PRESIDENT SEES KERN ABOUT PREPAREDNESS

Hears for First Time Views of a Congressional Leader From Middle West

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. — President Wilson, who conferred today with Senator Kern, of Indiana, on the military preparedness program, heard for the first time the views of a congressional leader from the Middle West on the question of the country's defenses. Today's conference will be one of a series, in which Mr. Wilson intends to sound out the sentiments of Senators and Representatives from all parts of the country as to the attitude of citizens generally toward his military policy.

Secretary Daniels took another step today in increasing the efficiency of the Navy by directing a rehabilitation of the office of naval intelligence. A new plan has been devised for collecting and coordinating the information picked up by the naval radio stations encircling the earth. The means of utilizing all of this information hitherto has not kept abreast of the marvelous developments of wireless in the Navy.

Funeral of S. W. Eakins

The funeral of Samuel W. Eakins, of the firm of Eakins & Hughes, will take place tomorrow from his late home, 4914 Osage avenue. Mr. Eakins died late Wednesday night at the University Hospital after an illness of several months. He is survived by a widow and two children.

OBITUARIES

MRS. EMILY K. BAER

Widow of George F. Baer and Well-Known Philanthropist

Mrs. Emily K. Baer, widow of George F. Baer, late president of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company, who had been living in seclusion since the death of her husband, died last night at her residence, Hawthorne, Reading, Pa., of heart trouble. She was 75 years old. The funeral will be held on Tuesday.

Mrs. Baer's five children were present when death came. They are Mrs. William N. Appel, of Lancaster; Mrs. William Griscom Coxe, of Wilmington; Mrs. Rollo Knapp, of Wisconsin; Mrs. Heber Smith and Mrs. Isaac Hiester, of Reading. Mrs. Baer was stricken a week ago, but it was not until yesterday that her condition really became serious.

Mrs. Baer was born in Somerset, Pa., and was married to Mr. Baer in 1866. She was actively identified with various charitable institutions and was widely known for her philanthropic work. Until the death of her husband she lived in this city, after which she returned to "Hawthorne," which he bequeathed to her in his will.

AMOS F. ENO

Great New York Landowner and Builder of Famous Hotel

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Amos F. Eno, one of the great New York landowners, died suddenly yesterday at his residence, 5th avenue. Seemingly in good health, he was at his office, 32 William street, on Wednesday.

Mr. Eno was 81 years old and a bachelor. He was the oldest of seven children of the late Amos R. Eno, and came of Puritan stock. His ancestors were among the early settlers of Connecticut. Only two of the seven survive—William F. Eno, of Washington, and Mrs. C. B. Wood, who lives in the old Eno mension at Simsbury, Conn.

Amos R. Eno built and owned the Fifth Avenue Hotel. He owned the Madison Square Theatre, the triangle at 42d street, 5th avenue and Broadway; the north end of the present Flatiron Building, at 23d street, Broadway and 5th avenue, and much other New York real estate.
