VIOLENT DEATHS WERE NUMEROUS

RECORDS SHOW AN ALARMING INCREASE IN ONE MONTH.

Ten Suicides and Seven Accidents Responsible for Showing—Revolvers and Carbolic Acid Chosen by the Despondent Who Were Ill or Out of Employment.

Altho many violent deaths thru accident and suicide occur in a city the size of Minneapolis, the records of such happenings for the past thirty days show a sudden and large increase.

Since Aug. 15, seventeen persons have suffered deaths attended by more or less distressing incidents. The average is about ten a month, and the sudden jump is attributed to an apparent epidemic of suicide. Ten of the deaths in this period were suicides, the self-destroyers being either ill or out of work. As to methods, these persons were about equally divided between the use of the revolver and carbolic acid.

Of the suicides Lars Glinsdale chose the most lingering and painful method, taking a large dose of aconite. Aconite causes a sensation of suffocation for hours. The victim becomes rigid and loses all control of his muscles. This is followed by a slow sinking spell ending in death. The brain remains absolutely clear to the last, causing untold mental anguish.

All of the accidental deaths were violent, but three of them were accompaniel by unusual circumstances. August Ohde of St. Louis Park was crushed beneath the falling timbers of his saloon during the tornado. Frank Cishoski, a mill employee, was killed by a large splinter that was driven thru his skull. Ester Anderson strangled after swallowing a steel screw.

The list of violent deaths follow:

Suicides.

Aug. 15—Arthur Balduc, carbolic acid.
Aug. 18—Peter Nelson, revolver.
Aug. 26—Guerdon Fravor, revolver.
Aug. 27—Frank Peterson, carbolic acid.
Aug. 30—A. Carlson, inhalation of gas.
Sept. 4—Ernest Piggle, morphine.
Sept. 5—Jacob Gran, revolver.
Sept. 5—Ida Hart, morphine.
Sept. 9—Mrs. W. W. King, carbolic acid.
Sept. 10—Lars Glinsdale, aconite.

Accidental.

Aug. 19—Howard Condon, fall from building.
Aug. 20.—A. W. Hilgedick, lightning.
Aug. 20—A. Ohde, crushed under building by storm.
Sept. 3—Ester Anderson, strangled by screw in throat.
Sept. 5—Adam Rodner, shot while hunting.
Sept. 9—Frank Cishoski, splinter driven into head.
Sept. 10—Ture Rosen, drowned.

HONOR FOR C. A. SMITH

MINNEAPOLIS LUMBERMAN IS MADE COMMANDER OF ORDER OF VASA BY KING OSCAR.

C. A. Smith, the millionaire lumberman, was last evening made a commander in the Order of Vasa. The presentation was made in the rooms of the Odin club by E. H. Hobe, Swedish-Norwegian consul at St. Paul, in the presence of some thirty-five members.

The honor bestowed by King Oscar is especially appreciated by Mr. Smith in that it came as an entire surprise and makes him the only commander of the order in the United States. The occasion was made one for general felicitation, those joining in congratulating Mr. Smith being: A. Ueland, C. J. Johnson, John Peterson, E. H. Hobe, C. C. Bennett, A. W. Benson, F. W. Cappelan, H. J. Gjertsen, Dr. A. Lind, P. P. Quist, O. O. Searle, A. W. Skog, C. J. Swanson, C. L. Talbert, August Sandberg, A. B. Darelius, N. O. Werner, L. N. Gayner, August Ekman, E. L. Mattson, Carl Ekman, G. Akermark, Victor Nilsson, Dr. Knute Hoegh, Knute Ekman, Svante Hillman, Alex V. Ostrom, T. Gulbrandson, Swan Turnblad, S. Sorenson, C. A. Werner, G. A. Sandberg, Elmer Bloomquist, H. L. Stenvig, and Judge Andrew Holt.

Gustavus Erickson, known afterwards as Gustavus Vasa, was the greatest of Swedish kings, and in whose memory the order was founded. The young noble had been one of the group of Swedish hostages whom Christian II. had sent to Denmark. The three Scandinavian countries were at this time, 1519, under a Danish ruler. Gustavus escaped from prison in that year, and returned to Dalecarlia, where in the guise of a peasant he urged the revolt which was finally carried out. He led his countrymen, and after national independence was attained, was elected to the throne.

In 1554 it was decided that the throne should cease to be elective and that it should be hereditary in the family of Gustavus.

Gustavus Vasa died in 1560.

THE HORSE HAS CENTER OF STAGE

INTERESTING SHOW IN THE BIG TENT AT HAMLINE.

Prizes Awarded in Several Classes After Exhibitions That Delight Crowd That Is Large, Considering the Chilly Weather—Society Folk There in Force.

His majesty, the horse, received the homage of his loyal subjects of the twin cities at Hamline last night. The big horse show opened, but unfavorable weather materially interfered with the attendance. Before the evening program closed there was a large crowd present in the big tent, but not so large as it would have been had there been less of winter's chill in the atmosphere.

The array of horses shown last night was a creditable one. The first class shown was that of trotting pairs, roadsters, mares or geldings or mare and gelding, with appointments. Honors went to Rhea W., and Easter Bell, exhibited by Miss K. L. Wilkes, Galt, Ont. Sylvan Bell and Sylvan Dell, W. A. Rule's beautifully matched pair from Kansas City, were proclaimed second, and W. G. Carling of St. Paul was awarded third with Miss Pickwick and sister. Thomas Bass of Mexico, Mo., scored a signal success in the class for high-school saddle horses. Governor Folk took the blue ribbon and Dixie Girl, from the same stable, was given the blue. Helen Walker, O. J. Mooer's entry from Columbia, Mo., acted foolishly in her work, and before she had settled down had been given third honors. This little frivolity cost the owner what looked to have been second honors at least.

Park pairs were shown next, and honors went to the Pepper stables of Toronto, exhibiting Creighton and Mate. Dividend and Security, shown by Frank K. Bull of Racine, Wis., were awarded the red ribbon, and W. G. Carling's King Navajo and King Dodo took the yellow ribbon for St. Paul. Empress and Show Girl, driven by Mr. Murray of the Crow & Murray stable of Toronto caught the fancy of a great many admirers of beautiful working pairs, but were not so fancied by the judges.

In the road teams, shown to coach, drag or break, Crow and Murray were awarded first honors, second and third going to the Pepper and Ashbrook stables respectively.

Jack o' Diamonds, winner of the world's fair event for gaited saddle horses, had an easy time in the gaited saddle mare or gelding class. He was exhibited by Thomas Dunn of St. Louis and ridden by Bass. Helen Walker settled down and took second honors with Artist Rex, Rule stables, Kansas City, wearing the yellow rosette.

Park horses shown to gigs and Stanhopes gave another victory to the Pepper establishment in Indian. Frank K. Bull's Racine entry, Principal, was second and Crow & Murray's Sporting Duchess was third.

Sporting tandems shown first as tandems with leader subsequently taking the jumps with driver up went to Pepper's Myopia and mate. Tan Toy, Weatherbee's New York entry, took second honors, and Crow & Murray's Montros and Cloth of Gold were given third.

The potato race resulted in much merriment, a little blood letting, some bad temper and a victory for F. L. Tarbox of St. Paul. Fred J. Bork of Kansas City was second with Walter Hill and Harold Smith of St. Paul tied for third.

Judges of the events were Colonel Charles A. Pratt of Little Rock, Ark.; Mayor William E. Spratt of St. Joseph, Mo., and C. G. Bridgeford of Kansas City, Mo.

The program for tonight is as follows:

Music by Minnesota State Band.

8 O'Clock—Pairs of park horses, 14 to 15.2 with appointments.
8:20 O'Clock—Class 4, roadster, single, stallion, mare or gelding.
8:40 O'Clock—Class 39, high school mare or gelding.
9 O'Clock—Four-in-hand park teams, with appointments.
9:20 O'Clock—Class 11, local pairs to brougham or victoria.
9:40 O'Clock—Class 13, the gig horse.
10 O'Clock— Class 35, gaited saddle stallion, mare or gelding.
10:20 O'Clock—Class 46, potato race, local (post entries).
10:30 O'Clock—Class 42, jumping class.

SOCIETY IN EVIDENCE

Boxes Presented a Brilliant Appearance During Show's Progress.

The committee showed great wisdom in its choice of colors for the horse show, for nothing could have furnished a more brilliant background for the gathering of twin city society than the great white tent with its gay stripes and streamers of red, and the red and white hangings for the boxes and promenade rail. It was unfortunate that it was so cold last evening, for there was too much frost in the air to enable the women to remove their coats and show their pretty gowns. Stunning evening coats of broadcloth and velvet, with malines and lace hats in all of the dainty light colors, gave a very smart appearance to the boxes. Many of the women paid a pretty compliment to the board of managers by introducing a touch of red or white in their costumes.

One side of the huge tent had been reserved for St. Paul and the other for Minneapolis, and there was much visiting back and forth, for the promenade furnished an excellent place to obtain a nearer view of the horses, as the men and women sauntered about to greet their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Case had a horse-show party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Case, and their thirty guests occupied five boxes. A dinner at the Minneapolis club preceded the show, and the decorations were, of course, in red and white, and the women all carried clusters of red and white roses when they came down from Minneapolis in a chartered car. The other guests were Messrs. and Mmes. Harry Seldon, James Ford Bell, Walter W. Heffelfinger, Louis B. Newell, Charles S. Pillsbury, Norman Stewart of Chicago, Misses Laura Harrington, Eda Shull, Margaret Wells, Marguerite Gray, Elizabeth McDonald, Helen Hoegh, Messrs. Charles Heffelfinger, John Pillsbury, John Gilfillan, Stewart Wells, Charles Gale, F. H. Carpenter, Robert Hastings and Bovey.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Deere Velie also entertained at dinner at the Minneapolis club before the show. They had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Bovey, Miss Robinson of Grand Forks and Willis Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Carpenter had Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Porteous and Mrs. Lafayette Lamb of Clinton, Iowa, in their box. Mr. and Mrs. George H. Daggett, Mr. and Mrs. D. Rhea and Judge and Mrs. Ell Torrance occupied one of the center boxes. In the other Minneapolis boxes were Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Gillette, Mr. and Mrs. George Gillette and the Misses Marion and Louise Gillette; Colonel and Mrs. W. M. Liggett, Miss Madeline Liggett, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Randall, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cosgrove, Chester A. Smith and Mr. Underwood; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hasey and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Moore; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tuller, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fisher, Mrs. Charles A. Nimocks and Miss Edna Nimocks; Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Speers and Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Dobble; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Laramee, Mrs. Alex Hughes, Miss Anna Laramee, Louis Laramee, Jr., and O. G. Scheig; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Pease, Mr. and Mrs. Al Hazer and Mr. and Mrs. Gedney; Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. M. Breslauer, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Sherer and Mrs. Martin; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hays, Misses Foster and May Daheny; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McArdle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wagner, Miss Greenly, Ed Best and W. H. Allen of Chicago.

PLAN A STATE BRIGADE

PROMINENT OFFICERS OF THE SON OF VETERANS TO VISIT MINNEAPOLIS ON ORGANIZING TOUR.

Hundreds of members of the allied patriotic societies in the twin cities are already preparing to receive General William G. Dunstin and General R. M. J. Reed when this notable delegation arrives in Minneapolis, Oct. 15. Other hundreds who have not heard of their coming will immediately join in the general preparations for the reception.

Generals Dunstin and Reed are respectively commander-in-chief of the Sons of Veterans and commander-in-chief of the Reserves, for the United States, and their mission here will be the enlisting and organizing of two regiments, one in each city, of the Sons of Veterans, the two regiments constituting the Minnesota Brigade, Sons of Veterans.

At present there is but one company of Sons of Veterans in each city. The coming of the two generals, with staffs, and the work which is to follow their coming means much for the members of the G. A. R., the Women's Relief Corps, similar organizations and patriotic people in general.

RAY SELLERS SUSPECTED

HE IS ARRESTED AS THE POSSIBLE PERPETRATOR OF ASHMORE CLUB HOLDUP.

Ray Sellers, a noted gambling-house habitue, is locked up at the Central police station, suspected of being the man who held up the gamblers at the Ashmore club last Saturday night, and who shot and seriously wounded Patrolman James Nolan.

Since the holdup Detectives Hicks, Smith, Howard and Gallagher have been at work on the case, their only clue being a hat marked "R. S." Sunday the police suspected Sellers, but waited until yesterday to make the arrest in order that they might watch his movements. Yesterday he was locked up and a search of his room revealed Nolan's revolver, which the bandit grabbed as he ran away after shooting down the officer. A suit of clothes like those which the man who did the shooting wore were also found in the room.

Nolan is still too ill to leave his home, but as soon as he is strong enough he will be asked to identify Sellers.
