PRESTON—Martin Ream, janitor in the high school building, hanged himself with the bell rope after drinking the contents of a two-ounce bottle of chlorofom. He was 72 years old and a veteran of the rebellion.

DULUTH—Rev. Harry W. Knowles, pastor of Grace M. E. church, has created consternation in the ranks of baseball enthusiasts by the publication of a notice of warning that all persons who engage in Sunday baseball playing will be prosecuted.

WINONA—A week ago, Miss Addie Lynn left home saying she was going uptown. She failed to return and it was reported she had left with a traveling man. IN A NUTSHELL

Springfield, Ill.—The law taxing foreign insurance companies doing business in Illinois 2 per cent on gross earnings premiums is declared unconstitutional by the state supreme court.

Detroit—William M. Jones, under arrest on suspicion of having murdered George H. Heywood, has been formally charged with having premeditated the murder and wilfully accomplished Heywood's death.

Boston—The Leyland line steamer Cestrian has been chartered by the British government and will proceed from here to Halifax, N. S., to take on 2,000 troops and horses, which she will convey to South Africa.

Chicago—An apparently demented woman, believed by many who have seen her to be the wife of Adolph L. Luetgert and supposed to have been murdered by her husband, is being cared for at the Alma Mott home. For the supposed murder of his wife Luetgert was sentenced to the penitentiary to serve a life sentence and died in prison.

Springfield, Ill.—The supreme court has decided that when it is necessary for the state to call out its military forces to suppress riot and disorder in a city the expenses of all kinds fall upon the state and not upon the city. The decision is in the case of the Chicago league team against the city of Chicago. In 1894 regiments of state militia called to Chicago to preserve order camped on the West Side ball grounds and the team sued for damages.

CABLE FLASHES

Shanghai—The Chinese members of the international tariff commission entertained Mr. Conger, the American minister to China, and Mr. Goodnow, the American consul-general here. Other Americans were present. The best of feeling was shown.

Dublin—Three sections of the crimes act have been put in force in a large number of the districts in Ireland. They provide for summary jurisdiction in cases of criminal conspiracy, intimidation and unlawful assembly, for tral by special jury and for change of venue at the option of the crown.

Brussels—The socialists claim that 300,000 men are on strike. This is probably an exaggeration, but it is likely that 200,000 men have quit work. The funds of the strikers are small, and as their numbers increase their money will be inadequate to save them from the pinch of hunger. This, it is feared, will rapidly stir the spirit of violence.

JUDGE MORRIS OUT

Duluth Congressman Not a Candidate for Re-election.

NO DEFINITE REASON IS GIVEN

He Feels, However, That He Still Possesses His Constituents' Confidence.

Washington, April 17.—Representative Page Morris of Duluth will not be a candidate for a renomination. He has settled that question by making public the following letter, which he addressed to Frank E. Searle, chairman of the republican congressional committee in his district:

I have determined not to be a candidate again for election to congress, and think I ought to make my determination known at once. It is not necessary to state the many reasons which I have for coming to this resolution. Suffice it to say that I am not influenced by any feeling that my constituents have lost confidence in me or my ability to properly represent them here, or by any fear that if I should present myself for re-election, they would fail to indorse me at the primaries and the election. But, as you know, I have not only been thinking of this for a long time, but have been satisfied in my own mind that the time had come for me to announce my intention to retire from congress, and, but for the advice of friends with whom I have talked about it, would have done so many months ago. The more I have considered the matter the more have I become convinced that I am right in this conclusion, and I have, therefore, resolved to make it known at once, so that my republican constituents may have ample time and opportunity to choose the candidate whom they may wish for my successor.

All will remember that my first nomination was practically a command from the republicans of the district, and, indeed, I might almost say, of the country, that I should undertake, my heartfelt appreciation of their ful, and which they knew could only be won by a supreme effort and with a candidate whom all could, and would, enthusiastically and without the slightest division of any kind support. Having been elected, I have not in the least underrated the dignity and honor of the place, and I have endeavored to serve the district with zeal, industry and fidelity; but I am now satisfied that it is best for my personal interests to retire, and I think I have earned the right to do so.

I shall never be able to express or to show to those generous and disinterested men who have stood by me so loyally in all the campaigns which I have been called upon to undertake, my heartfelt apreciation of their kindness. No man ever had a better or greater constituency, and no man ever had better friends in that constituency. I have now been nominated and elected three times, in elections which have been watched with interest throughout the whole country, and at two of these elections the contest has been so fierce and the margin so close that, but for the unparalleled loyalty and devotion of the republicans of the district, success would have been impossible.

The republicans of the district have always expected me to stand and vote upon public matters according to the dictates of my own conscience and judgment and have sustained me, even though they may not altogether have agreed with me. I regret more than I can tell that I feel compelled to put an end to this relation, which at the end of my present term will have exisied between us for six years.

I write this to you, not only as my friend, but as the chairman of the republican committee of the district. I will not attempt to express the obligation which I consider not only myself, but also the republicans of the district, to be under to you and Mr. Willcutts and Mr. Mitchell, for the faithful, diligent, disinterested and efficient services which were rendered to the party by each of you as chairman of the congressional committee in the three campaigns in which I have been a candidate. I can only say that the knowledge of the character of those gentlemen and yourselves, acquired by the close and intimate relation thus created between us, has made me proud to know that I can number such men amongst my most cherished and devoted friends.

Judge Morris is serving his third term. He left the district bench in 1895 to become a candidate against Charles A. Towne. He defeated Towne that year, and also in 1898. It is expected that Judge Morris will be appointed judge of the proposed new federal district in Minnesota.

RADICALISM DEFEATED

Drastic Chinese Exclusion Measure Fails in Senate.

Washington, April 17.—The drastic Chinese exclusion measure originally framed by the senators and representatives of the Pacific coast met defeat, and in its place was substituted a measure offered by Mr. Platt (Conn.) extending the provisions of the present exclusion law and also applying that exclusion to all insular territory under the jurisdiction of the United States.

The vote by which the substitute took the place of the original bill was yeas 48 to nays 33. Once the substitution had been made all senators joined in its support, and it was passed, 76 to 1. Mr. Hoar voted in the negative. The friends of the substitute showed their strength throughout the voting on amendments that preceded final action and succeeded in preventing any material change in its features. Some minor changes were made admitting Chinese persons connected with national expositions and providing for certificates of identification of Chinese in our insular possessions. Otherwise, however, the substitute was adopted substantially in the form that Mr. Platt presented it.

The senate failed to substitute the enacting clause of the house measure for the senate measure, so that the bill will now go to the house as an original measure and from a parliamentary standpoint will have to be acted on and treated the same as though the house had not passed a Chinese exclusion bill.

WASHINGTON

It has been decided at a conference of republican leaders of both houses to shelve the ship subsidy bill recently passed by the senate.

The friends of the bill taxing oleomargarin are confident that they will be able to carry it through. Speaker Henderson and the committee on rules have decided to give a rule for the consideration of the bill as soon as the Cuban bill is out of the way.

Well Brought Up.

The increase of Moet & Chandon Champagne for 1901 over 1900 is equal to more than 100 per cent of the combined increase of all the other Champagne houses. Moet & Chandon White Seal, Epernay, France, is of the celebrated vintage of 1893, popular throughout the world.

The Vikings.

The Vikings who hold forth on the boards of the Lyceum are not the same fellows that came over with Lief Ericson to discover Columbus, but not finding him erected a monument to his memory. The public should take warning that this is an entirely different aggregation. That wonderful tragedian, Triptolemus B. Arnstormer, who passes a large part of his time reading interesting news items about Edwin Booth and other stars of the first magnitude, has become the talk of the town. He is the only actor who has successfully ridden two horses in the same play at the same time without being applauded, and last night he would have found this impossible but for the sustaining strength of a bottle of "Golden Grain Belt" beer.

Dear Sir: Oct. 15th, 1900.
"I had been suffering severely from kidney trouble. All symptoms were on hand; my former strength and power had left me; I could hardly drag myself along. Even my mental capacity was giving out and often I wished to die. I am 70 years and 4 months old, and with a good conscience I can recommend Swamp-Root to all sufferers from kidney troubles. Four members of my family have been using Swamp-Root for four different kidney diseases with the same good results."

MINERS' STRIKE IMPROBABLE.

Shamokin, Pa., April 17.—Miles Dougherty, member of the national executive board of the United Mine Workers, says the possibilities of a strike in the anthracite coal region are growing less and that within a few days a move will be made towards a settlement of differences. From Mahoney City information is received to the effect that a strike has been averted.
