SOCIETY

tive entertainment for Tuesday afternoon in Christmas week at 4 o'clock. The costumes for the occasion, fashioned of tissue paper, have been made by the little girls, and are really works of art. After being entertained with drills and recitals, the guests will be served tea. There are no cards of admission, and no offering will be taken. The children wish their friends to come and enjoy the afternoon with them. The list of board members includes Mrs. Lewis Williams, president; Miss Helen Bennett, Mrs. A. S. Buford, Mrs. Thomas N. Carter, Mrs. Walter Christian, Miss Annie Christian, Mrs. Frank Christian, Mrs. Preston Cooke, Mrs. William Ruffin Cox, Miss Emily Harvie, Mrs. A. S. Lee, Mrs. Walter K. Martin, Mrs. William V. Powers, Mrs. Robert H. Talley, Mrs. Edward V. Valentine, Mrs. W. S. McNeill, Mrs. Mary Wallace, Mrs. Llewellyn McVeigh, Mrs. J. Ambler Johnson, Miss Mildred Hill, Mrs. Russell Jones, Miss Agnes D. Randolph, Mrs. Baker, Miss Martha M. Robinson, Mrs. Albert C. Diggs and Mrs. George W. Bagby.

Mrs. Donaldson at the Art Club.

Mrs. Sallie Orr Donaldson will lecture before the Art Club of Richmond on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Donaldson, a native of Richmond and a speaker of note, is a great favorite with Richmond audiences. Her series of lectures on "Current Events" has been a feature of this season's intellectual entertainments.

Mrs. Donaldson has chosen as her subject for Tuesday afternoon, "A Day at Bingwell's Island." This will be the first time that the members of the Art Club have had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Donaldson in the city, and it is expected that an enthusiastic audience will be there to greet her. The lecture will begin promptly at 3:30 o'clock, and members and their friends are asked to assemble early in order that the distinguished lecturer may not be interrupted. After the lecture tea will be served to the art students.

Mrs. Hall Entertained.

Mrs. Philip Weaver Meriwether, of Brownsburg, gave an afternoon reception Thursday in honor of her guest, Mrs. L. Rennie Hall, of Waynesboro. The entire lower floor was thrown open to the guests and decorated everywhere in Christmas greens and potted plants. About fifty guests called during the afternoon.

Old and New Year Ball.

Samis Grotto Drill Team will give a ball at the Masonic Temple on Friday from 9 to 1 A. M. A buffet supper will be served. The following chaperons have been invited to receive: Mrs. Oscar E. Parrish, Mrs. Fairfax C. Jones, Mrs. John Hirshberg, Mrs. A. C. Boschen, Mrs. R. C. Pelouze, Mrs. Carl J. Bostrup, Mrs. G. E. Governator, Mrs. W. N. Watkins, Mrs. W. A. Grant, Mrs. Henry Chaplin, Mrs. Joseph Kessinich, Mrs. C. M. Monroe, Mrs. R. S. Hudgins, Jr., and Mrs. George E. Meyer.

Distinguished Guest.

Mrs. Henry Ainley, of London, England, has arrived in New York, and after spending a few days there and a brief visit in Washington, she will come to Richmond to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Drake, at 1200 Floyd Avenue. Mrs. Ainley is a sister-in-law of Anthony Hope, the writer, and is an American by birth. She is a member of the American Red Cross Society, and while serving at the front was detained in a German prison for some time, from which she made an adventurous escape. Upon returning to London, Mrs. Ainley turned her residence into a hospital, chiefly for the use of American soldiers, and devoted much of her time to keeping them in touch with relatives and friends in this country. James H. Drake, Jr., of this city, and Vivien Slaughter, of Orange, who was Mr. Drake's classmate at the University of Virginia, have received many kindnesses at her hands. Mrs. Ainley was educated in Paris, and has spent much time abroad, where she is the friend of Sir Conan Doyle, Kipling and other people famous in the world of letters. Many social affairs will be given in her honor.

Miss Jones to Give Readings.

Among the interesting affairs to follow Christmas will be the twelve readings given by Miss Lou Belle Catesby Jones at her home, 6 North Second Street, on Tuesday, at 4 o'clock during January, February and March. The program for the season will include:

I. Poems of Emile Verhaeren, one of the brilliant group of writers representing "Young Belgium."

II. Poems of Rupert Brooke.

III. "The Twelve-Pound Look," J. M. Barrie.

IV. "Deirdre of the Sorrows," J. M. Synge.

V. "A Bit o' Love," John Galsworthy.

V. "A Bit o' Love," John Galsworthy.

VI. "The King of the Dark Chamber," Rabindranath Tagore.

Plays of Euripides, translated by Gilbert Murray.—VII, "Medea."

VIII, "Iphigenia in Aulis." IX, "The Trojan Women." X, "Electra." XI, "Iphigenia in Tauris." XII, "Alcestis."

Miss Potts to Wed.

Mrs. Charles E. Potts, of Ashland, has issued cards announcing the approaching marriage of her daughter, Virginia Loomis, to Herman Droste, of Kenwood. The ceremony will take place in the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Duncan Hunter, in Ashland, on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and on account of recent mourning in the family of Miss Potts, only relatives and a few very intimate friends have been asked. There will be no reception, and a small wedding breakfast will be given for the family. Miss Keith Carlin, of Alexandria, formerly Miss Annie Mason Potts, is to be her sister's dame of honor, and the groom will be attended by his brother as best man. Rev. E. L. Goodwin, D. D., rector of St. James (the Less) Episcopal Church, Ashland, will perform the ceremony. After a wedding journey, Mr. Droste and his bride will be at home at Kenwood.

Morgan-Robertson.

The marriage of Miss Cecil Robertson, of Danville, and Charles Morgan, of this city, was celebrated yesterday at 10:30 o'clock, the ceremony taking place very quietly at the home of the bride's sister, 124 Campbell Avenue, Danville. Miss Christina Powers was bridesmaid and Richard Mann, also of Danville, was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan will be at home after January 1 at 424 South Harrison Street, Richmond, and they will be tendered a reception at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Morgan, upon their return.

Leaves for West Point.

Mrs. A. J. Crane, of Omaha, Neb., who has been visiting friends in Richmond, left yesterday for West Point, where she will be the guest of her brother, W. S. Eastwood.

Mrs. Crane will be pleasantly remembered by her many friends, both in Richmond and West Point, as Miss Eulalia Eastwood, daughter of the late A. W. Eastwood, who, for twenty years, was Mayor of West Point.

To Celebrate Golden Wedding.

Captain and Mrs. J. H. Parater are to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage Tuesday evening at their residence, 509 B Street, Southeast, Washington, in the presence of their children, grandchildren, great grandchildren, relatives and many intimate friends from Richmond, Newark and Washington. Captain and Mrs. Parater were married at Richmond December 28, 1865, by Rev. James E. Gates, of Laurel Street Methodist Church. Mrs. Parater before her marriage was Miss Charlotte H. Kendall, of Richmond. Mrs. Mary Dwyer, the bridesmaid, of Richmond, is living and will be present at the celebration. Captain Parater is a Confederate veteran and was a captain of Company G, First Virginia Regiment, and was a member of the Richmond police force for seventeen years and captain of the Second Precinct for six years, which position he resigned in 1881 to accept a position in the Navy Yard of Washington, where he has since been continuously employed.

Going North.

Miss Helen Baker, head of the Collegiate School for Girls at 1123 West Franklin Street, will take a party to New York for a portion of the holidays. They will leave at noon on Tuesday, and the list includes Misses Grace Fore, Lydia Miller, Mabelle Warren, Mary Steinbeck, Alice Denoux, Lucy Gwathmey, Mrs. Basil Gwathmey and Mrs. John Grove, all of Richmond. At Washington they will be joined by Miss Rowena Rutledge, of Texas, and Miss Helen Groves, of Kansas City, Mo., both of whom are students at Randolph-Macon College. While in New York the party will be located at the Hotel Martinique.

Christmas Social.

Invitations have been issued for a Christmas social to be given by Neil W. Reardon and James T. Lewis, Jr., at the Conservatory of Music, on Tuesday evening. The hall will be decorated for the occasion and presents will be distributed from the Christmas tree.

Quiet Wedding.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in the parsonage of Rev. Oscar Guthe at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, when Mrs. Augusta Jurgens gave in marriage her daughter, Minnie Augusta, to Frederick Lyle, also of this city. The bride's dress was of blue cloth, with hat and gloves to match, and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. Mrs. B. L. Albano was her sister's matron of honor, and Donald R. Cutchins, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Lyle will spend their honeymoon in Florida and other places of interest, and will later make their home in this city.
