TO AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS

During the last few weeks there have been many collisions and near collisions between street cars and automobiles.

Fortunately these have not been attended with any serious results.

Most of these collisions have been between street cars and automobiles crossing the track on steep avenues. Our motormen are warned to keep a sharp lookout for automobiles at such intersections, but at many corners their view is obstructed until they reach the corner.

Again, there are cases where an auto may be hidden from the motorman by a low obstruction, like a fence, billboard or bushes, but where the larger and higher street car is visible to the automobile driver. Remember the motorman may not always be able to see your automobile when you can see the upper part of his

We would respectfully ask automobile drivers to use great care in driving across streets where there are car lines. Slowing up when approaching the street would prevent many collisions. Remember that a STREET CAR CAN'T DODGE. When a motorman is suddenly confronted with the possibility of a collision, he can only go ahead or stop. He cannot change direction. Our streets are becoming so congested that the number of collisions is showing a decided increase, and unless greater care is exercised fatal accidents are very likely to occur. We will try to do our share. Will you do yours?

was passed Robert Seidel of Milwaukee introduced a resolution calling for the establishment of additional agricultural schools, which was passed. A resolution by Delegate W. H. Glenn provides for the employment of legislative counsel to represent the workers at the session of the state legislature.

Feed and Dance.

Friday evening the delegates were feasted at a big "feed" provided by the entertainment committee. The food was prepared by union cooks and served by union waitresses. Meats and salads galore were among the edibles served to the hungry and willing eaters who attended the banquet. After the feed the floor was cleared and a strictly union dance was had. The dancers among the delegates and union men indulged in dancing until 1:30 a. m. That all enjoyed themselves was assured by the happy laughter and many smiles that lighted the faces of the old and young who took part in the festivities. All were "friends" and comrades adding enjoyment to the weighter problems that had to be dealt with in the sessions of the convention.

Fon du Lac Next Meeting Place. Fon du Lac was unanimously chosen at the Saturday morning session as the meeting place of the Wiscon sin State Federation of Labor in 1916. Some humor was injected in the naming of the next convention city through a member of the entertainment committee who through "pure devilment" had badges printed boosting for Kenosha. Some anxiety was felt among boosters of other cities for some little time as the cmapaign for Kenosha seemed to be gaining leaway. Madison and Ashland each sought for second place in an effort as they explained to obtain the convention for 1917. Ashland, however, was the only city other than Fon du Lac that was formerly nominated and it was only alter Delegate Kull of Ash land, who made a fervent plea for his home town for 1917 had been practically assured that the city on Chequamegon bay with the historic Apostle Islands close at hand would be considered at the next convention that the Ashland delegates consented to withdrawing the nomination and allowing Fon du Lac to be chosen by unanimous vote of the convention. Delegate Glenn of Madison formally announced for the information of Ashland delegates that his city, with allits beauty and importance would be contendor for the 1917 convention. Weber Has Unruly Watch.

The Saturday session, like most closing sessions was more or less in confusion and Chairman Weber had to use the gavel in order to get the desired attention of the delegates During one of his "spasms" his watch had accidently climbed on top of a match and very cautiously and unsus pectingly wandered from its accustomed place under the spot that Brother Frank was "hammering" with his gavel. Like most watches that come in contact with a hardwood hammer in the hands of a very heavy man, the crystal succombed to the ordeal and was broken. A member in the hall consented to take the watch to a jeweler and after the crys tal was replaced the watch continued to perform its faithful duty as a good watch should. Convention Adjourns

After the resolutions committee had completed its report of thanks to the various "entertainers" in Superior the convention proceeded to elect officers of the Federation for the ensuing Weber and Handley were retained in their respective offices. The surprise of the election was the defeat of Metcalfe of Milwaukee and Le Due of Eau Claire for re-election to the state executive board. The vote on the members of the new executive board was as follows. Resident members (Milwaukee) Henry Ohl, 116; Henry Rumpel, 86; Robert Siedel 22; Frank Behling, 25; Frank B. Metcalfe, 36. Ohl and Rumpel were declared elected. Of the non-resident members the vote stood as follows: Chas. W. Swanson of Superior, 121; Aden Alverson of Madison 81; Frank J. Mashek of La Crosse, 93; A. T. LeDue, Eau Claire, 24; Frank Janda, Oshkosh, 18; A. J. Kull, Weber to A. F. of L. Convention. Frank J. Weber was chosen as delegate to the American Federation of Labor convention which will meet in San Francisco this fall. Mr. Weber was instructed to investigate labor conditions on the coast during his stay in the west. He has been extended invitations from the Universities of Oregon, Washington and Leland Stanford to deliver addresses on the progress and accomplishment of pertaining to labor in Wisconsin, before the economic departments.

Before closing the convention Mr. Weber requested that all delegates who had not received a picture and desired one to please get one before leaving the hall as it was his greatest wish that he be remembered by all the delegates attending the twentythird convention of the federation. He also read letters of commendation from Secretary Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor for the work done by the state body. In the letter Secretary Morrison stated that Wisconsin was foremost among the progressive state labor organizations.

UNFAIR TO UNIONS

St. Paul Papers Refuse to Concede Request of Pressmen's Union.

At last Friday night's meeting of the St. Paul Trades and Labor assembly a decided stand was taken against the Dispatch Printing company, for its unfairness to the Pressmen's union and its refusal to conider any proposals for an adjustment f the difficulties, although the requests of the union in connection with the matter are eminently moderate and reasonable.

A communication from the union on the subject was read to the assembly. This stated hat the officers of the union had recently sent letters to Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, the principal stockholders in this company, which publishes the St. Paul, Dispatch and Pioneer Press, appealing to them to intercede in behalf of the union in the controversy, but without avail.

Mr. Blandin, the business manager f the company, dodges the real issue in the case and takes refuge behind subterfuges of his own creation, and he has closed the door on further negotiations, thus driving the union to more drastic measures, and it has determined to wage a vigorous and relentless war on the two papers throughout the state. It asked that the assembly place these papers, the St. Paul Dispatch and Pioneer Press, on its "We Don't Patronize" list and appoint a committee of five delegates to work in conjunction with a com mitte from the union in making the war upon them effective. The request was concurred in and President Grenville named Delegate Emme ee, Kreiger, Schroeder and Fisher to consitute the committee. The delegates from the union stated n the floor of the assembly that Mr. Blandin claimed the pressmen were making this fight single-handed and did not have the labor movement behind them in it. The assembly determined to show other persons that this claim was unfounded, and in addition to declaring the papers mentioned unfair it instructed the delegates to recommend to their respective unions that they place a fine on any of their members found guilty of buying the Dispatch or Pioneer Press while the controversy is pending. The action of the Assembly on this matter was unanimous throughout.

as in Colorado," said the speaker. Following this address the convention went on record as endorsing the eace manifesto introduced Thursday morning, and published on the first page of this issue of The Labor World. Jitney Drivers to Organize.

That the Jitney drivers of Superior will organize is now assured. The president of the present organization appeared before the convention and asked that they be allowed to affiliate with the Teamsters and Chauffers organization so that they may be represented on the local Trades and Labor assembly floor and also in the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor. The matter was later taken up by the executive board and a charter will be applied for from the Teamsters and Chauffers International union. There are at the present time 78 drivers in the Jitney association. Auto Ride.

At the close of the Thursday afternoon session twenty automobiles donated by individual auto owners were placed at the disposal of the delegates. Headed by the big red car of Chief Johnson, of the fire department, the line of autos took the delegates for an hour's ride through the principal parts of the city. The delegates were greatly pleased with the city. Label Committee.

The last official act next to ad-journment of the convention, was the appointment of a new label committee. The committee appointed by the chair is as follows: Ben Rubin, Millabor legislation and other matters waukee cigarmakers; Arthur J. Smith. Milwaukee Brewery Workers; J. F. Blakely, Milwaukee typographical; M. H. Whitaker, Milwaukee barbers; Miss Mary Green, Oshkosh garment workers; Chas Keating, Fond du Lac Stage Emloyes, and A. C. Ewald, Sheboygan Trades assembly.

After adjournment of the convention many of the delegates took the opportunity to visit points of interest in Duluth and neighboring parks. Each delegate left for his or her, home Saturday afternoon or evening with many fond thoughts of Superior and cherishing a hope that the opportunity, will present itself in the not far distant future to return to the second city of Wisconsin, and the first in the possibilities for the future.

spoke to the delegates, previous to the election of officers.

"It is the workers who suffer most from war and they should be the ones to take the initiative in stopping all wars," said Mr. Cundiff.

That nations must have some means of defense, the speaker admitted to be true and he expressed himself as favoring the Swiss system, advocated by Theodore Roosevelt.

"If Roosevelt never did anything for the workers he did it when he advocated the Swiss military system, which provides that each ablebodied citizen shall be drilled and provided with a rifle and 150 rounds of cartiridges in his home.
