JOHN H. NORTON.

A County Attorney Who Has Made Good Should Be Retained.

Mr. Norton is making this campaign on the proposition that he has made good. His opponent is asking for votes on the plea that he came within five votes of winning last time. He is careful to conceal the fact that he demanded a re-count, and that it was then found that in one precinct in Duluth, twenty-five Norton votes had been counted for Adams, and ten Norton votes had not been counted at all. This made a change of sixty votes in Norton's favor. The re-count was never finished, and no one knows what Norton's majority actually was.

Mr. Norton's record of trials is second to none in Minnesota. According to his promise, he has been a prosecutor and not a persecutor. Old criminals have been tried vigorously and successfully, but first offenders have been dealt with mercifully. Young men who might have become criminals have been made into good citizens. Mr. Norton would rather make a man than a criminal any day in the week.

Mr. Norton is a member of organized labor, being a charter member of "L. T. P. A." He believes that the man who works is as good as the richest financier.

He now asks the support of all voters who believe in a fair and impartial administration of this office. Remember, you are taking no chances; the man who has made good in the past will make good in the future.

GEO. H. SCHULENBURG.

That he is a "Do-it-for-Duluth" man twenty-four hours in every day is one of the campaign arguments being used by George H. Schulenburg, the well known East End grocer, in his race for the county commission in the Second District of St. Louis county.

It is an argument that is getting him lots of votes, too, in view of the present agitation for the priority of Duluth-made goods first, last and all the time. Mr. Schulenburg, referring to an editorial in last week's Labor World, charging lack of Duluth spirit up to certain local wholesale firms, declares that he at all times in his grocery business gives the preference to Duluth-made goods, whether it be brooms, matches, cigars or other household necessities that are called for.

Many other grocers of the city would do well to imitate Candidate Schulenburg.

BLANCHE DOUGLASS.

Leading Woman of Pierce's Associate Players, at the Lyceum Week of August 12nd.

AT THE THEATERS.

The attraction at the Lyceum theater beginning Monday evening, August 22, will be H. E. Pierce & Co.'s associate players in Edwin Milton Royle's famous play, "The Squaw Man." This company, which for the past eight weeks has been touring the copper country with wonderful success, is headed by Wm. Jossey, one of the best known stock leading men in the country, and Miss Blanche Douglas, an exceptionally capable leading woman who most recently has been appearing with Willard Mack in Salt Lake City. The original production will be used in its entirety and H. E. Pierce & Co. have engaged an excellent cast to support Mr. Jossey and Miss Douglas. Matinees will be Wednesday and Saturday and there will be no advance in the scale of prices.

Mrs. Fiske's Memory's Good.

Mrs. Fiske, one of America's most distinguished actresses who will be seen in "Becky Sharp" and "Pillars of Society" at the Lyceum this Saturday matinee and night, is the possessor of a remarkable memory; as has often been proven on her many important first nights in New York city. On these occasions she has never failed to be letter-perfect in her part. A remarkable proof of her faculty of remembering came to light a few weeks ago.

A stenographer in a hotel in Kansas City heard the remark that Mrs. Fiske would soon appear there in "Becky Sharp." "Oh," she exclaimed, "I do hope she sends for me again." She then recited the following incident:

A large correspondence awaited Mrs. Fiske's attention on her arrival in Kansas City on a former tour, and she sent for the stenographer in question. The young lady related that Mrs. Fiske's dictation was the most rapid it had ever been her experience to take. After an hour's work, Mrs. Fiske asked the stenographer to "read back" the letters. As able as the young woman was, she admitted that she found herself embarrassed by her inability to read her own notes, the dictation had been so fast. Mrs. Fiske noticed this and tactfully requested the young lady to "follow her." She then took each letter by letter, and without hesitancy repeated without variation each one as she had originally dictated it. The young woman declared that it was the most remarkable feat of memory she had ever witnessed.

Jess Harris, the inimitable "Skivvers" in "The Flower of the Ranch," which is to be the attraction at the Lyceum August 28, is considered one of the best eccentric dancers on the American stage, and his work is one of the many pleasant features of a splendid performance.

TO THE BOYS

I want all the boys of this county from 7 years upward to get interested in my campaign for Probate Judge. I want them to look me up and get acquainted. I like boys and have friends among them. The Judge of the Juvenile Court has a beautiful work to do, but how much more beautiful and sacred is the work of the Probate Court, which looks after the widows, orphans, insane, and the guardians and wards. You may be in one of these classes any day, so this is your business. Of course, you cannot vote this year, but if I should continue to be a candidate for fourteen or sixteen years like the present Judge of Probate, you will be able to vote for me later. But I am asking for the office for only two years now. You know we have an election every two years for this office. It's the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States who is chosen for life, and there is a vacancy there now. I wonder if some Duluth jurist couldn't land it.

Please boys, look me up, and if you think I am the right man, or even the best man for the office come in and get some cards to distribute. Above all, boys, be honest. Sincerely your friend,

J. H. WHITELEY,
First National Bank Bldg., Duluth.

FATHERLAND HEADS LIST FOR STRIKES

BERLIN, Aug. 19.—According to statistics just published in the German Imperial Labor Gazette, Germany leads in the number of strikes. From the figures given it would seem that the German workmen are usually far from satisfied. According to the figures, there were 1,347 strikes in Germany in 1908 alone, against 399 in England, France and Austria, respectively, 1,073 and 721. Germany, too, had far more strikes than any other country in Europe in 1909.

Of 1,419 Germany strikes for higher wages, 255 were successful, 488 partly so, and 676 failed. The German trade unions disbursed on account of strikes in 1907 the sum of $3,600,000, or 13 per cent of their total expenditures for all purposes; while the British unions in the same period paid out only $665,000 for strikes, or 4 1/2 per cent of their aggregate expenditures. The British unions devoted 66 per cent of their strike outlay to the support of idle strikers, against 29 per cent devoted to the same purpose in Germany. The discrepancy is due to the fact that the German workmen's insurance system relieved the trade unions of many burdens which the unions in England have to bear.

SHIPBUILDERS' STRIKE SPREADS IN GERMANY

BREMEN, Aug. 19.—The shipbuilding trouble which is spreading through Germany has reached this port.

It was decided a few days ago by the employers to lock out men in several places and the employers of the Weser shipyards here, in accordance with that decision have locked out 5,000 men.

The strike, which originated at Hamburg, spread rapidly, the trouble reaching Kiel, Stettin, Bremen, Lubeck, Danzig and other places. The employers decided to lock out 60 per cent of the men until the Hamburg strike was settled, and it is expected that the employers will retaliate by declaring a general strike. About 50,000 persons will be affected.

The men here decided to call a strike, which commenced today.

IT'S POLICEMAN NOW.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 19.—The office of "police woman," which was created by a recent ordinance, will be filled at once by the police commission. Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells, formerly of Chicago, whose earnest and persistent work, backed by ministers and clubwomen of Los Angeles, caused the creation of the office, will receive the appointment. She will be the first woman to hold a position of this kind in southern California.

WILL DISCUSS GENERAL STRIKE OF SEAMEN AT DANISH CONFERENCE

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Aug. 19.—Whether the first great international strike and the consequent paralysis of commerce, largely on oceans and waterways of all countries, will occur in the near future is a grave problem that will come up for consideration at the world's conference of transport workers in this city, which begins August 23.

The seafaring men are preparing to make world-wide demands for recognition of their organizations, a minimum wage, regulation of hours on duty, and the adjustment of many minor grievances that the men complain of at all ports as condemning them to lead the lives of slaves.

Delegates from the English-speaking nations will take the lead in discussing the general strike subject. J. Havelock Wilson, M. P. who is president of the British Seamen's Federation, is said to be the chief advocate of the plan to have the water transport workers in all countries make uniform demands at the same time, and the delegates from Australia, United States and Canada are counted to stand with him.

Wilson was in this country last fall consulting the labor officials and assisting to rally the seamen on strike against the United States Steel corporation on the great lakes. While in America Wilson was nominated for parliament, but refused to abandon or postpone his mission and return home to fight for election. But he was one of the laborites who entered the new parliament by an increased majority just the same.

The sailors in Germany and other continental countries are inclined to be slow to plunge into a world's struggle, while the position of the South Americans is not known. Meanwhile, the employers are forming a powerful federation embracing shipping interests of all nations, and sooner or later the clash will come.

CHAS. L. RAKOWSKY.

I heroby respectfully announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination of County Auditor at the primaries September 20, 1910, and promise, if elected, to faithfully fulfill the duties of the office fairly and impartially according to law. Your vote and influence will be heartily appreciated.

Respectfully yours,
C. L. RAKOWSKY.

hands has rested the planning of the day's intellectual and physical amusements, is as follows: P. G. Phillips, William Perry and J. H. Powers.

On the Sunday prior to Labor day sermons dwelling on labor topics will be delivered from many Duluth pulpits, the pastors of several churches having declared themselves in hearty co-operation with organized labor in its uplifting and strengthening of the lives of those who, by man-made circumstance, are compelled to earn their bread and that of their families by the sweat of their brow.

BEST MEAT AT LIVING PRICE IS MOTTO OF THIS MARKET

In these days of exalted prices of living commodities there is no problem which confronts the careful housekeeper so difficult to solve as that regarding the best place to buy the family meats and fish.

Good meats and good fish are, sad to say, a rarity even in some of the most fashionable meat markets and the high price of a cut often belies its quality.

This is not the case at the market of the Duluth Provision company, located at 17 First avenue west, for E. P. Lee, the able manager of the establishment, at all times insists that every ounce of provisions sold over the firm's counters shall be strictly fresh and of the highest quality. To this fact alone is due the large and constantly increasing patronage which the Duluth Provision company enjoys at the hands of the housekeepers of Duluth. "I can send my little girl to that store and feel perfectly sure that she will get as good treatment as if I were to go myself," said one Third street woman referring to the Duluth Provision company and many others can testify that she spoke the truth.

"Always the best and that at fair prices" is the firm's motto, and they mean it.

Judge J. B. Middlecoff is a candidate for re-nomination for the office of probate judge, and asks the voters of St. Louis county for their votes and support at the primaries September 20. He is a lawyer of ability and has given the office the benefits of his experience as a practitioner, and has made an excellent official. He was an active member of the committee of five appointed to draft the present probate code of this state and is president of the Association of Probate Judges of the State of Minnesota. His office is up to date in every detail, and his system cannot be improved. For promptness, accuracy and courteous treatment the voters would look a long time to find his equal, and the large majorities which he has always received have been a recognition by the voters of their faith in his integrity as an officer, and it is but a fair omen of his success at the coming primaries in September.
