OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE STATE

JACKSON, MISS.

Wednesday : : : : : : : : April 4, 1866.

Most Important News of the Season---Restoration of the Habeas Corpus---Proclamation by the President.

We welcome our readers this morning with the gratifying announcement, that the President, on Monday, issued his proclamation restoring the writ of Habeas Corpus throughout the United States,

We have not been informed of the entire tenor of the proclamation, but so far as we have learned, it proceeds upon the ground that the suspension of this privilege is abhorrent to our institutions and permissible only in case of war or insurrection, and that the laws and authority of the General Government being restored and fully acquiesced in throughout the States recently in arms against it, neither necessity demands nor propriety permits a longer suspension of this birth-right privilege of American freemen.

☞ Following our frank example, our neighbor across the street acknowledges that he is possessed of a devil. We now only wait for an equally honest confession from our other neighbor.

☞ The Messenger discusses the emigration question—we beg pardon; expatriation is the word in vogue—and concludes, by advising its readers not to go to Mexico if they don't want to.

THE SIBILANT YEAR.—Some seers suspect that scenes long since sung in the Sibylline verses will soon show themselves. If coming events cast their shadows before, why not also send their whispers in advance? Certainly the sibilant sounds predominate in this year of grace eighteen hundred sixty-six more sensibly than has been the case for a century past. Besides shipwrecks, strikes, secret societies, rinderpest, trichinosis, smallpox and such, it is sufficient at present to say that three Stephens's, or Stevens's—for these names, however spelled, are homophonous—seem to engross an extra share of notice and constitute, so to speak, as many several centres of sensation—viz: James Stephens, the Head Centre of the Fenians; Alexander H. Stephens, the would be Senator from one of the so styled sovereign States of the South; and Thaddeus Stevens, the seditious Senator from the Keystone State. There has scarcely been such a run upon sorts since the days of Law's Mississippi scheme, not excepting the times of William Huntington S. S.

TOADYISM.—As an illustration of the extent to which the game of pandering to the old disloyal sentiment of the Southern people is played, we give the following facts: An enterprising firm of liquor dealers in this city, having in it two partners from the State of Iowa, conceived not long since the idea of getting up a new article of bitters. As our readers are probably aware, in order to secure the exclusive ownership of the trade mark, it became necessary to procure from the Internal Revenue Department a "proprietary stamp." "Old Tennessee Bitters," we believe, was to be the name of the article. Our Iowa friends sent to the Department their design for their proprietary stamp, with the head of Stonewall Jackson upon it. Imagine the chagrin and disappointment of these loyal gentlemen on receiving an answer from the Internal Revenue Commissioner to the effect that Stonewall Jackson's effigy had not yet been adopted as an insignia for national revenue stamps. The record of the State of Iowa was unusually brilliant in the patriotism and noble deeds of valor of its sons during the war, and such a display of Hunkeyism is utterly unworthy of any citizen of the State.—Memphis Post.

Well, the Post is the hardest fellow to see the point of a thing that ever we went anywhere—or any other man. The Internal Revenue Commissioner knew how the name and effigy of Jackson are idolized in the South, and was unwilling to give offence by degrading them in the manner proposed. His head is level.

☞ The Natchez Courier copies from the Chicago Times a very improper story of a witness (a female witness, by the way,) in court, giving birth to a child. They need a missionary in Natchez muchly, and we fear the Jackson press will have to make up a pony purse to send one. We've all "got good" here—that is the Standard and we—since the "sarching" discourse of that blessed man of God at the foot of the hill.

THE WATCHMAN.—Having perused several numbers of this paper, we think we can candidly recommend it to our friends. The Watchman is a handsome, eight-page weekly sheet, published in New York, edited by Rev. Charles F. Deems, whose preaching in this city last Sunday has been the subject of warm encomium from all whom we have heard mention it. The paper professes to be "an American family journal of literature and news—independent in politics and religion." Nothing of a controversial tone appears in it. Its religious intelligence department is ample, embracing all denominations, Catholic and Protestant, the design evidently being to present to Southern Christians something which they can read without pain to their feelings, religious or political. Terms $4 a year. Address Rev. Charles F. Deems, Editor, or A. L. Hamilton, Financial Manager, Box 5780, New York.

AN OLD FIGURE RIDDEN TO DEATH.—The Louisville Journal is perpetually harping on the idea of the Union train, and upon jumping on and off said train. It is absolutely tedious, especially to those readers who remember Prentice's magnificent idea of many years ago.

"On this platform" said an opponent, "we take our stand, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

"We have no doubt," observed the Journal, "that when the platform and the gates of hell come in collision, the latter will give way, and the platform, with all who stand thereon, will pass triumphantly in."

The poetic editor of the Journal cannot surpass the Miltonic grandeur of that passage, if he tries till he passes in himself.

☞ The letter of Aris, the Jackson correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, of March 19th, is an interesting, sensible, good-natured epistle. We suppose he could not well dispense with the copious use of the terms "rebel" and "rebellion," but he has dropped the vituperative style, and writes like a gentleman.

☞ Daniel C. Sampson Esq., of Mobile, died on the 31st ult., aged 62. He was cashier of the Southern Bank of Alabama and has resided in Mobile more than forty years.

☞ "A Union-Loving Woman" has sent to the United States Treasurer forty-four dollars to be appropriated toward paying the national debt. That accounts for the decline in gold.

The Traitor's Gate of the old Tower of London, one of the most ancient and interesting landmarks of English history, has just been removed and the wall closed in.

England has turned over her antiquated "treason" traditions to the old clo' politicians of Yankee land.

☞ Gen Terry was before the Reconstruction Committee a few days ago, and gave the following testimony among a mass more of the same sort:

Q. What are your means of knowledge of the state of affairs in Virginia throughout your department?

A. I do not come in personal contact with the people of Virginia as much as many of my subordinates do. I have no social intercourse with any except those known to be Union people.

Q. What, generally, is the feeling on the part of the secession element against Unionists, whether native Virginians or those from other States?

A. I think it is as hostile as it ever has been.

Q. Are Unionists secure in the enjoyment of their rights in the midst of a secession community there?

A. I do not think they are.

Q. Can they safely rely on the State courts for justice to themselves and protection to their rights?

A. No, sir; I think not.

Q. So far as you can judge, which class is the most numerous, those who treat the freedmen kindly or those who treat them with injustice and cruelty?

A. The latter.

By what intuition, save the instinct of malignity, is this man, who has no social intercourse with "the rebel element," as we suppose he would call them, enabled to judge so accurately of their sentiments? We add one more scrap:

As to the feeling toward the people of the North, I do not think it has essentially changed from what it was before the war and during the war; there is still the same hatred, and the same contempt for them.

This man considers himself the representative of the Northern people, and then judges very correctly, "from his own standpoint," of the Southern feeling towards men of his own class.

☞ Col. Thomas, the head of the Freedmen's Bureau in this State, has been promoted to Brigadier General by brevet.

THE RIVER.—We understand the Yazoo river is rising very fast at Greenwood, and some fears are felt of another overflow.—[Carroll Conservative.

IMPORTANT IF TRUE.—The Picayune, speaking of the eclipse, says:

After the Lunar obscuration, during which, from the diminution of light which is heat, the mercury fell, it began to go up again.

One of the speakers of the Indiana Democratic State Convention said:

"Why are we permitted to assemble in peace to-night? Is it because we are any more loyal than we were three years ago?—No! We are not any more loyal!"

Truer words were never spoken.—Memphis Post.

Well, what of it? Are you any more loyal than you were three years ago?

SPOONER'S
Immunity against the Fevers and Chills of Spring and Fall, the Dysenteries and Diarrheas of Summer, and the various Bilious complaints attendant upon the entire year, is what the South needs and must have before that favored region will attain the full meed of its greatness. Emigration thither has been and is retarded for the lack of it; and for the same reason, cotton raising has been restricted and interfered with.

ANTI-FEVER & AGUE
In view of these facts Dr. Spooner offers to the people of the South, and to Emigrants going thither, his ANTI-FEVER AND AGUE PILLS, which have been demonstrated, repeatedly and repeatedly, to be an unerring and never-failing preventive and cure of all Bilious complaints incident to the South and West. Try but one experiment; the cost is trifling, the result is beyond any contingency. It never has failed and never can, while Physiology remains a science.

We welcome to our columns again our old friend, Dr Humphreys, and his specific Homœopathic Remedies. We have known the Doctor for many years, and know him as a conscientious Christian gentleman, and an accomplished physician. We have used his Specific ourselves and they are used extensively among our friends, and are free to say that they are all that they claim to be—invaluable Family Medicines. All who have the pleasure of Dr. H.'s acquaintance, know that he would offer nothing to the public unless it was fully up to the standard of recommendation.

HUMPHREYS'
HOMŒOPATHIC SPECIFICS,
HAVE proved, from the most ample experience, an entire success: Simple—Prompt—Efficient, and reliable. They are the only Medicines perfectly adapt to popular use—so simple that mistakes cannot be made in using them, so harmless as to be free from danger and so efficient as to be always reliable. They have raised the highest commendation from all, and will always render satisfaction.

ATTENTION BLACKSMITHS!
Your attention is called to PERRY'S PATENT TUYERE BELLOWS' NOZZLE, which gives the blast on the bottom instead of the side of the fire, and makes a quicker and better fire than is possible otherwise. It gives one, two or three blasts on the same fire, and spreads the heat over a wide surface or concentrates it on a point, at pleasure. Thus, the whole wing or bar of a plow can be heated evenly and perfectly, without danger of burning, and what, with ordinary Tuyeres, requires five or six heats, can be done at one. It saves greatly in time, iron and fuel. The fire is completely under the control of the Blacksmith, and no fuel is wasted. It never gets hot, and will last indefinitely.
PRICES ACCORDING TO SIZE, $15,00 $20,00 AND $25,00.

Read the following certificates from practical New Orleans mechanics:
NEW ORLEANS, March 6th, 1866.
MR. D. C. FREEMAN—R. S. Perry's Patent Tuyeres have been in use in some of the forges under my care since November last, and have given entire satisfaction. The workmen using them prefer them to any they ever used. I cheerfully recommend them as the best I have seen in fifteen years' experience in blacksmithing; heating the iron quicker, more perfectly and with less fuel, and never getting out of order.

NEW ORLEANS, March 6, 1866.
D. C. FREEMAN—Perry's Puyere has been in use under my own inspection since November last, and I pronounce it without hesitation, the best Tuyere used. It will heat iron of any size quicker, and conveniently, and with less coal than with any others I have ever tried. In welding a large shaft the blast can be regulated to heat both ends perfectly in one fire, thus saving much time, labor and coal. It does not get hot, consequently cannot burn out, and does not get choked. I cheerfully recommend them.
