VIRGINIA LEAGUE MAGNATES REFUSE TO ALTER SCHEDULE

STOCKHOLDERS TALK OF GIVING UP BERTH

Meeting Called for Today to Discuss Acute Financial Situation of Club.

improving steadily, but that with long intervals in playing at home the interest would lag and cash customers for the fast amateur games created.

The only conciliatory spirit at the meeting was shown by N. Y. Chambliss, of Rocky Mount, who privately offered to swap any dates with Richmond that it desired. His offer was of no value, however, as Richmond has just finished a six-game series with the Tarheels and the teams do not meet until late in the season. The Norfolk representatives, James Barry and R. A. Jones, were frankly antagonistic to any change to benefit Richmond, while W. E. Edwards, of Wilson, and F. D. Lawrence, of Portsmouth, picked up their ears only when their interests were directly touched upon.

Crass Plainly Angered.

Mr. Crass frankly told the club owners that he could not afford to waste any more time on them after they had joked among themselves for a couple of hours without getting down to business. He said that the attitude of "every man for himself" was not the way he went into sports, and that personally he had enough.

Treasurer H. U. Ebel lingered with the owners only a short time. He warned Dawson in the lobby before the meeting that, in his opinion, the local stockholders had enough.

Should the Richmond owners withdraw, the players and territory revert to the league. The league to hold the territory must play here on the scheduled dates. The only parks available at Boulevard Field and Mayo Island Park. The former is owned by Ben W. Wilson and associates, who are not likely to waste any sympathy on a baseball circuit that took the franchise away from them after they had spent many thousands of dollars in promoting the pastime here. Mayo Island Park is owned by the Richmond Baseball Club and can be rented out every day to amateur games on a percentage basis that would net more than the Virginia League could afford to pay.

The league would have a difficult time in financing the team itself as not more than one club is now making expenses. Unless the franchise is a gift to local people, there would be little opportunity to dispose of it at the fag end of a season that is admitted to be financially a flivver. It is possible that Ben Wilson might be induced to take the club as a gift, although friends assert that he has no love for the way he was treated in the past, with the possibility of the same dose staring him in the face in the future. Although the ousting of Wilson from the Virginia League was done with the sanction of organized baseball, the city Circuit Court gave Wilson substantial damages for the action.

Should the Virginia League relinquish the territory, an international League franchise may be shifted here at once. Tentative negotiations were made several weeks ago, based on the possibility of the Virginia League going on the rocks, it being an open secret that at least three clubs were hanging on by their teeth.

Richmond had one bad experience with the International League, but if Mayo Island Park could be leased by the Class AA Club, the patronage would probably justify the transfer of a franchise here. The trouble with the International League attendance in the latter days was the remoteness of Boulevard Field, coupled with the twilight hours on which the owners insisted in observing.

BOY WEIGHT TOSSER PICKS HIS COLLEGE

[By Associated Press.]

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—Rud Hauser, Oxnard High School's phenomenal weight man, holder of the world's inter-scholastic shotput and discus throw records and lately much sought after by colleges and universities as one of the greatest athletic prospects in the country, has decided to enter the University of Southern California, college of dentistry, next fall, according to Gwynn Wilson, graduate manager of the university.

Hauser first won nation-wide fame about a year ago, when he defeated Pat McDonald, New York, the Olympic champion, in the shotput event for the national senior A. A. U. championships at Pasadena, Cal. He holds the interscholastic twelve-pound shotput title, a record of 56 feet, while his discus record is 147 feet ½ inch.

BROKEN CLUB WON OPEN GOLF TITLE

[By United News.]

NEW YORK, July 19.—A broken club made the shot that won the American open golf championship for Gene Sarazan, at Skokie. Sarazan told the story to friends on a visit downtown in New York today.

The champion believes that the second shot on the eighteenth hole was the shot that made all the difference between winning and also running. With an ivory-faced brassie he made this shot which landed him on the green, where two easy putts gave him a 4 for the hole and the title.

After the shot he felt the clubhead sag, and when the title had been won he took off the wrapping, to discover that the shaft was split.

Sarazan has given the club to his mother as a souvenir.

GIANTS BUNCH SWATS AND WIN FROM CINCY

Reds Throw Away Chances to Score by Poor Judgment on Bases.

[By Associated Press.]

CINCINNATI, OHIO, July 19.—The Giants used their hits to much better advantage than the Reds today and won, 5 to 2. Nehf allowed ten hits, but was strong with men on bases and received fine support. Meusel's single, Young's long triple to right and a fielder's choice gave the visitors their first two runs in the second inning and they were never headed. The Reds threw away two chances to score in the early innings by poor judgment on the bases. Score:

"Poor Old Man Cobb" Is Plaint of Baseball Czar

[By Associated Press.]

CHICAGO, July 19.—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, took a look at the papers today and learned to his surprise that Ty Cobb was giving George Sisler a desperate fight for batting honors of the American League.

"Cobb batting .406; Sisler, .420; Cobb gets five hits in one game, including a home-run," read the commissioner.

"Ain't it a shame about poor old man Cobb," Landis said. "They said he was slipping and ready for the home for the aged.

"Five hits in one game—one a homer," mused the former Federal judge, "and this after seventeen years in the American League."

MUDDY FIELD CHECKS KIWANIS-ROTARY MILL

Game Will Be Played Today at 4 o'Clock at Boulevard Field.

With rafts holding the bags and the umpires gracefully paddling about in canoes, hostilities between the Rotarians and Kiwanians at Boulevard Field were deferred yesterday because of the nonarrival of a load of rubber boots with which to equip the players. The fray will be staged this afternoon, unless it rains after 10 o'clock this morning.

More than 2,500 men, women and children received the disappointment of their lives when it was finally decided that the decision rested on baseball rather than aquatics. The stands were comfortably filled long before the game started, the attraction being circus stunts in front of the grand stand. Rather than take the edge of the enjoyment of those who go to Boulevard Field this afternoon, the stunts will remain a dark secret temporarily. Sufficient to say that they will be long remembered.

The interest in the game is intense and the Rotarians and Kiwanians are going to attempt not only which can turn out the best bunch of ball-tossers, but which outfit can qualify as champion leather-lungs. Many noise-creating devices also have been lined up for the occasion. The Rotarians have been assigned to the left field, or third base bleachers, and their rivals to the right-field or first-base bleachers.

The game will be called promptly at 4 o'clock. The stunts start at 3:30 o'clock.

Sport Gossip

All Virginia League teams took an enforced holiday because of rain. By being idle, the Colts finished the twelve-game series with the two Carolina teams. In six games with Wilson, the Colts won three and lost three. In five games with Rocky Mount, Richmond took three and lost two. The record for the two long series gave the Islanders the edge by one game.

Having ended its troubles with the Carolina pennant chasers, the Colts now tackle Newport News, which also considers itself in the running for the bunting. In fact, the Builders, despite resembling a base hospital, are well up in the running and will be hard lads to turn.

Rain or shine, we will play, the Rotarians and Kiwanians promised. But at 4 o'clock there was no rain; neither did the sun shine. A look at the muddy field and the clubmen realized that the weather man had won.

Superstitious as their professional friends, the Rotarians and Kiwanians would not tolerate playing in boots—they feared that there would be too many boots without rubber ones to suit the crowd.

The Giants keep in first place by the expedient of winning, while the Cards were doing likewise. The American League leaders were tripped by the Athletics, or White Elephants, while the Browns also falt
