CORN'S CRUCIAL TIME

Several Weeks of Warm Weather Needed to Mature.

Specials to The Journal.

Sioux City, Iowa:—Sept. 1.—Reports from correspondents within a radius of 100 miles of Sioux City, state that corn will require from two to four weeks to reach a stage in maturity that will insure it from damage by frost. However, about two-thirds of the corn crop will be out of the way of frost in two weeks.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 1.—The recent rains are making the farmers feel a trifle blue. Heavy showers fell steadily for several hours Saturday night and it is feared some of the wheat will sprout in the shock. The greatest trouble is that the cereal will lose a grade or two on account of loss of color.

Rapid City, S. D., Sept. 1.—The first lot of 1902 wheat was brought in by the farmers Saturday. The threshing season has been under way for several days. The wheat is pronounced of excellent quality, containing a high percentage of gluten and possessing unusual hardness.

Salem, S. D., Sept. 1.—Within two hours two inches of rain fell here. Some of the grain is in the shock, and many believe it will spoil before it will dry out. Some few in this vicinity will have fine corn, while others will not get an ear. Some farmers are so discouraged they say they will not plant a kernel of corn next year.

Morris, Minn., Sept. 1.—Another rain visited this section yesterday afternoon and threshing is delayed.

BALLOON RECORDS

Attempt to Establish a New Long-Distance Figure.

Denver, Col., Sept. 1.—The latest report of the progress of the balloon which was sent up from this city yesterday afternoon in an effort to establish a new long-distance record and time record, was sent in from Castle Rock last night. It was to the effect that near that point, just at dusk, a quantity of ballast was tossed out and that the balloon began to ascend until a height of 4,000 feet was attained. The balloon then started in a southwesterly direction and when it passed from view was apparently going at a high rate of speed. The story that a descent to the ground was made anywhere since the start is vigorously denied here by those who should know. It is expected that, as soon as daylight comes, the occupants will release one of the parachute message carriers, the contents of which will be telegraphed here.
