PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

WORK on the Memphis, Vicksburg and New Orleans railroad is being rushed ahead rapidly, and the contractors expect to have the road running to Clarksdale from Memphis in time for the first of the next cotton crop. It is expected that the 20 miles from Helena, on the Mobile and Northwestern Narrow-Gauge.

DR. W. B. PEUTES, supervising surgeon of the Iron Mountain railroad, will go to Texas this week to establish hospitals for the employes of the International and Great Northern and the Texas and Pacific railroads. The hospitals will be operated and supported on the same plan as the Employes' Hospital of the Iron Mountain.

THE New Orleans Times-Democrat says: "As doubt has seemed control of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia road, the impression is universal that a vast amount of Western and Southwestern traffic will run through from this city to New York. Such an event is bound to occur sooner or later, and it appears now that the time is ripe. A limited train to New York will benefit New Orleans for the reason that it will double the travel between this city and the great metropolis."

THE New York World says: "The best news of transportation from vegetables and fruits from southern localities to Northern markets for new and still in its infancy. Until recently railroad freight was regarded the traffic as insignificant and unworthy of attention. Anything profitable was taken with reluctance and was unsatisfactorily handled. It is different now. Refrigerator and ventilated freight cars are seen on every road, and southern railroads are finding a large and lucrative business in perishable freight. The Mobile and Ohio last year received $500,000 from the carriage of vegetables only, and the general freight agent of the Savannah, Florida and Western estimates that 40,000 carloads of watermelons will be produced this summer along the line of that road alone. The aggregate shipments of the entire South must be enormous."

Pennsylvania Semi-Annual Dividends.

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—The Board of Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company this afternoon decided to declare a semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent. in cash, 2 per cent. in scrip or in cash at the option of the stockholders, and 5 per cent. in stock. The latter provision gives stockholders the privilege of subscribing to stock at par in the proportion of 25 per cent. of their holdings.

St. Louis Cotton Sales to New York.

ST. LOUIS, May 1.—A dinner was given to Jay Gould last night, and was tendered by several prominent members of the Cotton Exchange, who embraced the occasion to explain to Mr. Gould that the cotton rate from St. Louis to New York was much too high, compared with those from Memphis, New Orleans and Galveston, and invoked his aid to effect a reduction. Mr. Gould said to have recognized the force and justice of the argument presented, and promised to give the matter careful consideration.

Jay Gould on a Tour of Inspection.

ST. LOUIS, May 1.—Jay Gould and party left for an inspection of the Iron Mountain railroad and Southwestern system to-day in a special train of five official cars. The party is substantially the same as left New York. Information was refused as to the route, but the cars are provisioned for five days. A trip into Mexico over the International is possible. Gould's decoration was taken in the case of Nelson vs. the Missouri Pacific railroad, in the instance of the plaintiff in the office of the general attorney of the Gould system. The matter at issue is the construction of the Poplar street connecting track, but the examination took wide range. Gould was on the stand near two hours.
