FOUR QUAKER CITY GOLFERS ADVANCE IN NATIONAL PLAY

Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Stetson and Misses Caverly and Campbell Win in First Round

MRS. HURD ELIMINATED

By SANDY McNIBLICK

BELMONT SPRING COUNTRY CLUB, Boston, Mass., Oct. 3.—Four Philadelphians came through with banners flying in the first round of the women's golf championship of the United States here today. Miss Mildred Caverly, Quaker City champion, played a sensational brand of golf against Miss Frances D. MacCarthy, Brookline, and won as she chose, 7 up and 5 to 90. She shot the first 5 holes in 19 strokes, 1 under fours and was 4 up, thinking to make about a 32 for the first 9. She began to keep score and had a 43. She was 5 up at the turn and came back in fives on every hole. Miss MacCarthy, who is one of the best of the Boston players, just could not get going and the scoring of Miss Caverly upset her, so that she early lost interest in what was going on.

Mrs. G. Henry Stetson, Huntingdon Valley, was figured to have the hardest match of the Quaker quintet when she met Mrs. John H. Lapham, champion of Texas; but Mrs. Stetson was on the top of her game. She took the first 3 holes in a row, and was 5 up at the turn.

Miss Ethel M. Campbell, Philadelphia Cricket Club, won a hard match from Miss Louise G. Whitherbee, and won 3 and 2. The biggest surprise of the tourney was the defeat of Mrs. G. V. Hurd, the medal winner, yesterday with an 86. Mrs. Hurd, who was Miss Dorothy Campbell, and won the British, American and Canadian championships twice each, lost to Mrs. Thomas Hucknalls, Forest Hills, who yesterday only got in the going with a 99.

Mrs. Hucknalls won on the last hole after a brilliant match, 2 up. Mrs. Hurd was all square at the turn when she had a 45 and Mrs. Hucknall had a 46. The home holes were decided on the greens and Mrs. Hurd had a 50 for a 95, which was not good enough to compare with Mrs. Hucknalls's 47.

Mrs. W. A. Gavin, qualist last year, a strong favorite for the title this year, was only 2 up on Miss Georgianna Bishop, a former champion of America. Miss Bishop stayed in the running by laying two stymies and chalked up another on the thirteenth. Mrs. Gavin tried to jump the stymie at the tenth, which was right on the lip of the cup, but the "cut" did not cut and she came close to knocking the other ball in the cup.

Miss Alexa Stirling, the other favorite and champion of the South, was only 2 up on Mrs. E. H. Baker, Jr., at the thirteenth hole. Mrs. Baker, playing on her home course, played a steady game and did not allow the Dixie girl many chances. Mrs. Baker was well known in Philadelphia golf circles some years ago as Miss Edith Noblist, and was a constant figure in tourneys there. Miss Marion Hollins, a former finalist and Metropolitan champion, was 2 down to Mrs. Lelia C. Stockton, the Metropolitan player, who has been doing sensational medal work in her district all season.

Mrs. Caleb Fox, a former finalist and star Philadelphian, ousted the "dark horse" of the tourney, Mrs G. M. Martin, Stoke Pogis, England, to the tune of 2 and 2 in a close finish. Mrs. G. Henry Stetson, also Huntingdon Valley, won from Mrs. Lapham, 6 and 5.

The golf of Miss Caverly, on the first five holes, completely took the life out of her opponent, Miss MacCarthy, and the count has never been equaled by a woman on the reversed teeing, and the card is produced herewith:

Miss Caverly—

Out	5	3	4	5	2	6	7	6	5	—43
In	5	5	5	5

Miss MacCarthy—

Out	5	4	5	6	4	6	7	6	6	—49
In	5	4	6	6

Mrs. G. Henry Stetson impressed the gathering greatly with her play. She was five up after the first five holes and after that idled along till the match ended on the thirteenth hole.

Miss Caverly is obliged to meet Mrs. F. C. Letts, western champion, tomorrow, and does not look forward to her chances with as much favor as do the critics after her golf today.

Mrs. Letts won from Mrs. Charles Rowley, Boston, 5 and 3.

Miss Laurie Kaiser, one of the best hopes of the West, won from Mrs. G. W. Roope, 3 and 2.

Miss Eleanor Allen, a fine player from the Boston district, was beaten on the home hole by Mrs. T. E. Forrest, Knollwood, 2 up.

Mrs. Leila Stockton caused an upset by winning from Miss Marion Hollins, 2 and 1.

Mrs. Stockton had an 84 as a medal score and this is the best card of any since the tourney began.

COACH ROBERTSON CALLS OUT PENN HILL AND DALE SQUAD

Candidates for the Pennsylvania cross-country team were called out today by Coach Lawson Robertson. Prospects for a winning hill and dale team are not very bright. The only men back from last year's team are Captain McMichael, Humphreys, Elsie and Leiberman. Price, formerly of Northeast, and Sanderson, former Episcopal athlete, are the leading candidates from the freshman squad.

Yesterday another famous schoolboy athlete matriculated at Penn. He is Davis, former Mercersburg sprinter and jumper. Coach Robertson expects to develop Davis into an intercollegiate point winner.

THE WEATHER

Official Forecast

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.

For Eastern Pennsylvania: Cloudy tonight and Wednesday with probably rain; warmer tonight in north and west portions; northeast winds increasing.

Fair weather has prevailed during the past twenty-four hours except in the vicinity of Lake Superior and in the far west and northwest. The area of high barometric pressure over the eastern portion of the country has remained nearly stationary and the temperatures are beginning to rise slowly at most places within its area. A large area of low barometer has developed in the west and overspreads all districts west of the Mississippi River westward. It has caused a slow rise in temperature in the Plains States, while it is moderately cooler west of the Rockies.

SHRINERS' GOLF TOURNEY DRAWS MANY ENTRIES

Maxwell, Reynolds and Newton Among Entrants in Edge Hill Play

CLAREY WILL COMPETE

"Billy" Umbenhauer, Philadelphia's "Prince of Monaco," comes to bat with the statement that close to 100 golfers, with the fair-to-middling class predominating, will tee off on Thursday in the qualification round of the second annual invitation tournament of the Lu Lu Temple Country Club, at Edge Hill.

The nobles' tournament committee is headed by Umbenhauer as chairman, and the other members are Francis K. Worley, George Ward, Dr. G. H. Stommerman, W. E. Cook and Samuel J. Bennett. Four sixteens will qualify on Thursday for handicap match play rounds for the W. Freeland Kendrick Cup, the Vice President's Cup, the Governors' Cup and the Lu Lu Temple C. C. Cup on Friday and Saturday.

Uncle "Herb" Newton, who ran off with the Freeland Cup a year ago, will be in the running again. Norman H. Maxwell, youthful Lesley Cup "veteran"; Walter H. Reynolds, another member of Pennsylvania's Lesley Cup team, and Edward C. Clarey, Woodbury, are the stars of the field. These are the men Newton will have to beat to retain the cup, and as he will receive several strokes in the handicap matches from each of them his chances are at least somewhat better than the prospects of the proverbial tallow dogs with the asbestos cat of purgatorial fame.

SISTERS WHO ENDED LIVES WILL BE BURIED TOMORROW

Misses Emma and Anna Oram to Have Private Funeral

The Misses Emma and Anna Oram, the two elderly maiden sisters who formed a death pact and committed suicide by inhaling gas at their home, 4450 Frankford avenue, last Sunday, will be buried tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The funeral which will be strictly private, will be conducted by the Rev. John Wesley Stockwell pastor of the Church of the New Jerusalem. Interment will be in the family plot in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Although the sisters conducted a thriving dry goods business on the first floor of their home, the one was ill and the other feared to be left alone in life. Their death was planned carefully. The two were found dead clasped in each other's arms and dressed in their best clothes. Miss Emma Oram was sixty-five years old; Miss Anna was fifty-nine.

WOMAN AUTHOR DIES

Mrs. Edith M. O. Ellis Wrote Many Books

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Mrs. Edith M. O. Ellis, wife of Havelock Ellis, the psychologist and author and herself a psychologist, died on September 14 in London, according to a letter received here today.

Mrs. Ellis was the author of a number of books, among which were "Kit's Woman," "A Cornish Idyll," "Attainment," "My Cornish Neighbors," "The Imperishable Wing," "Love Acre" and "Three Modern Seers." She also wrote several plays. Mrs. Ellis held advanced views on marriage and the relations between husband and wife, and was the author of several works setting forth these views. A year ago she made an extensive lecture tour in this country.

Mrs. Ellis's body was cremated and her ashes, in accordance with her wishes, were scattered over Hempstead Heath, sacred to the memory of Byron, Keats and Shelley.

FUNERAL OF DR. NEEDHAM

Services to Be Held Tomorrow at Bethlehem Baptist Church

The funeral of the Rev. Dr. Thomas Needham, who fell dead on Sunday morning as he was about to officiate at a baptismal service, will be held tomorrow evening in the Bethlehem Baptist Church, Eighteenth and York streets.

The Rev. Dr. A. E. Harris, associate pastor of the Baptist Temple, will officiate.

Rev. Dr. W. W. Evans

The Rev. Dr. W. W. Evans, a retired Methodist minister and a trustee of Dickinson College, died last Sunday at his home in Washington. He was born at Lewistown, Pa., in 1840, and joined the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1861. Later he became a member of the Central Pennsylvania Conference. For twenty-seven years he was a pastor of Methodist churches, and for twenty-three years was a presiding elder and district superintendent. He will be buried at York, Pa., where his funeral will be held next Thursday at 3:45 o'clock.

Woman, 110 Years Old, Dead From Gas

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Mrs. Mary Forge, 110 years old, was left alone for the first time in fifteen years when her granddaughter, Mrs. Julia Millows, with whom she lived at 126 Jefferson avenue, Maspeth, was called to the bedside of her child, ill in a hospital. Mrs. Millows returned home last night and found the aged woman dead in bed, with gas flowing from an open jet. Coroner Carl Voegel decided that her trembling hands in turning off the gas accidentally had reopened the stopcock. Mrs. Forge had told neighbors Sunday that she felt good for ten years more of life.

Edwin H. Bolestridge

Edwin H. Bolestridge, active in fraternal societies, died on Saturday at his home, 124 Fern street, Camden. He was seventy-five years old and was a member of Philadelphia Lodge, F. & A. M.; Keystone Chapter, R. A. M.; Mary Commandery, K. of T.; and Chosen Friends Lodge, I. O. O. F. He was a member of Linden Baptist Church.

Mrs. A. Jane Bender

Mrs. A. Jane Bender, widow of the late Robert S. Bender, who served as fire chief of Camden for six years, died on Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry L. Sulzer, 816 Haddon avenue, Camden. Mrs. Bender was seventy-nine years old, and had been a member of the First Baptist Church for more than forty-five years.
