OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE STATE

THE PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION.

WASHINGTON, April 2, 1866.

WHEREAS, By a proclamation on the 15th and 16th of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, the President of the United States, in virtue of power vested in him by the constitution and laws, declared that the laws of the United States were opposed and obstructed in the collection of the revenue in the States of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Texas, by combinations too powerful to be suppressed by the ordinary course of judicial proceedings, or by the powers vested in the marshals by law;

WHEREAS, By another proclamation, made the 19th day of August, in the same year, in pursuance of an act of Congress, approved July 13th, 1861, inhabitants of Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi and Florida, except the inhabitants of that part of the State of Virginia lying west of the Alleghany mountains, of such other part of that state and the other States before named might maintain a loyal adhesion to the Union and the constitution, or might in time be made to be occupied and controlled by the forces of the United States, engaged in the dispersion of insurgents, were declared to be in a state of insurrection against the United States;

WHEREAS, By another proclamation, made on the 16th day of January, 1862, issued in pursuance of an act of Congress, approved July 13, 1861, the inhabitants of the States of Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi, Florida, except the forty-eight counties of Virginia designated as West Virginia, and ports of New Orleans, Key West, Port Royal and Beaufort, S. C., were declared to be in a state of insurrection against the United States; and

WHEREAS, The House of Representatives, on the 22d of July, 1861, adopted the following words, viz: "Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, That the present deplorable civil war has been forced upon the country by the disunionists of the Southern States now in rebellion against the National Government, in arms around the capital; that in the national Congress, banishing all feelings of recrimination will do its duty to this country; that this war is not waged in our part in any spirit of opposition to any purpose of conquest or subjugation, nor for the purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the established institutions of those States, but to maintain and defend the supremacy of the constitution and preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired, and as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to cease. And

WHEREAS, These resolutions though not a concurrent, form one substantial declaration of purpose of Congress, and may be regarded as having received the views of Congress upon the subject to which they relate, and

WHEREAS, By my proclamation of 3rd of June last the insurrection in the State of Tennessee was declared to be suppressed and the authority of the United State therein to be undisputed, and such United States officers as had been commissioned to be in the undisturbed exercise of their official functions;

WHEREAS, there now exists no organized armed resistance of misguided citizens or others to the authority of the United States in the States of Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi and Florida, and the laws can be sustained and enforced therein by the proper civil authority of the State or Federal courts, and the people of said States are well and loyally disposed, and have conformed or will conform in their Legislation to the constitutional affairs growing out of the amendment to the Constitution of the United States prohibiting slavery within the United States, and jurisdiction of the United States; and

WHEREAS, In view of the before recited premises, it is the manifest determination of the American people that no part of its own will has the right or wish to go out of or separate itself from the Union, separated from the American States, and that each State ought to remain and constitute an integral part of the United States; and

WHEREAS, It is believed to be the fundamental principle of the Government of the people who have revolted, and who have been overcome and subdued, to be dealt with so as to induce them to become friends, or else they be held by absolute military power, to prevent them from ever again to form an enemies, which last name they was abhorrent to humanity and to God; and

WHEREAS, the constitution of the United States provides for constitutional wealths only as States, and not territories and provisional protectorates;

WHEREAS, Such constitutional States must necessarily be, and by the constitutional laws of the United States are made equals, and placed on like footing as to political rights, immunities, dignity and favors with the several States with which they are united, and

WHEREAS, The observance of political equality as a principle of right and justice is well calculated to encourage the people of the States to be and become more and more persevering in their renewed allegiance; and,

WHEREAS, Standing military occupation, martial law, military tribunals and the suspension of the privileges of the writ of habeas corpus are, in time of peace, dangerous to public interest and incompatible with the individual rights of citizens, and contrary to the genius and spirit of our free institutions and in exhaustion of the national resources, and ought not, therefore to be sanctioned or allowed, except in case of war, for repelling invaders or suppressing insurrection or rebellion; and,

WHEREAS, The policy of the government of the United States, from the beginning of the insurrection to its final suppression, has been in conformity with the principles herein set forth and enumerated,

THEREFORE, I ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States, do hereby proclaim and declare that the insurrection which heretofore existed in the States of Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Florida and Texas is at an end, and henceforth to be so regarded.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, on the 2d day of April in the year of our Lord, 1866, and of the independence of the United States of America the ninetieth. ANDREW JOHNSON.

INSTITUTE FOR DEAF AND DUMB.

Jackson, Miss. Nov—1861.

THE Trustees of this Institution hereby give notice that pursuant to An Act of the Legislature they have made arrangements whereby the Louisiana Institute for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind, located at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, will receive and educate the Deaf and Dumb of Mississippi, until other arrangements can be made. Said Institute, endowed by the State, is located in a healthy region, and possesses a large and commodious building prepared for the immediate reception of pupils. Under the management of an efficient corps of teachers it will possess every facility for the education of mutes, including instruction in trades.

The State of Mississippi has provided the funds necessary for the free education of the Deaf and Dumb.

The parents and friends of the mute children of this State are earnestly invited to send them immediately to the Institute at Baton Rouge, where they will be carefully nurtured and educated at the expense of their State.

Address J. D. O'Connell, Secretary, or A. K. Martin, Superintendent, at Baton Rouge, or the undersigned at this place.
