Brilliant Ball Last Evening.

The Pierrot Ball given last evening at the Jefferson Hotel under the auspices of the Girls' Club, was one of the largest and most brilliant charity balls that has been held in Richmond in many years. More than 700 members of Richmond's ultra-fashionable set thronged the ballroom and gallery for the event. The Girls' Club includes in its membership some of the best known women and girls of the city, and their entertainments are noted for their originality and charm. The ball last evening far surpassed any of the long succession of unique functions given by the club in its history.

The ballroom presented a novel appearance with its decorations of black and white, which formed an effective background for the beautiful costumes worn by the women present. Quantities of snowy dogwood blossoms were used everywhere, and the shades on the lights were made of white, decorated with the figures of Pierrot and Perette in black silhouette. Fascinating centerpieces were used for each table. Alternate tables held miniature Pierrots and Pierrettes, and others were decorated in black and white jars of tulips, formal or lollypops. An out-of-town orchestra played for the dancing.

The stage was hung with draperies of black and white, against which the white dogwood blossoms were effectively placed, and a great gilt frame formed the center, from which some of the loveliest girls in Richmond danced forth to take their part in the wonderful dance—"Pierrot's Dream," by Miss Daisy Talley and trained by Miss Lisa Taylor and Miss Bayer. This dance was the central feature of the whole ball, and was one of the most unique and fascinating dances ever staged here. The costumes were georgeous in every detail, and the whole conception of the dance and its charming history was beautifully executed by the skilled dancers who took part.

This is the last ball of the season, as the penitential curtain of Lent falls today on all social activities of note until after Easter.

The drawing rooms were arranged in spring flowers. Little baskets and bowls of violets, freesias and tulips were used everywhere against a background of palms, ferns and shaded lights. Tall silver vases of the same flowers decorated the mantels. The tea table was set with a silver cloth of spring flowers tied with tulle and unshaded candles in silver candlesticks. Bowls and vases of apple and peach blossoms were also used effectively in the dining-room. Mrs. Courtney Sheild presided at the punch bowl, assisted by Mrs. Frederick Otis Bertrand and Mrs. Lewis H. Blair. Others assisting in the dining-room were Misses Mary Boyd, Julia Moncure, Stanton Carmichael, Mary Bertrand, Katharine Minor and Priscilla Shepherd.

SMART NEW HATS FEATURE ALLOVER WOOL EMBROIDERY

Whether wool is used in just a plain running stitch or whether it is used to check off small squares it is smart, so long as its trimming is not limited to any one portion of the hat. Many times it is angora. Especially on the dark fabric hats is white angora seen very often.

The hat above is one of the coming season's smart models. It proves that the youthful, off-the-face hats will continue to hold popular interest, as they have during several seasons past. A blue taffeta is stitched into simulating a checked fabric by means of white angora. A big, floppy tassel of white falls over the upturned brim on one side and at once marks it as a sports model.

Rex, more modern than usual, arrived at the royal reception rooms from a seaplane, the usual trip up the river having been done away with.

At the Boston Club the parade halted while Rex greeted his queen and the pair were proclaimed rulers of the city until midnight, should usher in Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent.

The streets from early morning have been gay with masks.

BRAVES DEATH TO SAVE LIFE OF FELLOW-STUDENT

[By Associated Press.]

BOSTON, Feb. 8.—Braving death from exposure and ice-coated precipices while lost at night on Mount Monadnock, New Hampshire, during a week-end trip, Karl H. Robinson, a Boston University freshman, carried Rupert Robinson, a fellow-student, from the summit to safety after Rupert had been rendered unconscious by a fall. They are not related.

For many miles Karl Robinson bore his stricken chum on his shoulders. He finally lost his way and was about to drop from exhaustion when he heard a dog bark. Guided by the sound, he pushed on to safety. Robinson, in a delirious condition, was rushed to Fitzwilliam, N. H., for medical treatment. He recovered quickly and returned yesterday to the university.

MRS. WILLIAMS PLEADS FOR LIFE OF TREES ALONG ROADS

Women Voters Go on Record as Being Against Their Destruction in Building Highways.

Mrs. John Skelton Williams, representing the Garden Clubs of Virginia, pleaded for the life of the trees along the highways of the State in an address delivered yesterday afternoon before the civil improvement committee of the Richmond League of Women Voters, assembled in public meeting at the Jefferson Hotel. So forceful was Mrs. Williams' plea that the trees be spared, that a motion was offered by Mrs. Christopher Tompkins that the meeting go on record as against the unnecessary destruction of trees in road construction. W. D. L. Robinson, of the Virginia Good Roads Association, who followed Mrs. Williams, assured the audience that, with the co-operation of such groups as theirs, the trees would be saved.

W. T. Dabney, of the Chamber of Commerce, appearing for L. C. Laird, who was unable to attend the meeting, paid a tribute to the chairman of the committee, Mrs. J. Allison Hodges, to whose suggestion, he stated, was due the holding of the exposition of Richmond-made goods. He urged the interest and further co-operation of the Richmond League of Women Voters in helping to make the exposition a success. The meeting went on record as favoring the establishment in Richmond of a travelers' service corporation such as exists in other cities. The subject was presented by Colonel L. T. W. Marye.

The afternoon concluded with a "get-together" meeting of the members of Mrs. Hodges' committee for the purpose of instigating certain permanent improvements which would tend to make unnecessary the annual attempts to "clean up" our streets and yards.

IS YOURS A GLORY CROWN?

It has been well said that "a woman's hair is her crowning glory." Poets write about it. Artists paint it. Lovers praise it.

You must learn to use yours to the best advantage. You can make the most of it only by spending a little time and thought upon it.

In order to keep it luxuriant and beautiful it must have general health to back it with. It is absolutely impossible for you to have lovely hair when your system is run down and your physical condition isn't "up to the mark." The hair is fed and nourished by the blood. Good blood rather than hair tonic, produces beautiful hair.

When the hair becomes dull and falls out it is due to the fact that the blood is not sending proper nourishment to the skull, thereby proving that the fault lies in your general system. Sometimes it is the diet that is not quite right, and then again it is poor digestion, which is responsible for the failure of your hair. Nourishing food containing fat of some kind is of great use as a hair nourisher. However, it must be fat that is easily digested.

It is vitally important that the scalp be kept flexible. See that it does not become tightly fixed over the skull. You can do this by simply massaging the top of your head every evening before retiring. Press your fingers firmly against your head and move the skin back and forth. This treatment is invigorating and has an almost magical effect in promoting the growth of new hair.

Choose the type of coiffure that most becomes you. Study it from every angle. Some women do not take their profile into consideration when doing up their hair, and seem to think that as long as it is done up in the latest style, it is done well. They do not let a little thing like the shape of the face trouble them. That's where they make their big mistake in not finding out what is suitable to their type and then sticking to it!

Try to conform to nature's general plan for you. Adapt your hair to the contour of your face and make it a personal attribute. Don't try to achieve the impossible and do your hair a certain way because some one you adore "does hers this way."

Remember that a woman's hair can become one of her greatest marks of beauty, and give yours the thought and attention it requires.

FASHIONGRAMS

Dispatches from Paris say that the slightly flaring silhouette promises to be very popular for spring.

An outstanding feature of the new spring mode is the prevalence of gray. Gray seems to be a favorite color for skirts, coats and frocks.

Among blouses gray and bisque are popular colors. There are also many charming models which feature orange and gold.

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get two ounces of calonite powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin—pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get them out after they become hard. The calonite powder and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anybody troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.—Adv.
