TWO GIRLS VANISH

Elopements Suspected in Minneapolis and Champlin Disappearance Cases.

Miss Friede Grossman, the 17-year-old daughter of Jacob Grossman, 1101 Fourth street N, is missing and her father believes that she eloped with a young man she met yesterday. The police have been asked to make a careful search for the girl.

Grossman has a grocery at 1101 Fourth street N, and the girl acted as clerk yesterday while her father was at luncheon. A stranger entered and began talking with her. The father returned but later was called out on business. When he returned his daughter had gone. He believes she left with the young man.

Blanche Johnson, the 16-year-old daughter of William Johnson, a prosperous farmer near the town of Champlin, disappeared yesterday shortly after a mysterious carriage drove away from the house. It is thought that she came to the twin cities and both police departments have been asked to find her.

STATE GETS IRON LAND

Famous Swamp Land Case Is Finally Disposed Of.

The state of Minnesota has at last secured absolute title to the thirty-six-acre tract of swamp land near Virginia, supposed to contain immense quantities of iron ore, and in controversy for several years past. The secretary of the interior gave his decision a month ago, declaring in favor of the state, and against F. A. Hyde & Co., the claimants. A stay was given in order to give the claimants opportunity to make a motion for a review. They have not done so, and the case is now closed. The patent will shortly be issued to the state.

BABE DESERTED IN STORE

Bundle Left on Counter Found to Hold Infant.

A young babe was deserted in one of the downtown department stores yesterday afternoon. The police are making efforts to find the woman who left it.

A stylishly dressed woman went into the store with a large bundle. After making a few small purchases she left the bundle on one of the counters. Soon afterward a clerk noticed that the bundle was very much alive, and on opening it she found the baby. It was at once taken to Central station and later to the Bethany home.

The clerks say they can identify the woman and she will be found and held to account.

HEIRESS HUNTING IN AUTOMOBILES

NEW CUSTOMS RULING LIKELY TO ENCOURAGE PRACTICE.

Machines May Be Brought In Duty Free for Three Months by Foreigners—Likely to Be Numerous on Nicollet Avenue Next Summer.

Automobiles, if placed under bond, will be admitted free of duty for touring purposes in the United States for three months next summer. This announcement was received at the local customs office this morning, and it was stated by the officers that inside information showed that the new ruling would bring about a large influx of foreign travelers. Many English and continental globetrotters, who have hitherto been deterred from traveling in this country on account of the fact that it is almost impossible to find easy means of travel except on the beaten paths, have already signified their intention of touring Yankee country next year. As Minneapolis is on the line of travel which leads to the open west, it is expected that foreign nobles will be as thick on Hennepin and Nicollet next year as were the red men in ancient days.

The actual owners of the machines are not required to come with them, which will mean that an impoverished nobleman may borrow a machine long enough to secure an American heiress. From the same inside sources the customs officials say they have heard of two prospective touring parties which have their eyes turned to Minneapolis millions.

If an automobile has been used for a year, not for business purposes, the owner may keep it in this country. This will possess two advantages. If the nobleman secures his heiress, he will be able to keep his machine, even if it is held that he has used it for business. If he does not secure his heiress, he may be compelled to stay in this country for pecuniary reasons, but he may sell his machine for meal tickets, not having used it for business.

RIVER MAY BE DEEPENED

RIVERS AND HARBORS COMMITTEE MAY FAVOR SIX-FOOT CHANNEL TO ST. LOUIS.

Substantial improvements in the Mississippi waterway may result from the inspection trip made by the rivers and harbors committee. The committee will meet Nov. 21 to frame a bill. A six-foot channel from Minneapolis to St. Louis is a possibility, according to J. Adam Bede, who has just returned from the trip with the committee. Another improvement planned is the widening of the Missouri at Kansas City to prevent flood damage. Property owners have been allowed to fill the channel, reducing the width from 800 to 400 feet, and floods have resulted. Mr. Bede said:

Any one that thinks that the trip of the river and harbors committee was a mere junket is mistaken. It was about the hardest work I ever did. We worked night and day. At every town we were met by a committee that had some project for us to consider and to make a conscientious inspection of the Mississippi river is a great task.

GERMAN CONSUL DUE

New Official Will Make His Headquarters in St. Paul.

Hans E. Grunow, who has been appointed consul for the German empire to Minnesota, South Dakota and North Dakota, is due to arrive in St. Paul today. St. Paul, which has heretofore been the seat of a German vice consolate, has been raised to an independent consular office.

Hr. Grunow is a traveled and cultured gentleman with much experience in the German consular service and home departments. Educated at Lausanne and Berlin universities, he has served his government in Samoa, at Sidney, Australia, and more recently at Constantinople. He has also held positions in the judiciary and the other departments.

DETECTS BOGUS SWEETS

State Chemist Finds Reliable Test for Maple Syrup.

State Chemist Hortvet has discovered a method of detecting the adulteration of maple syrups and sugars. Heretofore there has been no chemical test which could distinguish maple sugar and cane sugar, and it was easy to adulterate one with the other in almost any quantity. Mr. Hortvet has made tests which prove that his method is absolutely safe and accurate, and the manufacturers will have to supply pure syrups and sugar to Minnesota, or else label them adulterated.

A stranger, who said he lived near Thornodsgaard, made his acquaintance and borrowed $20, giving as security a worthless check for $400.
