warrants are firm, with a very good and increasing demand. Many brokers, who bought when the market was at 80c and above, decline selling at less than 85c, while some would sell at 75c for a fair amount. The offering rate at the counter is 70 to 75c.

Felps scrip is offered on the street at 95c. Brokers who hold any also sell at that figure, but unwilling to purchase at 95c, which is the nominal buying rate.

Bonds, stocks and uncurrent money are dull, with no sales of importance to notice. People of means preclude investments of any kind, and we look for no activity in stocks until a change for the better occurs.

Failure in the Bank of England exceeds its note circulation, a feature without precedent except on one occasion, five years ago.

There has been an unmistakable change, says the Economist, recently in the aspect of opinion respecting the prospects of gold premium. Events tending upon the question have changed and the premium has advanced correspondingly. This upward movement appears to be largely due to foreign and domestic political complications, and perhaps also to the condition of our trade balance.

The action of the president relative to the generals in command of the southern departments, his amnesty proclamation and his general relations with congress, are of a character calculated to excite uneasiness; perhaps none have any clear idea, but with the existing relations of congress pulling in opposite directions, upon a vital issue of national policy, and with a high degree of personal feeling on both sides, it is impossible not to see that extreme measures at Washington are among the possibilities of the next six months.

We have previously alluded to the fact that the balance of trade stood at about sixty millions in gold against us on June 1st. A portion of this open indebtedness may perhaps assume a permanent form, and therefore not require early settlement; still, in the event of war in Europe, there would be a large amount of gold required to settle this new open balance.

All the probabilities would seem to point to a considerable export of gold at a period not very remote. Large as are our crops, yet in the face of the fact that for four or five years past our surplus of exportable products has fallen far short of our imports, it is not safe to so long, even this year, we can cover our imports by our exports, including in the latter an average amount of gold. Our remittances on account of interest must be large. Of the twenty-four millions of coupons due on 1st November, about five millions will be payable to foreign bondholders. On the 1st January about $20,000,000 more of coin interest becomes payable, of which a large amount again is payable to foreign holders. Within the next four months the government has to pay to the Russian government $7,200,000 on account of the purchase of Russian North America. And still further, on January 1st, about $7,000,000 of bonds of 1867 become payable in coin, a large portion of them being held abroad. Upon these several accounts combined, our gold obligations to Europe will be increased, within the next four months, about $25,000,000, which added to the trade balance outstanding makes a total liability of about $85,000,000 in gold, independent of what may accrue upon the regular trade movement.

The cotton market was weaker to-day and sales continue light. Fair orders are being received, which, at present, can't be filled. Under a mistaken opinion regarding the coming crop, the eastern market is but favorable and closed with a drooping tendency.

A public-spirited citizen of San Francisco proposes to give $10,000, of which he himself will give $2,000, to establish a labor exchange in that city. The object is to secure some place where employers will be sure to find workmen or laborers, and where the latter can go to obtain situations when out of work.

The establishment of an experimental farm in Washington, under the supervision of the agricultural department, is in good progress. The soil has long been already put under cultivation so as to yield handsome crops of corn, clover, fruits and vegetables. It remains now to be seen whether this Government is to be a field for the development of all kinds of valuable products, or whether it will be carefully and scientifically used for the working out of facts useful to the country. Among the improvements it has been deemed necessary to make is the erection of suitable buildings for the use of the department, the contracts for which, have already been awarded, and the plans determined upon. The main building will be one hundred and seventy-one feet long and nearly seventy feet high, and possesses no mill about it, for the fine public edifices of Washington, when those shall have been completed, when the grounds shall have been laid out and beautified with fish ponds, aviaries, walks, etc., and the farm itself brought into a condition to be really utilized in experimenting upon such applications of foreign growths or scientific improvements of domestic plants as shall be thought desirable, the enterprise will be in a shape to be judged. Meanwhile, we can only chronicle its gradual progress, and wish for its permanent success.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS

The weather continues hot. The rivers are all falling, and the Ohio, which is lower than for the past twelve years, has but twenty-five to six inches to Louisville, and even the ferryboats find it difficult to cross. The upper Mississippi is very low. There is six and a half feet from St. Louis to Cairo, scant five and a half feet from Cairo to this port, and eight feet below.
