God Knows.

God knows how we shall miss you,
No earthly tongue can tell;
The grief at this our parting,
Yet, God does all things well.

We know that we shall meet again,
There will be no parting then;
When we all shall be with Jesus,
Over there; other there.

By Children and Grandchildren.

OAKES—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, ROBERT LEE OAKES, who departed this life two months ago, June 21, 1918:

Human hands tried to save him,
Sighs and tears were all in vain;
But the angels came and bore him,
From this weary world of pain.

BY HIS WIFE.

TONEY—In sad, but loving remembrance of our dear father and husband, D. L. TONEY, who died June 23, 1914.
CHILDREN AND WIFE.

Resolutions of Respect.

Virginia: At a Circuit Court for the County of Cumberland on the 23d day of April, 1918, and in the one-hundred and forty-second year of the Commonwealth. Present: George J. Hundley, judge of the said court.

Resolutions of the Cumberland Bar, offered and unanimously passed at the April term, 1918, of the Circuit Court:

This being the first court which has been held since the death of BLAKE B. WOODSON, JR., a number of years practicing attorney of this court, we, the members of the Cumberland Bar, desire to express sorrow and consciousness of loss at the untimely death of our associate and friend, B. B. Woodson, do offer this resolution:

Whereas, in the unscrutable wisdom of Providence, it has seen fit to remove from our midst our friend and associate, B. B. Woodson, and,

Whereas, we feel that the bar has lost one of its noblest and most faithful advocates, and

Whereas, the members of the bar are deeply conscious of having lost an associate, who always rendered distinguished assistance to his colleague in any contest and always accorded his opponent courtesy and fairness, and

Whereas, the Bar of Cumberland feels that it has sustained individually and collectively the loss of an able counsel and legal friend.

Be it resolved, That we, the members of the Cumberland Bar, do hereby express deep grief and sorrow and sense of loss in the death of our friend and colleague, B. B. Woodson; that we do extend to his family our heartfelt sympathy in their hour of grief; that we do hereby place on record our own sense of sorrow and great personal loss.

And be it farther resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of this court, and that another copy thereof be sent to the bereaved family.

A copy—Teste:

R. O. GARRETT,
Clerk.
