BUILDING TRADES ARRESTS HARTMAN

Contractor Charged With Law Violation—Works Men Over Eight Hours.

R. B. Hartman, who has the contract for the erection of the State Normal, was arrested Wednesday, on a warrant sworn out by J. H. Hatch, business agent for the Building Trades Council, charged with violating the state law which requires that no contractor shall employ workers for more than eight hours a day on state work.

Hartman was recently forced to put union men on the job through a conference between the board of normal regents and the building trades council. Hartman is notorious in Wisconsin as a non-union contractor and has had considerable trouble throughout the state in handling state contract work.

At the conference held about two weeks ago, these violations of the law were drawn to the attention of the board of regents who fined Mr. Hartman against a continuance of the practice. The law provides a penalty of imprisonment and loss of the contract if convicted on the charge of unnecessarily working more than eight hours a day.

Hartman was arraigned in municipal court Wednesday morning and pleaded not guilty. His hearing has been set over to Wednesday, June 17, when he will be tried on the charge.

SOCIALIST DAILY TO BE PUBLISHED

Articles of incorporation were filed Monday with Charles Callagan, register of deeds for a Socialist Publishing company, capitalized at $100,000 with shares at $5 each.

The company will engage in a general publishing, printing and newspaper business in Duluth. Martin Hendrickson, president; A. F. Heiskanen, vice president; Axel Ohrn of Angora, secretary; Otto Lahtinen, assistant secretary and J. G. Helm, treasurer, are the officers. The board of directors is composed of Leo Laukki, Ivar Ruohomaki of Chisholm and J. E. Viikainen of Eveleth.

This paper is to take the place of the Tyomies of Hancock, Mich., which was to have been brought to Duluth this summer, but because of a dispute in the organization, verging on disruption, this move was finally lost to the great disappointment of the local Finnish Socialists.

T. F. OLSEN DEFINES ATTITUDE ON LAWS

"Any legislation which will better conditions for the wage earner will have my hearty support" said Thorger F. Olson candidate for the state legislature from the Fifty-ninth district, in a statement to the Labor World today. "I consider myself a workman and whatever is to their interest is to my interest.

"If I am elected to serve the people of that district in the state legislature I will make it my duty to serve the people of my district and the people of the state to their best interests." Mr. Olson has endorsed the preliminary report of the state efficiency and economy commission and says he will support the proposed scheme of centralizing responsibility and control, the merit system in the civil service and the budgetary system of estimates for governmental appropriations. He is also in favor of a readjustment of the Workmen's compensation law and will support a bill to increase the compensation given to injured workmen.

GARDINER ELECTED BY PAINTERS' UNION

W. H. Gardiner, 519 East Fourth street, was elected at the last regular meeting of the painters' and decorators' local to succeed E. E. Jensen as recording secretary.

DICK JONES SHOULD CARRY NOMINATION

He Stands for All Progressive Measures—Senator Pugh Is With Reactionaries.

As the primary contest for the Senatorial nomination in the Fifty-Eighth District draws to a close, the indications are that Richard Jones will lead the other two candidates.

Mr. Jones has been making an active campaign and has had the support of Progressives of all parties. The record of Senator Pugh is telling strongly against him in these days when men are alert on public questions.

Carl J. Buell in his book, "The Minnesota Legislature of 1913," thus characterizes the record of the affable and pleasant Senator who is striving for renomination in the Fifty-Eighth: "Voted against every progressive measure except to take the committees away from Burnquist."

Those of us who have followed Senator Pugh's record know that Mr. Buell is correct in his statement, and the people of the Fifty-Eighth District, who count among their numbers many of the most progressive intelligent citizens of Duluth, are not going to give their support to a man who has been so consistently reactionary.

Dick Jones stands for the principles in which a majority of the people of the Fifty-Eighth district believe. A great many of the voters in the district are members of labor organizations and gratefully remember the excellent service which Dick has rendered to the labor union cause, including his services as attorney as an associate of Judge Fessler, in securing the dismissal of the injunction proceedings commenced by the Street Railway company against the strikers during the street railway strike of 1912.

If the voters of the Fifty-Eighth district express their true sentiments at the polls next Tuesday, Dick Jones will be the high man on the list.

SUPERIOR TRADES TO HAVE LAW ENFORCED

The Superior Trades and Labor Assembly at its meeting Tuesday night went as record as in favor of having the state laws, in regard to the administration of employment bureaus, enforced to the letter.

The law at present provides that anyone engaged in the liquor business, shall not be allowed to operate an employment agency. It is charged on reliable information, that at least two of the private agents in Superior are operating illegally. The matter is to be taken up with the Industrial Commission, and if possible have the licenses revoked.

MANAHAN TO HOLD OPEN AIR MEETINGS

Congressman James Manahan, in the interest of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for attorney general, will make a number of open air speeches in this city Saturday. He will speak at noon at the D. M. & N. ore docks. Beginning at 7 p. m. he will speak downtown, in the West End and at West Duluth. The division of his time between these three places will be announced later, some of his Duluth friends said last night. On Sunday, it is understood, he will be in Chisholm at the same time Governor Eberhart appears there.

HICKEN ORDERS SOCIALISTS TO MOVE

Socialist orators, having held their street meetings at Second avenue West and Superior street for several years, have been ordered to move to another corner.

The reason of the order seems to have been based on a complaint from the proprietors of the Rex theater, who claim that the Socialist meetings interfere with their crowds.

Efforts are being made to have these meetings held on one of the other downtown corners.

ELECTRICIANS FAIL TO GET TOGETHER

The conference arranged between the Reid and McNulty factions of the Electrical workers, and the heads of the Iowa State Federation was unfortunately called off because of the inability of the Reid faction to secure a proper representation.

CHILD LABOR IS NOT BEST FOR SOCIETY

America cannot afford to have child labor in its great industries because it costs too much, were the views of Louis W. Hine, of New York, expressed in an address in Louisville, Ky.

Child labor is not economical to industry, he said, for the reason that the return from such service are poor amount of work done is much smaller and is of an inferior quality, although requiring greater supervision which adds to the expense of the product, as do also the greater proportion of accidents. The greatest cost to the industry, he maintained, was of inefficient workers, due to their having been prematurely sent to work and unable to do good work later in life.

The cost to society comes in the maintenance of homes for delinquents and defectives, according to Mr. Hine, who said that industry to have low wages undercuts wages of adults, who, then being unable to properly provide for their families, place the debt on society.

Don't wait for opportunity to knock. Have the door open.

FIRM BREAKS WORD WITH UNION LABOR

Local Paint Firm Violates Gentleman's Agreement Made With Union Last Month.

The Painters' union has been "double-crossed," by Youngdahl & Diers, on the Rex Hotel job, the contract having been let by the proprietors on the understanding that this firm was a union shop, declares Business Agent W. J. Finn.

A committee of painters and the attorney of the Duluth Brewing and Malting Co., also Mr. Wagenstein, the architect, waited on Mr. Youngberg, senior member of the firm, in an effort to unionize the job. This was but partially agreed to by Mr. Youngberg, in that he was willing to place union painters on the hotel job while he would employ non-union workers in other parts of the city.

Such a policy would be contrary to the ethics of the Painters' union which has just finished a winning fight for the union shop in Duluth. Should the painters be so weak, as to allow Youngberg & Dahl to carry out such a plan, they would be surrendering all for which they so valiantly fought.

Efforts to unionize the shop of the firm will be made, but in case of failure the Rex Hotel must be finished with non-union painters.

In all fairness to the proprietors of the Rex Hotel, who have shown themselves to be eager for the employment of union painters, the union will not place the hotel on the unfair list, should efforts at organization fail.

ALEX M'KNIGHT FOR THE STATE SENATE

State Legislature Must Be Taken Out of the Hands of Special Privilege.

A. G. McKnight, candidate for the State Senate from the Fifty-seventh legislative district addressed a meeting of the Men's league of the First Methodist church last Monday evening. He did not make any reference to his own candidacy but made a strong plea for the people to interest themselves in the methods which are used by our Minnesota legislative bodies in the conduct of their business.

He said he believed that a reformation of legislative procedure would have a wholesome effect in producing good legislation and defeating bad legislation, as any other single thing that could be done.

He referred to the closing day of the session of 1911, when 120 good bills were on the calendar in the last hours of the session and not one was allowed to pass because the breweries were intent upon defeating the bill which gave local option to fourth class cities. Among these, he said, were several bills much desired by the labor men of the state.

His remedy for this condition was an early vote on all temperance questions and a permanent joint conference committee of the two houses which would arrange for the concurrent consideration by the two houses of the real big questions before the people. Mr. McKnight said he believed that, by focusing the attention of the people to the deliberations on a particular question, would have a wholesome effect on the votes that would be cast by the legislators.

Mr. McKnight has not been making an active campaign for the nomination in his district, but his friends have been working for him and there is no question that he will be one of the nominees at the primaries next Tuesday.

Mr. McKnight has the backing of the progressive leaders of all parties in his district, while his chief opponent, Mr. Adams, was put up and is being supported by all of the special interests that are opposed to real progressive legislation.

PHOTOGRAPHS SHOW BEUM'S INNOCENCE

Missing Photograph Located in Duluth Studio May Free Iron Worker.

Charles Beum of Minneapolis who was sentenced to serve three years in Leavenworth prison on perjured testimony of Ortie McManigal in the trial of the structural iron workers was in the city this week getting copies of photographs which he hopes will prove his innocence.

McManigal testified that Beum advised him to place the dynamite which blew up a leg of the bridge at the Pittsburg & Reading dock in Superior. A photograph was produced by the prosecuting attorney bearing a cross alleged to be the mark placed thereon by Beum as indicating the spot the dynamite should have been placed for effective execution.

Photographs had been taken at the dock for Mr. Beum previous to the explosion but for an entirely different purpose. These photographs he had in his desk which was rifled of all important documents that would in any bear upon the case and lead to his freedom. The negatives for Mr. Beum had been filed in the studio of a local photographer but these also mysteriously disappeared unbeknown to the proprietor.

Fortunately copies of the photographs were in the office of the studio and had escaped the sneaking hands of some individual. These pictures were obtained Tuesday to be used as evidence of innocence in a plea for pardon to President Wilson.

At the time the pictures were taken it had been reported that union men were working on the P. & R. dock with non-union men contrary to the laws of the Structural Iron Workers union. Photographs were taken of a leg under construction showing the men who were employed on the job. The purpose of this was to circulate the picture through the official organ of the union and in that way have the union men identified, and if necessary expelled from the organization.

In comparing the picture produced at the trial with the one taken for Mr. Beum it develops that the pictures were taken at least 600 feet from each other. In short the game was merely to get a structural iron worker even if it were necessary to have trumped up evidence against him.

The methods of those human ghouls otherwise known as detectives is shown in this instance and further evidence against the detective agency which was implicated in this affair is given in another column.

PEOPLE'S ENEMIES SHOULD BE DEFEATED

No man has written more judiciously and fairly about the records of Minnesota's legislators than Lynn Haines, formerly of Minnesota, but now secretary of the National Voters' League with headquarters at Washington, D. C.

His characterization of Senator Thomas M. Pugh who is a candidate for re-election in the Fifty-eighth district was very brief, simply three words, "Reactionary in everything."

The fact of the matter is, that had he written a volume, he could not have better described the legislative action of the amiable senator from the Fifty-eighth district.

It will be well for the voters of the Fifty-eighth district on primary day to remember Senator Pugh's record and to further remember that the best way to show their disapproval of such a record is to support the candidacy of Richard Jones who stands for everything that Mr. Pugh is against and against everything that Mr. Pugh supports.

BELL TELEPHONE CO. ANTAGONIZES UNION

The Bell Telephone Co., in Superior has again placed itself in an antagonistic attitude toward union labor by importing non-union bricklayers from Milwaukee. Representatives of the Trades and Labor Assembly will confer with the management in an effort to adjust the difficulty.

GREAT SALE OF HIRSH WICKWIRE SUITS AT THE

THE BIG DULUTH.

To the People of St. Louis County, Minn:

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the nomination at the forthcoming primary election on Tuesday, June 16, 1914, for the position of Sheriff. I have been a resident of the county for the past forty years. I was one of the original promoters of the Duluth Paper & Stationery company and am still connected with it, as its treasurer, and as its traveling salesman in the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges. In 1892 I was elected a member of the Board of County Commissioners, which position I held for the full term of four years. During that period I brought up the question of building a wagon road to connect Duluth with the iron range towns, and there was considerable opposition to the proposition. I took the stand that there should be a through trunk road, starting at Duluth and running to the northern boundary of the county in as near a direct northerly route as possible and from that branch roads could be built, as the adjacent country was settled up, and the interests of the inhabitants required, the idea being that the trunk road should be built in sections, and extended from time to time as the county became settled. This proposition was finally adopted and what is now known as the Miller trunk road is the result, the succeeding Board of Commissioners to the one of which I was a member having complimented me by giving the new road my name.

If nominated and elected sheriff, I shall at all times give my whole personal attention to the duties of the office and shall endeavor to discharge those duties in a manner consistent with the law and justice, and where discretion is given me will exercise a reasonable, consistent and humane policy.

CHARLES G. MILLER.
