DUCKPIN LEAGUE AVERAGES GOOD

Herald Printers Show Great Form in First Month's Bowling.

BECK LEADS THE PLAYERS

Captain of Nonpareils Has Mark of 96.10—George Fleishell Has Second Best Mark.

After one month of bowling in the Washington Herald Printers' Duckpin League the individual averages of the players on the four clubs are excellent, considering that it is the initial league bowling for many of the players. Capt. Beck, of the Nonpareils, is leading the circuit with a mark of 96.26 for his twelve games, having a high game of 119 and the high set of 314.

George Fleishell is next in line, toppling the pins for a mark of 95.11, having totaled 1,141 pins in the twelve games. Whitney is next in line, grabbing an average of 95.7 for twelve games and being four pins behind the mark made by Fleishell in total pins.

Capt. Anderson, of the Breviers, leads the league with the highest individual set, spilling 125 pins, and tying Beck's mark in high set.

Gill leads the circuit with the highest individual set, having totaled 320 pins in the games last Friday. The following is the individual averages of the players in the circuit:

NATIONAL CAPITAL BOWLING AVERAGES

The excellent bowling of Willard Farrow, jr., who has the grand average of 201 pins for fifteen games to date, has done much to put the Y. M. C. A. quint, last year's champions, again out in front this season.

Thirty-four bowlers in this circuit can point with pride to an average of 100 or over, and six of the ten teams have won a majority of their games, and are very much in the race for the championship. The Odsmos and Potomacs are deadlocked for second place, only one full game behind the "Y" boys, while any one of the next three teams, the Palace, Velvet Kind, or Nationals, can jump from a tie for fourth place to a tie with the Y. M. C. A. by winning three straight games in their sets of the past week which had not been rolled when these records were sent to press. Sam race.

TERMINAL RAILROAD LEAGUE NOTES

Freight captured three uninteresting games from the Store Room last Friday. The losers were badly handicapped by the absence of three of their best men, and the further fact that Capt. Boyle was compelled to roll a dummy. Although capturing all three games, Freight did not bowl in its usual manner, but managed to finish the final game with a total of 638. By virtue of this clean sweep the winners are now tied for second place.

Disturbers kept up their winning streak by capturing two games from Car Department team last night. Car Department won the first game with pins to spare, but by hard and steady bowling the Disturbers were able to land the last two games. The second game was an especially bitter one, and it was not until Rowe, anchor man for the Disturbers, finished rolling that the game was decided.

Kilroy, who has been rolling anchor for Car Department for the past two seasons, is still on the job, and has been doing some very good bowling this season. Both Kilroy and Capt. Schaefer have been doing some consistent rolling so far this season, and it has been mainly through their efforts that Car Department has made such a good showing.

Capt. Enman, of the Electricians, with a couple of new men in his line-up, gave the Freight team a hard tussle for the first game last Wednesday night, which they finally won by six pins. Although a poorly rolled game the boys seemed back and forth, and when the totals were added it was found to be a tie game, which necessitated the rolling of the extra home before the winner was decided. The Freight boys, however, came back with a vengeance and took the remaining two games in easy fashion.

Campbell, although getting off to a bad start, proved to be the star roller of the night with a total of 229 pins. Capt. Stark, himself a good roller, signed up four good men when he got the signatures of Warthen, Mulroe, Campbell, and Coe, and it has not been surprising that Freight has given the other teams a lot of trouble this year. This team is now in second place and only a few points behind the leaders.

In Five, the Electricians have one of the best bowlers in Washington, and just as soon as he strikes his stride he is very apt to make some of the boys hustle for high individual honors. Thompson also should prove a very valuable man for this team, as he is a consistent bowler and has a tendency to slip over a high game quite often.

The Auditors still continue to set a fast pace and easily won two more games from the Store Room Thursday night. Capt. Rider, of the money handlers, demonstrated that he is still in the ring by finishing up the night with high game 123. Polk also came back to life and hit the maples for a total of 318.

BIG FACTOR IN G. U. VICTORY.

Big center of the Georgetown varsity eleven who acted as captain for the Hilltoppers yesterday in Locke 28 to 0 victory over the West Virginia Wesleyan team. His great defensive playing and spirit throughout the contest was a big factor in the outcome.

GEORGETOWN WINS ITS FIRST GAME

was perfect, but the kick fell short by 30 yards. Noark recovering the ball, brought it back 30 yards before thrown by Heavner.

The first quarter ended with Georgetown in possession of the ball on their own 35-yard line.

SECOND QUARTER.

Line plunges, the back field of the Georgetown eleven alternating with the ball gave them first down. The Blue and Gray team was penalized 15 yards for holding.

Weisser dropped back and kicked a long spiral down the field to Stansbury, who ran it back 20 yards. Line plunges by the Buckhannon team failed to gain any ground so Kellison kicked to Landreau, but Petritz spilled the beans when he upset Landreau, and Weisser got the ball and brought it back 8 yards. Had Petritz not bumped into Landreau, the Georgetown team would have gained about 20 yards on the play.

Line plunges by Kelly and Landreau netted first down and these two lads repeated on the next two plays. A couple of end runs were attempted as was a forward pass, but to no advantage. Another forward pass was tried, Weisser to Kelly and the Georgetown team benefitted by a gain of 30 yards. Here the Wesleyan team held Georgetown for downs, a couple of line plunges, and a forward pass having been tried.

Stansbury Gains 65 Yards.

On a fake kick formation, Stansbury got around Georgetown's right end for a run of 60 yards, and it looked as though he was going for a touchdown, but Kelly brought him to earth on Georgetown's 15-yard line. A forward pass was tried and netted the West Virginia boys first down with the ball on the 1-yard line.

Four downs and only 2 yards to go, things looked gloomy for Georgetown, but the line held like a stone wall and the ball went to the Hilltoppers on downs. Weisser at once kicked out of danger, sending the ball 50 yards to Stansbury, who fumbled, and Campbell recovered the oval in midfield. Time was called for the end of the first half at this point, with Georgetown in possession of the ball in midfield.

THIRD QUARTER.

Heavner opened the second half by kicking the ball out of bounds; once again he tried to kick off, but the ball again went out of bounds and it was Georgetown's ball on their own 40-yard line. West Virginia was penalized on the first play for off side.

Kelly made it first down on an end run and line plunge. A double pass was worked here, Noark carrying the ball, but he fumbled and Paxatis, following behind the runner, picked the ball up and was brought to earth only after carrying the ball to the visitor's 10-yard line. A forward pass was attempted here, after a few line plunges had been tried to no avail, the ball going over the goal line and to the Wesleyan team for a first down on their own 20-yard line.

Mahlum Is Injured.

Line plunges by the Buckhannon back field failed to gain, so Heavner kicked to Weisser, who was downed in his tracks. On the next play a line plunge by the Georgetown team, Mahlum, who had been putting up a great game in left guard for the Blue and Gray, broke his thumb, making it necessary for him to retire from the game.

Kelly and Landreau made it first down with two line plunges. West Virginia put up a good defense and forced Weisser to kick, Stansbury receiving the ball and bringing the oval back 18 yards. Kellison at once kicked and Weisser fumbled, the ball being recovered by Jacobs.

A forward pass was attempted, and as Stansbury was about to hurl the ball, it slipped out of his hands and Barron grabbed it, runing 30 yards for a touchdown. Weisser kicked an easy goal. Score, Georgetown, 14; West Virginia Wesleyan, 0.

This ended the third quarter, after Golden had made 20 yards around end, and line plunges brought the ball up to West Virginia's 20-yard line.

FOURTH QUARTER.

The first play in the final period was an attempted forward pass by the Georgetown team which resulted in them losing the ball, it going over the line, the ball being put in play by the Wesleyan team on their own 20-yard line.

Heavner resorted to the kicking game, getting off a good one, but the ball went out of bounds at midfield. Line plunges netted the Georgetown players first down, but they were held on the next series of play for downs, the ball going over to the Buckhannon lads.

Here one of the weirdest plays cropped out that has been witnessed on a football field. Stansbury attempted a forward pass to Morrison, who barely touched the ball; it struck a Georgetown player, bouncing back toward Stansbury after hitting several men and not touching the ground. Campbell, on the dead run, received the ball while it was in mid-air and continued over the line for a touchdown, Noark kicking goal. Score: Georgetown, 21; West Virginia Wesleyan, 0.

Georgetown Scores Again.

Calnan received the kick-off from Stansbury, carrying the ball ten yards toward goal. Two first downs were made on line plunges and Golden added another on an end run. A forward pass, Noark to Foley, for 30 yards gave Georgetown another touchdown. Noark missed the goal, making the score, Georgetown, 27; West Virginia Wesleyan, 0.

Stansbury kicked off to Foley, who carried the ball fifteen yards before being tackled. End runs and line plunges netted Georgetown a first down, and the same tactics resulted in another first down. A forward pass put the ball on Wesleyan's 2-yard line, Calnan to Corcoran.

Here time was called for the end of the game with Georgetown in possession of the ball on Wesleyan's 2-yard line. Line-up and summary:

New York, Oct. 31.—Scoring a public critic, the result of his recent bout with Tommy Gary, Ad Wolgast arrived in town yesterday for his bout with Frankie Welsh on Monday night.

BEST BOSTON TERRIER IN SHOW

Wampage, Queen of Hearts Cleans Up in Old New York.

New York, Oct. 31.—Patricia Jay and Wampage Queen, of Hearts, had to divide the honors at the exclusive show of the Boston Terrier Breeders here last night.

Wampage Queen of Hearts, which is Mrs. George H. Pell's favorite Boston, was chosen as the best in show, but Patricia Jay had too much of attention, because she was the little dog which was shown last week under a fictitious name at the Dogs in England show and was recognized by her owner, J. Schultz, as his long lost Patricia Jay. The man who had the temerity to exhibit Patricia was arrested and held in $1,000 bail, but was finally discharged.

H. J. Alexander's Bud D'Ore, which won in the dog's division, was merely for the best in the show. It was a foregone conclusion that Mrs. Pell's dainty Queen of Hearts would be first choice. She is a wonderfully fine little matron, tipping the scales at twelve pounds. She is beautifully marked, has a wonderful head, a dark brindle coat and a never tail that is calculated to strike envy to the heart of any Boston terrier breeder.

Fight No Contest.
