30,000 U. S. MINERS KILLED IN 10 YEARS

Dr. Joseph A. Holmes Trying to Solve Great Problem

WILL EXPLODE COAL DUST

National Mine Safety Demonstration Will Be Held in Pittsburg Next Month—Secretary Fisher, of the Interior Department, to Address the Workers.

Thirty thousand miners killed in the United States in the last ten years!

Seventy-five thousand miners injured, many of them maimed for life, in the same period!

Eleven thousand widows made by the deaths of the miners!

Thirty thousand children left fatherless!

This terrible record represents not only the accidents in the coal mines, but also in the metal mines.

It is the story of the tragedy of the mines, but not the whole story. If the mines of the United States in those ten years had had the same standards of safety as in the European countries, if the United States had killed two in every 1,000 employed, instead of three, four, or five.

Fifteen thousand of the 30,000 American miners killed might be living to-day.

Forty thousand out of 75,000 injured might have escaped injury.

Five thousand five hundred widows might not have been widows.

Fifteen thousand orphan children might still have fathers.

Faces Serious Problem.

This is the whole grim tragedy of the mines epitomized. It is one of the most serious problems of the country, and the one that brought the Federal Bureau of Mines into being. It is the great problem that the Bureau of Mines, under the leadership of Dr. Joseph A. Holmes, its director, is attempting to solve.

This problem is responsible for the great national mine safety demonstration which is to be held in Pittsburg, Pa., October 26 and 27, under the auspices of the Bureau of Mines, the American Red Cross, the United Mine Workers of America, and the Pittsburg Coal Operators' Association. From 30,000 to 50,000 miners, superintendents, and operators are expected to be present. Walter L. Fisher, Secretary of the Interior, under whose jurisdiction the Bureau of Mines comes, and who has taken a deep interest in the work, will address the miners.

The purpose of the demonstration is to show to the miners some of the accomplishments of the Bureau of Mines that will tend toward a reduction in the number of deaths. So serious did the Bureau of Mines find the conditions in the coal mines, it has not yet found opportunity to pay any particular attention to the accidents in the metal mines and quarries.

New in Mining Business.

While the experts of the Bureau of Mines concede that carelessness is a factor in such accidents, they declare that it is not nearly as important as asserted. They rather believe, and they say that their investigations have borne this out, that the United States is still a new country in the mining business, and that it has not yet learned some of the fundamental safeguards that have come to older countries through bitter experiences.

The experts cite the fact that before they began their investigations, very few coal operators or miners believed that coal dust in a mine could explode without the presence of gas. The Bureau of Mines has demonstrated beyond any possible doubt that bituminous coal dust alone is more of a menace to the miner than firedamp. Coal dust has been the cause of a big majority of the mysterious explosions in coal mines within the last few years and has caused great loss of life.

HONORS FOR MARKSMEN.

Elliott Trophy and Medals Handed to Victorious Marines.

The Elliott trophy cup and thirty-six medals were presented to the officers and enlisted men who won them at the recent rifle matches at Winthrop, Md., by Brig. Gen. W. P. Biddle, commandant of the Marine Corps, at the Marine Barracks yesterday morning.

The Elliott trophy was presented to the team from the Annapolis barracks, in whose possession it will remain until next year.

Because of remarkable work on the range, two enlisted men received promotions preceding those on the waiting list. Corp. Calvin A. Lloyd was promoted to the rank of sergeant for winning the Presidential match at Camp Perry, Ohio. Private Walter M. Randle was promoted to the rank of corporal.

The presentation of the medals and the trophy was witnessed by many civilians and officers of the Marine Corps. It was preceded by a review of the Marine Band and a battalion of the corps. The medals were presented at 10 o'clock, and as the name of each man was called he advanced to Gen. Biddle, saluted, received the medal, and returned to ranks. The services occupied an hour. After being dismissed, the men turned their prizes in to have them properly engraved.

The city bacteriologists of Chicago have made a collection of public drinking cups from hotels, schools, stores, and railway stations, and have, with a view to proving their uncleanliness, made bacterial cultures and microscopical examinations from them.

"CUT ESSAYS FOR CROPS," IS JUDGE DE LACY'S VIEW

Would Have Juvenile Probationers Dig Potatoes Instead of Attempting to "Write Pieces."

That the boy probationers of the Juvenile Court are better fitted to raise a prize crop of potatoes or mushrooms than to write essays on "How to become a man" was proved yesterday, when, after a thorough canvass among the lads, not a "written piece" could be found, much to the disappointment of Rev. Zed H. Copp, who originated the move several weeks ago.

Judge De Lacy intimated that he would rather sow the seeds of honest manual endeavor in the hearts of his grimy flock than to have them touched by the Muses.

"The lads are not able to write literature as yet," said the Judge, with a smile. "Most of them are only in the second or third grade at school, and necessarily their abilities along the lines of authorship are limited to a small degree."

About forty boys, ranging in age from eight to fifteen, both white and colored, heard Judge De Lacy give a dissertation on the evils of drink and tobacco yesterday afternoon. The lecture was delivered in the open air of the back yard, where the lads could gaze at the blue waters of the Potomac shining in the distance, and dream of swimming and other aquatic stunts. Several of the colored lads seemed to be dozing, until a late comer was rebuked by the judge, who said promptness was a cardinal virtue.

After the address, the youngsters, with many whoops and yells, scrambled down to the river, where they cooled their fevered brows and footsies.

FEAT OF HANDCUFF KING.

Offer of $100 for Duplicating Trick at Local Theater.

"One hundred dollars to any one who can breathe in the milk can after the top has been securely fastened," is the offer made yesterday by George Vickery, from Scotland Yard, England, in describing the danger attached to the sensational feat that is a part of the programme of Hardeen, king of handcuffs and jail-breakers.

Hardeen is at the Casino Theater all of this week as the headliner of the new elite vaudeville bill, and Mr. Vickery, who is an English detective, preceded him here yesterday to perfect arrangements for the opening to-day.

The handcuff king, attired in a bathing suit, will be securely handcuffed and placed in the can. Then the water will be poured in and the top fastened on. Seconds count in this feat, and it goes without saying that the handcuffed man inside is not going to lose any time in making his escape. Failure to succeed means death by drowning.
