The Georgia Pacific.

The St. Louis Railway Register says the first mortgage bonds of the Georgia Pacific, recently placed on the market, have all been sold. It is the road, projected by Gen. Gordon, of Georgia, and sold by him and associates to the present company, design it to extend from Atlanta, Ga., to Greenville on the Mississippi, a distance of 348 miles. Of this 218 miles is laid, 31 miles are graded, and the remainder mostly under contract. The road runs through the coal and iron region of Alabama and Georgia and the uplands of Mississippi. It is intended to extend the road across southern Arkansas to Texarkana, where it will meet the Gould southwest system. The company is controlled by the Richmond and Danville Extension Company, which, in turn, is owned by the Richmond and West Point Terminal Company, which also controls the Richmond and Danville railroad system. The latter extends from Alexandria, on the Potomac, through Richmond to Atlanta, and the Georgia Pacific will supply a direct connection between it and the Texas Pacific.

New Railroad Project in Arkansas.

The New Orleans Picayune says: "As is well known, we now control the Ouachita river trade up as far as Camden, the head of navigation. The people of that enterprising little Arkansas city have developed a new railroad project—the construction of a line from Camden through the counties of Ouachita and Nevada to the Hempstead county town of Prescott, thence to Washington in Hempstead county, thence through Mineral springs in Howard county, and thence to Lockesburg, in Sevier county, to Ultima Thule on the Choctaw line on the border of the Indian Territory. This line will become a feeder to the Ouachita river, which is navigable 6 months in the year, and sometimes 9 months. It will also connect at Camden with the Little Rock, Mississippi River and Texas railroad, now completed from Arkansas City to Warren, leaving at present a gap of about 50 miles yet to be built between Warren and Camden, most of which is graded. The country to be opened up by this branch road is very fertile, not excelled in its productive capacity by any part of that fertile and productive State. By means of this line much trade of this entire section can be diverted to New Orleans, whereas it is now going to St. Louis by way of the Iron Mountain railroad. A charter for this road has been obtained, it is called the Ouachita and Camden railroad. The charter is issued under the authority of the state of Arkansas. Some preliminary work in the way of surveying has been done already. It is proposed now to complete the surveys, formulate estimates of construction, etc., so as to enable the projectors to lay the matter before capitalists, and then obtain the necessary means to build the road. The Hon. T. C. McRae, of Prescott; Judge M. F. Carrington, of Washington, and Dr. J. W. Brown, of Camden, are in New Orleans to represent the originators of this enterprise, and desire the co-operation of our merchants in their behalf. They regard New Orleans as vitally interested in this improvement, and consider that the small quota of a few thousand dollars necessary to put the matter in shape, would be an investment that would bring a thousand-fold returns in the future. They are now in consultation with the Cotton Exchange. It is to be hoped that our merchants will carefully investigate the matter and give what aid is in their power toward so important an enterprise. The trifling sum asked is a mere bagatelle compared with the advantages to result to our people, and would be more than repaid by the shipments from a single county in one year."

SOLID SHOT AGAINST BLOOD POISON!

ATLANTA, GA., April 17, 1883.

In 1878 I was the victim of a terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head—spitting up clots of blood, and reduced in weight from 185 to 120 pounds. I then began the use of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC, and in less than three months I was entirely well, weighed 193, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Swift's Specific I believe I would have been in my grave.

JOHN V. BISHOP.

TRIED HOT SPRINGS TWO YEARS WITHOUT RELIEF!

Mercurial Rheumatism made me a cripple. After trying Hot Springs two years, and the Mercury and Potash treatment until I was a skeleton and unable to do anything, I was prevailed upon to take a course of S. S. S. After taking three bottles my appetite began to improve, and I gained flesh rapidly. When I had taken twelve bottles I felt as well as I ever did. It is now twelve months since I took S. S. S. My health and appetite are good, and I am able to attend to all the business I can get.
