PAGEANT CHAIRMEN ALL REPORT PROGRESS

Every Detail Expected to Be in Readiness for Shakespearean Celebration.

CHARACTERS ARE REHEARSING

Warren P. Taylor Says Transportation Problem Is Clarifying—Costume Makers at Work and Classes Are Studying Special Dances.

Reports received from the chairmen of the Shakespeare Pageant to be given on Richmond College Grounds May 4 and 5, at Friday's meeting at headquarters were of the most encouraging nature.

W. S. Forbes, chairman of the finance committee, said that $8[illegible] had been collected to date, and that more had been pledged, and that the committee aimed to secure $5,000 to assist in staging the outdoor celebration. He explained that when the business men found out that the proceeds of the pageant were to be turned over to the sectional aireas and that no one was being paid for their services except necessary help, such as clerical, dress-making, and coaching, the money was generously given.

Lewis Pizzini, chairman of the committee on grounds, reported that the grounds would be encircled by the marshals from the high school and Boy Scouts to take care of the crowds. The sites for the plays and other activities have been laid out and platforms are being made, and the Globe Theater will be reproduced on a moderate scale for the dramatic productions.

TRANSPORTATION SITUATION IS BEING CLARIFIED

Warren P. Taylor said that the transportation problem is clarifying. The Retail Merchants' Association, The Retail Merchants' Association, and the owners of private cars have offered to cooperate with the committee.

Professor H. M. Hardy, chairman of the committee on plays, said that sections from twelve plays will be produced, and that the organizations giving them have announced the cost of characters, and are hard at work rehearsing.

J. S. Ford, chairman of the sports committee, told of the distribution of parts for the sporting events which the contestants are practicing.

Mrs. F. D. Hequembourg is instructing an orchestra of thirty pieces. Mrs. Bowman and Mrs. A. L. Rheinhardt are training a chorus of twenty-five and thirty, respectively, and Professor A. L. Rheinhardt has a chorus of thirty-five students from the Womans College. Walter C. Mercer is training 200 school children in Elizabethan songs.

Mrs. Thomas C. Gordon, chairman of the committee on dances, said that the services of an expert dancer from New York City had been secured to coach the dancers. Mrs. Fred C. Pleasants, chairman of the parade committee, said that the procession was divided into seven sections, and that the women in charge were making progress.

Mrs. H. J. Myers, chairman of the book committee, said that the State Library has prepared a special shelf of books on Elizabethan and Shakespearean literature. Mrs. William T. Oppenheimer, stated that the lectures each Wednesday afternoon at the Jefferson were well attended. The next lecture will be given Wednesday by Bishop Denny. [illegible]

Lime Against Tuberculosis

In the May 25, 1912, issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association appeared this statement concerning calcium (lime) medication in the treatment of tuberculosis:

"Under the systematic, continued and persistent regime of calcium assimilation, Van Gieson has seen a number of his patients improve. The sputum clears up of tubercle bacilli, which usually disappear, and the patients are discharged with healed pulmonary tuberculosis."

Ethical journals seldom speak so positively. Should a remedy deserve this testimony coincides with that from many consumptives who have received like results through the use of Bickman's Alterative.

Since calcium is a constituent of this remedy, its healing power may be due to the way the elements are combined with other ingredients so as to be easily assimilated.

Eckman's Alterative contains no opiates, narcotics, or habit-forming drugs, so it is safe to try. Sold by Tragle Drug Co. and leading druggists.

Bell Day Is Set for Next Friday

Home for Incurables to Make Its Appeal to Public for Support.

Next Friday has been designated as the annual Tag Day for the Home for Incurables. Stations, in charge of the members of the board of managers and others who volunteered their services, will be conveniently located throughout the city for receiving such contributions as the charitably inclined public may be disposed to give. Mrs. William M. Habliston will act as chairman of the day.

The Home for Incurables is designed to serve as much of the State as its limited capacity will permit, and the citizens of many sections of the Commonwealth will be called upon to contribute to its maintenance. Tags, with miniature bells printed on them, will be offered for sale, not only in Richmond, but in Petersburg, Hopewell, Williamsburg, Ashland and Gwathmey.

Without regard for weather conditions, those in charge of the stations, wherever they may be stationed in the Commonwealth, will stick to their posts from 8 o'clock in the morning until 8 in the evening. The general public will be given ample opportunity to do its part, however small, toward alleviating the suffering of those who are physically incapacitated for life.

The charter states the object of the home. Its object and purpose is to maintain, by voluntary contribution, a comfortable and permanent home within the State for indigent white citizens afflicted with an incurable disability or disease not malignantly contagious, and to provide such inmates with proper medical treatment and attendance. The home provides accommodations for thirty-three patients.

The superintendent is a graduate nurse, and there is a resident physician and a medical staff. Under the direction of the superintendent, there are a sufficient number of attendants to conduct the home in a cleanly and comfortable manner. It is the only charitable institution in the State which receives incurable patients.

The home was incorporated in March, 1884, Miss Mary T. Greenhow being its founder and first president. Mrs. John Murphy is now president of its board of managers.

State Inspector of Schools A. I. Lincoln and Superintendent A. C. Cooper-Barnett School and the Holdcroft High School were among the first in winning the highest number of prizes. Millwood School, Miss M. C. Crump, teacher, won the prize for highest average attendance.

PREPAREDNESS MEETING To BE HELD IN CHARLOTTESVILLE

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The first meeting to advocate adequate preparedness for national defense to be held in the congressional district represented by Representative James Hay, chairman of the House Committee on Military Affairs, will be held in Charlottesville, Va., on April 15. The meeting will be held in Madison Hall, University of Virginia, and the speaker will be Herbert Barry, secretary of the National Security League, who is a graduate of the university, and whose visit to his alma mater will be made the occasion of a cordial reception.

It is expected that President Alderman of the University of Virginia will preside, and introduce Mr. Barry. Should Dr. Alderman be absent from Charlottesville at the time, his place will be taken by one of the faculty.

The interest in preparedness in the University of Virginia is developing to a marked degree, and the debating society of the university will soon participate in an intercollegiate debate on national defense. Charlottesville is one of the three large towns in Representative Hay's district, and is well known throughout the world as a summer town.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

MINERAL, VA., April 8.—A special election will be held in the town of Mineral a special election for the purpose of bonding the town in the sum of $10,000 in order to supply the town with sufficient water for drinking and other purposes, and also to install an electric lighting system.

INTERCOLLEGIATE CONTEST ON PROHIBITION AT SALEM

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

SALEM, VA., April 8.—Plans are now being completed for the holding in Salem of the annual State convention of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association under the auspices of Roanoke College, on April 14 and 15. This is a strong nation-wide organization for the promotion of a scientific study of the liquor problem among students. There are branches in about 300 colleges and universities with an enrolled membership of 8,000 students. Harry S. Warner, general secretary of the National I. P. A. and widely known as the author of "Social Welfare and the Liquor Problem" will be present at this Virginia convention and will give a public address on the night of the 14th. Nine colleges in Virginia will send representatives to the State prohibition oratorical contest, which will be one of the features of the convention.

A series of public speaking contests is held all over the country and the winner of the national prize must previously pass through local, State and interstate contests. It is expected that the people of the community interested in prohibition will attend the public meetings of the convention in considerable numbers.

Dr. I. G. Randall, professor of history and economics in Roanoke College is president of the State Association and has in charge the plans for the convention.

CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES SETTING UP THEIR PLACES

NORFOLK, VA., April 8.—Now that the municipal primary is over and local politics no longer engages the exclusive attention of the politicians and lovers of politics, prospective candidates for Congress from the Second District are beginning to come out from cover. J. Edwin Cole is busy securing signatures to his petition. J. Peter Holland, who has not been idle since he decided to make the race and has made two or three speeches in the counties of the district, is planning a meeting in Norfolk some time in the near future. Harry Maynard, former Congressman from this district, apparently is contenting himself with telling his friends that he will be a candidate, but is really doing more than that. Evidences of his work is to be seen in Norfolk County and elsewhere. George E. Cabell is still an unknown quantity, and it is not certain that he will be a candidate. Congressman Holland is in Washington, but taking sufficient time from his duties to write his constituents. His friends also are working hard, especially in the upcountry.

The primary takes place in August, and the Second District committee will meet soon to issue the call for the primary. Official announcements will come from four or five candidates after this is done.

MANY AILMENTS ARE ALL PURELY IMAGINARY AND CAUSED BY FEA

"Imagination and Fear Cause More People to Vis Doctors and Hospitals Than Perhaps Any One Other Thing," Says H. C. Parham.

Slightest Stomach Trouble, Kidney or Liver Complai Oftimes Source of All Your Worry.

Tanlac Representative Tells of Why Tanlac Accomplishes Such Wonderful Results.

26 RICHMOND PEOPLE JOIN BELOW AND PRAISE TANLAC

"Imagination and fear cause more people to visit doctors and hospitals than perhaps any one other thing," said Mr. Parham. "We find in every city where Tanlac is being introduced that thousands of people live in daily fear and imagine they have some terrible affliction or disease, when in reality, with the stomach, kidneys or liver deranged, they only need a good tonic, stimulant and appetizer to bring them out of the worn out, run-down condition into which they have brought themselves by worry, overwork, overeating and other excesses, too great for nature to withstand. Tanlac, the new medicine, which in thousands of cases, has proven exceptionally successful in correcting such conditions, was created simply to aid nature and assist the strained, worn out stomach, kidneys and liver to perform their regular functions, and by removing the cause of this debilitated and extraordinary condition, the new medicine has worked wonders," continued Mr. H. C. Parham.

"People who have feared and worried over imaginary troubles, have oftentimes given their case up and resigned themselves to an invalid's fa until some one called to their attenti a remedy which almost invariably, even the most desperate cases, quick brings them back their old health, tality, appetite and energy. It is s that nine out of every ten people the average American city like Ric mond are afflicted with some sort stomach trouble, and on top of th with the exception of two most drea ed diseases, kidney and liver troubl take more people away annually th from all other causes combined, a it might be said that the more serio ailments are due to neglect when n ture is only suffering from minor a ments easily corrected if given atte tion in the earlier stages. The s tem is open to attack by contagio and other diseases only when derang and out of order, and for this reas none should fail to immediately b gin taking Tanlac if troubled w headaches, constipation, indigestio sourness or pains in the side or bac nervousness, loss of sleep, energy appetite, or, in fact, any of the man kindred ailments and symptoms whi all too plainly indicate disorders these vital organs," said Mr. H. C. Pa ham, the representative who is prese daily at Polk Miller's Third and Broa Street store, where he explains mo about this wonderful preparation, Ta lac, thousands are so highly praising

THOUGHT SHE WAS TERRIBLY AFFLICTED

Kidney and Stomach Trouble Caused Her to Fear She Had Bad Case of Appendicitis.

NEW MEDICINE, TANLAC, WORKED WONDERS FOR HER

Among the hundreds of people, or we might say thousands, in Richmond and vicinity who now praise Tanlac for the great good it did them in their own individual cases, is Miss Carrie Miller, 514 South Belvidere, Richmond, who in telling of her troubles, described them as follows: "I suffered from severe pains in my intestines and side and thought I had a very bad case of kidney trouble, for the pains were so severe I thought it might be even worse, and I imagined I had appendicitis. Felt so badly and weak all the time I really didn't know what to do, and one day after reading a number of the Richmond peoples' statements about Tanlac I began taking it myself, and now, though I have only taken a little more than one bottle, I already feel a great difference and feel much stronger and better in many ways. The pains have all gone, and its effect on my whole system has been all I could desire, and I cheerfully recommend Tanlac for I know it is a splendid medicine."

Another Richmond testimonial, which tells of the great good Tanlac is accomplishing here, is from Edward Williams, who was troubled with indigestion, torpid liver, constipation, gas on his stomach and frequent headaches. He, too, read about Tanlac in the newspapers, and said: "I suffered from all of the troubles mentioned above, which would make me miserable and low spirited a great part of the time, and I began taking Tanlac directly after a bad spell of indigestion, and I could see a wonderful improvement in a day or two after commencing, and now I do not suffer from any of the old pains which used to bother me, no more headaches and I feel well and strong again. Thanks to Tanlac, which I gladly recommend."

"It is hard to know just what testimonials ought to be used among hundreds received, but the above and those elsewhere on this page, in our opinion, absolutely prove that anyone, whether man, woman or child, ought to give Tanlac a thorough trial if troubled with any of the various ailments due to a deranged condition and disorder of the stomach, kidneys or liver, but should anyone desire to know more before purchasing a bottle of this splendid remedy, they will find me every day at Polk Miller's Third and Broad Streets store, where I will be glad to meet and talk with them about Tanlac," said Mr. H. C. Parham.
