THE MEMPHIS DAILY APPEAL.

ESTABLISHED 1840. MEMPHIS, TENN., FRIDAY, JULY 9, 1869. VOL. 29—NO. 306

BY TELEGRAPH.

Dispatches to the Southwestern Press Association.

NOTE.—Owing to a storm East of Louisville, the lines are working badly, and the report is consequently abreviated.—REP.

RICHMOND.

Arrival of Gilbert C. Walker---His Reception, etc., etc.

RICHMOND, July 8.—Gilbert C. Walker arrived to-day from Norfolk, and the day was made a holiday for his reception, and when the cars arrived about 5000 people had congregated at the depot. A committee composed about equally of the most prominent white and black citizens was at the cars to receive him, but the populace seeing him rushed in and bore him on their shoulders to a coach, mounted with national and State flags. The procession, which was nearly a mile long, marched through the principal streets. Many of the coaches, of which there were hundreds in the line, were covered with national flags, and in the band wagon was a transparency with a painting of a white and colored man shaking hands. The streets were blocked with people following the procession. On reaching the house of Gen. James R. Broach, the Conservative candidate who was killed by the calamity on Friday last, the procession passed in silence and with uncovered heads. At the hotel Walker appeared between two national and State flags held by representatives of the two races, and after a few minutes of deafening cheers made a brief speech. After congratulating the audience on their complete victory, he said in this moment of triumph they must not forget charity for the defeated. They must remember that the votes cast against the ticket were given by deluded men of a race that had not yet had time to be educated sufficiently to know the wrong of disfranchising others. They must remember that we have succeeded on a platform of universal suffrage and equal rights, and we must see that those who opposed us, as well as those who supported us, have rights and protection equally by the law. (Loud cheers.) They must be educated and taught the value of the great honor of the Franchise, that has been conferred upon them, and the true value of being a citizen. We must not forget that the opportunity of winning this victory was given us through the liberality of President Grant, and we must see that the fruits are for the benefit of all. After a jocular allusion to the grief of the present State officeholders of the Wells persuasion, the speaker concluded by giving a cheerful picture of the future prosperity of the State.

Three cheers were given for Grant, at the close.

Mr. Walker was followed by Isaac Hunter, colored, and several white speakers.

The election returns daily continue more and more favorable to Walker. The returns this afternoon show that the Walker men will have a majority of sixty on a joint ballot, in the Legislature.

NEW YOBK.

Sanford the Cashier of the Central National Bank has Decamped, being a Defaulter to the Tune of $100,000.

The National Executive Committee held a Meeting and Adopted Measures to Aid their Cause in Mississippi and Texas.

Dissolution of the Injunction in the Memphis and El Paso Railroad Case.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Wm. H. Sanford, Cashier of the Central National Bank of this city, has decamped, and is a defaulter to the tune of $100,000. Speculation in gold led to his defalcation. He leaves a wife and children in destitute circumstances, in Wesport, Conn. His character for years has been irreproachable. The bank announces that his defalcation will damage its standing.

Gen. Gancomia was discharged to-day after the examination of several witnesses amid great cheering by the crowd of Cuban recruits who were present. The traitor French could not be found anywhere and the Government officers said they had got through with him.

The National Executive Committee of the Union League held a meeting here to-day, and adopted measures to aid their cause in Texas and Mississippi. It will meet next month in Philadelphia.

Howard, the alledged accomplice of Reddy, the blacksmith, in the robbery of the Ocean National Bank, was to-day sentenced to prison for five years.

The injunction against the Memphis and El Paso Railroad was dissolved to-day.

The officers of the army and navy of the Gulf, headed by Admiral Farragut, left for Long Branch to-day, where they will enjoy a banquet this evening.

The Harvard Boat Crew have been the recipients of many attentions to-day from the Boat Clubs of this city. They leave on Saturday.

FOREIGN.

BALTIMORE, July 8.—Up to Wednesday noon the Great Eastern had run 1639 knots from this port, and payed out 1840 knots of cable. The heavy sea was going down. The signals continue good.

MADRID, July 8.—There are fresh complications in regard to the ministry, and is likely that the whole cabinet will resign.

LONDON, July 8.—The Times of this morning has an article on the Irish Church bill. It says this bill must become a law this session. Parliament must destroy Protestant supremacy and establish religious equality in Ireland, but not attempt to set up a multiplicity of establishments. If the ecclesiastical property of Ireland is to be put on a permanent footing, we must recognize these facts and apply so much of the surplus as may be necessary to supply homesteads for the ministers of the whole people.

Lord Carrington was up to-day before the Police Court on the charges of assault and provoking Messrs. Granville and Murray to fight a duel. The troubles between these gentlemen arose from certain articles said to have been written by Murray. After the trial Lord Carrington was bound over to keep the peace and held to trial on the second count. After these proceedings a disgraceful and remarkable scene occurred in the Court room. The partizans of Murray, who were present in great force, attempted to seize a box of papers which had been stolen. In the melee which ensued blows were freely given, and the Magistrate's table was overthrown. Twelve policemen were called in, who separated the combatants and restored order.

More About the New Orleans Customhouse Frauds.

ST. LOUIS, July 8.—Information has been filed by the United States District Attorney against about $60,000 worth of coffee, pepper and cigars in the hands of thirty merchants of this city, alleged to have been fraudulently removed from bond in New Orleans last March. The case will come up for hearing at the next term of the Court. The parties here, in whose possession these goods were found, are entirely innocent of any complicity in the fraud, they having received them in the regular course of trade.

NASHVILLE.

Another Appointee of Gov. Senter Enjoined, etc., etc.

NASHVILLE, July 8.—Gov. Senter recently removed the Registrar of Knox county and appointed G. W. Weaver in his stead. Chancellor Temple has enjoined Weaver from serving.

The motion to dissolve the injunction and dismiss Receiver Bass, so as to restore the late city authorities, was further argued before Chancellor East to-day. The argument has not yet closed.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

—Dore went out in his working costume, which is a blouse, to see the Paris riots. Feeling some one touch his pocket, he found in it a five-franc piece. On the strength of his looks and his costume, some one had paid him to fight—which he didn't.

—Mr. Grant, in four months, has had two Secretaries of State, two of War, two of the Treasury, and two of the Navy. At this rate, there is danger that any incompetent and unknown Radical may be snapped up at the shortest notice and injured for life.

—Miss Florence Rice, a Brooklyn contralto, is studying on the Continent. Her voice, which promised much here, realizes much there, yet she has wisely determined to study two years more before making her debut.

—Two blind people in Iowa heard a harper harping with his harp on the opposite side of the street, recognized him by his touch of the instrument, crossed over and shook hands with him. The three, all blind, were old friends who had not met before for years.

—Five English gentlemen have decided to make in September next a complete tour on the coast of England, Scotland and Wales, on bicycles; and one of them has undertaken to perform on one day of the journey 100 miles on his velocipe for a wager of as many sovereigns.

—Mme de Brissac nee plain Mlle. Say is a Parisian beauty who knows how to dress. Recently, in commenting on her attire, one of the F. F. P.'s said: "'Tis very superb, but it has a speck of tallow on it." "Better a stain of grease than of blood," said Madam. Her critic's fourth grandfather had helped murder the Duke of Guise.

—The Madison (Ind.) Courier says: "Miss Della Webster, who some years ago gained considerable notoriety in this region by being sent to the Kentucky penitentiary for running off negro slaves, is now in Louisville, looking after her interests in a suit she has brought in the United States Court against a party of men who, during the war, raided her premises, tore down her fences and destroyed some of her property."

—Hints are given of the dramatic and musical treats in store for New York next season. The officers of the Academy of Music say that the house is positively engaged by Mr. Mapleson, and that both Mlle. Tittens and Santley are to be in the visiting party. Agents are also after Mr. Sims Reeves, Listz, Gottschalk, Mlle. Luca and the female orchestra now performing in Germany. Mr. Strakosch's errand in Europe is understood to be to entrap and bring back Mlle. Carlotta Pattie. Mr. Lester Wallack will import a company in the fall, and Fechter is to be brought out by Mr. Tayleure.

—The Russian Princess Suwaroff is the greatest female gambler in Europe. She makes the tour of the various gambling resorts, going from Baden to Monaco, and spending all her time at the tables. She is still young, but has been married three times, and is now separated from her last husband. Sometimes she wins largely and at other times loses very heavily, but plays incessantly and is still very rich. She is superstitious about her luck, and sometimes holds her face in a particular position to attract good fortune. At other times she is careful to ask unlucky persons to leave the table, and those whom she regards as lucky to stand by her side while she plays.

—The ice factory at New Orleans, situated in one of the elevators, is a great success. It consists of six retorts of a chemical freezing mixture. From these six retorts six pipes descend to six huge chests, which chests in turn radiate severally off into four compartments. In each compartment are long, thin, tin cases, serpt on one side and tight on the other. This making by all the rules of arithmetic a total of fifty-six cases in a box, and there being four boxes to a chest, and six chests to a factory, it follows that at full blast this Southern ice factory can turn out 1344 cakes of ice, eighteen inches long, twelve broad and two thick, at the completion of each process. The ice is much colder than that frozen naturally and lasts much longer. The factory is a joint stock enterprise, and the property is exceedingly lucrative.

From Notre Dame, Indiana

ST. MARY'S, IND., July 2, 1869.

Editors Appeal: Please publish the following in reference to this school, taken from the Chicago Tribune, every word of which I heartily, and of my own knowledge, endorse:

MRS. M. A.

St. Mary's Female Academy held its annual exercises on the 24th, the day following Notre Dame, and for which occasion many of the visitors of the day before remained to witness the exercises of the latter institution. The young ladies who have been under the guidance of the talented and faithful Mother Superior, M. Angelo, who marks each year with substantial progress, made a very fine appearance. For the scholastic year just closed, Mother Angelo notes in the full tide of success the establishment of a school of design, which was very generally remarked by visitors as being an honor to the West. The instruction is given by a lady teacher who is not a member of the order which governs the school, and who is paid an exceedingly liberal salary. The first instruction is from blocks of cubes, squares, angles and rounds, placed in every conceivable form and shape, that the student may cultivate correct ideas of perspective; then follows drawing from plaster casts of hands, feet, face, busts, etc. When proficient in these, comes drawing from nature, of which the magnificent and picturesque scenery of St. Mary's, with its artistic cultivated scenery as an adjunct, affords ample scope; and in one of the parlors were displayed many pieces of rare excellence, but want of space forbids a more extended notice.

Another of the superior branches is that of vocal and instrumental music, the first being under the direction of Miss Smythe, upon whom was bestowed the best musical education afforded in England, Switzerland and Germany, receiving the finishing touches under Signor Blanchard and Senora Corrilli. In the musical department were 185 pupils, many of whom gave evidence of their superior training.

Another branch upon which the institution prides itself is that art known to a few ladies of the present day—the art of domestic economy—which they denominate the crowning department of the institution. Five of the graduates received premiums for excellence in this department, consisting of beautiful pointed cases of pins and needles brought from the Old World by Rev. E. Sorin, Superior General of the order. In each of the cases was written the name of the recipient, together with appropriate mottoes, from the Proverbs: "She has made for herself clothing of tapestry; fine linen and purple are her clothing." "Give her the fruits of her hands, and let her works praise her in the gates."
