CLIMBERS SMITE NEWARK IN ONE FRENZIED INNING

Seven Runs in Seventh Spell Defeat for Indians in Opening Skirmish—Bankston Mauls Ball, and Two Twirlers Are Driven to Showers.

Umpiratical decisions so angered the sadly buffeted Climbers yesterday that they went violently mad in the lucky seventh and banged the Indians all over the Broad Street lot. Seven juicy tallies were swept in, and these, added to what they had already earned by the sweat of their brows against the opposition of eleven men, put the Richmonders far in the van. As a result, Newark lost the opening encounter here by the score of 12 to 4.

Aside from two innings, the game was remarkably clean. It was, however, interesting throughout. In the fourth, with the aid of two errors, three singles and a double, the Indians registered four men. The Climbers edged up, one by one, until almost abreast of the Jerseymen. Then, in the seventh, they suddenly took on a new lease of life and held a regular field day, in which everything seemed to happen, the most important being the scoring of seven runners.

Slim McKenry was in points for Richmond, and nine hits were made off his delivery. In only two innings, however, did more than one occur. In the fourth he was touched freely, and in the eighth he yielded two, one by the merest chance. In only one chapter, however, did the invaders register.

The Climbers had the satisfaction of taking a decided fall out of Cy Pich. Ten hits in six innings was the mark made against the Jersey slabbist. Al Schacht, who replaced him, was not hit as heavily, but he gave up a total of four safeties, and his wildness paved the way for five runs.

Richmond Team Hit Hard.

The Richmonders had on their batting clothes. Bobby Clemens hit three good ones in five trials. Eibel got one in two official trips. Arragon landed for a single and double in four tries. Bill Reynolds tapped two safe ones in three trips up. McDermott and McKenry got one each, while Everett Bankston ripped things open with a double and two singles in four appearances at the plate.

For the visitors, Callahan hit three times in four attempts, one of the blows being good for two bases. Milan got a couple and Zimmerman made a double and single. Callahan in center also made some great catches of hard hit balls, robbing McKenry of a triple and endryx of a double.

The work of the umpires was noticeably off color. In the first inning Arragon was called out at the plate, but it was apparent, even in the stands that Schwert failed to touch the little Cuban. Angels also was robbed of a hit and the Climbers a run when he was called out at first after beating the throw by at least a stride. The arbiters were off also in strikes and balls. The only redeeming feature of their work was the fact that they were evidently honest in their opinions.

Richmond changed its tactics and the men smacked at the first one, if it was good. Clemens landed on the first ball for a clean single to center. Eibel cracked the second pitched ball, but witter gathered it in. Hendryx, after four fouls, hit up to Cable. Clemens stole second and scored when Arragon drove to center. Callahan made a bad peg to the plate and Angels took second. Red McDermott followed with a clean crack to left. Aragon, though lame, beat the throw home, only to be called out at the plate.

Clemens Made Pretty Run.

Newark had failed to register in its end, only three men facing McKenry. In the second the Indians were also blanked, although Zimmerman doubled with one out. Bobby Clemens made a great try for the ball and almost succeeded in getting it. The next two men went out on grounders, Arragon getting assists on all three outs in this frame. The Climbers also failed to count in their end of the second.

Only three Indians faced McKenry in the third, one going out on strikes. Richmond made a good try in its half, but a gain a rank decision of the umpire cost a run. Clemens had led off with a daisy clout to left. Eibel cleanly sacrificed him a peg and he took third on an out on Hendryx. Aragon clearly beat out a grounder to deep short, but was called out at first, cutting off a run.

Newark got a clean lead in the fourth on good hitting. Durgin started things with a short fly that Bankston muffed. Milan singled to short, Arragon making a good stop of a difficult grounder. Witter fanned, but Callahan hit to center, scoring Durgin. Zimmerman doubled to right center and took third when Roche failed to hold a throw by Bankston. Red Healey hit over second, scoring Zimmerman. The next two went out on grounders.

The Climbers got back one run in the same inning. With one down Bankston got an infield hit. Roche drew transportation. Bankston pulled a boner by starting down to third when he thought Reynolds had four balls. Schwert was asleep at the switch, and Bankston got to third, being credited with a stolen base. Reynolds hit a long fly to center, scoring Bankston. McKenry flew out to right.

Neither team could score in the fifth. McKenry was particularly effective in the sixth, fanning two batmen. Richmond got back one run in that chapter by clean hitting. Bankston doubled after one had been retired. Roche struck out, but Bill Reynolds drove to center for one bag, bringing Bankston in. McKenry grounded out.

Climbers Have Big Time.

After the Indians had scored in the seventh, Richmond came in and cleaned up the Pich. The Jerseymen took an ascension, the whole team suffering. Clemens, the first up, beat out an infield tap to Healey. Eibel laid down a perfect sacrifice fount. Zimmerman fielded well, but Hal Cable covering first, dropped the throw. George Kircher got Pich's goat, and Tim Hendryx was passed, filling the bases. Angels Arragon produced a two-base blow from under his chin, and two runners came in. Hendryx would have scored, but he fell down before reaching home. The Indians were so rattled by this time that Hendryx beat it back to third safely. Pich gave away at this point to Al Schacht, the former Brooklyn schoolboy wonder. Schacht walked McDermott. Bankston landed for his third safety of the game, bringing Hendryx and Arragon home. Roche hit to short, scoring McDermott. Reynolds sacrificed them along. McKenry grounded to Healey, who threw to Schwert, but the catcher dropped the ball. Bankston and Roche registering on the error. Bobby Clemens, on his second time up in the seventh, fanned. Hack Eibel singled to right, but Hendryx flew out to Callahan. Seven runners counted in this frame.

Newark got two hits in the eighth, but could not count. The Climbers, however, got two in their end. After two were out Bankston worked Schacht for a pass. Roche was hit by a pitched ball, and Reynolds was safe at first when he fanned on a wild pitch. McKenry delivered a one-base clout which registered a couple of runners. Clemens forced him at second for the second out. The Indians went out in order in the ninth.

BIRDS TROUNCE GRAYS

BALTIMORE, MD., June 8.—Baltimore bunched hits off Schulz and Eayrs at opportune times to-day and defeated Providence in the opening game of the series, 6 to 1. Merriette was on the hill for the Flock, and, while he was worked for seven safeties, he kept these too well scattered to do much damage. Russell played a sterling game at first for the locals, accepting sixteen chances without a miscue. The score:

ROYALS TROUNCE HUSTLERS

MONTREAL, June 8.—The Royals carried off the honors in the initial game of the series with Rochester this afternoon by the count of 8 to 6. After the Hustlers had overcome the Royals' early lead, errors, coupled with hits, allowed the locals to put the game on ice in the eighth stanza. In this inning with the bases crowded, Jacobson muffed Cather's fly, following which Kramer threw the sphere into center field in an attempt to head off Cather at second. These tricks allowed four of the Royals to scamper across the plate. The score:

TARS BLANK TRUCKERS

REJUVENATED NORFOLK BEATS PORTSMOUTH

Hopewell Loses to Nuts Through Poor Pitching—Newport News Drops Game to Tarheels.

PORTSMOUTH, VA., June 8.—In a rapid-fire game to-day Norfolk administered the first shutout experienced by the Truckers on their home grounds this year. The final score stood 2 to 0, and the game was played inside of one hour and a half.

To Pooray, the visiting pitcher, belongs the credit. After the first inning, when one man was left on base, there were only three Portsmouth batsmen up in each frame. Twice local batters secured hits, and each time the side was retired by fast double plays.

It was a rejuvenated Norfolk team that did the business. The line-up has been slightly changed, with Newton going to the outfield, and the improvement was noticeable. With Newport News losing to-day, the Truckers maintain their safe lead. Fans are already giving odds that the Truckers will win the first half.

NUTS TRIM POWDER PUFFS

PETERSBURG, VA., June 8.—Petersburg won the first of the series from Hopewell this evening by hitting Russell at opportune times. Russell was very wild on the start and walked the first two men who faced him in the first inning, and a single scored one run, after which he forced in a run by giving two more bases on balls. Mohart was in fine form and kept the five hits made off him well scattered, besides making two singles, one of which brought in two runs in the seventh inning.

BUILDERS ARE DEFEATED

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., June 8.—Leake was unhittable in the pinches to-day with the exception of one inning, while Hamilton was hit freely in several rounds and Rocky Mount defeated Newport News 5 to 2. Leake allowed only two hits, both doubles, one of which came in the sixth inning with two men on and gave the locals their only run. The pitching of Leake, a running catch of a foul against the grandstand by Lake and the fielding of Crist were features. The score:
