WEEKLY REVIEW.

The past week's transactions at the banks show a very favorable condition of the Memphis money market as compared with last year, though there is a falling off in clearances as compared with the previous week. The New York Chronicle's tabular statement of the week's clearances of the various cities of the country shows that for last week nine cities indicate an increase of which Memphis is in the lead. Twenty cities, with New York leading, indicate decreases, as compared with the same week last year. Bankers have reported money in abundance and a very moderate demand all the week, but no change in rates of discounts for loans. The Clearinghouse statement for the week is appended, indicating the business of the week as compared with previous years:

	Last Week	Week Previous
Monday
Tuesday	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wednesday	[illegible]	[illegible]
Thursday	[illegible]	[illegible]
Friday	[illegible]	[illegible]
Saturday	[illegible]	[illegible]
Clearings for the week	$3,525,034 85	$2,921,207 32
Same week 1884	1,518,722 13	1,518,722 13
Same week 1883	2,000,000 00	2,000,000 00

In general trade business has been quite dull all the week owing to the scarcity of grain and meats and the difficulty of railway transportation. This was foreshadowed early in the week by developments reflecting seriously upon the management of the Kansas City railway concern by grain shipments to Memphis, which had been under consideration by a committee of the Merchants' Exchange appointed for the purpose. The local trade has been somewhat hindered by unfavorable weather. There has been some concern about the egg market, the week opening with an overstock and light demand. Fortunately other markets became hungry for eggs and put up prices that encouraged exports, by which the supply was worked down to a par with the demand. The provision market has been firm all the week with little or no fluctuations in prices.

The cotton market has encountered difficulties all the week—unsettled condition of the New York and Liverpool markets on account of the threatening relations between England and Russia, but there has prevailed an unshaken confidence here which caused factors to hold out against influences that otherwise would have caused declines and anxiety to sell. Of the influences governing in New York, the Commercial Bulletin says: "There has been a sharp decline in prices, due almost entirely to the apprehensions of an outbreak of hostilities between Great Britain and Russia, and their effect in Liverpool and Manchester, and upon the price of British consols. Last Saturday the markets moved increased strength, the effect of Gordon's reported rout, but there was a decided decline on Monday and a very sharp reduction on Wednesday. The interest of the planting season caused some effort to sustain the cotton crop, but it had no effect on Wednesday. The movement of the crop continued to show a reduction, but the deliveries at Liverpool, under the contracts continued very large, as was noted last week. Yesterday there was much excitement; a sharp decline was followed by some recovery; the day's business was of the character of a single day. At the opening of the Stock Exchange to-day there were a good many sales within a small fraction of Saturday's closing quotations, and many speculators who established the opening quotations a shade above those figures were thus aided in making a moderate gain upon some of the more active stocks. Transactions aggregated 158,000 shares as follows: 15,000 Lackawanna, 10,000 Lake Shore, 22,000 Northwestern, 7,000 New Jersey Central, 10,000 New York Central, 23,000 St. Paul, and 20,000 Union Pacific.
