Weather, Rivers and Business.

Yesterday was clear and cold. The sunny side of the street was sought for by pedestrians, while overcoats and wraps were worn by almost everybody. The river declined one inch, and now stands thirty-two feet four inches above low-water mark. A rise may be expected in a few days, though we do not believe it will amount to much. At Cairo the swell was nine inches, at St. Louis two inches, with a decline at all other points. Business was only moderate, in fact dull for Saturday.

Movements of Boats.

The St. Francis went out with a fair trip. The Mary Boyd lays over until Monday afternoon. The Bannock City and City of Augusta were attached by the sheriff yesterday on account of the McLean tax-collector surety business. In another column will be found the advertisement of the good steamer Quickstep, with Captain Billy Ashford in command, and Milt Harry as clerk. She will leave Tuesday for all points on White and Little Red rivers without fail. As both gentlemen are well known and very popular with shippers and travelers, they cannot fail to do well. The St. Genevieve, from St. Louis, arrived near noon, put off 150 barrels of flour, 500 barrels of meal, 52 head of stock, added 50 tons way freight, leaving for Vicksburg at dark with a 600-ton cargo. The City of Quincy, for New Orleans, passed south during the afternoon, deeply laden, and did nothing here. The Belle Lee, for New Orleans, cleared after dark with 3300 bales of cotton. The John Kilgour, for New Orleans, passed down after dark with a good trip of freight and passengers. The Ben Franklin took out 3000 bales of cotton for the Ohio river. The St. Francis, from Wittsburg, had 114 bales of cotton and 400 sacks of cotton-seed. The J. N. Kellogg arrived from above, with a tow of ice for this city. The Pat Rogers, from Cincinnati, came in with 350 tons of western produce for this city. The Grand Tower, from St. Louis, arrived before daylight, with the following items: 135 sacks of bran, 130 sacks oats, 239 sacks corn, 270 kegs beer, 62 casks bacon, 420 packages lard, 46 bales cotton, 353 barrels of flour, and 525 barrels of meal; she went back with 250 bales of cotton and 250 barrels potatoes. It is rumored that the Belle Lee will lay up for the balance of the season on her arrival at New Orleans. The telegraph informs us there were no arrivals at New Orleans yesterday. Boatmen can congratulate themselves on knowing that Memphis is not much behind other cities on account of dull times and lack of business.

Boats to Leave.

The City of Helena, Capt. McKee, will leave at ten o'clock this morning for Cairo, St. Louis and all points this side. Mr. George O. Walton is her clerk. The Robert Mitchell will leave this afternoon at five o'clock for New Orleans and way points. Capt. DeSouchet commands, Charley Schultz, a clever gentleman, presides in the office.

The good steamer Glencoe, with Captain T. S. Calhoun commanding, will leave this afternoon for New Orleans, at five o'clock.

Local News Drift.

In our local columns will be found the particulars of a law suit instituted by lost-owners of this city, against Dean & Wayne, of Cincinnati.....The remains of Mrs. Ostrander and Pilot Murphy were shipped on the Grand Tower to St. Louis yesterday; those of a cabin-boy to Cairo. By a dispatch we learn that the remains of Captain Dawson were recovered yesterday; all victims of the Crescent City disaster.....But two hay-boats, a barge and a bran-boat remain at the flatboat landing; the latter arrived a day or two ago from Potoka, Indiana, and belongs to Eckhart.....Joe Spears, the popular clerk of the Belle Lee, lies over here for a day or two.

Clippings.

The New Orleans Picayune of the twenty-seventh says: "Business about the landing yesterday was disgustingly dull, the few departures including not a single large trip among them. Were it not for the many boats in port, one might be tempted to think that 'fly-time' had come again. It is, indeed, most trying to see such inactivity at this season of the year, when there is ordinarily so much doing in shipments. Surely, some change for the better must take place before summer, for it cannot be that business is entirely wound up for the season.".....The Knoxville Herald says: "The recent rains have caused a considerable rise in the Holston. At ten o'clock last night a rise of the full nine feet was noted, with the river still rising rapidly. The waters, however, are coming up gradually, and no fears of a freshet in the Holston are entertained. The side will enable boats from the French Broad to bring down the remaining produce of that locality.".....A Texas correspondent of the Baltimore American gives some items about Captain King, who was formerly a steamboat captain, but settled in Texas, and turned his attention to cattle-grazing long before the war. His is regarded as the greatest of all the cattle-ranches in Southern Texas, and is located about thirty-eight miles southwest of Corpus Christi or Santa Gertrude's creek. Captain King has an inclosed pasture of twenty thousand acres, though he owns about one hundred and fifty thousand acres of land in Nueces and Duval counties. The entire stock held by him at the present time is fifty thousand head of cattle, twenty thousand head of sheep, and ten thousand head of horses.....The Sioux City Journal of Tuesday says: "An immense gorge is reported in the river at Bon Homme island, and the water was extremely low at Yankton yesterday morning in consequence. The country is said to be flooded in the vicinity of the gorge, and it is thought that a new channel will be cut."..... From the St. Louis Globe we learn that the Susie Silver had a narrow escape from burning on Wednesday night. She caught fire in the captain's room from a stove-pipe that passes through it. Captain Silver had a lot of clothing hanging against the bulkhead, which took fire and communicated to the boat. The watchman, luckily, was on the hurricane deck, and discovered it in time to prevent a disastrous fire. The loss to the boat was trifling, but Captain Dave's Sunday suit took the new chute, that is, it was 'cremated.'".....The Vicksburg Herald, of the twenty-sixth, gives the following description of how matters stands at that point: "The damp district is still widening and the river very gradually but very steadily extending its limits until there is very little levee room left, and if Captain Wilkerson should have a great deal of cotton for the Bad Rob Lee to-morrow he would scarcely know where to put it, unless he stowed it away in the wharfboat. The approaches to the ferry landing have narrowed down to one street, the same being accessible from any other direction only by boat. Steamers landing below the wharfboat boldly throw their stage-plank on the sidewalk and roll their freight right into the stores. The elevator folk all stay up stairs, and will not have any business to call them to either the first or second floor for the present. The water is 'kinder' high all round."

FINANCE AND TRADE.

THE FINANCIAL POSITION is still one of masterly inactivity—that it is inactive we know from the impossibility of discovering any material on which to found a money report; that it is masterly we presume from its persistence. Exchange was in good supply on the whole, but was distributed very unequally. Rates remain at par buying on New York and ¼ premium selling; par on Boston and other eastern cities; ¼ discount on New Orleans. In stocks or bonds not a thing could be heard of. For gold the brokers were paying 111@111¼. The Nashville Union of Friday reports: "Tennessee bonds are quiet and unchanged, closing in New York at 69 and 90½. We hear of no transactions in them here, but suppose they may be quoted at 69½ and 90. The past-due coupons are worth about 70. Comptroller's warrants are very scarce, with none on the market. They may be quoted at 97 buying and 98 selling.

THE COTTON MARKET was quiet yesterday. There was a fair inquiry, but buyers and sellers were apart; the former thinking the latter nearly 1c too high. It was Saturday, however, and there was a good deal of shipping to do, while the telegrams had nothing in them to stimulate business. The bulls of the New York market had taken advantage of the action of congress on the inflation of the currency to rush up prices the day before, but some reaction threw a flat feeling into the market. The following prices, from actual sales, were reported to us: Ordinary, 10@10½c; strict ordinary, 11½c; strict good ordinary, 14½c; strict good ordinary to low middling, 14½c; low middling, 15c; strict low middling, 15½c. New York telegraphed a dull and easier market at 16½c; New Orleans was quiet and easy at 16¾c, and sales of 2000 bales; Liverpool was dull; sales of 10,000 bales at 8@8¼d. The following were the closing prices: Savannah, 16½c; Mobile, 16c; Charleston, 16c; Galveston, 17c; Memphis, 15½c. The following are the official figures of the Cotton Exchange:

Inferior to low ordinary	6—9
Ordinary	10½@11½
Good ordinary	12½@14—
Low middling	14¾@15¾
Middling	15¾@16—
Strict middling	16½@—
Good middling	17—@—

Market strong; offerings light; demand chiefly for medium grades. Sales 1100 bales, of which exporters took 300 and spinners 800 bales. Receipts at the ports for one day, 9,781 bales, against 8,506 last week, and 6,549 same time last year.

THE GENERAL MARKET showed no animation, notwithstanding the arrival of boats from above, because there were next to no arrivals of wanted articles. Corn was higher, for the arrivals were limited to a lot of 234 sacks, which sold at 77c, 78c was offered afterward; no oats or bran came in, nor were there any transactions. Cornmeal was irregular; the principal dealer was selling at $3 45, but others were holding out of the market for $3 55 and $3 60. Potatoes have lost their importance and prices are anything but satisfactory to dealers; peachblows sell at $2 75@2 90, according to quality and condition; russets and pinkeyes are nominal; we heard of a round lot of the latter that can be had at $2 10. Vegetables from New Orleans are in favor; we give some prices below. We can find no apples offering. Eggs are weaker at 13@14c; lots offering at 12½c; arrivals were 150 boxes, which "swamped" the market; 12c is expected to be the rate in the course of a week. Poultry is scarce; no ducks, no geese, nor turkeys. Chickens are in demand, but so scarce that mixed brought $5 50 and all hens $6. Butter retains its quotation but the state of the western markets indicates lower prices at any early date. Bacon and the other articles of the hog product remain unchanged, but in consequence of advance in the first markets rates are very stiff with an upward look. The following quotations are from the St. Louis Democrat, of Friday: "Cornmeal $2 20@2 30 city mills delivered. Eggs plenty and slow at 10@10½c. Butter lower and tending down. Receipts increasing and stocks accumulating; buyers operating from hand to mouth, and take only a current day's supply—won't carry any stock. We quote fall prices to-day: Roll, good to choice northern, 32 to 36c; near-by make, 28 to 32c; packed, common to fair, 20 to 28c; good to prime, 29 to 32c; choice dairy and extra selections, 35 to 36@37c; some old stock (for baker's use) sold yesterday and to-day at 16@18c. Potatoes are firmer, and prices more in sellers' favor; demand better; sales, 130 bbls small seed early rose at $3 90, delivered, 100 bbls choice do., in store, at $4 25, half car do. at $1 45 per bushel, delivered, 1 car peachblows, in sacks, at $1 38, delivered, 1 car do. at $1 37½, delivered—all eastern; river lots—200 bbls peachblows at $3 25, 93 sacks do. at $1 34 per bushel, 100 bbls russet at $2 85, 50 do. at $2 75, 50 pinkeye at $2 15, 16 peerless at $2 80, delivered; also 36 rose at $4, delivered. Sales of chickens at $2 for cocks, $2 25@2 50 for mixed, and $2 75@3 for hens—only extra lots at the upper figure."

Quotations are for round lots, unless otherwise expressed; and for feed and produce, levee rates. For small purchases and orders, rates are proportionately higher.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE

GREAT INDUCEMENTS

OFFERED TO

Capitalists and Cotton Manufacturers.

WE, the undersigned, a committee appointed by the Board of Directors of the North Mississippi Cotton and Woolen Manufacturing Company will, on the

First Monday in April Next, on the premises, offer for sale, at public auction, the entire property of said company, embracing between three and four acres of ground, immediately on the Y, and at the crossing of the Memphis and Charleston and Mobile and Ohio railroads, and near the center of the city of Corinth, Mississippi, on which is erected a main factory brick building, about 56 by 184 feet, three stories high, with boiler-room and stack attached, all built in a workmanlike and substantial manner, with best English tin roof. Also, on said lot, is a warehouse and office-rooms immediately on the switches of both roads, and between said buildings is an artesian well of good water, together with the charter and all the real and personal property belonging to said company. Said property cost the company about $60,000.

The whole will be sold together, and on the following terms, viz.: $2500 cash, and balance on ten years credit, the purchaser to give bonds of such denominations as the Board of Directors may desire, drawing 8 per cent. interest per annum, with coupons attached, payable semi-annually, said bonds to be secured by a deed of trust on the property sold, and also on all buildings erected thereon, and machinery used upon said lot for manufacturing purposes.

Corinth is one of the most healthy and prosperous towns in the State, containing about 3000 population, built up entirely since the war, and in a fine cotton growing country, having a trade of 8000 or 10,000 bales annually, which will be doubled when the railroads terminating there, and now in process of construction, are completed.

Chancery Sale of Valuable Real Estate,

—ON—

Saturday, April 11th, 1874.

In the Second Chancery Court of Shelby county, Tennessee.

No. 3213—Samuel J. Langford et al. vs. Dennis Allirez et al.

BY virtue of an order of sale made in this cause, I will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, in front of the Clerk and Master's office, of the Second Chancery Court of Shelby county, Tennessee, Greenlaw Opera-house, Second street, city of Memphis, Tenn., on Saturday, April 11, 1874,

Within legal hours, the following-described real estate, to-wit:

1st—A certain lot, lying and being in the county of Shelby and State of Tennessee, and in the city of Memphis, on Winchester street, being part of lot No. 190, beginning at the southeast corner of said lot No. 190; running thence west with said lot and on Winchester street 31 feet; thence north 203½ feet to the wall of a brick kitchen standing on said lot, No. 190, formerly owned by Lewis Trezevant; thence east with the wall of said kitchen about 13 2-12 feet to the southeast corner of said brick kitch
