FILES OUT OF FARGO JAIL

NERVY FORGER MAKES ESCAPE

Saunders Had Just Pleaded Guilty and Been Sentenced to Five Years.

Fargo, N. D., March 24.—Albert Saunders, who pleaded guilty last week to forgery and was sentenced to five years in prison, has broken jail. He had been in jail since last September for forging a note for $400.

His record shows that he escaped from jail in Kentucky two years ago.

Saunders and two other persons occupied a top tier of cells. No prisoners were in the lower tier and the door from the lower room to the corridor was unlocked.

Saunders filed a hole through the iron floor in the bathroom, dropped into the room underneath, and got around the corridor to a window from which he escaped.

It is thought he had a confederate, as bars from the window had been removed, apparently from the outside.

'PHONING FROM CARS

Grand Rapids Man Successfully Accomplishes This Feat.

New York Sun Special Service

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 24.—Benson Bidwell has successfully demonstrated here the feasibility of telephoning from a moving electric car without regard to the speed attained or the noise incident to the movement of the car. In the presence of several prominent men Mr. Bidwell, the inventor, and his brother, Charles F. Bidwell, made the demonstration with success. They used three cars, and the passengers had no difficulty in talking from one car to the other, no matter how fast the cars were going. Mr. Bidwell says:

Our plans are to equip steam railways with this system of 'phones, wherein any train on the line will be at all times in talking connection with the train dispatchers and with every other train on the road. The utility of the system can be better understood when I explain that these same telephone wires can be used for all telegraph purposes required of two telegraph wires by the railway company, even to having the telegraph instruments in cars, and the same operator who has charge of the telephone can do the telegraphing.
