WALL STREET RESTING, AND TRADING IS DULL

Strong Opening Followed by Irregular Market, With More Losses Than Gains.

FEW IMPORTANT MOVEMENTS

Beet Sugar Goes Up 3 Points, Approaching Its High of Year—Midvale Steel Sells Off Sharply—No Good News in Prospect.

BY BROADAN WALL.

NEW YORK, February 8—In expectation of a peaceful adjustment of the Lusitania affair, Wall Street had a resting spell in this stock market to-day. A strong opening was followed by a dull, irregular market that closed with more net losses than net gains. Few movements of importance were seen in any section.

Beet Sugar, with a rise of 3 points, approached the high price of the year. Colorado Fuel and Iron and Allis-Chalmers were the other strong features. Midvale Steel sold off sharply when the Street realized that its purchase of Cambria would have to be financed in the market.

Although the market was at times rather heavy, brokers reported many new buying orders placed on a scale down. They believe stocks will be absorbed with increasing volume on any decline. Possible delay in spring planting owing to wet weather is not having much weight yet, but important banking interests are counting on it to let them pick up a desirable line of high-class stocks during the next two or three weeks. Some of these bankers have liquidated their speculative lines entirely, and their wish is admittedly father to the thought that stocks may decline.

From a technical point of view, continued irregularity in the market should be expected because there is no new good news in prospect at the moment.

In addition to this there is the knowledge that the allies are preparing for their first great battle of the war, and this naturally creates some nervousness. The financial world is paying no attention whatever to the renewal of peace talk.

Persons who claim to be in touch with the Steel Corporation say that its earnings for January were such as to justify expectations of $60,000,000 net for the current quarter. Such earnings make extensive bearish operations dangerous, so Wall Street feels very safe in picking up stocks on the present decline. Commission houses are renewing their efforts to induce the public to buy. The war order money has by this time begun to fill the pockets of the working people, and the ordinary investor has some of it to spend.

Midvale Steel's movement upward was checked to-day for two very good reasons. In the first place, the purchase of Cambria Steel was made at a price that is admitted to be rather high, and that purchase must be with stock or bonds. In the second place rumors persist that Baldwin Locomotive is wanted either by the Midvale combination directly or by persons identified with it. The remarkably good record made by Baldwin in its ordinary business lends munition people to feel that it has a management to which might profitably be intrusted some very large orders for shells. The present price of Baldwin takes that into consideration, and if the munition shells not prove to be the purchasers, some rather extensive financing would have to be done. Therefore the professionals are not inclined to take an active part in its market at the moment.

NEW YORK, February 8—Much of the optimism which effected a general elevation of prices yesterday was lacking today, the speculative community again falling back upon the Lusitania affair and its possible results as an excuse for depressing the list. There was also some discussion regarding overnight advices from London, which pointed to another shuffling of the political cards in the British empire.

Trading was lighter and more contracted than at any recent session, being utterly without public interest or support, and more than ordinarily professional.

Comparative strength and activity were manifested by several of the independent steel issues, notably Colorado Fuel, Great Northern Ore, Republican Iron and Sloss-Sheffield Steel, giving rise to fresh rumors of deals or combinations, in which Midvale Steel figured. United States Steel was under intermittent pressure, regardless of favorable forecasts dealing with the corporation's January earnings and unfilled tonnage.

Initial dealings indicated general firmness, which soon gave way to pronounced irregularity in the more active issues comprising the railroad and coal groups and such rails as Canadian Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio. Losses were largely retrieved before midday, but for the balance of the session the market drifted idly, with an almost imperceptible downward trend.

General news of the day was almost wholly conservative. Another upward revision of prices for most steel and iron products is expected before the expiration of the current quarter.

Sterling rates ruled firm, likewise francs, while remittances to Germany and Austria strengthened visibly.

Bonds were irregular to heavy, with further extensive trading in Anglo-French 5s. Total sales, par value, aggregated $3,735,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

NEW YORK, February 8—Mercantile paper, 3@3½; sterling sixty-day bills, $4.76¾, demand, $4.79; cables, $4.76¾; bar silver, 56¾; Mexican dollars, 43¾; Government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, easy. Time loans, easy; sixty and ninety days, 2¾@2¾; six months, 2¾@3. Call money, steady; ruling rate, 1¾.

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, February 8—The cotton market was higher to-day with May contracts selling up to 12.38, or 26 points above yesterday's final figures and closing at 12.26. The general list closed very steady at a net advance of from 21 to 24 points.

The market opened at an advance of 8 to 9 points in response to firmness in Liverpool. Local selling around the initial figures caused some irregularity, but Liverpool showed continued strength, houses with Liverpool connections being heavy buyers here. Offerings, consequently were well absorbed, and prices worked upwardly in the later trading on reports of an easier situation in ocean freight rates out of New York, favorable political advices, and reports of steady Southern spot markets. The demand from Liverpool tapered off after the close abroad, but houses with Liverpool connections were buyers again late in the afternoon, while there was also some fresh demand from Western and Wall Street sources. The bulk of the demand, however, was attributed to covering of shorts, and the limited volume of offerings rendered the market sensitive to the buying movement. The late advance carried March contracts up to 12.09, July to 12.40, and October to 12.46, or about 24 to 26 points net higher. The market closed within a point or two of the best. The opening advance here was by no means a full response to the cables, and the Liverpool buying was attributed to covering by straddle shorts at the wider differences.

Closed very steady:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
March	11.90	12.09	11.89	12.07
May	12.10	12.28	12.09	12.26
July	12.21	12.40	12.21	12.39
October	12.28	12.45	12.28	12.44
December	12.35	12.58	12.43	12.56

Spot cotton, steady; middling uplands, 12.10c; no sales.

NEW YORK, February 8.—Port movement: Middling, 12.10c; exports, 800 bales; stock, 332,286 bales.

Total to-day at all ports—Net receipts, 37,695 bales; exports, 23,707 bales; stock, 1,711,889 bales.

Total for week—Net receipts, 75,935 bales; exports, 78,320 bales.

Total for season—Net receipts, 5,080,001 bales; exports, 2,990,993 bales.

NEW ORLEANS, February 8—A sudden show of strength, which almost reached the spectacular in the afternoon, was made by this market to-day. The price was raised a quarter of a cent a pound on sustained buying, much of which came from nervous shorts. Later in the day the rumor that British officials would visit this country to try to settle the blockade controversy, caused activity and put the market to a level 20 to 26 points over yesterday's close.

The no market had a firm tone throughout in a large measure due to the more favorable turn taken by the Lusitania matter. Liverpool was much better than due when the American markets opened and initial prices were at the advance. In the early trading prices rose about 10 points. With almost no setbacks the gain gradually was widened. The close was 22 to 25 points up.

While brokers handled a large volume of fresh buying, and the outside public took more interest in the market than for many days past, the demand was most insistent from recent sellers, who did prices up on themselves in their efforts to cover their short commitments before their profits vanished.

Closed very steady. Closing bid: March, 11.78; May, 12.05; July, 12.27; October, 12.28; December, 12.39. Spot cotton, steady, unchanged. Sales on the spot, 450 bales; to arrive, 150 bales. Middling, 11.62c.

NEW YORK PRODUCE MARKET.

NEW YORK, February 8.—Raw sugar, steady; centrifugal, 4.83@4.86; molasses, 4.66@4.09; refined, steady. Spot coffee, steady; Rio 7s, 8¾; Santos 4s, 9¾. Butter, steady; cheese, steady.

Cottonseed oil was higher, particularly the March delivery, which was in demand from refiners and shorts. This strength was partially reflected in the balance of the list, aided by the higher ruling in lard and cotton and light crude offerings. March closed 18 points higher, and later months 5 to 7 higher. Sales, 14,900 barrels. Closed strong. Spot, 9.50@10.00; February, 9.35@9.55; March, 9.32@9.38; April, 9.32@9.38; May, 9.23@9.25; June, 9.24@9.28; July, 9.24@9.25; August, 9.24@9.25; September, 9.22@9.25. Total sales, 14,900.

CHANGE FOR BETTER IN WHEAT CONDITIONS

Offerings Grow Tighter and Prices Advance—Sellers of Monday Become Buyers.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

CHICAGO, February 8.—There was a partial change for the better in conditions surrounding the wheat market to-day, as compared with those of Monday. Many of those who were heavy sellers on the break in May wheat on Monday retraced their steps and bought that month in good amounts to-day. Because of the tightening of the offerings, prices advanced 2 to 2 1-2 cents to-day. Not in many months have the export sales of wheat been scattered over so wide a territory. Chicago sold 700,000 bushels of wheat, of which 400,000 bushels were No. 1 Northern, and 300,000 bushels were winter, for export; there were 800,000 bushels taken at Winnipeg; 250,000 bushels each at Kansas City and Omaha, and 1,500,000 bushels each at Portland, Ore., and New York. It was claimed late to-day that there were resting orders at Chicago and other markets for the purchase of spring and hard winter wheat, which were not filled owing to the firmer views of holders.

The average bear in wheat was largely surprised to note the strength at Liverpool to-day, following the sensational break here on Monday. The Chicago bear expected a big price decline in the English market, but the closing there was unchanged to 1-2d. lower for wheat, and flour was unchanged. Cargoes, however, were 3 to 7 1-2d. lower, with the sharpest loss in the winter variety. The flour market at Chicago was marked down 20c a barrel to-day at $7.30 for the best hard spring wheat patents.

There was a further falling off in the movement of wheat, with only 699,000 bushels at Western markets, compared with 934,000 bushels a week ago, and 717,000 bushels a year ago.

There was partial recovery in corn values to-day from the losses sustained on Monday. The gains were 1 1-4 to 1 3-8c. There were export takings at Baltimore of 150,000 bushels. The strength in wheat was undoubtedly a help to corn. Farmers and country elevator concerns were cautious about selling their surplus.

Cash sales at Chicago were small, at 45,000 bushels.

Oats were 1 1-8 to 1 1-2 higher. This market rallied with the others, and showed considerable strength. Cash sales were 250,000 bushels, with 140,000 bushels for export.

Foreigners were buyers of lard. Local speculators sold ribs and lard. The general trade was light.
