Nancy Wynne Talks of the Townsend Tea—Miss Villalon Honor Guest at a Luncheon—Engagements and Weddings Discussed

THE Townsend tea out in Overbrook was a very pretty affair yesterday. Anne is Mr. J. Barton Townsend's youngest daughter and a sister of Marjorie and of Casper Townsend, who married Agnes Kennedy a couple or more years ago. The time flies so it's hard to remember when weddings took place, isn't it? I know it was before the war, that is before our part in the war.

Anne looked perfectly sweet in a soft, fluffy frock of white and silver, and about every debutante received with her. My but they are efficient, just as I said the other day. One gives you your sandwich, while another hands you frappe, and a third says "Will you have coffee?" You begin to realize how well those "gobs" were treated at the canteens and almost wish you had been a returning soldier last year.

WELL, I must say I am not one bit surprised about Rosamond Lancaster and Barclay Warburton, Jr.'s engagement, which was announced formally yesterday. When she was on here so much last winter with Brownie and Marie Louise Munn I had a feeling there was something doing between the two families, and said so to the wee bird, who agreed with me. Rosamond is the daughter of Mrs. John Edward Lancaster, of Worcester, Mass., and has been in New York quite a good deal. In fact, she was very prominently identified with war work both in Worcester and New York.

Barclay, Jr., came back from overseas just a few weeks ago, and the engagement was announced yesterday at Hot Springs, where the two families are stopping. Mrs. Warburton and Mrs. John J. O'Brien, of Florida, you remember, went down to Hot Springs just about two weeks ago. At least that's what my memory tells me, but, honestly, you know, I get so mixed between Hot Springs in Virginia and White Sulphur in West Virginia, I never can remember which is where, and who is what.

ANOTHER engagement which interested every one here was announced yesterday and that was Teddie Davis's to Florence Judge, of Buffalo and Washington. And that wedding is going to take place tomorrow, for the very good reason that Miss Judge's aunt and uncle, Major and Mrs. Walter Schoellkopf, are to sail very shortly for Paris, where the former will take up his duties in the American embassy. And so it was a wise decision to have the wedding now, don't you think?

Ted Davis is the son of the Charles Gibbons Davises, of Chestnut Hill, and a brother of Louie Davis, who married Joe McCall.

Jimmie Gould, who has lately returned from overseas with his foreign bride, will act as best man at the wedding, which will be in Washington.

THE friends of Doctor Mockridge, of St. James's Church, Twenty-second and Walnut streets, and they are many, too, will be more than sorry to hear of the death of his mother, which occurred on Wednesday in Toronto, Can. Doctor Mockridge was not with her. Though Mrs. Mockridge was indisposed for a time, her death, I understand, had not been expected, for Doctor Mockridge was at the Samuel-Adams wedding on Wednesday and performed the ceremony. It was later in the afternoon when he received the news.

THERE will not be any debutante tea today. The only party will be the luncheon which Jean Bullitt will give at the Acorn for Gloria Villalon, who is here from Cuba for several months. It's always a good time to give a debutante luncheon, as later in the season the buds are apt to be too tired to go to luncheons after being up so late at dances.

There are usually two big affairs of the kind in the early season, to which most of the buds go, and it is a great get-together sort of idea, don't you think? So many of the girls go to boarding school before coming out that they need to get intimate all over again except with their very best friends and a lunch is such an opportunity. Anne Townsend had one big luncheon given for her already and Gloria Villalon will have the second today. There are to be about fifty guests, I understand.

ELLEN, whom you know well by name, is now nearly five, and she lives in the country, where maids are nihil. The other day mother wanted something at the store two doors away and so she asked Ellen to go for it. Ellen started off with "my babies" in her coach and was back so quickly her father could not think she had been there yet.

"Why, Ellen, you surely have not been to the store and back?"

"Oh, no, daddy; it was such a terrible 'effork' to push the coach over that rough ground I came back."

Then lifting "my babies" from the coach she departed for the store and came back with a baby on each arm and a loaf of bread, too.

NANCY WYNNE.
